THE STATE BEFORE ELECTION. After a careful review of the political field in Pennsylvania, prior to the coming election, we see nothing to induce a discouraging expectation, unless it may be the natural over-confidence produced by a supreme sense of the justice of our cause, and the recollection of great victories in nearly all the States. But here is the great danger. To avert it a more active spirit must be awakened. We know that a continued effort is being made in Philadelphia and elsewhere to get out the full vote of the Opposition. This is no done by large meetings or much speaking. but by quiet canvassing and personal appeals. The silence of the Opposition is intended to produce indifference among the Union men, and if the vote is a small one the hope of the Opposition leaders may be realized. We have but to remember two things to put us on our guard: I. That all the disloyal, dissatisfied, revengeful elements are at work against our candidates and our cause; and, II. That as we have at least twenty-five thousand clear majority in Pennsylvania, now is the time to let it be seen and felt. There is not a pretext for indifference or change of opinion on the part of any Union voter. We hear of no defections in our ranks while we know that thousands both realize and yield to the conquering force of our arguments, and the yet greater power of confirming results. Union men of the cities, of the towns, of the townships, of the State, be alive! be alert! be united!

JEREMIAH S. BLACK AND ANDREW JOHNSON. We have before us the last speech of Hon.

JEREMIAH-S. BLACK, JAMES BUCHANAN'S

Attorney General, the author of the fatal

heresy that there is no power in the Constitution to authorize the Executive to protect the Government from annihilation. The speech was pronounced at Williamsport, Pennsylvania, on the 28th inst., and is fittingly copied into the organ of the O. P. F., the Lancaster Intelligencer. of the 5th of October, as if to show the close personal and mental co-operation between "the last of the Democratic Presidents" and that too faithful Squire who did not save his master and his country, when he might have rescued both. We are too near the election to give an elaborate exposé of this most venomous, spleneuc, and outrageous effort—so worthy of its author, and so true a chart of the desperate designs of his party. But as Judge BLACK is anxious to show himself a superior sort of Johnson man, and is said. to have declared at Williamsport (vide Harrisburg Telegraph of yesterday) that if the BLACK-BUCHANAN Democrats carry the State next Tuesday he will go to Washington and lay the majority as an humble tribute at the President's feet, we offer a jewel from the casket he presented to the last Democratic State convention. It will be remembered that our astute fellow-citizen, Mr. Vaux, presided over the deliberations, and that Judge BLACK reported the resolutions upon which Colonel W. W. H. DAVIS has taken his stand. Like the eminent Judge, so the profound RICHARD and the patriotic Colonel are powerful friends of President Johnson. It will also be remembered that this convention met at Harrisburg on the 24th of August, not six weeks since, when Andrew John-

"That the men and the party administering th Federal Government since 1861 have betrayed their trust, violated their sacred obligations, disregarded the commands of the fundamental law, corrupily squandered the public money, denied justice to the ople, perverted the whole Government from its final purpose, and thereby have brought on untold calamities upon the country." Even Heister Clymer, Mr. Wallace, son had been President more than five months, and when his policy was as clearly defined as it is at this moment. The preamble to Judge Black's resolutions

contained the following passage:

the chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, the New York World, the Doylestown Democrat, and The Age, at present first-class Johnsonians, have not been so fierce against the President as this. And Judge Black's slanders are the sharper, because they are the latest and the GOOD NEWS FROM THE WARDS. The friends of the Union candidates were quite active last night, as will be seen by our local columns of this morning. Meetings were held at Girard avenue and Otis street, at Crown street and Old York road, and at Broad and Lombard streets, all of which were well attended. Addresses were delivered by Messrs. Morron Mc-MICHAEL, WM. B. MANN, CHAS. O'NEILL CHAS. E. LEX, WILLIAM D. LEWIS, Col. THOMAS FITZGERALD, and many others, whose names are printed elsewhere. The enthusiasm of last evening promises well for the success of the National Union party on Tuesday next.

A SHORT ADDRESS "To the Electors of the city of Philadelphia" is published in THE PRESS to-day. It is the recommendation of Mobton McMichael, the Union candidate for Mayor, by some of the oldest, most revered, and most eminent of our citizens, headed by the beloved and irreproachable name of Horace Binney. The address sums up Mr. McMichael's merits and the necessity of electing him, and the imperative duty of the people, with brevity and force. To change the policy and the rulers of Philadelphia now. would be like changing exemplary decorum, thrift, and cleanliness, for the reckless and revolutionary characteristics of a New York riot or a Tipperary fair. What decent Democrat is ready for this?

THE OPPOSITION no longer parades the sham "Democracy;" it adopts as its rallying cry, the "Soldiers' Ticket." Like the rebels, when they sneaked upon HART-RANFT, in the Fort Steadman fight, in front of Petersburg, with the cry, "We are friends," "We are friends," it is adopted to deceive. HARTRANFT will give them now, as he gave their "friends" then, a deserved castigation.

In Australia there are parrots that hear so close a resemblance to the gumtrees, upon which they rest and feed, that they cannot be distinguished if they do not move. Had Colonel DAVIS remained a quite soldier, the copper color and copper bed from the Dovlestown Democrat would never have been known.

THE immortal renown of General GRANT and his comrades in arms, and the safety of the Government, were secured in the last two years of the war, which, according to Colonel W. W. H. Davis, the Democratic candidate for Auditor General, were "useless expenditures of blood." THE ISSUE before the people next Tuesday is the same that they have decided before, and against exactly the same foeswho renew it in a fit of desperation. When the rebels sought to gain an easy victory, they came out to meet us flaunting the Union flag. Their late sympathisers naturally imitate them, and come out to meet generous soldiers who kindly lead them. But in both cases the expedient is like the glass that covers without hiding the juggle.

CITY ITEMS. MAGNIFICENT STOCK OF CURTAIN GOODS .- II another part of our paper to-day the reader will find the fall card of Mr. I. E. Walrayen, No 19 Chestnut street, which we deem espec worthy the attention of our citizens. Mr. Walraven's marked enterprise in this depart ment has secured for his establishment an im mense business, and from the extent and ala gance of the stock which he now offers to his patrons (we speak from observation) his trade this season will scarcely be surpassed by any thersimilar house in the Union. He has just re turned from Europe, in the principal capitals o which he selected, personally, the choice stock which he now offers, among which we notice s number of novelties that will command at-ten; such as new and splendid designs in and gains be made in every case with the piano covers, rich satins, silk damasks, broca telles, terries, table covers, et cetera. A favorite novelty in Paris, at the present time. made of solid silk, very rich in its design, and osting no more than a worsted article. In Cur ain goods Mr. Walraven has brought out a elebrated mode color, now much in vogne broad, and decidedly pretty. In Lace Curains, he also offers a variety of beautiful lesigns, entirely new. The colors and cominations throughout strike us as rich. and in a measure unique. Of course, no one of taste intending to purchase goods of this class will do so without examining

MORE IMPROVEMENTS IN THE DINING ESTApatrons of the popular dining saloons of Mr. J. W. Price, S. W. corner of Fourth and Chestnut streets, need not be informed that some triking improvement in their appointments is of frequent occurrence. The latest of these is the extensive and tastefully-arranged new eating bar, recently erected on the west side of his east saloon, occupying the space for-merly devoted to private boxes. The patronage extended to this new feature since its completion affords another proof that Price understands and appreciates the wants of the public, as the receipts from it alone (although it is a small part of Mr. Price's business) are probably larger than those of any other dining establishment in Philadelphia. His tables, of course, still continue thronged as usual, and they are spread with the choicest viands, prepared in the highest style of the culinary art, and served by polite and intelligent waiters. FAIR OF THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE-We COPY the following from the New York Express. Sent There is a variety of Sewing Machines in the Fair, but the "Florence," a new and improved machine, attracts the most attention from the ladies, who are unanimous in their admiration of its capabilities, and do not appear to doubt that it will carry off the Prize Medal. The motto of the Sewing Machine industry in the United States is excelsior, and our ingonious mechanics are constantly making new and valuable additions to the labor-saving qualities of this wonderful and beautiful invention. The great difficulty with many of the Sewing Machines hitherto presented to the public, has been their complicated worknanship and the liability of certain portions to get out of order, necessitating frequent re-pairs. The desideratum long sought for has been a mechanical structure combining simplicity and durability with a capacity for per-forming a wider range of work than had hitherto been accomplished by any one machine, and this has been most happily attained by the "Florence." The stitch which is gone rally regarded as best suited to all descriptions of work is the lock, and this has been adopted in the Florence machine, with the additions of the knot, double lock and double knot, combining four distinct stitches in one piece

The operator is thus enabled to select a stitch perfectly suited to every grade of fabric, from the finest and most delicate cambric to the heaviest material employed by tailor All of these different modes of sewing are done by the "Florence" upon wonderfully simple principles, and with as little machinery as in any ordinary machine, the stitch being alike on both sides of the fabric. It is also provided with an ingenious contrivance, termed a reversible feed motion, which enables the operato by merely turning a small screw under his or her hand, while the machine is in full mo to instantly reverse the direction in which the work is running, and move it from right to left and from left to right at pleasure, as well as to stay any part of the seam, or fasten the ends of seams without being obliged to turn the work by hand or stop the machine, as has valuable improvement is the self-adjusting shuttle tension, which is accomplished by a single spring closing upon the thread wound round the shuttle, and pressing upon it with an exact and even weight until the thread is entirely exhausted, thus removing one of the most vexatious difficulties in the use of this appendage. Still another advantage is the facility with which the length of the stitch may be immediately altered, the machine being in full motion, by turning a screw disposed for the purpose, and under immediate

I confess to having been struck by the man remarkable qualities of this machine, not the least of which is the ease with which it may be worked by an inexperienced person. I, my. self, made the attempt, and was quite bewildered at my own cleverness in a profession I had not anticipated practising, even as an amateur. I found it a very easy matter to adjust the needle and set the pedal in motion, and then the machine quietly worked itself, the cloth moving forward and backward, according as I touched the magic screw. In my presence also, the operator exhibited, with axtraordinary ease and rapidity, the various descriptions of sewing done by the Florence machine, making a beautifully narrow hem to a cambric handkerchief, a wide hem to the skirt of a dress, felling, binding, braiding, quilting, and, to cap the climax, gathering and sewing on a ruffle in one operation. All this was done without change of needle or thread, and the precision with which the mechanism performed its task was really astonishing. To sum up all, I feel safe in asserting that no sewing machine so perfect as a whole and in detail as the "Florence" has yet appeared as a candidate for public favor, and if the terms of comnendation lavished upon it by visitors to the nstitute may be accepted as a criterion, this new machine is destined to eclipse in popu larity all its predecessors in the same bra of labor-saving industry. WEDDINGS IN "SATURDAY NIGHT." PARTIES IN "SATURDAY NIGHT,"

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE.-If any of our readers will purchase one of each of the best Sewing Machines extant omitting the "Wheeler & Witson," they will find by experiment that the Wheeler & Wilson Machine alone combines in it every desirable quality that is contained in all the rest. Hence their enormous sale, 200,000 having already been sold, of which over 7,000 are now n use in this city, Office, 704 Chestnut street. Wax lady in window.

the Union party at the ballot-box, with To the Electors of the City of Philadelphia. Fellow-cirizens: The day is at hand when the duty will devolve upon you of choosing the agents to whom are to be entrusted, for the terms appointed by law, important legis lative and executive powers, on the faithful administration of which so much depends both public and private prosperity. That the ticket, as a whole, presented by the Union party is better than that of our opponents.

we think we may fairly claim, and on that ground alone we might invoke for it your active support. It is, however, more especially in regard to the importance of electing our candidate for Mayor that we desire to address o you the following brief appeal: You all know the sad condition of things that existed in our city under Democratic rule, be-fore the first election of the able and hon-est man who has for the last seven years held its chief office. Burglaries, highway robberie and arson were of daily and nightly occur rence. It may be truly said we had virtually no protection of either life or property. The expenses of our municipal government brought us no return but the demoralization of our officials and the debauchery of our youth. On the election of Mayor Henry and the assumption of the city government l the party of law and order, all this was change as if by magic. Our public thoroughfares could be passed over in safety, the assassin and rob ber were arrested and handed over to justice the peal of the fire bell no longer rang at the signal given by the incendiary's torch, and once more our goodly city resumed its rank of first amongst law-abiding communities. Life and property were again held sacred, under the guarantee of an efficient police and their just and intelligent chief ruler and his able Fellow-citizens, the question is now presen

ed to you in a form you cannot evade-will you continue the power, on the exercise of which depend the prosperity and fair fame o this great community, in the hands of the party which proved true to its trusts, or wil you by inaction or lack of effort allow the im mense interests at stake to pass into the hands of a party which has proved itself both incom petent and unworthy to have them in charge -a party false to the country in its hour of supreme trial, and whose doctrines, had they prevailed, would have taken from us our national unity and honor? We think not! As to the claims on your support of our can didate for Mayor, born and reared among us and having held and acceptably discharges the duties of so many official posts; identified as he has been so long with the city and its in tellectual, physical, and industrial development, it is believed that no man among t could be presented more thoroughly entitle to the honor it is proposed to confer upon hin than Morton McMichael. It will not be deemed inappropriate to in dicate, among his more prominent merits that he was one of those most efficient in effecting the beneficent change in our system of public education which has elevated i the children of the indigent only, to that of teaching the children of all citizens who may choose to avail themselves of its benefits, and thus obliterating all invidious distinctions so fatal to republican institutions. By this act alone Mr. McMichael has justly earned the gratitude of every laboring man among us Nor did his educational efforts stop here. To him perhaps more than to any other dual do we owe the existence of the Philade phia High School, an institution where the more elevated branches of learning have long been successfully taught, and among whose most distinguished graduates may be found sons of mechanics, artisans and laborers whose services have aided to illustrate our country. Neither has there been in the list of Directors of the Girard College a more eff cient and useful member, nor one more alivto the welfare of the orphans entrusted to it care, than Morton McMichael.

He has bee no seeker for political rewards. The noming ion for the office for which he is now a candi date was bestowed upon him without his solicitation. As a conscientious man he accepte don to a post for which so many o his party friends thought him to be pre-en nently qualified—an opinion which ha strengthened as the canvass has advanced plain duty to signify our approbation of his and of all similar nominations by our genera and enthusiastic support at the polls. Neither through apathy nor fancied security of success, should we neglect to enforce our opinion with our votes. The interests involved in th coming election are of too great importance to each citizen of Philadelphia to entrust the success of the contest to probabilities, or to believe that other citizens will do their duty

f we fail to do our own. We therefore most earnestly urge upon our fellow-citizens the importance of lending their personal influence and aid at the elec-tion to be held on Tuesday next, not only on which will thus be given to the country, but because we are assured that in elevating Philadelphia we shall provide our munici pality with a wise, devoted, loyal, and perfectly capable officer. In view of these facts we heartily recommend Mr. McMichael to the support of our citizens, and ask their most energetic co-operation in swelling his majority to such numbers as may be a suitable tribute to his pure private character and his distin

I donot think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be ind. sted. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, Philadelphis A CARD. TO THE GENTLEMEN OF PHILADELPHIA.

We are prepared to prove to the full satisfaction of every one that a gentleman can be WELL DRESSED at no greater cost than if BADLY DRESSED. That in reality there is nothing saved in wearing miserably-cut garments, and making the wearer look ridiculous and act awkwardly, when the same mount of money invested will secure elegance and with our large force of excellent and tasteful cutters, we can at short notice suit the most particular; and from our fine assortment of uncut goods, please the most fastidious. Our salesrooms for -made Clothing also present great attractions. Please call.

ATTEMPTED ESCAPE OF DOCTOR MUDD. e Fortress Monroe Telegram in to-day's papers. This wicked man away was sent, For helping kill the President, For several dismal years to stay, A prisoner at Dry Tortuga. But as they landed from the ship He tried to give his guards the slip, In which they keep the steamer's coal.

They caught him; brought him to the light; Poor sinner! what a sorry sight! They've got him, and they'll hold him fast! Transgressors' ways are hard at last. So wicked Mudd a while will stay, And get no chance to run away. Once gay, and prood, and rich, and grand, He now will work at shovelling sand. And now in prison, full of woes, He wears a suit of convict's clothes; While clever folks to Great Oak Hall Will gladly crowd for clothes for fall. Handsome Clothing, very stylish for tasty people, and plain or neat for those who prefer it so, now isplayed in great abundance in our extensive alesrooms. Orders for the Custom Department

SECOND SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

As members anxious to maintain the integrity of our party, we earnestly entreat you to exercise your independent choice between STERLING BON-SALL and JACOB E. RIDGWAY, opposing National Union candidates for Scinger. You can safely do so, for, though the Democratic vote is a trifle over one-third of the aggregate vote of the District, it is believed that very many patriotic Democratic, revolting at the idea of this District being represented by Jacob E. Ridgway for the coming three yours, will, forgoing all party trammets, most covilially vote for STERLING BONSALL, and thus do their part in making certain the defeat of Jacob E. Ridgway, of the National Control of Sterling Bons and the state of Jacob E. Ridgway, and the state of Jacob E. Ridgway for the comment of the state of Jacob E. Ridgway for the comment of the state of Jacob part in making certain the defeat of Jacob E. Ridgway.

It is due to the National Union party candidly to say that, as the nomination of Mr. Bonsail has not been made to be withdrawn, the irregular and unserving the compromised with or submitted to, but that every exertion will be persistently unide to ensure the election of Sterling Bonsail; and thus to vindicate the integrity of the National Union party and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial District, and the good name of the Second Senatorial Dist OF THE MINISTRY.—A Business Meeting of the Board of Directors will be held in St. Mark's Church, SATURDAY, October 7, at 5½ o'clock P.
