nesperate Resistance by our Troops.

NASHVILLE, Friday, March 6, 1863. There was fighting all day yesterday between 'an Dorn's command and a Union force of three legiments of infantry, about 500 cavalry, and ne battery, at Springville, 13 miles south of rankin. Col. Coburn's three Regiments of Franklin. Col. Coburn's three Regiments of infantry were cut to pieces or captured by the Rebol forces. They fought desperately, but the amaunition became exhausted; and the Union troops, overpowered by superior numbers, were enter killed or captured. The cavalry and artillery got off safely. No reinforcement from Gen. Gilbert at Franklin reached the scene of section. There were seven Regiments of Union captured, that place. Van Dorn is reported to ricops at that place. Van Dorn is reported to have 18,000 men under his command.
Further details of the fight at Franklin yesterday have been received. Five Regiments of in-tantry, and one battery of the 18th Ohio, with the 9th Pennsylvania and 2d Michigan Cavalry, all under command of Col. Coburn of the 33d Indiana, advanced on Spring Hill on the 4th inst. Several spirited skirmishes took place during several spirited skirmishes took place during the day, our troops camping four miles distant. On the 5th, a movement was apparent, and during some disorder on our left, they suddenly opened on our men with three batteries, on dif-terent points, at the same time. The enemy also appeared on each flank, in greatly superior proce. The unequal contest was maintained with great determination, with heavy loss on both grees, and resulted unfortunately to our troops a large part of the 33d Indiana, 19th Michigan, 2nd Wisconsin, and 85th Indiana, with the most of their commissioned officers, being captured of their commissioned onders, using captured. Our artillery and caralry were successfully withdrawn. The 124th Ohio was out, but returned without loss. All is quiet to day. The Rebels have fallen back. Their force was infantry, with heavier artillery than ours. Gilbert's non-action in failing to re-en force Col. Coburn is severely censured by officers and men.

Fifty-three Rebel prisoners were brought into Franklin Sunday night, captured at Unionville. All the camp equipage, &c., were destroyed. Col. Coburn is a prisoner in the hands of the enemy.

FRANKLIN, TERN., Mouday, March 9, 1853. Au officer of Gen. Granger's staff arrived here last night from a conference with Van Dorn's Rebels, under a flag of truce. The Rebel officers acknowledge a loss in the late fight of one hundred and eighty killed and four hundred wounded.

()ur total loss was one thousand four hundred and six; killed and wounded, one hundred and twenty—the balance prisoners.

The Rebels had a force of 10,000 engaged, consisting of cavalry, mounted infantry and artillery. Our force was 3,000.

The Rebels acknowledged that they were poor-

by fed and mounted, and nearly whipped.

Two Regiments of Indians were engaged in the lattle under Van Dorn.

PROCLAMATION TO SOLDIERS ABSENT WITH-OUT LEAVE.

The President has issued an important procla-mation to soldiers absent from their regiments without leave. He gives grace to all such, up to the 1st of April, at which time those who report themselves to the nearest headquarters, as designated by a previous order of the Secretary of War, will be restored to their respective regiments without punishment; but those who do not, will be arrested as deserters and dealt with not, will be arrested as deservers and dealt will the South if their liberty is secured, and this set he law directs. WASHINGTON, Wednesday, March 11, 1862.
Private letters from London speak with alarm of the fleet which is in progress of construction in England and Scotland for the Rebels. Our Government is urged to demand in peremptory language that they be forbidden to sail on the errand of destruction to American commerce, threat of open war being in the opinion of he forbidden to sail on thei writers a sure and the only means of putting an end to these secret hostilities. In high official quarters here similar views are entertained.

Senate — Mr. Clymer presented a petition from one hundred and fifty-three citizens of Bethel township, Berks county, for the passage of an act prohibiting regroes and mulautoes from entering this State. Also, a petition from many citizens, male and female, of Chester county, for a National Convention. A communication was received from the State Treasurer. in reply to a resolution of inquiry relative to the amount of coin received from the Banks, under the Act of January 30, 1863, for the appropriate the inter-January 30, 1863, for the payment of the interest on the State debt. The Treasurer reports that $1,008,318 12 was furnished to the State by the Banks, including all under special Chart ers, except six, viz: Farmers' and Drovers' Bank, Waynesburg: Southwark Bank, Philadelphia; Monongahela Bank, Brownsville: Bank of Bear-er County, Bank of Fayette County and Bank of Pittsburgh. The first named has signified its acceptance of the act, but has not yet deposited the coin. The remaining five Banks base their refusal to comply with the act on the ground of being specie-paying Banks. Mr. Reilly, from the Committee on Corporations, reported as com-mitted, a further supplement to the act incor-Berks county, approved January 31, 1845. The Committee on Banks reported bills to re-charter the following Banks for the period of five years from the expiration of their charters, viz: Bank from the expiration of their charters, viz: Bank of Delaware County, Lancaster County Bank, Farmers' Bank of Easton, Commercial Bank of Pennsylvania, and Farmers' Bank of Bucks County. Mr. Lowry introduced a joint resolution approving the proclamation of the President releasing the slaves of rebels, as a military measure. On motion of Mr. Clymer, the Committee on Education was discharged from the consideration of the House bill authorizing the school directors of the House bill substraing the school directors of the horough authorizing the school directors of the borough of Kutztown, Berks county, to borrow money, and the bill was taken up and passed. The sup plement to the charter of the Pennsylvania Railplement to the charter of the Pennsylvania Kall-road Company, which had previously passed the House, was taken up. It changes the time of holding the annual meetings of the stockholders, authorizes the Directors to elect an additional member to act as a Vice President or managing Director, and authorizes the Company to issue bonds to any amount required for the construc-tion of branch roads. Mr. Clymer offered a proviso requiring the supplement to be submitted to a vote of the stockholders. Not agreed to—yeas 13, pays 14. The bill then passed finally. Ad-signed by five hundred and sixty-eight citizens of Berks county, praying the enactment of a constitutional call for a National Convention to consider means of pacification and reunion. Mr. Potteiger, three petitions of a similar import, signed by one hundred and seventy seven citizens of Berks county. Mr. Weidner, a petition numerously signed by citizens of District township, Berks county, praying for the passage of a law prohibiting blacks and mulattees from entering this State. Mr. Kline, four, and Mr. Potteiger, three petitions of a similar import, from ing this State. Mr. Kline, four, and Mr. Pot-teiger, three petitions of a similar import, from citizens of Berks county. Mr. Hopkins (Wash-ington), from Committee on Ways and Means, reported the General Appropriation bill for 1863. On motion of Mr. Weidner, the Committee on Corporations was discharged from the further consideration of Senate bill, supplementary to the Act revising the charter of the municipal corporation of the city of Reading, and the bill was passed. (It is the same as published in our 'local" column last week.) Mr. Laporte introduced a bill reducing the pay of members of the Legislature to $3 per diem for one hundred days, and $1,50 per diem if the session extends beyond that time. Mr. Earley, a bill to facilitate anatomical researches. Mr. Coleman, a bill to recharter the Lebanon Bank. The bill to repeal so much of the Act of 1810 as relates to filing interrogatories in depositions on rules issued by Justices of the Peace, was passed. The bill to provide for the transportation of the bedies of deceased soldiers to Pennsylvania was considered, and referred to a special committee of three Adionned.

FRIDAY, March 6. Senare.—Mr. Lowry, from the Committee on Federal Relations, to whom was referred a number of petitions asking the passage of a law to prevent the emigration of negroes and mulattoes into this State, submitted a long report adverse to the prayer of the petitioners. The report says that it was necessary for the government to sup-press this rebellion, to gain the sympathy of the slaves by proclaiming their freedom, and at the same time depriving the rebels of their labor. Without some aid the rebels are lost, and in their extremity they have had recourse to their allies and sympathizers in the North. These petitions for the exclusion of negroes from the State, and the petitions for a National Convention are part of a system to work the damning purpose of trea-son by arousing the prejudices of the people. There was no cause to fear the influx of negroes in this State. They would prefer remaining in the South if their liberty is secured, and this

Mr. White offered a resolution, tendering the use of the Senate Chamber to Gov. Andrew Johnson, of Tennessee, and Ex-Governor Wright, of Indiana, for the purpose of addressing the people. The resolution was advocated by Mr. Lowry, and op posed by Mr. Clymer, in a powerful speech, on the ground that these gentlemen are on a par-tisan tour, as emissaries of the Administration, and that their chief business is misrepresentation and denunciation of Democrats. An amendment inviting Gen. Mr. Smith (Chester), offered a resolution inquiring of the Governor what provision, if any, has been made for the payment of the expenses of the late draft. The resolution was adopted. The Committee on Accounts pre-sented the Postage bill of the House, for the month of February, amounting to $2,429 25, for approval and payment. Mr. Rex offered an amendment requiring the Postmaster, George Bergner, to make a public oath at the bar of the House that the account is correct. Mr. Rex delivered a speech, reviewing the past history of the Postmaster, and arguing that, from his auto-codenis, it was no more than just and recognis. cedents, it was no more than just and proper hat he should be required to swear to his bill. The amendment was lost by a vote of 11 yeas t 68 nays, and the account was passed. Mr. Cochran introduced a bill to provide maintenance for old and faithful teachers. For the Reading Gazette and Democrat.

Mr. Getz:—In vain did 1 look through the Journal of last Saturday for a reply to my very plain questions. True, it contained a very lengthy article headed: "A Copperhead Answered," but, as you will perceive, it is no reply to my questions. The editor commences with the wead to appropriate the property of the property lo my questions. The editor commences with, what we used to say when we were boys, 'calling names'—declaring that, 'by my own confession I am a Copperhend' or sympathizer with the Rebels, and endeavor to justify myself and my party friends by the assumption that he, as editor of the Journal during the Mexican War was a "Copperhead" also, and gave "aid and comfort to the enemy." Then he goes on to con-trast the Mexican with the present war; that it was a war by a powerful nation upon a weak sister Republic, and that at no journed.

House.—Mr. Kline presented eight petitions signed by five hundred and sixty-eight citizens of the United States in jeopardy &c.; and of Berks county, praying the enactment of a after vauntingly declaring, that he is 'proud constitutional call for a National Convention to was then as now editor, was then as now in favo of its vigorous prosecution, and that he was no 'Copperhead,' thank God, even in that comparatively unimportant contest," and to prove what he says of himself, he quotes a number of extracts, which he says, "by way of a clincher, whether true or false, we know not," were pubnucleur true or laise, we know not, were published in the Journal, during the Mexican War; but not being incredulous, I shall admit that they are reproductions of the Journal—besides not possessing means to disprove it, I must accept it as truth. The reader will find by reference to the Gazette of the 21st February, that the editor was never questioned in regard to any thing stated in the foregoing.

You will notice from the above that the editor

now speaks of the Mexican war as having been "comparatively an unimportant contest," yet in the article of Nov. 28, 1846, which he quotes, he then said: "Viewed in every aspect, the war pro-mises to be a protracted one" &c. Observe, that in all he says, there is not a word in reply to my questions.

Unless I misunderstand the editor of the Journal, "Copperhead" defined is: A traitor to his country. If that is the proper definition, I beg leave to say to the editor, that my communication in the Gazette will not bear the construction which he places upon it, namely: that I assumed "that he, as editor of the Journal, during the Mexican war, was a traitor (or "Copperhead") also, and gave "aid and confort" to the enemy in that contest." Again I did not accuse the authors of the speeches which were quoted in my communication of treason much less the aditor. communication of treason, much less the editor I merely wished him to state, whether, at the time the offensive sentiments referred to were uttered, he had condemned the authors; as the denunciations, by the editor, of Democrats, who have during the present war, seen fit to criticize the acts of the present Abolition Administration, have been frequent and most severe. I will now call your attention to that portion of his article in which, after mutilating what I really did say, he exclaims: "This is not true."

After I had given the extract from Mr. Ashmur's energy the following paragraph commun's energy the following paragraph community. After I had given the extract from Mr. Assimun's speech, the following paragraph commenced thus: "Such were the opinions and sentiments of the party, which the editor of the Journal supported during that war. Neither President Polk nor his Secretary of War, ever threatened to arrest, much less send to a basille, for to reign any of the genies of the Admin. fort or prison, any of the enemies of the Adminstration or Government for uttering them."

Compare the above with the Journal's version of it. You will discover that he has omitted the first sentence altogether, and left out the concluding words; "for uttering them," thereby altering the sense. Substantially, I say that neither President Polk nor his Secretary of War, threatened to arrest, much less send to a bastile, So, for uttering opinions and sentiments, such as are contained in the speeches already referred to. But what does the editor make me say? Why, that neither President Polk nor his Secretary of War, ever threatened any of the enemies of the Administration or Government. And to may a well-graiten not true, he must the following. prove my declaration not true, he quotes the following article from the Journal of Dec. 19, 1846, which was copied from the Lancaster Intelligencer, (a Democratic paper,) but whether truly quoted or mutilated, "we know not," and which, even if correctly quoted, proves more than the editor bargained for, namely: that Mr. Parkinson was "ACCUSED OF HOLDING INTERCOURSE WITH THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT," &c., for which he was arrested; but not for uttering certain opinions and sentiments; and no doubt he was also legally tried in a civil court, and if found innocent, most assuredly acquitted. But to the article in question:

"High Treason.—Mark H. Parkinson has been arrested at New Orleans, accused of holding intercourse with the Mexican Government," &c.

The reader will perceive a marked difference between being accused of uttering certain opinions and sentiments, and being accused of holding intercourse with the Mexican Government. The editor of the Journal must "pick his flint and try again." But, I suppose he will abandon the idea of finding proof on the files of the Journal that President Polk or his Secretary of War ever even threatened to arrest, or sent to a bastile, fort or prison, any person for uttering senti-ments against the Administration or Government. Would to heaven the same could with ruth be said of the present Abolition Administration. Although I have, in another part of this communication, agreed to admit his reproductions from the Journal to be true quotations; yet, after having discovered the above seemingly mutilation, I must confess to a want of implicit confidence in the editor's statements or quotations hereafter, unless he explains the discrepancy complained of.

The editor of the Journal requests us to name the Democratic paper, which in the present des-perate struggle for national existence, stands up for the country and the war for its salvation now, &c. I would refer him to the Reading Gazette, but as it is not to be supposed that I keep a file of the same, I cannot furnish him with extracts. The editor of the Journal knows that the Gazette is as loyal a paper as is published in the country—in reality more so than the Journal.

The editor's insinuation, in regard to the truth or falsity of the "extracts" published in the Gazette, comes with rather a had grace from such a quarter, after having himself, as already is shown, heen guilty of a "seemingly wilful mutilation." By reference to the Congressional Globe, cess, he may satisfy himself of the correctness of the "extracts." While upon the subject I will confess, that the "extracts" were furnished me by an intimate friend, in whom I have the most implicit confidence; who would not wilfully, under any circumstances, misrepresent any matter to me, but who is now and has for several weeks been absent from home. The "extracts" are undoubtedly quoted correctly, otherwise the editor of the Journal would have discovered discrepancies by referring to the "documents." As soon as my friend ratume. I may nossibly be year for employing women as attendants or for ments, like those appended, against President selling liquor at any such place of amusement. Lincoln's Abolition Administration touching the A number of private bills were considered and war, would not the editor denounce bim as a "Copperhead" or traiter to his country? By Mr. Delaro, from Ohio: "Send your armies, in the prosecution of this ILLEGAL, UNRIGHTEOUS and DAMNABLE WAR, to the mountains of Mexico, and disease and the foe will sweep them off in thousands. The passes and mountains of Mexico would become a charnel house for our people, and their bones would be scattered all over its vast territory before this peace would be con-quered. * * So far the amount of the appro-priations was about $15,000,000. If the people had any common sense, they would hold responsible the authors of this war, which was conceived in froud and was to be consummated in iniquity."

By Mr. Ashmun: "The pages of history fur oish no instance of an executive officer so utterly imbecile and unfit for a post of honor as the pre-sent President of the United States. Could the ghosts of the hundreds and thousands, who have lost their lives by sickness and the sword in Mexico speak, they would shout that THEIR MURDERER WAS JAMES K. POLK, and his wretched Cabinet. When we are done with this war, and the amount of blood of free born Americans shed through his mismanagement is known; when the immense debt brought upon us is set forth in dollars and cents; then will his fellow citizens bewail that day upon which they cast their suf-frages for such a mun."

And now, Mr. Editor of the Journal, be candid and frank in your reply to these plain questions. "Make a clean breast of it." Do not, however say, that because the Mexican war was not o such magnitude as the present war, therefore it was right and proper for these Members of Congress to criticize and denounce the Administra tion in the worst kind of terms; but to criticize and denounce the present Administration in the same manner is treasonable. The principle contended for is in both cases the same. When the above sentiments were put forth to the world, we were engaged in a bloody struggle with a relent less fee, which continued, if I mistake not, for nearly two years, although, as the editor is pleased to say, it "was a war by a powerful nation upon a weak sister Republic."
