By A. D. Richardson, New York Tribune Correspondent.
The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Bichardson's unparalleled experience for four years, travelling through the South in the secret service of the Tribune, at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his hrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey, by night, of nearly four bundred miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident, and romance of the war than any other work published.

Horace Greeley says:
"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give within a similar compass a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies, and instrumentalities of the Slaveholders Embilion than does the unpretending marrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled office din find it peculiarly adapted to their condition. We have agents clearing $175 per months, which we will prove to any doubting applicant.
