FIRST OF APRIL.

This general settling day is close at hand, and we, with many others, must prepare to meet it. All persons indebted to us, therefore, whether for subscriptions, advertising or job printing, will confer a special favor by paying up promptly before the first of April, so that we may be enabled to pay the demands that will be made upon us.

We are thankful to those who have settled their accounts during the winter. But there is yet a large number in arrears; and we new appeal to them not to let the first of April pass without paying up. The paper we print upon is still as exorbitant in price as it was two months age, with no prospect of any decline; and we are obliged to pay cash for it, and all other articles we consume, on delivery. We must therefore adhere to the cash system, or we cannot get along in our business at all. While things remain as they are, we shall have to demand advance payments from all subscribers, and cash for advertising and job printing. When the times get back into the old track again, we shall be glad to relax this hard rule.

THE SPRING ELECTIONS.

The Democracy of Pennsylvania have reason to be proud of their achievements throughout the State on the 20th. The charter elections. held upon that day, exhibit results which clearly indicate the rapidly growing strength of the Democratic cause. The returns received so far, show the following gratifying result:

In the borough of York the Democrats elected Dawid Small, Esq., editor of the York Gazette, Chief Burgess, by a majority of 109. A High Constable and a majority of the Councilmen were also chosen by the Democrats. This is the third time in forty-five years that the Democrats carried the horough, and the Democratical strains in the councilment of the property of the processing in the control of the councilment of the processing in the control of the councilment of t ried the borough; and the Democratic gain since last October, is nearly a hundred.

In Harrisburg, the Democracy had a severe contest, but succeeded in electing Gen. A. L. Roumfort, Mayor, by 58 majority, and carried every ward in the city but one.

In Carliale, the Democrats elected the Chief Burgesa, a majority of Council and other borough officers, by an average majority of about olign omeers, by an average majority of about sixty.

B. K. Vastorn, Democrat, is elected Burgess of the Borough of Danville. This is the first instance for years in which the Democrats have carried the Borough in a political contest. One year ago the Republican Abolition majority was 73. Two years ago they had 116 majority.

The election in the borough of Washington, Pa., resulted in the success of the Democratic ticket by a majority of 80. Washington has herstofore been strongly Republican.

heretofore been strongly Republican.

In Pottstown, Montgomery county, the Dem-perats elected their whole ticket by a large majority.

In Northsupton county, the Democrats made a clean sweep, except in the borough of Easton, where a Republican Chief Burgess was elected by a majority of four votes.

Erie has elected a Republican Mayor by a majority of 144.

"THE AGE"—the new Democratic Daiprinted, and vigorously edited in all are glad to learn that its success is already assured, and that it will be speedily enlarged to the full size of the first class daily newspapers of the time. Its publishers, Messre. Glossbrenner, qualifications of business tact, energy, and edito-Democratic organ, but a complete newspaper. The Democracy of Pennsylvania may congrainlate themselves upon having, at last, a daily paper in Philadelphia in all respects worthy of their most generous support.

DISUNIONISTS NORTH AND SOUTH. | LETTER FROM HON, WM. HOPKINS.

The Northern abolition journals find great apparent comfort in republishing articles from the Southern secession papers in violent denunciation of the movement at the North in favor of National Convention as a preliminary step toward peace and reconstruction. They imagine, or try to lead the people to imagine, that these articles prove the futility and hopelessness of any peace measures, and consequently the necessity of a further prosecution of the war for the objects now openly avowed by the Administration-the extermination of slavery, and the conquest and subjugation of the Southern States to the absolute dominion of the Federal Govern ment. But, these furious "war hawks" must have a very crude idea of the "logic of events"to use one of Kossuth's expressive phrases—or a low estimate of the common sense of the people, to quote the tirades of secession journals against peace as arguments in favor of an exterminating war. It would be as wise—or, more properly, as foolish—to look for encouragement to any peace movement from them, as it would be to expect it from the Abolitionists of the North; ecause, in the success of such a movement, both foresee the failure of the objects, widely different, but equally revolutionary and destructive, for which they urge a prosecution of the war, namely: disunion and final separation on the one hand, and abolition and subjugation on the other On the contrary, the more formidable the peace novement at the North becomes, the more violently we expect the secession chiefs and their rgans to denounce it; for the teachings of history, and the philosophy of human nature tell them that a reactionary feeling springing from a section of a people only lately one, and having yet, in spite of their present hostile positions, many ties and interests in common, will not be long-without its counterpart from the other section.' Even now, before the peace propositions have taken shape or substance, we see exhibitions of this violent opposition, proceeding only delphia Bulletin chucklingly copies as "A Southern Voice to Copperhends:" "To be plain, we fear and distruct far more these apparently friendly advances of the Democrate, than the open atrocity of philanthropists of Massachusetts. That Democratic party always was our worst enemy; and but for its poisonous embrace these States would have been free and clear of the unnatural Union twenty years ago. It is not the Sewards and Sumners, the Bluck Republicans and Abo litionists, who have hurt us. They were right all along; there was an irrepressible conflict between two different civilizations, two opposite social organizations; they were no more able to live peaceably together in one Government than two hands can wear one glove. If we did not discover so soon as the Abolitionists, this great truth, it was because the Democratic party, neu-tral as it was in principle, false to both sides, and wholly indifferent to the morale of either of the opposing communities, placed itself between, raised the banner of the "spoils," and we all know the rest. The idea of that edious party coming to life again, and holding out its arms to us, makes us shiver. Its foul breath is malaria;

"Give us the open foeman; let him be as ferocious and greedy as you will. Let our enemy appear as an exterminating Fankee host, we pray, and not as a Democratic Convention. Let him take any shape but that! Already we have visions of the men of feeble knees, tender feet and undulating enines leaing their senses and maphood by the spines, losing their senses and manhood by the bontact, as they did, alas! so often before. We seent from afar off the old dead compromises—absit omen! and seem to feel upon our throats the strangulation of unclean fingers. But it is a dream; nobody lives in this Confederacy who will dare to propose, or to hint even at a distance, that we should sacrifice at that abominable shrine all the gallant blood freely poured out to sanctify our nationhood. For it comes to this: We can have no peace now, save by submission no peace now save by making once more an affiliation no peace now save by making once more an affiliation with a Northern party, and making the Democratory a present of all that inestimable treasure of the dearest blood that flowed in Southern veins."

Now, what is all this, but the rageful cry of lespair from the conspirator who sees the slow, but sure approach of the power that alone can frustrate his vile plot, and which he therefore dreads and abhors with a deeper hate than he bears toward the foe that seeks his life? It is more than this :- it is a confession of the truths ly-made its appearance in Philadelphia on for which we have always contended, that the Wednesday last, and came up fully to the expec- Abolitionists and Secessionists were allies in the tations of the friends of the enterprise. It is work of disunion; that the Democratic party the departments that constitute a live journal. We through its instrumentality can the Union be restored. For the sake of so frank and so full a confession, we can readily forgive the venomous aspersions upon the principles and motives of the Democratic party, which accompany it. Grund and Welsh, combine all the requisite The highway man and the incendiary never have a good opinion of those who stand in the way of rial ability, to make The Age not only a powerful their nefarious acts; Arnold and Burr derided the virtue and patriotism of Washington; and even the Saviour of the World, when he cast out Devils, was reviled as a servant of Beclzebub, the prince of Devils! Let us, then, be content to bear the reproaches of the enemies of the Union, North and South; for in them are con-

-But we have another elegant extract from the Enquirer, which still more plainly betrays its dread of peace measures, and its fear of their reactionary influence at the South:

"Where, then, are those indications of peace which we are said to be recklessly resisting and disdaining? Oh! the great speech of Vallandigham; the touching invitation of tuneful Cox! We greatly fear that those two wooers of the South so fond and fain, will very soon be found, like John Van Buren, shricking out for war to the knife; and if they delay or decline to recant their great and noble peace speeches, why they will see the inside of Lincoln's jails. We wish from our hearts they were both already safely chained up at the present writing; they have done us more harm, they and their like, than ten thousand Sewards and Sumners. We tremble to see their numbels way and the see their numbels way and the see their numbels way. see their unwholesome advances; still more to see a ing by some of the latter, in different parts of sort of morbid craving here to respond to them, unthe country, for the use of the cheapest stocks, der the delusive idea of promoting intestine division at the North.

"Oh! Dictator Lincoln! lock ye up those two peace Democrats—together with Richardson—in some of your military prisons!"

Was there ever a more striking example of the truth that extremes the most opposite have a of the Paymaster General a sufficient amount of common meeting point, than this extract presents? Have we not, for a year past, heard the supporters of Lincoln's abolition and subjugation policy crying aloud for the arrest and imprisonment of all who dared to whisper a word n favor of peace and restoration? And here we have this identical cry repeated from Richmond! A coincidence so marked must have a meaning; and it will be found in the fact that the restoration of the Union upon the basis of the Constitution is inimical alike to the purposes of Northern Abolitionists and Southern Secessionists. Hence their voices are raised in unison against eace, against compromise, and for "war to the death !"

The Hon. WILLIAM HOPKINS, of Washington ounty, has made public the following letter, ancouncing his determination not to be a candidate for the nomination for Governor, before the next Democratic State Convention. Having thus divested himself of all personal interest in the choice of a candidate, he takes the liberty of presenting his views as to the character and qualifications which should be possessed by the comince of the party for that high and responsible office. He does this with modesty, and yet in a clear and forcible manuer that will at once mpress the reader with its sincerity and truth. Mr. Hopkins's estimate of the kind of man that should be honored with the Democratic nomination, is a high one, but by no means too high, even in ordinary times, much less in times like hese. It will be approved by every true friend of the State and Nation, and the carnest prayer of all such will be, that the choice of the Convention may fall upon the man who comes up to Mr. Hopkins's ideal: HARRISDURG, March 22, 1863. HARRISDURG, March 22, 1863.
To the Editors of the Patriot and Taton:
GENTLEMEN: Having received many assurances, from different parts of the State, that I would be supported for the nomination for Gov. ernor, at the approaching Convention, and hav-ing made up my mind not to go into the contest, I deem it due to those who have thus voluntarily indicated their preference, to place before them, and the public, some of the reasons which have influenced me in coming to this decision. I have always regarded the position of Governor as one that ought not to be sought after, and acting upon this idea, I have never, personally, solicited a vote in my life, notwithstanding my name has been used in that connection on former occasions. This having been my rule of action heretofore, I see no inducement for denerting from it, now. see no inducement for departing from it now. Indeed, if there ever was a time when the selec-tion of a candidate should be left to the voluntary judgment of the people, wholly uninfluenced by the importunities of aspirants, that time is the present. If we look abroad over our bleeding country, the patriot is horrified at the dark, impenetrable cloud, which overshadows our political horizon. All human forecast is baffled in attempting to solve the problem of our future, either as a State or Nation. We are in the midst of a crisis, such as the world has seldon, if ever, seen. The whole fabric of our government seems to be tottering to its very base, and none but He who holds in His hands the destines of nations, and of men, can tell what is to be our fate. The responsibilities that will devolve on the next Governor of Pennsylvania will be ap-palling beyond precedent. That there should, palling beyond precedent. That there should, at such a time, be a scramble for the nomination, is most amazing. To my own mind it is clear that those who really comprehend the magnitude of the difficulties which environ us, should be the last to seek the position. Hore, perhaps, I ought to stop. But when I contemplate the vast nterests at stake, I feel constrained to venture : suggestion or two in regard to the qualities which, I think, our candidate should possess. This, I truet, I may be allowed to do, not being one myself. Among these I will mention that, in my opinion, the candidate should be a man of in my opinion, the candidate should be a man of experience, mature judgment, and unquestioned administrative abilities. He should be a man of the most indomitable courage, and firmness such as would enable him to interpose a manly resistance to all infractions of the Constitution, and encroachments upon the sovereignly of the State, and rights and liberties of her citizens. He should be a man of unfaltering filelity to the Constitution of the United States and the Union, as they were founded by Washington. He should they were founded by Washington. He should be not only untrammeled by corporate power, but entirely beyond such influences. Upon this point too much care cannot be taken, for it must be apparent to all that this influence has be apparent to all that this innucion, already, made fearful strides towards undermining the liberties of the people. When it is remembered that within the past five years, some twenty millions of dollars have been taken from the Treasury, for the benefit of two corporations, and that too by the notorious use of corrupt means, the question may well be asked, "Is there got imminent peril to be apprehended from this quarter in future?" But above all, the candidate should be a man of incorruptible integrity, whose private character is immigrately and vhose private character is invulnerable, and whose public record in the past will be a sufficient guarantee that his future will bring no reprosch upon our glorious old Commonwealth. With such a standard-bearer we would go before the people with a certainty of success.

In conclusion, I desire to tender to all who have deemed me worthy of so exalted a position, my profound gratitude, with the assurance that I shall cherish, with the fondest recollection, these indications of confidence and regard as the late Militia draft, on the plea of "conscientious scruples" against bearing arms:

THE BOROUGH AND TOWNSHIP ELECTIONS throughout Berks county, on Friday last, resulted largely in favor of the Democrats, wherever a political question was made. In Hamburg, the whole Democratic ticket was elected, as nominated, except the Assessor, who was beat-en by Israel S. Smith, (Independent Democrat), by a majority of 5 votes. In Kutztown, also, the whole De S. Kurz, Democrat, and John Kame, Rep., although the fight was not strictly political, but turned more upon the personal pepularity of the two candidates. Mr. Kemp had parsonal peputarity of the two candidates. Mr. Nemp man greatly the advantage, inasmuch as the elections are held at his house, and he had served in the office for 20 years. But, notwithstanding those odds agains: him, Mr. Kutz came off the field victorious, with a majority of 3. In Womelsdorf, there was no political issue made, but twothirds of the officers elected are Democrats. We shall, according to our usual custom, publish a full list of the town ship and borough officers elect, next week.

On the last day of February there were but nine on the sick list, and eleven on the first of March, in an aggregate of nearly six hundred. Since we reached these waters, a month ago, two men have died, fairth of Company C. and Manishury of Company A, and one is now in Hospital at Hilton Hoad. We have just received information that Assistant Surgeon Cadevallader has been promoted to Surgeon, and sent to the 16th kingment Fenna. Milit.

This leaves the 10th without any Assistant Surgeon. It is to be hoped that the Governow will fill those vacancies with as little delay as possible. To day the Regiment was unspected by the Inspector General of the Department, Capital Lumbert, and most thorough one it was. It occupied about six hands and the everything that a soldier earnie, equipments, clothiar, Mothing was overlooked. The arms, equipments, clothiar, Mothing was overlooked.
