Lee, late commander of the robel forces, and that of Alexander H. Stephens, late Vice President of the late Confederacy. Hir. Stephens enters at length into an apology or vindication of the action he has taken. Among the reasons which led him to espume the cause of the rebellion, he refers to the inct that the Tribura, known to be a powerful and influential supporter of the Republican Ad-ministration, openly advocated the right of the Southern people to independence. Mr. Stephens inferred from this that independence would be con-ceded to the South without war. He acknowledges that the question has been decided forever, and he desires hereafter to be, and to be considered a good and loyal oitizen of the United States. It is the matter roll of a militia company raised by Capt. Noak Grant, great grandrather of Lieut, Gen. U. S. Grant, and bears date of March 20, 1755. Capt. Grant and his brother, Lieut. Solomon Grant, were afterwards killed at the battle of White Plains, N. Y., in the revolu-tionary war. Affixed to the names on the roll is the amount of wages reseived by each solder-general-ly for the period of twenty-five weeks, which was probably the period they were. required to serve. n asvium in Mexico. - Fifteen negroes were found dond in the river bolow Macon, Ga., recently-died of starvation, it is
