THE INDIAN WAR.

THE APATROE INDIANS-THE PERPETRATORS O THE OUTRAGES ON THE OVERLAND MAIL ROUTE

-AN EXPEDITION AGAINST THEM. FORT LARAMIE, July 3.-11 has been ascertained beyond dispute that the Apahoe Indians, who, for some time, have been fed by the Government at Port Halleck as friendly Indians, have been perpetrating most of the outrages committed on the overland wall route west of Denver.

Having discovered by some means that they were suspected, they have now taken the war, path openly and defiantly. Our troops are in pursuit. There are no friendly Indians east or north of Denver and Camp Collins, neither can any peace be extended until they are se-verely punished. The successes they have met with the past year have made them ex-ceedingly wild.

General Connor's three columns are preparing to march against them, but want supplies, which are on the way from the Missouri river. General Connor arrived here to-day, and will take the field himself. The manner in which emigrant trains are organized renders that mode of travelling perfectly safe. The Indians so far, have succeeded only in effecting damage on mail stations, telegraph lines, etc.

The New York Herald on Negro Suf-Frage. [From Yesterday's Herald.] The President of the United States hasturned Tree Yesticentof the United States has turned over this question to certain specified loyal white voters in the late rebel States, in their work or reorganization. To these loyal whites belongs the task of settling this question in the revision of their several'state constitutions, or in the initial measures of their new State Lo-gislatures. Now, looking simply at the local, social, and industrial interests, and at the na-tional political interests of the Southern States, it appears as plain to us as that two and two make four, that it is the true policy of said States to concede the principile of negro suf-frage in their work of State reorganization, whatever msb be the limitations prescribed. It is clearly the interest of the late rebel States to get back into Congress as soon as pos-sible; but there is great danger of their exclu-sion from both Houses for at least two years to come, upon this question of negro suffrage, and they may possibly fare no better in the next succeeding Congress, if they persist in the total exclusion of the black race from the ballot-box. The disorganized Southern States prevention of Territories, and to their exclus-ing the context on the task of the serious prevention of the serious prevention the ballot-box. The disorganized Southern States not the other hand, by conceding the prinrefractory Territories, and to their serious prejudice in every way, for an indefinite time to come.

 On the other hand, by conceding the principle of negro suffrage, in addition to the President's requisitions, the readmission of every state now excluded from Congress is secured.
 The principle in question may be conceded without much difficulty. We believe that under the present law of suffrage in Massachusetts and Connecticut, all mule difficulty and write, are admitted to the ballot-box. Suppose South Carolina should adopt this law, would Massachusetts or Connecticut have any right to object? To be sure, the great mass of the south carolina hacks would be thus excluded for a time; but moder the sregulation a wide field would be opened for enterprising Yankee schoolmasters. But the great point is this: that "human rights," as granted in Massachusetts of the bouther State concerned. Let the responsible loyal white voters of these States bear it in mind that shevery and slave codes are abolished; that their negroes are free, and the your will be these due to stand in the way of the restoration of the souther whites they will be used by their Northern political enemies. Let these things be remembered, we say, and the prejudices of race and easte, in this broad political tries to the substate the way of the restoration of the late rebel states to congress.

RETURNING VETERANS.—Chestnut street was enlivened yesterday morning by the ap-pearance of the old 99th Regiment P. V. Their gallant Colonel, Edward K. Bless, was at the head of his command, and an elegant band preceded the veterans, discouring delightful music. This regiment was originally com-manded by Colonel Romain Leigene. Since Colonel Biles has led the boys they have had plenty of hard lightful to do, and their brave commander has frequently been wounded. Upon several occasions the makes have been filed up by recruits. Their flag bears the names of the battles they have passed through, and well may they be proud of it. Colonel Biles entered the army at the outbreak of the rebellion, as adjutant of the Sect Legion, and to him they were indebted for the high state of discipline they attained. The sith Pennsylvania, originally command-ed by Colonel Geo, P. McLeca, also passed up Chestnut street under the command of Colonel Wagner. This regiment has also done good service in many a well-contested field. RETURNING VETERANS .--- Chestnut street

Every one rushed for them as they neared terra firma, and fifties, fires, and tens were grabbed up with avidity.
