DESCRIPTION OF THE PERSON OF T

THE CITY. MEETING IN THE TWENTY-SECOND WARD. A meeting of the loyal citizens of the Twentysecond ward was held at Longstroth's Hall, Germantown, on the evening of Tuesday, the 2d inst.
At an early hour in the evening the Hall was densely crowded with the bone and sinew of the ward, while hundreds of citizens found it impossible to obtain admittance. while indicated of cases and it impossible to obtain admittance.

The meeting was called to order by William Hopkins, Esq. upon whose motion Windham H. Stokes, Esq. was called to the chair. After a brief and pertisent address from Mr. Stokes, the following additional efficers were chosen, viz:

Vice Presidents—T. Chartton Henry, John Button, Edwin T. Chase, J. Temilinson, Charles Weiss, Dr. Q. O. Gilbert, Thomas Button, Reuben Sands, Spencer Roberts, John Stallmap, William Martrum, Hillery Krickbaum, Lemiel Zell, Charles Mears, William Hopkins, H. B. Bruner, Joseph Hill. Eros. Mears, William Hopkins, H. B. Brunef, Joseph Hill, Ergs.

Secretaries—George W. Hamersly, William F. Smith, H.§S. Rohref, J. Krickbaum, Esgs.

The following preamble and resolutions were offered by George W. Hamersly, Esq., seconded by William F. Smith, Esq., and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The loyal citizens of the Twenty-second ward, in town meeting assembled, desire to place upon record some expression of their feelings at the great calamity which has befallen the nation by the demoniac assussination of its late honored and trusted Chief Magistrate, Abraham Lincolm, who, after more than four years of civil war and national trouble, and upon the eve of restoring his country to the blessings of peace, was stricken down in a single moment by the hand of an assassin; therefore, erefore; Resolved, That we how in submission to the Divine ill, trusting that "He who doeth all things well" Ill turn what new seems to us so great a calemity to a national blessing. to a national blessing. Resolved, That in the person of Abraham Lincoln President the whole people were represented, in that the fatal shot that tore away his life was so aimed at every loyal breast, and each one of us ould feel himself injured by the astounding Resolved, That in this act we see the fruits of the "sum of all villainles," the legitimate effects of a system of tyranny, which, in this country, has been suffered to grow until its savage instincts have overmastered every sentiment of honor, pity, and justices the second of the cloe. Resolved, That, with the return of peace, we will nave a country free from an accurated institution, which, in its last agonies, destroyed the man whose ito and health seemed indispensable to our unity. and prosperity.

Resolved, That the time for mild measures has ceased, and we trust that a stern determination to insist upon the vindication of the laws, and the bringing to justice and punishment of the wretches, both North and South, who have orought this trouble on the nation, will be evinced by the present Chief Magistrate, and that justice, and not mercy, shall be meted out to them.

Resolved, That we cannot find language adequate to express our indignation and contempt for those Northern traitors, who, while remaining in our midst, and enjoying the comforts and security afforded by our laws, and the moderation of the people, have uncessingly and persistently ridiculed the efforts which were made to crush the rebellion, and who, with secession badges in their bosoms and treason in ther hearts, have denounced and villined those whose patrictism and courage led them to encounter cur armed enemies on the field of battle; for, in our opinion, the recent strectlies at Washington are the result of their teachings, and these men will entail upon themselves and their posterity, to the latest generation, the hatred and storn of all who love liberty and who loaths and detest the accursed spirit which has been engendered by slavery.

Resolved, That the doctrine of repudiation, as recently promulgated publicly by, a citizen of this ward, meets the unqualified condemnation of this meeting, and that any stempt to array the working classes in opposition to the payment of the debt created by the Government in the prosecution of the war to put down the rebellion, is an insult to their understanding, and an outrage upon their patriotism. rosperity. olved. That the time for mild measures has ism. Resolved, That the past history and sacrifices of Andrew Johnson are a sufficient guarantee of his fidelity in the future, and that this meeting hereby tenders to him its hearty co-operation in all his efforts to restore and maintain the integrity of the

The meeting was ably and eloquently addressed by W. S. Smith, Joseph P. Loughead, Esq., Dr. Keith, Esq., of Ohio, Mr. Trimble of Tennesse, and closed by Oci. Wm. B. Mann, with a most powerful and particular speech. EMIGRATION TO MEXICO.

It is very evident that the valuable region of country known as Mexico occupies a very considerable share of attention. Several organizations are being perfected in this city, all apparently acting under one head. Similar movements are made in the city of New York, having the same object in view. There is some publicity given to the efforts at organization, and report says that large numbers of returned soldiers, rebei refugees, repentant rebel soldiers, and other persons of civil professions are swelling the lists daily with their names. It is reported that these men intend emigrating to Mexico as soon as possible, but for what purpose we cannot ascertain from an authentic source. There is considerable outside talk of a desire to enforce the Monroe doctrine in the most summary manner. We attended several meetings, in the year 1864, of parties who desired to raise a couple of brigades; and finally two thousand five hundred men, most of whom had already seen service in the cause of the United States against the rebellion, signed their names to the enrolment. Their plan of operations and object were freely discussed, and seven them Mexico, by way of Toxas, was the point aimed at. Circumstances, however, arose at that time beyond the control of the gentlemen engaged in the enterprise, and the project was abandoned. Many of the smolled men finally re-entered the service of the National Government for the war. Some remained in Northern cities; and now, that the time is propitions for their movements. EMIGRATION TO MEXICO. Many of the enrolled men finally re-entered the service of the National Government for the war. Some remained in Northern cities; and now, that the time is propitious for their movements, several reunions have taken place, and the numbers have increased very rapidly. It is said that over five thousand in the city of New York alone have already enrolled themselves, and the business seems almost amounting to a furore. A gentleman accredited with power arrived in Philadelphia on Thursday of lest week, and he has already put the ball in motion—so it is currently reported—and the result is much activity prevails, though conducted on the principle of atlil water runs deep. It is stated that the emigrants are wanted to progress with and perfect modern improvements incident with the march of civilization. Large railroads and extensive manufactories, and immense mining explorations are talked about. There is nothing said about rifts manufactories, nor saitpetre. Perhaps those additions may not be wanted, as the emigrants will be armed with the most mest modern improvements in deadly weapons, to be used as occasion may require. There is much mystery confected with the movement; but the idea of the Monroe doctrine seems to be decidedly popular. Even some of the detectives, who have been in Mexico, are rather shy in conversation on the subject, but they would detectives, who have been in Mexico, are rather shy in convergation on the subject, but they would be "delighted to visit that place once more." All they say is the movement is a "big thing," and "sufficient to the day is the evil thereof." This is equivocal language, but accompanied with sly winks, nods, &c., may be considered significant of something, not desirable at the present time to be made unblic. something, not desirable at the present time to be made public.

"In connection with this affair we hear of parties—who desire to visit Mexico by water, instead of overland. Seventy men, who have seen sea and naval service, are already organized, and the commander is a gentleman truly loyal, once in the service, istationed in foreign waters. It is also hinted that, vessels are being or will be fitted out—at Baltimore and manned by hardy crews. Our large cities are now over populated, and as it is likely the number will be swelled to an almost indefinite extent in a few months, it is thought proper by the entera few months, it is thought proper by the enter-prising gentlemen engaged in the emigrant move-ment to prepare an outlet at once through which the tide of population may readily flow. Incident to this movement, there will be quite a demand for some of the United States vessels, to be sold to the highest bidder, in a short time. THE PLOT TO BURN THE CITY.

THE PLOT TO BURN THE CITY.

Many of our citizens are disposed to treat as a joke the recent attempt to burn this city. They call it "a big sell." So also would the citizens of New Yerk have laughed in reference to the attempted burning of that city previous thereto. So also would we all have disbelieved in the trapping of merchant vessels and destroying them while on errands of mercy; the entering upon and selzure of river and lake steamers by rebels disguised its females or travellers; the throwing of railway trains from their tracks, threatening the lives of weak and defenceless women and children, because there were a few soldlers aboard the trains. How little would any honest, loyal heart have ever imagined that the President of the United States and the Secretary of State would have been assasinated, the latter upon a bed of sickness! These acts show us what some hearts, black with crimes, are capable of, and speak to us trumpet-tongued against our apathy at the warnings which are daily given us. Our civil powers are using every exertion to secure the safety of the property, lives, and homes of our citizens. Let the vigilance be continued. An attempt to poison the water we drink in the reservoir has been rumored, and we are informed that a guard has been placed there. It would be almost impossible to accomplish such an attempt; yet let us not cesse our vigilance until all possibility of the success of any such nameless crime is impossible.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

A stated meeting of the Philadelphia Society for Promoting Agriculture, was held yesterday morning. Packages of seed from the Department of Agriculture at Washington were received. On motion, it was agreed that the spring sale of cattle take place on Wednesday, the 24th inst. Mr. Craig Biddle offered the following:

Whereas, It is becoming that we should commemorate on the minutes of our society our sympathy in the deep affliction with which our country has been visited in the loss of its late lamented Chief Magistrate; therefore, Magistrate; therefore,

Resolved, That we deplore with sincere sorrow the loss which our country has sustained in the death of Abraham Lincoln, President of the United of Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States.

Resolved, That he never stood higher in the estimation of the American people than at the moment of his untimely death. His great simplicity and purity of character, his firmness of purpose, and sindness of heart, chine so conspicuously as to secure him the respect and confidence of all men.

Resolved, That the mode of his death merits our deepest execration. That we cannot reflect without mortification that any one could be found in our country vile enough to perpetrate so atroolous a crime in so base and dastardly a manner.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

A discussion on the method of curing glanders in horses was entered into, after which the society adjourned.

The Academy of Muric was well filled last even-ing, the occasion being a special Union service meeting, conducted by the Rev. Edward Payson Hammond.

A large number of children were seated in the pardictie, and sang a number of hymns with great side it, after which a prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Calkins, of the Calvary Presbyterian Church. M. Online, of the Calvary Pressyterian Church. M.
Baldwin, Eq., occupied the chair, saying it was well known that there was not churches enough in our midst to accommodate all our citizons. This had induced many of them to have meetings in the open air. One or two experiments made within the week had been eminettly successful, and would be
Music.

BALLOON ASCENSION.

Mr. Wilberham, the celebrated eronaut, made a most beautiful ascension, yesterday afternoon, from the encicaure at Fifteenth and Coates streets. The wind was blowing a pretty stiff breeze from the northwest, but the atmosphere was clear. At the altitude of a couple of miles an uninterrupted view could be had of the earth. The balloon took a southeasterly direction at first, but upon ascending to a height inclined more to the eastward. It passed over our city at a pretty fast speed, and after being up for over an hour was seen to descend into Jersey, somewhere in the vicinity of Blackwood town. Mr. W. intends to give topical ascensions during the pleasant afternoons and evenings for several CRICKET.

The rapid disappearance of ladividual bank issues, and the consequent uniformity of the currency by nearly all the banking institutions being national banks, has seriously inconvenienced counterfeiters of bank notes. Their occupation is gone. The people are too well acquainted with the genuine to be duped into taking the spurious. There are, it is said, a new lot of counterfeit fives on the national banks, but they are as readily detected as a brass imitation of a five-dollar piece. THE LINCOLN MONUMENT. THE IINCOLN MONUMENT.

Mayor Henry, yesterday, received a note from Miss Anna E. Dickinson enclosing $922.86, the proceeds of a lecture given by her for the benefit of the fund for erecting a monument to the memory of our late President. The following is a copy of the note: PHILADELPHIA, May 3, 1865.

Hon. Alexander Henry:

Dhan Sir: I have the pleasure of transmitting you, through the hands of my friend, Mr. T. Brugh, my mits towards the erection of a monument to our President, dead—yet living in the love and remembrance of the people.

The sum enclosed ($922.36) is the result of a lecture given by me at our Academy of Music on the eve of Friday, 28th of April.

Truly yours, Arna E. Dickinson.

Let the work go on, and let funds enough be collected as will do justice alike to the great city of Philadelphia as to the great man whose memory it is intended to perpetuate. POINT BREEZE PARK ASSOCIATION.

FULLY COMMITTED.

George W. Douglass, with an indefinite number of aliases, was arraigned at the Central Station yesterday afternoon, on a final hearing, on the charge of obtaining, under false pretences, three sewing machines from the Florence Machine Company. The only additional teatimony was that given by the officer who made the arrest. When the prisoner was taken into custody he admitted that he had been in a great many scrapes, but he got out of them all, and supposed the same scucess would attend him in this one. The defendant has very gray hair, whiskers, and moustache, and thus he appears wenerable by age. He stood like a statue and just as mute, his head "bowed down by weight of woe," his half closed eyes being rivetted on some particular spot on the desk before him. He was committed, in default of $2,000 ball, to answer.

NEW YORK SHOPLIFTER.

A woman, of rather genteel address, giving the name of Elizabeth Fithian, and hailing from New York, was arraigned before the same magistrate on the charge of the larceny of a bonnet. She visited the milinery establishment of Messrs. Wood & Cary, on Chestnut street, yesterday, and examined the latest style. As she was going out she lifted a "love of a bonnet" valued at $15, and was leisurely walking away with it with all the confidence of an honest woman. She was stopped; but at once offered to pay for the atticle. This was peremptorily refused. An officer was called; she was arrested, and finally seat to prison to await her trial.

Daniel Steinmetz vs. The Frankin Fire Insurance Company. An action to recover on a policy of insurance against damage by fire on a building west side of Fifth street, shove North street. The amount sought to be recovered is about $2,500, that being the amount of the loss by the fire.

The company refused to pay, and set up as a defence that the policy was issued when the building was eccupied as a rag warehouse, and that the rate at which the risk was taken was fixed by the uses to which the building was to be put; that, in violation of a clause in the policy, the plaintiff permitted his tenant, Alexander Bristley, to sub-let the fifth story to certain parties to carry on the business of manufacturing painted muslin shades for windows, to carry on which business the use of paints, olls, benzine, and other Infiammable substances was necestary. This, it is alleged, was without notice to the defendants, and was such a violation of the terms of the policy as to vitiate it. It was in this room that the fire originated, and defendants contended they were not liable for the damages. Jury out. Letchworth for plaintiff; etc. W. Biddle for defendants. A colored man, named James Downs, was arraigned yesterdey on the charge of receiving stolen goods. The defendant keeps a cellar on Second street. A few days since a man named James Morgan was arrested on the charge of stealing some bed-clothing from the sleeping car on the Pannsylvania Raliroad, at West Philadelphia. He also finally admitted having robbed a number of boathouses on the Schuylkill of a variety of articles, and informed the officers that he had sold them to defendant. The proper search was made, and some of the stolen property was recovered. The accused was bound over to answer at court. District Court No. 2—Judge Hare.
Selina Reddy vs. The Frankford and Southwark Rassenger Railway Company. This was an action to recover damages for injuries occasioned by the alleged negligence of defendants' agents or employess. It appears that the plaintiff, who is aged and feeble, being more than seventy years old, was a passenger in a car of the company. Arriving at the point where she wished to get out she remarked to the conductor that she was feeble, and to be careful. He assisted plaintiff out, but before she had let go of the railing of the car it started, and Wittle and Estelle, who were arrested a few days since in the act of breaking into a store on Market street, were arraigned yesterday on the charge of steeling a set of harness valued at $110. They admitted the charge, and said they realized the sum of $30 on the sale of the harness. The property was stolen from a riding-school near Broad and Arch streets. The defendants were committed to answer. had let go of the railing of the car it started, and threw her to the ground, hurting her considerably. The defence was that the accident was caused mainly by the plaintiff herself, who, being upon the ground, still retained her hold on the car. Also, that the signal to start was not given by the conductor, but that the plaintiff having baggage upon the front plaiform, the driver was assisting in putting it off, and while thus engaged the horses suddenly started off themselves. Verdict for plaintiff $750. D. Dougherty for plaintiff; Olmstead for defendant.

THE FEMALE LEGREE CONVICTED. may be news to them as well as to the community.

The Ioh Question.—The time when ice becomes a necessity in the household is fast approaching; and we are glad to perceive that our comments upon the attempt of the dealers in that article to charge an exhapitant price for it has had the effect which we desired, of stimulating a wholesome competition, which has compelled them to reduce their rates. We are credibly informed that the stock in some of the ice companies paid a dividend last year of forty per cent., at the price then domanded. As the article is more abundant this year we can imagine what the percentage on the stock would be if the companies adhered to the tariff at first announced, which was about a hundred per cent. advance upon that of 1864. It is no use for monopolists to endeavor to impose upon the public at this time, when the price of all commodities are coming down. The standard value of gold has now reached one hundred and forty-five. That is just a hundred and twenty per cent. below its highest quotations. Everything should conform to that, standard, and it must do so, no matter how strenuously dealers may endeavor to keep up the prices of articles of consumption. All the necessaries of life must follow the price of gold, the avarice of monopolies and retail dealers to the contrary notwithstanding. Sagacious people will compete with the extretionise and undersell them. This will soon bring things to a proper level.—New York Herald.

THE FENALE LEGEBEE CONVICTED.

The case of Rebecca Reed, charged with committing an assault and battery on the colored girl, Georgiana Jones, was resumed. The girl was again called to the stand and exhibited sears on her neck and legs which were made with a cowhide. (The skin of the child is black, but where the cowhide has left its impress the skin has been changed to a bright color.) I am sure the defendant took my clothes off of me and turned me out of doors on the the night of the 24th of January.

A lady testified to seeing the child when it was at the house of Mrs. Davis; she was bruised and her ear out; her side looked as though it had been stuck with a fork; her lip was also out; she looked as though is he had been beaten unmerchilly; her back, hips, and legs were bruised badly.

To a Juror.—The wound in her side looked as though it had been made by a three-pronged fork.

The defence called the following witnesses:

Mrs. Sarah Meyers sworn.—I live in St. John street, above Buttonwood; I know Mrs. Reed; I was at her house the day the child left; Mrs. Reed was out; the child committed an excess in the hall, and Mrs. Reed sent her to clean it up; she took a unan's coat to clean the hall with; I took ham I did not know who had used his coat, but I supposed Georgiana had; he took a cane and beat the child, pulled her hair, and kicked her; he told her not to tell what he had done; Mrs. Reed sent the girl to the hydrant to wash her clothes, after putting clean clothes on her; the clean clothes were left in the yard; I heard-her taking with Miss Klump; Mrs. Reed was not in the house at the time the boarder beat the child; I told the man who beat her for God's sake not to kill hit. THERE are two of Sir Joshua Reynolds' Italian note-books in the British Museum; the largest a small quarto, in parchment; the other a duodecimo. They are filled with notes in pencil, and aketches both of figures and landscapes; the former are chiefly memoranda of pictures, or slight sketches from nature, evidently taken as his chaise halted on the road, or at his stopping places for sleep or meals. More than one of the memoranda from pictures he afterwards turned to account; for example, an angel playing on the harpsichord seems to have suggested his portrait of Mirs. Sheridan as St. Cecilia; and a female figure in an attitude of contemplation has evidently furnished the idea for the picture of Mrs. Crawe as St. Geneviève. Mr. R. Gwatkin has his Roman note book, which also contains many slight sketches. Two, with notes on Rome and Bologna, are in the Scane Museum.

The bark Hattle Morrison, from Philadelphia, with coal on Government account, for N Orleans, came dewn last evening, and remains in the Roadstead. The bark Atlanta, for Port Royal, and brig Meteor, for Clenfuegor, went to sea on Sunday, at 1 P. M. Wind ENE. Weather cool and clear. Yours, &c., daughter and daughter halos and they would not believe her on her oath; she is always clish-clashing among her neighbors.

Mrs. Myers recalled.—Mrs. Hall never told me an untruth; I don't trouble myself about what neighbors say.

Counsel for defendant assured the jury that she was a woman of remarkable amiability of temper, and felt very much grieved and distressed at being charged with the offence. [She exhibited the most stolid indifference, except when she excreted herself to break down the characters of the witnesses for the Commonwealth. Many of the females in the audience not connected with the case exhibited much feeling at the recital of the horrible details, but the defendant listened with no visible feeling of horror, her countenance being placid throughout.]

Mr. Mann referred to the evidence of Sallie Myers, saying that he could not believe she would nermit her friend, Mrs. Reed, to be arrested and taken before an alderman, and finally to be brought before the court on such a serious charge, knowing all the time that a man was the guilty party who had inflicted the injuries. She had kept this a profound secret until she came into court, permitting P. M. Wind ENE. Weather cool and clear.
Yours, &c.,
J. Hilly'D Burron.

J. J. Daly sworn.—I have known the prisoner for two montha; I lost money in United States currency, ranging from twenty-five cents upwards; I keep a grocery store on Arch street; my bank book and insurance papers were up stairs in my bedroom; I missed the money this day two weeks; on the following Thursday my son brought in some papers which he found in a box near the store door; my bank book and insurance papers were with the bundle; they were wrapped up in an Evening Telegraph; shortly afterwards the prisoner came into the store, and I said the newspaper would likely lead to the detection of the thief, whereupon the prisoner got very excited, and made many inquiries at to how it could; a day or so afterwards he came in to buy an empty box; a man came in while he was there to get a five-dollar bill changed; my wife could not change it, but the prisoner said he could, and in doing so I recognized a two-dollar bill with a peculiar mark on it; I did not say anything at that time, but subsequently arrested him; I saw him running around the corner of Second and Arch streets, and, on arresting him, he said, "Do you arrest me for stealing your money!" I handed him over to an officer.

On cross-examination, the witness said that he had counted the money two nights before it was stolen, and the two-dollar note was there; his wife had changed a twenty-dollar note for the prisoner on one occasion; the money was taken between six and eight o'clock.

Detective Lamon testified to searching the house of defendant, and found nothing unual there; the window of the room, where the money was, was pried open with a chies!

Elizabeth Hutz testified to seeing a man answering the description of the prisoner walk up the alley which separated her house from Daly's about six o'clock in the evening; about fifteen minutes afterterwards he came back.

Question. Did you get agood glimpse of him?
