Two men, after drinking and carousing all night at a saloon, started in the morning to go home. It was a beautiful, sunny morning, and as they staggered along, the following conversa tion arose :

Inebriate No. 1-" How bright (hic) the moon shines!"

No. 2-" You don't call that (bic) moon, do ye? That's (hic) sun."

No. 1-" Taint-it's (hic) moon."

No. 2-" I tell ye it's sun.!" No. 1-" Well, less leave (hie) matters to first man we meet."

No. 2-" Agreed." The two toddled along for a short distance, when they chanced to meet a man exactly in the same condition with themselves. The individual was immediately treated to the following inter-

No. 1-"I shay (hic) old fellow! We've got inter little 'spute; want ye to (bic) 'elp us out. My fren here says that's the sun. [pointing up wards to Old Sol who was blazing fiercely down upon them,] and I say it's moon ""

The person addressed braced himself, after considerable difficulty, against a lamp post, and then commenced to scrutinize, as well as he could, the burning orb overhead-repeating in a medi tative tone of voice : " Sun-moon-sun-(hie) -moon." After a short "observation," he ex claimed: "Fact is, gent'lem, I'm a stranger in this part (hic) of the country, and I can't tell whether it's sun or (hic) moon."

Thus the matter was undecided, and insbrintes Nos. 1 and 2 recled away, builted and disheartened by the unsatisfactory result of their search into astronomical mysteries.

A SHARE STORY - " During the Florida War,' said the speaker, " I was in the American army. One day I shouldered my gun and went in search of game. In passing through a swamp I saw something a few feet shead of me, lying upon the ground, which had every appearance of a leg. it being some forty feet in length, and about a foot in diameter. So positive was I that I saw nothing but a log that I paid no attention to it; the fact is, I would have sworn before a court of justice that it was a log, and nothing else. You see I never heard of snakes growing to such huge dimensions, and the fact is I never should have believed it if I had. Well, between me and the log, as I took it to be, was a miry place. which it was necessary for me to avoid. I there fore, placed the butt of my gun on the ground before me, and springing upon it, lit right on top of-What do you suppose?" "A bos constrictor," said one.

" No."

"Just what I supposed it to be-a log," said the wag.

Jour Phonix relates that, passing by temple of Bacchus in San Diego, Cal., from whence issued "sounds of revelry by night," he inquired of the proprietor if the festivities were not kept up rather late, and obtained as fel lows :- "The boys run three days generally It's a little late now for night before last, but for to-night it's just in the shank of the evening." The war has run three years, and, considering that it was to be closed in hinety days, we think it is a little late now for year before last, but for this year it is just in the shank of the evening.

A JEALOUS BLUNDER .- A laughable incident is related of a jealous woman, at Lewiston, Maine, who went into an auction room the other day, and saw (as she supposed) her husband very fa miliarly sitting beside a young lady. Stepping up softly, she seized a head in each of her hande and pounded them together a number of times in great rage. Her surprise may be imagined when ment stranger was not be " worser half." She apologized and passed out amid the laughter of the crowd.

A seven YEAR OLD BOY, lately heard t use profune language, on being reproved by his mother and directed to ask God's forgiveness, re tired to his room and was overheard to say :-. O God! I am very sorry I said that naught; word and I won't say so any more; but please hurry and make me to grow up to be a man, and then I can swear as much as I want to, like pa, and nobody will notice it."
