THE LATE AFFAIR AT CHARLESTON .--- The intelligence brought by the British prize steamer Princess Royal, which arrived at Philadelphia last Sunday, considerably reduces the value of the story concerning the opening of the blockade at Charleston. It appears from the state ment which the master of this vessel makes that the blockade was not at any time legally raised. rebel rams. It does not appear, however, that any of the Union vessels were sunk. The Mercedita was saved by the stratagem of her captain The Keystone State, though badly disabled, was not lost. Both of these vessels arrived at Port Royal and will soon be repaired. It is claimed that the blockade was not abandoned for any length of time; and such will probably prove to be the fact-the rebel statements being undoubtedly very much exaggerated.

FRENCH MEDIATION. The rumor, brought by the last steamer, that the Emperor Napoleon had sent official instruc tious to the French Minister at Washington, to suggest that Commissioners from the Federal Government and from the Rebels be appointed to meet on neutral ground to confer upon terms of peace and mutual concession, is confirmed by the publication of the correspondence between the French Minister for Foreign Affairs and the American Minister to France (Mr. Dayton) and Secretary Seward, which was sent to the Senate on Thursday, in compliance with a resolution of that body. The proposal by France, of a Congress or Conference between the United States and "the authorities which may represent the

Or, in other words, according to Ir. Dayton's understanding of the proposition, the Commissioners appointed were "to treat with rency bill, which proposes to supersede the the South for peace and for the Union if possithe synth for peace and for the ohion it possi-ble; if not possible, for such terms of separation as may eventually be agreed upon." Mr. Sew-ard replies at length in a dispatch to Mr. Day-ton, dated the 6th inst. The following is a copy of the Memorial pre sented in the State Senate on the 3d inst., by sented in the State Senate on the 3d inst., by Mr. CLYMER. It is a dignified, but an carnest protest against the arbitrary interference, by military officers of the Federal Government, with the personal rights and liberties of citizens of this Commonweath, in wanton contempt and violation of the Constitution of the United States, the Constitution of our own State, and the laws that have been enacted in accordance with them. MILITARY ARRESTS. PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

SPECIAL MESSAGE BY GOV. CURTIN

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER. HABRISBURG, Feb. 12, 1863. To the Senate and House of Representatives of Commonwealth of Pennsulvas

GENTLEMEN : I desire to call your attention to ect of moment. When the present infamous and God condemned rebellion broke out, Con-gress was not in session, and the occurrence of such a state of things not having been foreseen in former times, no adequate legislation had been had to meet it. At the same time--the life of the country being at stake-it appeared necessary that some means should be taken to con-trol the small band of traitors in the loyal States, so as to prevent them from machinations which and "the authorities which may represent the might be injurious, if not fatal to the national States of the South," is made by M. Drouyn de cause. Under these circumstances, the General L'huys in a note to M. Mercier, and this was Government resorted to the system of military arrests of dangerous persons, and having thus commenced acting under it, have continued (at ong intervals in this State) to pursue it. The Government of the United States 'acts directly examined in this meeting." The North and the South would "seek out by these deliberations whether the interacts of the two socions are de-whether the interacts of the two socions are de-citizens of the United States, made under the authority of that Government. Every citizen of Pennsylvania is also a citizen of the United States, and owes allegiance to them, as well as (subject to the provisions of the Constitution of the United States) he owes it to Pennylvania. If he be unlawfully deprived of his liberty his only redress is the head of the only redress is to be had at the hands of the judiciary. In such times as the present, it is in official action. Great efforts have been, and are, perhaps, still being made, by persons blinded or ill-disposed, to throw us into a state of revo existing crisis, emphatically dangerous, it would have a direct revolutionary tendency -- in fact, it

tion of the Union, which he holds would be in-dignantly rejected by the people; that the insurgent chiefs would reject any offer of peace on any other terms; that with such chiefs we are bound to hold no conference; and that finally in the Union of th been made in Pennsylvania, as I have at no time been privy to the making of them, but I believe in my annual message; but recent events having shown that this impression was erro-neous, I deem it my duty now to invite your atention to the subject.

The contest in which we are engaged is one for the preservation of our own liberty and wel-fure. The traitors at the South hate the great that our fate may be either to abandon the free North, and become hangers on of a Government founded in treachery, fraud and insane ambition, founded in treachery, freud and insane ambition, or, at best, to dissolve the Union under which we have prospered, and to break this fair and glorious country into fragments, which will be cursed by perpetual discords at home, and by the contempt and ill-usage of foreign nations, from which we shall then be too weak to vindicate ourselves. That such offences should be duly punished,

That such onences should be duty punnaed, no good citizen can doubt; and that proper leg-islation by Congress is required for that purpose, can be as little doubted. Whether such legislaion should include a suspension of the writ of ton enduid include a suspension of the writ of habeas corpus in any and what parts of the country, is a question which belongs exclusively to the legislative authorities of the United States, who, under the Constitution, have the right to determine the Constitution, have the right to who, under the 'Constitution, have the right to determine it. That great writ ought not to be suspended, unless to the wisdom of Congress the present necessity shall appear to be urgent. Therefore, I recommend the passage of a joint resolution, earnestly requesting that Congress shall forthwith pass laws defining and punishing offences of the class above referred to, and pro widing fourthe foir and sneed trial hy an impar

The Commodore is twenty-one years of age, twenty-nine inches in height, and weighs twenty nonnde. A small affair to make so much fuss about.

THE COTTON CROP OF THE SOUTH.-The British consuls at Charleston and Savannah have forwarded reports to Earl Russell on the subject of the stock of cotton on hand in the Southern States. Mr. Bunch, at Charleston, says there are four millions, two hundred and fifty thous and bales of the staple which can be made available in Europe when the rebel "ports are opened." The crop of 1862 had added largely to the supply. Mr. Molyneux, at Savannah, says there are only three million, five hundred thousand bales of cotton in the Southern States. He claims a deduction of one million of bales which have either been destroyed voluntarily by the Union troops, or carried out through the blockade.

Joseph Gleim, Esq., a well-known citizen of Lebanon, died in that borough on Monday morning last, of dropsy, aged 56 years and 11 months. Judge Lowrie charged the jury that such officers had no right to interfere with private property except in accordance with the Constitution and laws of the land.
