THE BERKS CO. CONSPIRACY CASE. Another Hearing in Philadelphia.

Philip Huber, Harrison Oxcurider, Dr. Augus tus F. Illig, and Gabriel Filbert, had a further hearing on Monday and Tuesday last, before U. S. Commissioner Heazlitt, in Philadelphia, on the charge of conspiracy to resist the Conscription Law. Messrs. Henry Seidel and Joseph Muthart were also brought before the Commiscioner with the above named defendants, having been arrested by a U. S. Marshal, at their homes. early on Monday morning, and taken to Philadelphia in the 6 o'clock train.

U.S. District Attorney Coffey and J. S. Richards, Esq., appeared for the Government. Hon. J. Glancy Jones and John P. O'Neill, Esq., appeared for the defendants.

Alexander Hoster, Peter F. Herzog, William Bennethum, John W. Gaul, Wm. Gruber, Michael Grob, Isaac Fidler, Michael D. Schæffer and George Moyer, were examined as witnesses. The orly testimony of any account was that given by Mr. Groh, which we copy in full from The Age of Wednesday last. The great "spook" has at last been discovered, and turns out to be nothing more dangerous than an oath bound association of men for the support of the Constitution and the Union as it was. If these are the only "con spirators" that the Government has to guard against, it need not fear for its safety :

THE TESTIMONY OF MICHAEL GROH. Michael Groh, affirmed .- I live in Marion town-Michael Gron, aprimed.—I live in Marion township. Berks county; I was at a meeting at Sellers', where Huber made a speech: I prefer testifying in German; I will tell all I know of it; he came, and I, with two others, called him out; we questioned him: I cannot say what the others asked him; I know what was said to me: I asked him if the other party could join; he said there was but one party; he said, too, they must have no negro on their backs; I wanted to further question him; he went into the house and commenced his speech; he then said it was a Demonenced his speech; in their said it was a benderation meeting in support of the Union, and the old Constitution, the thirty-four States, and the Territories as they were; he said the emancipation, confiscation and conscription acts were unconstitutional the way they were carried, and they could not support them; he said many things I cannot remember; he opposed Lincoln and his Cabinet, and said they were Abolitionists; and he said the object of the meeting was to put down Secession and Abolition without arms; he abused Abe Lincoln and his Cabinet as much as he could; he said Jeff Davis and Lincoln would never settle it; the common people would have to settle it; the object the meeting was to carry out was to settle the war, because there were enough men already killed; he told us where the negro originated; Almighty God had put a curse negro originates; Annigny wou may put a curse on the negro's head, and that Abraham Lincoln wanted to put himself above God to remove the curse, and it was more power than the President had; he used insulting words against the Gov-ernment; names and money were received; the secret meeting was in the barn; I was present; I will tell what accurred if you will take the reserret meeting was in the barn; I was present; I will tell what occurred, if you will take the responsibility; I know the Government cannot harm me; I am no longer with the society; I do not think I should tell the oath and what occurred; I do not know if Huber was sworn as a member of the society to make speeches; it was told us, if any one is here now who was not satisfied with what was going on inside, he could have the money back and his name drawn off; if he publishes any of the secrets of the society, he has to look out for himself; I was spoken to yesterday, just before leaving Stouchsburg, by Henry Peifer, jr.; he said, Michael, I would not like to be in your place in Phila; he said, you know there are rowdies, and you will be in danger of your life; I told him I would support the Union and Constitution in Philadelphia and at home; if there is anybody in the house against me, I want them to come up: there are some of

I cannot give the oath in full; as much as I know is: "You swear you will oppose the Emancipation act, the Confiscation act, and the Conscription act." This is the nearest can remember. Then he said, "So help you God;" and we should keep secret what he told us under the obligation. Huber said they had the same societies in the army. That he said in public, not in the secret society. Another sign was raising the hat three times from the head, so that if the armies met each from the head, so that it the armies mise each other they would not fight; the sign belonged to the society. He said that the society is in the Union army and the rebel army, and if they knew each other by that sign they would not fight. He gave some more signs. I do not know them any more. I only know two of the pass-words, and I do not know whether the first of them is right or not; they are "H. O." and "R. D.;" if you met a member of the order you said "H. O.," and he answered "R. D.;" then said "H. O.," and he answered "R. D.;" then you knew he was a member; I can't remember what "H. O." stood for; "R. D." is pronounced Richmond; I do not perfectly recollect other words; Huber gave us a song which I can't remember; it was about the nigger and Lincoln; I do not remember anything else; it was nearly twelve o'clock when I got home; I live nearly a mile across the lots; the meeting in the barn had been commenced at shout nine o'clock and; been commenced at about nine o'clock, and it continued about an hour and a half; he talked with the others, and the signs and pass-words were told to every member, and they knew them, and it took a great deal of time; all he said about money to be collected, was in the public meeting; nothing was said of it in the private meeting, that I can remember; Huber said, if they should be drafted and the men came around to serve the retires upon them that should be others, and the signs and pass-words they should hid? Fisher's being there;

I hesitated because I thought there was some danger to my self and my property; I feared danger to myself and my property; I may have feared danger to my self and my property, but I am not prepared to say I felt bodily fear; I have personal property; the barn and house where I live do not belong to me; they may be burned down, I do not know what may happen; I have not now fear of danger; I was told by Peifer what I before said he said; he would not be understood he knew somebody would do it, or that he knew any person that would do me an injury; he said you know there are rowdies; I had a fear of Fredericksburg was in position on his flank and rear twelve miles to the west. Our line there was formed in this wise:—Howard's Corps had the extreme right to the southwest of Chancellorville, then came Sickles', then Slocum's, then Meade's; Humphrey's Division of this last corps holding the extreme left on the Rappahannock, between Banks' Ford and the United States Ford. While these dispositions were being made, General Stoneman had been sent with his cavalry to destroy the railroad bridges over the North and South Anna rivers, about twenty miles this side of Riohmond.

Re-examined—Huber only once said anything about shooting the draft officers with guns. It was in the course of the instructions. Huber was in the middle of the floor; we were around him.

To Mr. Coffey—The first thing done in the barn was standing around him, two deep, and we were was standing ground him, two deep, and we dee sworn; that is as near as I can remember. I do not know if Dr. Ilig was a new member or an old member. None were inside the barn except the members. I never talked about it with Illig or

To Mr. J. Glancy Jones-I did not have any ommunication with Mr. Richards, nor did I give him the signs and grips; I cannot tell where he got them; as much as I know, he was not a member; he must have got them from somebody who left the secret out; I do not know who told him. To Mr. Richards-When Huber spoke of our using guns, he first said not to kill them; after ward, he said we should take care to hurt nobody;

by that he meant serious injury.

Mr. Coffey then asked for a continuance of the hearing, for the purpose of getting other testi-mony before the Commissioner, to show that forcible resistance was intended.

Mr. O'Neill hoped the hearing would conclude to-day, as had been the understanding.

Mr. Coffey—In regard to taking their own reognizances, a false issue has been attempted to be raised in this case. It is notorious to all of us that there were demonstrations as if force was going to be used, and an attempt has been made to give the thing a party aspect. These proceedings have been canvassed in a political convention; there are no reasons that men not good in themselves should go on light bail; I be-lieve the society is pernicious and wrong on account of what it conspires to do.

Mr. Jones—I attended, as a participant, the meeting spoken of; it was not intended to have any reference whatever to the proceedings before this commission. It was an effort on the part of this commission. It was an effort on the part of the people of Berks county to refute the calumny that they were conspirators. I hope the Discrict Attorney will be satisfied there is no intention whatever of interfering with the Government, much less interfering by force. I am satisfied it never entered the brain of any man. These meetings seem to have had more of a pecuniary object; some one wished to make a dollar a head. I am satisfied not a man in Berks county ever contemplated, for a single moment, any resistance to the Government. ance to the Government. They have, perhaps, a want of faith in the means used for the salvation of the Union. They intend to submit to laws they deem unconstitutional, rather than be compelled to live in anarchy. I think the District Attorney will be satisfied the society wishes to organize for the purpose of preparing for con tingencies. In the secret meeting the members were enjoined to assist the Government of the were enjoined to assist the Government of the United States. We could, if this were not an exparte proceeding, give evidence that would abundantly satisfy all there was no conspiracy intended against the Government.

THE BATTLE ON THE RAPPAHANNOCK.

DESPERATE FIGHTING.

Retreat of General Hooker's Army.

He Recrosses the Rappahannock at United States and Bank's Ford.

Our Loss in Killed and Wounded from 10,000 to 12,000.

The Rebel Loss Estimated at 20,000.

The movement which resulted in the battles The movement which resulted in the battles of Saturday and Sunday last, began on Monday, April 27th. General Hooker had determined to force General Lee out of his strong defenses at Fredericksburg, by getting to his flank and rear; and being aware that all the fords of the Rappahannock were strongly guarded by the Rebels, he was obliged to resort to strategy to cover his point of crossing. With a view to this he sent three of his corps down to the point, two miles below the city, where General Franklin crossed in December last. But two divisions, however, actually crossed the river; but the whole of the three corps were skillfully marched along the three corps were skillfully marched along the slope of the hills in sight of the enemy, and a portion of them being left in position, the greater part were marched back through a ravine. These were marched back through a ravine. These were again paraded in sight of the enemy, and so kept marching round and round until they assumed the proportions of an army of a hundred thousand men.

In this way Lee was outwitted, and he massed his forces to the left of our position to meet the supposed advance in that direction. Meanwhile, General Hooker had despatched three other corps to Kelly's Ford, twenty seven miles above, where the Rebel guards, deprived of their supports, were easily driven in. All these corps were then deflected to the left to bring them back to serve the notices upon them, they should refuse to accept the notices; and they should load their guns with coarse salt or fine shot; and shoot them in the legs, but to be careful not to. cross roads twelve miles west of Fredericksburg.
On Thursday they were joined by Couch's Corps, which had crossed lower down. Thus was accomplished a march of thirly six miles, with trains and artillery, over a route traversed by two rivers, the result placing seventy five thousand men in the rear of the Fredericksburg forifications.

At some period of this brilliant movement, it

As Lee was in position to attack General
Hooker's right flank and rear, it became neces sary for the latter to change front to meet the emergency, and this he proceeded to do by lay-ing out a new line for his right thank during the aight. That work was not fully accomplished when Lee commenced the battle of Sunday at half past five in the morning. It began consid-erably to the front of the new line, and it raged with the most intense fury for nearly six hours.

It was marked by the conspicuous gallantry of Generals Rerry, Birney, Whipple, Williams, Sickles, Slocum, French, Mott and Hancock, and their officers and men. The troops of these Generals occupied the field in front of the right wing and energed the green, while Rewnolld? wing and engaged the enemy, while Reynolds and Meade's Corps, which formed the new right, and Meade's Corps, which formed the new right, got into position. When everything was ready, the divisions thus engaged fell back, and the enemy found himself forced down upon our front, instead of having an easy offair with the rear. At half-past eleven the enemy, thoroughly foiled and repulsed at every point, ceased firing. The loss appears to have been heavy on both sides, but the enemy's ravels were morald down by any and the composition of t

The crossing was commenced at 10 o'clock on Tuesday night. At 3 o'clock on Wednesday morning, wagon and mule trains and the artillery had all passed, and the infantry was crossing on two bridges at United States Ford. Couch's on two bridges at United States Ford. Couch's corps was in the advance. The retreat was 60vered by the Fifth, Meade's corps.

Lee's sharpshooters picked off the artillery horses, and fired on any mounted officers seen behind rifle pits Troops could be seen marching and communicating along the roads southeast from Chancellorsville. In all advantageous positions butteries were run and and rigography. positions batteries were run out and vigorously used against Hooker's camp. As soon as counter guns were brought to bear on their flying batteries, they would disappear, to show themselves in some new position.

The effect of a movement strategetically offensive, made tactically defensive, soon produced a damaging effect on the entire army. The ques-tion again was, the sufty of the Army of the Po-tomac. Consultations were had with corps commanders; the question of the possibility of re-treat was discussed. This once broached, and the campaign was a failure.

It was decided that the enemy was too powerful to be resisted, and that Sedgwick's corps must be rejoined to the army in order to make must be rejoined to the army in order to make an offensive movement practicable.

Sedgwick having failed to join Hooker via the Fredericksburg and Gordonsville plank road, and being hard pressed, he crossed the Rappahan nock and saved his corps from annihilation. The experiment cost him some 6000. He inflicted, doubtless a much receter injury on the enemy.

the aggressor, and that less than half his command had withstood the attack of the full force of the enemy, he in one fatal moment gave the order to evacuate the strong position and his fortified camp, and to retreat across the Rappa

The Richmond papers show that Stoneman's corps went within two miles of Richmond, and effected many captures and a great destruction of property. At least a part of all this gallant force has reached Gloucester in Keyes's com-mand, opposite to Yorktown, on the York River. There can now be no impropriety in saying that the President and Mojor-Gen. Hallleck visited Gen. Hooker and the army yesterday, and returned to the city to-night.

At nearly 1 o'clock this morning information was received that Gen. Stoneman has safely arrived at Rappahanneck Station with the remain-der of his force. He has cut the railroad con-nections of the enemy in all directions, and thus won a noble distinction.

The success of General Stoneman's expedition is admitted by the rebels themselves. Agoia Raifroad. Sedgwick was everwhelmed by numbers, and pressed hard on both front and reat, and was hardly able to make good his escape near Banks Ford. Fredericksburg and the heights beyond have been reoccupied by the enemy, and the situation is substantially as it was previous to the advance.

Sedgwick has lost in killed and wounded about 5000 men. His artillery and trains were safely brought over on Monday night.

After fighting the severe battle of Sundsy morning, Gen. Hooker continued to strengthen his lines, throwing up doubte lines of rife pits and constructing an abattle slong the entire line of his camp. The enemy continued to make demonstrations along the work, driving in the pickets, and delivering volleys of muskury at mem most exposed.

The artillery was placed on the heights below United States Ford, in a position to command the crossing.
