

HATL! brightest banner that floats on the gale, Plag of the country of Washington, hall!
Red are thy stripes with the blood of the brave, Bright are thy stare as the sun on the wave; Wrapt in thy folds are the hopes of the Free, Banner of Washington! blessings on thee!

obituary notice of the late Brigadier General WILLIAM R. TERRILL-originally published, we believe, in the New York Times-will be found on the first page of this week's paper. It is a well deserved tribute to the personal worth, professional abilities, and self-sacrificing bravery of as true a soldier as ever laid down his life for his country. The many friends here who mourn his untimely death, will find a sad pleasure in reading this biographical sketch.

DEATH OF GEN. JOHN WEIDMAN .-- We regret to learn that Gen. JOHN WEIDMAN, of Lebanon, died at his residence in that borough, on Thursday, the 23d ult., aged 48 years, 7 months and 29 days. His funeral took place on Monday last, with military honors, and was attended by members of the Masonic Order and by a large number of mourning friends.

Gen. WEIDMAN was the son of the late Jacob B. Weidman, Esq., a distinguished lawyer of Lebanon county. He was educated at Princeton College, and afterward passed a regular course of study in Medicine at Jefferson College, Philadelphia. The practice of Physic, however, was distasteful to him, and he entered upon the study of the Law in his father's office, and was duly admitted to the Bar. He practiced for some years with great success in his native county of Lebauon, and in the Sunreme Court of the State. where his excellent judgment and eminent legal abilities were held in the highest estimation, not only by that portion of the legal profession having opportunities to witness his efforts, but by the Judges of that high tribunal; and by none more than by the late distinguished Chief Justice Gibson. He took a lively interest in public affairs, but, although among the most active and prominent members of the Democratic party, he never sought or held an office, except that of District Attorney of Lebanon county, to which he was elected, several years ago, on the strength of his personal popularity, when every other candidate on the ticket with him was de-

The deceased always had a fondness for military affairs, and about ten years ago, was elected Brigadier General of the 2d Brigade, 5th Division Penna. Volunteers. Before the expiration of his term as District Attorney, the rebellion broke out, when, almost alone and unassisted, he raised a Company of Cavalry for three years' service, which was accepted by the Government, and assigned to the Army of the Potomac. He particinsted with his Company in the battles of the Peninsula under McClellan, and also in the campaign in Maryland. After a service of more than a year, he contracted the disease which obliged him to resign his commission, and of which he died. It was not however, until his oldest son (a younger being already distinguished in the Navy) had entered or was about to enter the service as Major in one of the drafted regiments, that he could be persuaded to lay aside his sword, and retire to his peaceful and happy home in Lebanon.

Gen. WEIDMAN was a man of the most generous and noble impulses. In every relation of life, he exhibited a suavity of manner and a high sense of honor that won upon the hearts of friends, and commanded the respect of all. Ardent in his attachments, sincere in his friendships, and pure in personal character, he was take him for all in all, one of Nature's true Noblemen. He leaves a fond wife, an interesting family of children, and a large circle of friends, to mourn the loss of as kind a husband, as fend a father, and as beloved a citizen as ever lived to dignify and adorn humanity.

DEMOCRATIC TOWNSHIP MERTINGS .- A meeting of the Democrats of Cumru. Robeson and the neighboring townships, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the public house of Jacob Becker, in Cumru, for the purpose of organizing a Democratic Club, in pursuance of a resolution of the Democratic County Committee.

A meeting of the true friends of the Constitution and Union, will be held in Alsace township, at the public house of Peter Fies, on Saturday next, May 9th, at 1 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of organizing a Democratic Club. Addresses will be delivered, in English and Ger-

"THE AGE"-the new Democratic Daily in Philadelphis has been materially enlarged, and now ranks, in point of size, among the largest journals in the country. It is also a first-class paper in all respects. Its commercial, literary, news and political departments, are conducted with vigor and ability; and it fully meets the expectations of all who were solicitous for the establishment of a high-toned, enterprising, bold, live Democratic organ in Pennsylvania. The Democracy of Philadelphia and of the State at large should see to it, that The Age is liberally

FIRST OF MAY .- For once in many years we have had a "May Day" such as the poets describe. All nature smiled yesterday, under the a balmy breeze, laden with the odor of violets young leaves and gay blossoms, the grass donned all the shoe dealers keep them. its brightest green to welcome the genial sunbeams the flowers burst their swelling buds, and all outdoors invited to a ramble in the woods and fields. The day was truly one to be marked with a white stone in memory's casket.

SENATORIAL DELEGATE. - The Conferees representing the Senatorial district composed of Comberland, Perry, Juniata and Mifflin counties met at Newport on Friday last, and elected Dr. E. D. CRAWFORD, of Juniata, Senatorial Delegate to the coming Democratic State Convention. Dr. C., we learn, is favorable to the nomination of HIBSTER CLYMER for Governor.

LOYALTY.

This word was used in the days of the Revolution, to signify autherence to the cause of the idiot King, George III. of England. It has again come into common use with a portion of the American neonle, to express their sense of the duty that the citizen owes to the Government. Webster, in his Dictionary, defines its meaning

"LOVALTY, n. Fidelity to a prince or sover-eign, or to a husband or lover."

This is the only definition that is given; and bence the use of the word with reference to the obligations of a citizen of this country to his Government, is obviously improper. It expresses a sentiment, not a principle or rule; and means simply, attachment or devotion to the person of the superior; a duty which, we need scarcely say, is foreign to our political system. No personal fidelity to President or Governor is due from any American citizen, because those officers are the mere instruments through which the people put in execution their own will, as embodied in constitutions and laws, and their superiors only by virtue of the official trust they are temporarily chosen to administer. No our who holds office in the gift of the people's chief servant, the President, is required to give a pledge of "loyalty" to him. The oath prescribed in every such case, is to support the Constitution and laws, and to discharge the duties of his office with fidelity. He owes no duty or service whatever to the President individually. This may seem to be mere caviling to those who, perhaps unthinkingly, are in the daily practice of using the word in question. But, when we remember the terse saying of a distinguished philosopher, that "words are things" perhaps our objections may not be as frivolous as they appear. If we reflect, that familiarity with the representative of an idea soon predisposes the mind to accept the idea itself, we will find a sufficient reason for disliking the use of the word loyalty, as at present applied. If, as the overzealous adheren's of the present Administration -the office bolders, contractors, and their dependents, chiefly-would have us to believe, we are bound to regard the President as the Government, and to yield implicit, unquestioning obedience to all his dicta, in the shape of orders, proclamations, &c.; -if we must acquiesce in, onsent to, and even applaud, all his acts, however arbitrary, unwarranted and unconstitutional they may be, in our judgment—if we must make the exercise of our personal and political rights dependent upon his will and pleasure, instead of upon fixed fundamental law which is as obligatory upon him as it is upon the humblest citizen -if, in short, we are to accept the monarchical logma of the "Divine right of Kings," and its corollary, "the King can do no wrong," then indeed loyalty becomes our imperative duty, and lisloyalty seditions and treasonable. But, thanks to the spirit of freedom that still lives in the reasts of the American people, they have not yet been intimidated into slavish submission to arbitrary power, whether exercised by Presidenlial edict or by the more demonstrative exhibition of Military dictatorship. The same sturdy ove of independence that nerved our fathers o throw off the yoke that oppressed them in the days of '76, and establish the right of selfgovernment, survives in their children, and will e sufficient, we hope and pray, to protect them from the encroachments and assumptions of those who, upon the plea of "military necessity," are using all the means that the temporary administration of the Government gives them, to subvert our free institutions, and substitute for them a consolidated central government, based upon the idea of abject submission to "the owers that be." The only supreme authority they recognize, is that of the Constitution and Laws of their own making. These constitute the Government, which they are bound to support. Fidelity to them is their highest and most sacred duty; while loyalty to the persons of those who administer them, is a spurious test. set up by designing men to entrap them into the

WRECK OF THE STEAMER ANGLO-SANON .- The British steamer Anglo Saxon, bound to Quelico, from Liverpool and Londonderry, from which latter port she sailed on the 17th ult., was wrecked in a dense fog four miles off Cape Race on Monday last, at noon. She had four hundred and forty-four persons on board, of whom three hundred and sixty were passengers, and of whom two hundred and thirty-seven are supposed to surrender of their dearest, constitutional rights.

Liberty is a more ennobling sentiment, and fitter to be cherished by Americans, than the foreign, courtly feeling of loyalty. It is more than that -it is a precious reality, which cannot be too

such as that which lurks under the fair sounding but inapplicable word whose use we have

The Angle-Savon is the twentieth vesse wrecked since the establishment of steam navigation on the Atlantic, and it is somewhat re markable that the line to which she belonged has ost no less than six steamers since 1857. The rapidity with which she went down proves that the damage must have been irremediable; for within one hour after she struck, her deck broke up. Under the circumstances it may be regarded as fortunate that so many were saved.

THE TWO YEARS' VOLUNTEERS. -The two years' New-York Troops whose term of service has expired, comprise thirty-eight regiments. but only include about 12,000 men, so that the actual loss to the army by the withdrawal of these regiments is not very large. Hooker has still a much larger force than McClellan had in his march against Richword. Ten regiments of the nine-months men from this State are also to be paid off and mustered out of service during he present month.

METAL-TIPPED SHOES. - Shoes are an important item in the expense of clothing children, as every parent will understand. They invariably wear out their shoes at the toe first, and not unfrequently before the other parts are a quarter worn. Children's shoes with Metal tips never sweet influences of a clear sky, a warm sun and wear out at the toe, and it is safe to say that on an average one pair with them will more than and fresh verdure. The trees put forth their out-wear three pairs without them. We believe

> STATE SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT .- Gov. Curtin has appointed Charles R. Coburn, . Bradford county. State Superintendent of Public Schools, in place of Hon. Thos. H. Burrowes, whose term has expired. Mr. B. has made a remarkably efficient officer, and his re-appointment was carnestly desired by the friends of education, without respect to party; but as he was suspected of Democratic sympathies, the "no-party" politimans demanded his removal, and the appointnent of a rabid Abolitionist in his stead.

A CALL FOR McCLELLAN .-- A member of the 93d recently wrote to a friend at Lebanon: "Give us General McClellan and we will fight every battle over again from Williamsburg to Fredericksburg, and do it better than ever we did. Take this army to Fair Oaks and give us 'Little Mac, and we will go to Richmond. He is the man we want, and he is the man who will be President of the United States if soldiers have anything to say. Old Abe was down to see us, but we all would sooner see General McClellan. The states officers.

In conclusion, I would again most respectfully ask the editor of the Journal, for the edification of his readers, to reproduce the article quoted by but we all would sooner see General McClellan. The states officers.

[For the Reading Gazette and Democrat.] MR. GETZ:-Your reasers will recollect that in the Gazette of April 4th, I negused the editor American Soldiers, &c., and challenged him to quote from the Gazette any criticism, concerning Lincoln's Abelition Administration, which he might consider even one fourth as venomous and malignant as the Journal's denunciation of President Polk, and place them side by side in his paper. This he has refused to do, as was to be expected. No doubt he feared an exposition of his inconsistency and hypocrisy to his readers so that they will hardly ever get a sight of that infamous production. During the Mexican War, the Journal claimed the right (and exercised it also, as has already been shown) to censure President Polk's Democratic Administration in the most independent manner and severest terms. Now this same editor denounces as Tories, Traitors and Copperheads, all such as differ with President Lincoln's Abolition Administration, and who feel calle upon to criticise and expose his unconstitutional acts. This self-righteons editor even now persist in the accusation against President Polk, that he bad been guilty of a "treasonable act," be cause he did not obstruct Santa Ana's return t Mexico. Nothing more wicked and detestable was ever invented to injure an honest and upright Executive; but what cared the pious and moral editor then, and what cares he now, so that he can effect lasting injury or the destruction of the object of his hatred. As some of your readers muy have forgotten the circumstances attending the "Santa Ana Pass," I will introduce some of President Polk's reasons, substantially, for no which can be found in his message to Congress Dec. 8, 1846, and which cannot fail to remov from any unprejudiced mind the idea of President Polk ever having been guilty of a "treason able act." Shortly before the war with Mexico comment ed, Gen. Paredes, who was known to be bitterly hostile to the United States, became the head of the Mexican Government. It was certain, that no change whatever in that Government, would be for the worse, so far as the United States were concerned, while it was highly probable that any change must be for the better. As the war had been commenced by the Government of Paredes, it became an object of much importance, with view of a speedy settlement of our difficulties and the restoration of an honorable peace, tha ta Ana had been banished from his country by a revolution in 1844; still he had a considerab professed an entire change of policy; expressed his regret that he had subverted the federal constitution of 1824, and was now in favor of its restoration; it was reasonable to suppose that it would be his interest to favor peace. Under these circumstances and upon these considerations, it was deemed expedient not to obstruct his return to Mexico, should be attempt to do so. Our object was the restoration of peace; and with that Paul's, Reading, $36 65; and lu St. Paul's, Douglassville, view no reason was perceived why we should take part with Paredes and aid him by means of our blockade in preventing the return of his rival to Mexico. On the contrary, it was believed that the intestine divisions, which ordinary sagacits could not but anticipate as the fruit of Santa Ana's return to Mexico, and his contest with l'aredes, might strongly tend to produce a disposition with both parties to restore and proserve peace with the United States. The reader will not fail to perceive, that the worthy one, namely: a restration of peace; and would to God the same could with truth be said of the present Abolition Administration. When the overthrow and imprisonment of Paredes, and the arrival at Vera Cruz of Santa Ana was annonneed through our papers, there existed a universal belief that Santa Ana favored peace because when he reached Vera Cruz he expressed a desire that the war between Mexico and the United States might be brought to a speedy close. And yet this pions adjunct of the Journal editor persists in his slander and vilification of as pure minded a man as ever lived. He reninds me of the fellow who said that he had seen tioned touching the horse's heighth, he declared that if he had said 16 feet high it was so—having once uttered a falsehood he will stick to it. 'resident l'olk's motive was pure, but it cannot be disquised that he, as well as thousands of others who were anxious for peace, were deceived by the declarations of Santa Afia. So much for the so-called "treasonable act" of President

If it was proper and just in the Journal to de-nounce President Polk as a Murderer of hundreds and thousands of free born American Soldiers for his so called "mismanagement" of the Maxican called for the miserable "mismanagement" of the rebellion and the slaughter of thousands and tens of thousands of our best citizens. The Journal will not deny that President Lincoln is justly to be charged with the defeats we have unfortunately sustained, commencing with Bull Run, Ball's Bluff, Big Bethel, Fredericksburg and so on to Charleston; because he is responsible for every rder that is promulgated from Head Quarters a Washington. Those who are placed at the heads of the Departments hold their offices at his pleasure His responsibility, therefore, like his au-thority, is absolute.

The editor coolly and unblushingly declares that "no one complains, and no arrests are made because the tories (democrats) of the present day find fault with the President or his Cabinet." Has the editor already forgotten his declaration made a short time ago, that if you wish to dis-cover a trailor in heart, &c, just ask your man what he thinks of the President's Proclamation? Is this not an expression of censure? Yes, to be branded as a traitor because a man differs with the President. Again, did not the Journal some time since Again, did not the Journal some time since competine (probably it was his pious and moral adjunct,) that such a paper as the Reading Adler should be tolerated in our midst, because said Adler stigmatized with the most contemptions and degrading epithets the President's measures; and because said Adter denounced the President as an Abolitionist; and furthermore, because every sentence in an editorial of said Adter was calculated to bring the Chief Executive Officer of the nation into contempt, &c., and after having uttered these, together with sundry other complaints, this saint calls upon the relatives of the martyrs to liberty, to look at the Adder office and you will see a rebel magazine and a nest of traitors in your midst, &c. Does indeed "no one complain?" This latter appeal was calculated and no doubt intended to incite the hell hound portion of the Journal's party (the fellows who "never think an honest thought") to an attack upon the Adler office. But woe to the Journal office if an assault is made as shadowed forth some time ago in its columns. No arrise are made, &c.—So says the Jour-Everybody who reads the same knows better, but the editor must have an idea that if any thing is denied by himself or his immaculate partner, it will be received as gospel by his party friends. It is only necessary to name one, in the person of Charles Inge-soil, Esq., of Philadel-phia. Who does not know that he was arrested for branding President Lincoln's Abolition Administration as it deserved." And yet according to the Journal no arrests are made. It sounds something like President Lincoln's "Nabada" hurt," and contains just about as much truth Dozens of persons might be named who were arrested and released after weeks and months confinement in forts, bastiles, &c., without ever having been tried. Probably the Journal recollects that the editors of the Patriot & Union, Harrisburg, were arrested and imprisoned in Washington, and discharged after about two washington, and discharged after about two weeks' confinement,—nobody appearing against them. It strikes me forcibly that the editor of the Journal was highly elated when he published an account of their seizure by armed soldiers.

Another arrest happened at Philadelphia, the particulars of which are no doubt in possession of the pious and moral adjunct of the Journal. I have reference to the case of Col. David Renno formerly from this county, who was on a visit to his native place. After an imprisonment of a number of weeks at Philadelphia and Fart Lafayette he was discharged without ever having had a hearing, although he was anxious to be examined. Besides being imprisoned, he was at an expense of about $300, some of which e stated found its way into the pockets of Uni-lished in the Journal during the Mexican Warand to allow it to appear in next Saturdays' edition, together with the most violent strictures of the Journal with having, during the Mexican War, in substance denounced President Polk as a marderer of hundreds and thousands of free born ished. The Journal of Feb. 25th, contained American Soldiers, &c., and challenged him to says, from his paper published during the Mexi can War, to prove that he was not a Copperhead at that time. Then why not also publish the article alluded to? It would not occupy more than about 12 or 15 lines.

MASTER WILLIAM'S CONCERT, on Thurs day night, was well attended, and gave general satisfac-tion. His performances on the Piano were fully up to the expectations that were formed of his extraordinary musical genius. He has none of the vanity and affectation that sometimes take hold of precocious youngsters when they become the subjects of public notice and applause, but ex-hibits his abilities with a modesty and unobtrusiveness that are highly commendable. Our old favorites, Professor Becher, and Messrs. Shilling, Wittich and Ralle, did their parts well, as they always do. Miss Wells, the vocal attraction of the evening, is a passable singer, and pleased the audience well enough to win an encore.

Letter from the Army.—Hon. Hiester Clymer. CAMP 151st P. V., NEAR FALMOUTH, Va, April 24th, 1863. MR. J. L. GETZ.

Dear Sir :-- With extreme pleasure I inform you, that the name of the Hon. HIESTER CLYMER is very popular in the Army of the Potomac among the brave and noble Pennsylvanians, who stand ready to defend the Constitution of the United States upon the ground that he interprets. He is regarded by the leading men here from all counties of the Old Keystone, as the truest and safest man that can be entrusted with the responsible position of Governor of the great Arch-Stone of the Union.

this Regiment, highly appreciate the course of the 13th Senatorial District, and Perry county, and express their most heartfelt hope that the Democracy from all the counties of the State will honor themselves by nominating the man that possesses the talent and integrity to restore what abolition corruption has ruined. Yours, Respectfully,
