SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1863.

THE PERTENDED LETTER OF VALLANpictual to a Col. Inshall, (Rebel) of the Eighth Alabama Volunteers, which has been freely circalated by the Abolition papers—the Reading fourtail among the number—as " more proof of Valiandigham's treason," is a bare faced forgery, as might have been supposed. In a letter to Col. Medary, at Columbus, Mr. Vallandigham i never saw, never wrote a line of it, nor all lever write a line on politics or the war to any one while in the South. Neither did I ever thear from such a man as "Colonel D. D.

It is by such infamous acts as these that. Mr. Vallandigham's fame and reputation have been injured with those who have never seen the for garies exposed, and they constitute a large portion of the community.

TREASON IN THE NEW YORK CUSTOM HOUSE! Extraordinary developments have recently been made in the city of New York. Henry B Stanton, the Deputy Collector of the Port, and other prominent Black Republican officials, have been detected in the act of sending merchandize and supplies, in violation of the law, to the Rebel authorities at Richmond, of course receiving large pay and profits from Jeff. Davis's government. Some rich exposures are expected. Here we have another evidence of the honesty and loyalty of some of the Lincoln office holders. Nothing is too dishonorable for them to do if they can fill their pockets with money. Our readers must not expect to find out much about this real treasonable plot from the Administration papers. They are too busy in hunting up imaginary traitors among the Democrats, to give any attention to the heinous wrongs that are going on amongst their own intensely "loyal" friends, and "supporters of the government."

WAR NEWS!

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

General Mende has sent his sick and wounded men to Washington, and will soon make another forward movement. The Rebels hold the line of the Rappahaunock River from Sulphur Springs to Falmouth. Our cavalry forces have been thrown forward, and we may expect to hear of surring events in a few days. The army is in good condition, and anxious for activity.

From the Army of the Cumberland The Battle at Lookout Mountain. GENERAL MEIGS'S ACCOUNT OF THE AFFAIR.

Edward A. Price, A. the l2th, were assailed on the flank by a severe fire from the Rebel batteries, is highly commend-ed. The assault of a portion of this Corps up the hill, driving the enemy from their rifle-pits and capturing the Rebel batteries, was admira-bly planned and coolly executed. It proves that the 11th Corps is all that was ever claimed for it, a good fighting corps:

it, a good fighting corps:

CHATTANOOG, Tenn., Oct. 29, 1863.

HON. E. M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

Last night the 11th Corps hotly entered on this central campaign. Gen. Geary, some four miles up the Lookout Valley, being attacked by longstreet, the 11th Corps, about 1 o'clock, marched to his (Geary's) aid, passing two steep wooded hills, about 150 feet in hight. They received a volley from a Rebel force which had occupied and intrenched their summit.

"After dark, four regiments assaulted the still and sither feiter a shot steadily ad-east hill, and without firing a shot, steadily advanced by the light of the moon and drove the Rebels out of their rifle pits and down the other

"Only after walking over the ground to-day do I fully appreciate the exploit. When three hills were taken they marched to the assistance of Gen. Geary, who had held his position, and Longstreet was driven back with slaughter. As prisoners from two divisions attest that his (Longstreet's) whole disposable force was engaged, the whole affair is most creditable to gaged, the whole affair is most creditable to these Corps from the Army of the Potomac. "M. C. Meigs, Quartermaster-General."
