THE WAR PRESS For the week ending October 7th is full of interest to the politician, the merchant, the mechanic, the farmer. Every item which concerns the first, and every argument which can be of value is presented to him. The merchant, in the carefully-prepared market reports-financial and commercial -has accurate guides of every-day value to him. The mechanic finds information. The farmer in the agricultural column reads what it has required years of study to discover. In every respect the WAR PRESS possesses advantages, offering to every reader something he will like; going over the whole world to find facts to interest him, and over the whole sphere of fancy to entertain him.

WORDS OF WARNING.

The citizens who so nobly sustained the Administration of ABRAHAM LINCOLN during four years of unparalleled war, bore up against disasters on the field, death in their family circles, the disaffection of a corrupt and corrupting party, the intrigues of foreign governments, and inconceivable anxieties, still too keenly and sadly recollected ever to be forgotten, are again called to the performance of a civil duty, not less important than any that demanded their suffrages during the progress of the rebellion. Not a single reason that impelled them to activity before has intermediately lost its force. If they were on the alert to punish the open foe, to protect their dearest interests, to stiffen and strengthen the hands of their public servants, they should be equally so now, when a desperate, yet secret and steady effort, is being made to weaken the policy by which alone the Union can be restored, and to exchange for the well-tried stewards on whom they have placed their trust, doubtful, hesitating, grasping, and worse than all, disloyal politicians. There are in Pennsylvania eighteen hundred election districts, and if there is one Union man in each district who will stay at home in favor of the so-called Democratic party of some two thousand votes. That there is an unusual over-confidence or inexcusable indifference among the people, cannot be denied. Whatever the reason, all the after. active friends of the good cause should remember that, even admitting the present contest to be comparatively unimportant, it is nevertheless the beginning of a greater struggle in the year to come. Failure this year will obstruct and probably paralyze our friends in 1866, when we shall be called upon to elect a Governor in place of our present executive, all our representatives in Congress, a Legislature which is to choose a United States Senator for six years from the 4th of March, 1867, and many influential municipal officers. Now, in the eighteen hundred election districts referred to there are doubtless many who have a direct, personal, conscientious and abiding interest in the administration of the State and Gene- spirators, by General W. S. HANCOCK, and ral Government by those who have them | that Andrew Johnson signed the deathnow in charge. To these citizens we appeal. It is a light duty they are asked to discharge—it is their own business they are called upon to attend to. If they fail, either through neglect or temporary alienation, or from any othe. ause, short of a sincere desire to vote with the common enemy, upon themselves be the consequences.

WATE THE NEGRO-LOVE THE TRAITOR. The claim of the Democratic leaders to the support of the people of Pennsylvania, the chief, almost the single text upon which their candidate for Auditor General, Colonel Davis, dilates and declaims, is consistent hatred of the colored people. When we reflect that these persecuted people are as sixty thousand to three millions of whites in this State alone, and relatively in the same minority in the whole country, we on such an aspiration. Hatred of those who can harm nobody, and are even denied by these politicians the poor right to help themselves, is, however, in exact accord with Democratic sympathy for the hellish doctrine of treason.

Senator CHARLES R. BUCKALEW, having been duly silent during all the nation's troubles, proposes now to speak "early, frequently, and all the time," as the election cry used to have it. He has just uttered a long opinion intended to prove that deserters and bounty-jumpers can vote of September last, so greatly loved in life that it was no marvel that he should be universally mourned in death. Realizing this great disgood many of this gentry, and as they are all ready to vote for Colonel Davis for Auditor General, the Senator's argument is uncommonly forcible and impassioned. Lest anybody may doubt the Democratic anxiety to get the support of these patriotic skedaddlers, we refer them to Mr. Bucka-LEW's legal opinion in The Age of Monday.

rogatories propounded by the Trades' Assembly, Mr. DANIEL M. Fox thus dis-

"Under the present system of labor the workingman continues his work from early morning till evening, and when his hard day's labor is over he is only too glad to be able to recruit his exhausted energies by sleep. No time is given him to become acquainted with the public measures of the day, upon which his liberties and those of his children may depend. Malead, he can neither become an intelligent citizen or a good head of a family."

We have heretofore believed, and in recruit his exhausted energies by sceletime is given him to become acquainted with the public measures of the day, upon which his liberties and those of his children may depend. Madead, he can neither become an intelligent citizen or a good head of a family."

We have heretofore believed—and, indeed, thought our belief grounded on personal knowledge—that the number of intelligent citizens and good heads of families among workingmen would bear favorable comparison with that among any other class. But Mr. Fox assures us that "under the present system of labor," the workingman can become neither the one nor the other; and, as this system has been in operation a long time, it follows, according to the Foxonian theory, that no workingman of the present day is either "an intelligent citizen or a good head of a family.' Truly, we "live to learn." Yet, with due humility we venture to suggest to Mr. Fox that but few workingmen are so ignorant as to have committed the blunder of casting a slur on the intelligence of a whole class in a letter designed as a cunning device to secure the votes of that class. In sober seriousness, Mr. Fox's letter is either grossly insulting to those to whom it is addressed, or it is simply ridiculous.

No NAMES on the local Union tickets are | filled to overflowing. more entitled to the cordial support of the people than those of WILLIAM B. MANN, for District Attorney, and F. CARROLL BREWSTER, for City Solicitor. A bolder and a braver citizen or citizen-soldier, or a more fearless prosecuting officer than Mr. MANN, we have never known , and a more conscientious patriot and thorough lawyer than Mr. BREWSTER adorns neither society nor the bar. The opposition to them is so slight as almost to amount to a concession of their coming re-election, and an endorsement of their nearly uncontested deserv-

THE Democracy ought to be inexpressibly grateful to the colored man; for if they had not him to abuse they would be thrown clean into the hands of "the radicals."

A GOOD DEAL FOR THE PRESIDENT, BUT NOT MUCH FOR JOHNSON. It must not be forgotten that every Democratic leader, now loud for ANDREW JOHN. SON, was indifferent to his patriotic courage in December of 1860, indignant at his attack on BRECKINRIDGE and LANE in 1861, laughed at his sufferings as a refugee and opposed his appointment as Military Governor of Tennessee in 1861-62; denounced his tyranny and called him an ingrate in 1863; voted against him in 1864; slandered him in 1865; and now proclaims himself in favor of Andrew Johnson's Restoration or Reconstruction plan without ever having done anything but assail all the other portions of his policy, including Emancipation, Confiscation, Suspension of the Writ of Habeas Corpus, Military Arrests, both organizations, we suggest that in re. | Military Trials, Execution of the Assassins and the support of radicals like HOLT, STAN-

> GOOD AND BAD ENDORSERS. Generals George G. MEADE and WIN-FIELD SCOTT HANCOCK, both men of confighting, are among the endorsers of John F. HARTRANFT, the Union candidate for Auditor General. A political ticket is like a note of hand-well endorsed it will pass current for a long time; but even a good bill—supposing WILLIAM WATTS HART shudder backed by such names as James BUCHANAN and J. S. BLACK.

> > ASK THE SOLDIERS.

How long should it take a loyal citizen to decide between the gallant General HART-BANFT, the hero of the first great victory in the series that closed the war by compelling the evacuation of Richmond and the surrender of LEE, to Colonel DAVIS, the editor and owner of that vile newspaper, the Doulestown Democrat? Let such a citizen, if he has any doubts about it, ask the brave soldiers who followed the one and understand the other.

ONE of the most industrious opponents of the Union State ticket in the present election is Jeremiah S. Black, James Buchanan's Attorney General, who enunciated and en- new," in the fact that this season a full bon forced the doctrine that the American Government had no authority or power to protect itself from annihilation. He is as loud in his praise of President Johnson as a which we have just emerged. The new bon few months ago he was bitter in his calum. few months ago he was bitter in his calumnies of Andrew Johnson.

ABUSE of the gallant young General HARTRANET, the Union candidate for Auditor General, is now as common in the Democratic papers, as abuse of Andrew Johnson was, when he was helping to put down the Copperheads of Tennessee. But when the General is elected by a good round majority, he will be crystalized into a first-rate patriot. He will be "Hangman HARTRANFT" no more.

In THAT first-class weekly newspaper the Blairsville New Era, of September 30th. we find a powerful speech pronounced by on Tuesday next, it will make a difference | the Hon. P. C. Shannon, before the citizens of that place on the 28th ultimo. It is of great length and of exhaustive ability; and takes high, bold, national ground. We hope to give some extracts from it here.

> WITH great good sense the New York Evening Post says: "One inference we should like to draw from the result in Con- many things of merit and taste, it would be necticut, which is, that if a New England society, famed for its thrift and intelligence, is so reluctant to act upon its better principles, we should not be too impatient with those Southern societies which are just | bly as late styles as are out. The latter, trim emerging from the ignorance and bigotry of a much inferior social state."

HAVE THE Democrats who are now so anxious to prove themselves friends of An-DREW JOHNSON ever thought the man they called "Hangman HARTRANFT" was appointed to the care of the assassins, or conwarrant upon which they were executed? HOW GRANT, PHIL, SHERIDAN, CUSTER, and the other heroes of the Army of the Potomac, who do not live in Pennsylvania, would be surprised to hear of W. W. H. Davis trying to get soldiers to vote for him against John F. HARTRANFT! "This is the first time I have been among the Copperheads in four long years," as the brave soldier says to himself after generously consenting to run for office on the Democratic ticket. TOWNSEND HAINES. When we attempt to estimate the value, or to measure the influence of a good man, we that is vicious among our fellow-creatures. It cannot be that it is so difficult to cultivate human virtue. Not only is the reward great, same minority in the whole country, we but the acquisition of the love of our own species is, in most cases, easy and agreeable. The and the charity of the men who ask votes loss of an exemplary citizen, one who has advanced beyond the psalmist's age; such a character, for instance, as William J. Duane, whose death we chronicled a few days ago, is like the dropping from the heavens of a wellremembered star, universally regretted and ever to be replaced. As such a citizen advances in years, he enjoys the rare felicity of iving as it were among his posterity. The good seeds of early life have fruited in many a glorious harvest; and, as every hour lessens his hold upon existence, and decreases the space between his present and his future, he studies to fill it with new examples, that others may follow and profit by in their turn. Such a man was Townsend Haines, of Chester county, who passed to his final rest on the 21st at the coming election. As there were a pensation as keenly as any, not immediately good many of this gentry, and as they are associated with this really noble citizen, we would lay our sincere tribute upon his honored grave. We find a beautiful testimonial to Judge Haines in the West Chester Republican, from which we take the following:

"No man was better known to, or more highly esteemed by, the whole people of Chester county, than Judge Haines. Native here, and having spent his life in their sight, they appreciated him, and his loss will be deeply, sadly felt. Whatever lofty talent, high genial qualities, and official position, can add in graces, were his. Those brought into the closest fellowship with bim, and whose opportunities to learn his character were best loved him most. In all our gatherings where he appeared, he was a central object. He was popular—he could not be otherwise—for mankind had been with him a life-long study, and it pained him to cause offence. Such fine natural endowments as he possessed are bestowed but upon the very few—such wide fancy and brilliant wit—such sound philosophy and analyzing thought—such playfulness and propriety. which we take the following:

PIANO FOR THE WHITE HOUSE. The Schoof our city are now exhibiting at their ware rooms, No. 1021 Chestnut street, the splendid grand piano made by them for the President. The reputation of these instruments is so thoroughly known throughout the land that they are everywhere acknowledged the finest instruments made. Our offizens who feel an interest in Philadelphia manufacturers should call to see this magnificent plano, and hear its tone. We feel gratified to know that we have an establishment in our city engaged in this difficult branch of industry, who are appreciated by those who are in want of first-class instruments. This company built and donated to the sanitary fair held in this city, the elegant square piano which was so much admired. They also presented to Lieut. Gen. Grant a very superior "Square Grand." This estab-lishment deserves the thanks of every good citizen, for their liberality, patriotism and enerprise. May they be amply rewarded. "SPRING BROOK."-Messrs. CITY ITEMS.

Millinery Opening Day. A decidedly fall-like change in the tempera ture of yesterday was auspicious for the regu lar Millinery Openings of our city, in this re spect, at least, that it reminded the bonne wearing portion of the genus home of the advancing year, and the necessity for changing their apparel. Whether the changes that dame Fashion has elaborated for Autumn, 1865, and exactly adapted to the requirements of colder weather, the ladies, we opine, will discover for themselves. One thing is certain: the change in the thermometer already referred to, is not more decided and noticeable than the changes which the present season has in-troduced in ladies hats. Instead of the small fanchon of last season, we have an illustra-tion of the adage that "old things become theless unique. It has a crown and cape in a small way, somewhat Friendly in its construction, giving it a sort of gig-top form, and being upon the whole a decided oddity. These comments, we may here state, are founded upor Their "opening" yesterday, we may add, was a brilliant success, attended by the ton of our city almost en masse, and was eulogized by all as the most beautiful and attractive display of onnets of both French and American pro duction, ever made in this city. In examining their various styles we observed nothing espe cially new in colors; but a great variety o ight, rich shades of pearl, light-straw color, ilac, and blue, "moon on the lake," light drab and purple are in style, all of which, when used as trimmings, are calculated to relieve the heavy appearance of black velvet and other dark shades. In the department of La-dies', Misses' and Children's Hats, the celebrity of this popular old house is also well sustained. In this class of goods they displayed a great variety of shapes in silk velvet, many of which were trimmed with feathers and rich ornaments of gilt, steel and jet. Among so heasants, loon-wings, fancy feathers, birds, etc., still holds its own. What are termed "Highlands" and "Round-crowns" are proba med with long vells, falling gracefully to the side, are novel, dressy, and will certainly be popular. But, not to enlarge, we recommend all our lady readers to see this elegant stock of Bonnets and Hats for themselves.

The large importing and jobbing Millinery establishment of Mr. N. Weyl, No. 726 Chestant street, was also thronged vesterday with buyers, and to purchasers of royal and uncut velvets, ribbons in every variety, silks, laces, English crepes, French flowers and feathers bonnet frames, and, in fact, every thing per-taining to the Millinery trade, the stock of Mr. Weyl is not excelled in Philadelphia.

In the retail department, Messrs. E. P. Gill & Co., No. 720 Arch street, also reaped a gratifying "opening" harvest yesterday. Their display of new styles French bonnets was highly creditable, and elicited general admiration. Among the individual specimens exhibited, the following types struck us as specially worthy of notice : A green velvet bonnet ed on the outside with a bird of para dise, with a face-trimming of velvet flowers to match the feathers, and a braid work of French jets and chains on the cape. One of the most striking things in the display was a "Marie Antoinette" boungt—a scarlet velvet, trimmed with a white ostrich plume and real laces forming an elegant fall over the hair. The face trimming was of scarlet velvet, set off with flowers of white velvet. A French bon-net, of white royal velvet, but so constructed as to give it a very etherial air, also attracted much attention. It was trimmed with light blue velvet, and a veil of spangled net hanging from the puffs, with a fall of real lace, and a bunch of orange blossoms. The face was trimmed with a twist of blue velvet, and a small bouquet of orange blossoms intertwined with spangled net. Notwithstanding this seeming profusion of bonnet and ornament, so com pactly were they arranged that the whole affair is exceedingly small, "The Empire" is the name of a rich black velvet bonnet in the collection, trimmed with bows of black, mixed with zone color, the face being trimmed with a quilling of zone velvet and black velvet leaves. Their "Morrisett" Hat, or Cap, is a novelty that commends itself to popular favor. It is made of black velvet, with a massive point of velvet falling from the back, and trimmed with real face and a band of green velvet, with a full trimming of green velvet in front, orna-mented with a sword-hilt and a bird—a fighting Geo Bricker, Newville W W Quinn, Maryland Miss C M D Johnson, Balt Miss L V Wood, Balt Stephen Leahy, N York Wm Thompson, Cincin, Ol. C Quimby, New York bird, we presume, in order to carry out-the martial idea. Their "Albine Turban" is an exquisite hat for children. It is trimmed with a binding and bands of light-blue velvet, a profusion of gilt ornaments, rosette at the side, with an ritch tip matching the velvet, and double ends of same colored velvet in the back. Their assortment of fine French flowers, ribbons, and all other goods used for making and trimning bonnets and hats, is rich and varied, and the eagerness with which purchases were made and orders given at their "opening" yesterday attested the appreciative tastelof their numerous patrons.

MULTUM IN PARVO.-If any of our readers will take the trouble, and be at the expense of purchasing one of each of the best Sewing Machines extant, omitting the "Wheeler & Wilson," they will find by experiment that the Wheeler & Wilson Machine alone combines in it, every desirable quality that is contained in all the rest. Hence their enormous sale, 200,000 of these instruments having already been sold, of which over 7,000 are now in use in this city.

BY ORI ER OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. FELLOW-CITIZENS: I had hoped to keep out of public discussion, but I we been so rudely assailed with criminal false-ood, that I will answer it. I am charged in the issue of the Sunday Transcript of October 1, as fol-"HOW FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS VANISH-ED.—During the past week we received the following communication from a leading citizen, the deing communication from a leading citizen, the developments in which will open the eyes of hundreds of poor men in the Tenth Ward, who last fall contributed their hard earnings to their Bounty Fund to avoid the draft. It deserves the perusal of the public no less than a fair and square answer from the party implicated:

"EDITORS OF 'SUNDAY TRANSCRIPT.'—It is currently reported that Mr. Sterling Bonsall, while acting as Recruiting Officer for the Tenth Ward, received from the Ward Bounty Fund pay for fifty-seven men. amounting to five thousand dollars. seven men, amounting to five thousand dollars, they ever present themselves to the City Bounty Fund Commission for the pay voted by Councils. When called upon to explain the matter, it is open-ly alleged that Mr. Bonsall was unable to do so. Will you be so good as to inform the public whether this is true? UNION. "We have been informed by gentlemen of the week we expect to have the names of the men for blication, with all the dates, amounts and incilents connected with the transaction." 1st. I never was recruiting officer for the Tenth of 2d. I did not receive pay for any one.

3d. There was not, to my knowledge, any one who received bounty from the ward and not from the 4th. D. C. McCammon, Esq., was Treasurer of this Ward, and received and paid the money. His books were examined (so he informs me) by two prominent citizens, and found correct.

5th. I collected for the ward nearly three thousand dollars, and I challenge any one to show that I received a dollar from any person whose name is not on the list of Contributors to the fund, with the full amount paid by him paid over to the treasurer; or that directly or indirectly I made a dollar by the Bounty Fund. On the contrary, I gave weeks of valuable time and the use of a room free of expense.

I. D. C. McCAMMON, late Treasurer of the First Bounty Fund Committee of the Tenth Ward, do certify that I have the vouchers for five hundred and seven men paid by me, and the certificate of the mustering officers that they were all credited to the Ward, and so far as I know they all received their bounty from the city. Sterling Bonsall was not paid for any men whatever. He collected twenty-nine hundred and forty-one (say $2,941), twenty-nine hundred and forty-one (say $2,941), dollars, all of which was not only paid over to me, but was frequently advanced before collection to help the ward.
