At last we part-I hope forever-Dup'd as I was by thy false charms, I oft' times thought we ne'er could sever, Except embrao'd by Death's cold arms. Urged on by fancy I oft did sip The poisonous draught from thee with pleasure Oft have I placed thee to my lip, Mingling my thoughts with thee at leisure, Yielding thus in "fond delusion," O'er thy form-bound as 'twere by spell"— Like one who seeks in blind confusion, Delight in what becomes his Hell. Pain and remorse at last o'ertook me, I have seen the Folly of my way, "Peace to your ashes" when Death o'ertakes thee Euchanting being, you're nought but olay. -Boston Post.

A NEW Mode ov Begaing .- The Courrier de Paris tells the story of a beggar who presented himself regularly at a certain coffee house with a clarionet under his arm. "Will you allow me, gentlemen," he said, in an humble tone of voice, "to play a tune? I am no rirtuoso, and if you prefer giving me a trifle, I will spare you the annoyance of listening to me." Every one felt at once for a few stray coppers, and the musician departed with a profound reverence. This he repeated several evenings in succession. At last. one evening, a young man, who had never failed to contribute to the wants of the itinerant musician, asked him in a friendly manner to give them a tune, let it be good or bad; he wanted to hear him.

"But I am afraid, sir, I shall disappoint you." "Never mind that, give us a tune anyhow." "But I am a poor player; and I have a poor instrument."

"No matter for that, I want to hear you." "Well, sir, since you insist upon it." said the poor man. "I will tell you that I don't play at all. I carry this clarionet merely for the purpose of threatening people with my performance."

SOMEBODY writing reminiscences of the "Old Park Theatre," in the N. Y. Leader, tells a good anecdote of Blake, the treasurer. It occurred during the famous first engagement there of Fanny Elseler, the danseuse. It will be remembered that she was accompanied by a male dancer, Monsieur Sylvain. Blake, seeing him walking up and down the lobby one merning, waiting for Miss E., thought it would be politeness to accost him. To this questionable end, Blake brushed up his French - bis task was light, for he had little-and addressed the Parisian in his vernacular. Monsieur looked at him a moment with a twinkle in his eye, probably the sinister one, which was anything but Frenchy, and then came forth with, "Bother man, spake English; what the divil's the use of French? My name's O'Sullivan; let's take a drop." "The brogue was rich and full, and admitted of no doubt of the country of Mons. Sylvain's birth, and the drink was taken at once.

A CAPTAIN of a steamboat on the Mississippi river, who had fought in the battles of the Texas revolution, offered a free passage in his boat to any soldier who had participated in a certain engagement. One day a man claimed free passage, asserting that he was in the battle. He was referred to the captain.

"In what capacity did you serve " " High private."

"Stranger," said the captain, " give me your hand; I have passed two thousand and eightytwo who were in that engagement and you are the very first private I have seen."

A YOUNG LADY of high accomplishments. the family being without a servant at the time. stepped to the door on the ringing of the bell, which announced a visit from one of her admirers. On entering, the beau, glancing at the harp and piano, exclaimed: "I thought I heard musicen which instrument were you performing?" "On the gridiron, sir, with the accompaniment of the frying-pan," replied she. "My mother is without a servant, and she says I must learn to finger those instruments sooner or later, so I

TT IS WELL KNOWN THAT THIS COMthe pany, in the few years since the construction of the fashroad, has sold a large number of Farms to settlers, who, mostly in a short time, enjoyed a degree of prosperity, which is sufficient voitence of the quality of the soil, and the facilities for disposing of its produce. The soil, and the facilities for disposing of its produce. The soil, and the facilities for disposing of its produce. The soil and the facilities for disposing of the country.
The hand is rich PRAIRIE SOIL, often thickly wooded.
Woodland can generally be purchased at short distances and low pricas—sometimes of the Company. The various kinds of grain are successfully cultivated. Fruit, Grapes, dec., grow rapidly, and yield shoundarily and of supparior quality. The fruit market is probably the best in the West. For the raising of Cattle there is no better country to be found. Considering the infancy of the settlements, such has already been done for Schools.

The Company offers to settlers great advantages. The land is soid—Wood or Prairie—ast from $0 to $12 per acre, secording to its distance from the Railroad. At the time of purchase, only the interest of the purchase more; is required. For the 3 first years, like who only the interest.
At the end of the fourth year and the three follow induced

DANVILLE, Pa., June 2, 1562.

Dr. WM. H. Greed—Dear Sir: In February, 1501. I was affilioted with the sugar disbetes, and for five month-I passed more than two gallons of water in twent-bar hours. I was obliged to get up as often as ten or twelve times during the night, and in five monthal lost about fitty pounds in weight. During the month of July, 1561, I procured two bottles of Constitution Water, and in two days after using it f experienced relief, and after taking two buttles I was entirely cured, soon after regaining my usual good health. Yours traly.

J. V. L. DE WITT.

tirely her domestic affairs. She has not taken any of the Constitution Water for about four weeks, and we are happy to say it has produced a permanent cure.
