THE CAMDEN HOME FOR ORPHANS AND DESTITUTE CHILDREN. —The opening of the Cam-den Home for Orphans and Destitute (Juildren took place yesterday afternoon, at the Home NO. 523 Federal street, Camden, N. J. The Home is a neat building, in every way adapted to the purposes for which it was intended, the rooms all being light and airc.

minch it was intended, the rooms all being light and airs. Mathew Newkitk. Esg., president of the Home, occupied the chair. He started that the idea of form-ing the present Home originated with a number of Obristian women, on the 9th day of February, 1863, and for the purpose of carrying out their views they elected twenty-four female managera and twenty male trustees. Since that time a char-ter has been obtained and a constitution and by-laws adopted. By the help of liberal subserjo-tions, the bouse and grounds now occupied by the Home have been secured for the use of helpiess chil-dren. The services of an intelligent Ohristian lady have been feouried as matron, and the future pro-ports of the Home are eminently encouraging. A oportion of Scripture was then read by Rev. E. E Glover. Frayer was offered by Rev. V. N. Reed. Addresses were then delivered by Dr. Ganson, Rev. Alex. Reed. Rev. B. F. Hedder, and others. Mrs. Newkitk, in connection with other Ohristian ladies, has done much in building up the present Home, and there is not much doubt that the institu-tion formally opened yeardary will be in every respect a success and a mattor of pride to those who have been instrumental he its formation.
