Tuesday, July 14. }
The officers report that they captured about 2000 prisoners, 12 guns, several caissons, and stands of colors, this morning, at Falling Waer and Williamsport.

The following estimates have been made by competent officers of Lee's losses since crossing the Potomac on his raid into Pennsylvania: Killed, 5,000; wounded, 9,000; prisoners, 9,500 aninjared. It is known that 6,000 wounded unispared. It is known that 6,000 wounded tehtls passed through Winchester three days ago, and 300 wagons full of wounded have since teen carried over the river. The desertions will probably reach 3,000, making a total loss of not less than 33,000.

A number of deserters from our army have arrived in camp, and early trials will be had and the punishment prescribed awarded them.

THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC RESTING AT BERLIN, MARYLAND—LEE RETREATING ACROSS THE RAPPAHANNOCK, &C.

Berlis, Md., July 16, 1863.

The Army of the Potomao is in this city. How long it will remain is of course only known to denoral Meade. It is probable that some days deneral Meade. It is probable that some days will be spent in recuperating both men and horses, both of whom have suffered from long and fatiguing marches. The position is one which gives the army the advantage of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and where it can be easily and abundantly fed.

The proximity of the river is also of great advantage to the mon, and the whole army will probably be put through a thorough ablution. It is not probable that the present inactivity will be long continued.

Lee is said to be pushing as rapidly as possible for Culppeper, and will hardly stop until beyond the Rappahannock. The necessity of feeding his army—which cannot well be accomplished at any great distance from Richmond—will hurry his movements.

MARSHAL'S OFFICE, July 12, 1863. To answer inquiries made to this office, it is announced,

First—Any drafted person paying $300, under section 18th of the Eurollment Act, is thereby exempt from further liability under that draft, exempt from any subsequent draft.

Second—Any drafted person furnishing an acceptable substitute is exempt from military service for the period for which said substitute is mustered into the service.

Third—A substitute once mustered into the service cannot be drafted while in the service.

Fourth—A drafted man cannot pay commutation money or present a substitute after he has reported himself to the Board of Enrollment for examination.

examination.

Fifth — Men who, on the 3d of March, 1863, were in the pilitary service of the United States as substitutes under the draft of 1862, and whose terms of service have since expired, are not liable to the present draft, but the persons for whom they were substitutes are liable to draft the same as though they had not been drafted and furnished substitutes under the draft of last year.

Sixth—In serving the notice as required by circular No. 42, from this office, a reasonable time to report shall in each case be granted by the Board of Enrollment to men in the State service who have been or may be drafted.

FEARFUL AND MURDEROUS RIOTS. New York, July 13-2 P. M. A great crowd collected about the office of the Third Congressional district this morning, where the draft was in progress, and stated it would no longer be allowed to proceed in New York oity.

The rioters seized the books and draft wheel.

and soattered them about the street.

The provest marshal fled from the office.

The crowd then took possession, and immediately set fire to the building.

An alarm was sounded, and the engines turned ont, but were not allowed to approach the building, being kept back by the crowd, while it was entirely consumed. The crowd was so dense that it prevented the Third street cars from running.

After the building was burned the crowd increased to the number of 5,000, armed with olubs, pitchforks, and revolvers, and every available style of weares.

oluos, pitchforks, and revolvers, and court, and able style of weapon.

The mob then proceeded to the Eighth Congressional district with the intention of destroying the building occupied by the provost marshal.

WEDNESDAY, July 14. The great anti-conscription riot in New York, which commenced on Monday, was renewed at an early hour yesterday morning, and raged with great fury all day. From a simple demonstration against an obnoxious law it has changed into an indiscriminate plunder of the houses of invested vilicars, without distinction of power. Persons who contemplate a visit to Gettysburg for the purpose of removing the remains of relatives and friends, would do well to postpone it for one week at least. Transportation will be furnished at the State expense for the bedy and one person to accompany it.

Those of the Pennsylvania Militia, wounded in the late skirmish near Hagerstown, will be returned to their homes as soon as the transportation can possibly be procured.

It appears that about eight o'clock in the morning as crowd of men were found to be patrolling belancey street, pressing men into their ranks. Gen. Brown sent a company of regulars and marines, who fired on the moth, killing several. The military then went to the Seventh and Thirteenth wards. In Pitt street a mob of about two thousand rioters were collected.

Lieut. Wood ordered his men to fire, when taking can possibly be procured.

wounded. On this the mob broke and ran. At | seven o'clock the mob set fire to the residence of Postmaster Wakeman. on Eighty-six street, near Fifth arenue. This building was entirely destroyed, together with a station home opposite. About this time a portion of the mob proceeded to Columbia College, in Broadway, near Park place, with the intention of burning it, but were dissuaded by a priest. At this time a large number of houses, occupied by negroes, were control.

The mob are taking possession of the tops of houses and brick piles. Guns can be distinctly heard at present. The mob gutted a house in Albany street to night, and there has been considerable fighting in Greenwich street.

FRIDAY, July 17. There was very little excitement in New York yesterday morning, and it was for a time be-lieved that the riot had been quelled. The care lleved that the riot had been quotied. The data and omnibuses were making their usual trips, amply protected by the military and police, who were not only guarding the various depots, but were stationed at several points of the routes traveled over by these public vehicles. There were, however, small bands of rioters assembled in various parts of the city, apparently ready for the traveled of the city, apparently ready for further scenes of violence, and the authorities, in consequence, relaxed none of their vigilance and preparation. At Twostieth streat and First Avenue, the scene of Wednesday's fight, a crowd Avenue, the scene of weenesday B igut, a drawlegan to assemble as early as seven o'clock, and remained until noon, when a company of the 65th New York passing that way to protect Hotohkins' shell factory, they were fired upon by the mob, and some fifteen of the soldiers killed. Several shots were then exchanged by the rioters and the soldiers, and a sharp skirmish ensued. Upon the facts becoming known at headquarters reinforcements were sent up, and a severe fight ensued in which quite a number of the rictors (Iontlemen:—It is with sincere pleasure and gratitude that I receive from your hands the beautiful Flag and Flagstaff, which you present to me for the use of this Camp. It was thoughtful and generous on your part to supply a disider atum which has existed up to this time. It indicates that the citizons of Reading are united and devoted to the camps of the country; and that they see no hope in the future except through the preservation of the Stars and Stripes, unsullied and untarnished. I understand by it that you will never consent that one bright star shall be removed from its azure field, but that this country must he a smif—that it shall continue to be "The land of the Free and the home of the brave" Indeed, Reading can be nothing else than true to the fastitutions of the country. The sahes of her brave Heroes, fallen in battle, would rise up and remonstrate—the wails of the widows and orphans would seem with indignation a surrender of the principles for which their dear and loved ones contended. And the living, who are about leaving you, for the active conflict of arms, and those who are now in buttle array, would remember their city with humiliation, if they could believe that any but the truest patriotism animated those they left behind. Our country must be saved. The hopes of posterity—Christianity and civilization imperperatively demand it. We owe it to the memory of our Rovolutionary sires to preserve the Union one and inseparable. It will be dono—because Troth, Justice and Humanity are on our side.

Reading has done much for the good cause. She has poured out her blood and treasure freely, and this work will go on among you until the oud is accomplished. I shall plant this Flag and fling it to the brozze, where all Reading can behold it, and be reminded, slight and morning, that the emblem of our Liberty and Nationality still waves.
