

THE DAILY EAGLE
READING, PA., AUGUST 22, 1868.
CITY AND COUNTY
SECOND EDITION.

A HOTEL.—A new hotel is being built up on the property adjoining Shilling's Tavern, in Cumru township. Knowing ones say that the track will be superior to any in the State. 80,000 feet of timber have been ordered made, a few thousand feet ready at present, and men are ready at work putting it up.

The tavern stand has recently been enlarged by the addition of another story, making it a handsome three-story building. It is to be kept in the future by Aaron A. Higginson, of the city. —Journal.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—The Democracy of Penn township held a meeting last evening at the public house of Owen E. Collins, for the purpose of organizing a Democratic Club for said township. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. James W. Jeppen; Secretary, Dr. John A. Conrad; Treasurer, Emanuel Stumbaum. The meeting was afterward addressed by Henry C. Reber, Esq. The meeting was a decided success, and much enthusiasm is manifested by the citizens of Penn in the political questions of the day.

AT THE RAILROAD STATION.—A meeting was recently called to keep the station alive.—Large flags flying by the sides of Penn street, a movement in front of the Keystone House completely blocked up the street with people. It is said that a dozen meetings were planned out in the tiny conference which they had yesterday outside of Rocker's St. Peter's church of Milltown, this county, is getting a new organ from Boston.—Stewart's Theatre, Donegal, was crowded last evening. "Sister Anna" of this city was seriously injured in Wilkes-Barre last week by being thrown out of a carriage. Her ribs were broken, her shoulder dislocated, and her nose considerably bruised.—An animal, said to be a chestnut and black mule, was promised this season.—The morning drive is doubtfully braving the hour, owing to our abundant harvests, must surely soon decline two to three dollars per barrel.—An Protestant Camp of America, No. 2, in this city, The Knights of Pythias, of Lancaster, held a meeting in the Union Hall for the benefit of the Home for Friends, Oliver, Chichester, where a hearty meal in basket.—The bullfrog season has begun—chukka's are thick.—Gas leakage from steam pipes will be the rule of the day.—Three fourths of the parishes reported their donations to the fund whose benevolence is limited to an opportunity to steal, are negative, and in any community may be taken to indicate that the people have not yet recovered from the effects of a pretty powerful gossamer, however, cannot be so discovered.—They are very high.—A friend in the suburbs informs us that he has lots of fine sentiments, and that he goes off well-gored in the night.—Favorite box at the Indian-head box.—Treat your honest servant kindly, and you less expect harm to her only.—The next regular meeting will be on Saturday evening, 20th inst.—Dr. George Smith has made their appearance.—Splendid photograph frames, for sale at the Eagle book store.—The entertainment people are fond of—those who are business men are beginning to get into the field, and business is better than ever.—A train of people going to the County meeting at Fleetwood, to-morrow.—Barberries were plenty on market this morning, and selling at great prices.—Booking on the Schuykill is becoming quite general since the strike ended in Schuylkill county.—Worlton's men are plenty, and strong—selling at from 15 to 35 cents, according to the weight and size of the stones.—A number of women men made up to come to the fair, and the girls, though not numerous, are quite attractive.—A horse race takes place at Philadelphia, to-day.—Business on Penn street this morning, quite stirring.

DR. L. O. COOPER'S APOTHECARY, No. 2, Reading, Aug. 22, 1868.

MARION'S "STICK" MACHINE COTTON, Machine Needles, Dress Patterns, etc., can always be had at TYSON'S, No. 83, Penn Street, Reading, Aug. 22, 1868.

We call attention to the card of E. S. Miller, Undertaker, No. 629 Penn street, who advertises a unique business of embalming bodies of all kinds, at reasonable rates, and attending funerals in town or country. See advertising column.

EXHIBITION AT STRASBURG.—A meeting of the old Montgomery County Agricultural Society was held at Strasburg, recently, and they passed a resolution to hold a fair on their old grounds this year as usual. It will be opened the first week of October.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday morning while some workmen were employed in tearing down a part of the back building of Mr. Moore's house, corner of Sixth and Pinckney, a brick fell down and struck one of the men, Franklin Hoy, on the head, inflicting a deep gash.

To Correspondents.—R. T. L. will please note, we think, we have no objection to this column.

S. S. respectfully informed that we can publish no communication unless accompanied by a responsible name, and a certificate of accuracy on the part of the writer.

At the time for the Grand City Distribution of the Good Will Steam Bird Company, of Allentown, No. 10, of Allentown, Persons who did not purchase tickets should go to see the man in the suit of the agent at theough and Harrow hotel, at Strickland's, Bro. & Andri Moeller & Hoy's saloon, under the City Office.

DISCOVERY OF HEMATITE IRON ORE.—It is stated that a small body of hematite iron ore, weighing about 100 lbs., was recently discovered by Mr. John C. Evans, a man, located about three miles west of Reading, on the Harrisburg turnpike.

We have been informed that the right to work the mine has been leased by Mr. John Shafter, of Mt. Penn Furnace.

The Democracy of Cumru are, no doubt, the best in the field, and among the most faithful in their conduct. A meeting of the Democratic Club of that township will be held next Saturday evening, August 20th (See advertisement). Turn out, Democrats, and show your enemies that Cumru is sound to the core, as usual, and that their gallant Democratic sons are fully alive to the importance of the present emergency.

J. G. STEVENS,
Lessons and Manager Theatre Company.

A series of two fine watercolors in noon, a series of top-lobes cream, in the evening, and a good, round sleep, at night, are all a person can relish now-a-days. This is one of Charles Keeler's remedies to keep people from falling into lethargy during the season of the year. Go to see him, at Sixth and Franklin streets.

OUR JOY QUOTER.—We print posters, circulars, catalogues, programmes, bill heads, pamphlets, cards, chiseled inscriptions, letter heads, envelopes, blanks, labeled lodgers, picnic and ball tickets, wedding, visiting, address and business cards, placards in a variety of colors. Having several fast presses in operation, we are prepared to fill all orders with promptness. The lightest quantities of work turned out daily is the very best evidence that the public know where to get the best printing at the lowest rates. Our terms are considerably lower than those of any other printer. Give us a really exacting specimen of printing and learn what satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

THE A. M. E. BAPTIST CHURCH.—Dengler Woods, east of this city, will undoubtedly be present in a lively appearance, to-morrow.

We understand there will be preaching there in the morning, afternoon and evening.

FIRE AT ROCKLAND FORGE.—A three-story stone dwelling house, owned and occupied by Mr. Isaac F. Miller, in Rockland township, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning. The furniture was saved through the efforts of the neighbors.

ASSAULT.—Mr. Abraham Shilling and G. Barr, of Cumru township, had a slight difficulty with a fellow whilst ambling along a piece of ground a few days ago, respecting some timber. The latter sued the former before Adamor Shillinger for assault. A warrant was issued, and yesterday Abraham was bound over, ex parte, Justice Heming, of Cumru township, in the sum of $200, for a hearing at next term of Court.

MARKET.—Market this morning was well attended. Main street was crowded from Fourth to Seventh street. A great deal of elbowing and basket thrashing was done by the buyers, in passing from one stand to another. There was a large stock of vegetables brought to market, as well as fruit in season, all of which commanded good prices. The hucksters were there with a good supply of watermelons and cantalopes, which command quick sales.

FEET DOWN A STAIR.—Mr. James Boyer, an employee at Madeira's Iron Mine, near Pleasonton met with an accident on last Saturday. He was in the act of descending the shaft when the ladder broke, and he was precipitated to the bottom of the pit, a distance of some 70 feet. Both his legs were fractured below the knee.

THE PASSIVE members of the Reading Maennerchor, are respectfully requested to be present at the Maennerchor and Schiller Verein picnic, to be held at Lauer's Park on Saturday, Monday, & Tuesday.

MONDAY.—Market this morning was well attended. Main street was crowded from Fourth to Seventh street. A great deal of elbowing and basket thrashing was done by the buyers, in passing from one stand to another. There was a large stock of vegetables brought to market, as well as fruit in season, all of which commanded good prices. The hucksters were there with a good supply of watermelons and cantalopes, which command quick sales.

ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday evening of this week, Joshua Raber fell into a pit or excavation in our town, in the New Furnace Building, belonging to James Hooven & Sons. His leg was badly broken and he was severely injured. He was carried to Gable's Hotel and his leg was set and injuries dressed by Dr. E. M. Corson. He was sent to his home on Wednesday. He was a boatman and resides about 12 miles above Reading. The pit is on Washington street, alongside of the post office. Mr. Hooven very kindly attended to the wants and expenses of the injured man.—Norristown Independent of Thursday.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Wm. M. Baron, residing at the S. E. corner of Birmingham and Spring Garden streets, this city, met with a serious accident yesterday morning near Dauphin, on the Dauphin & Susquehanna railroad. He is a brakeman on a freight train that runs between Reading and Dauphin, and while attempting to get upon the train which was in motion his foot slipped and he fell and was struck by the following car. Beside receiving several bruises in his face and on his chest, he had his right arm broken above the elbow, and his right leg fractured below the knee.

HAMBURG ITEMS.—Mr. H. G. Hunter, of Hamburg, has been appointed Chaplain in Washington Camp, No. 78, P. O. J. S. of A., of that borough.

The rolling mill of the Hamburg Iron Co., which had been idle for a few days, on account of some necessary repairs, is again in operation.

Mr. L. H. Mickley, the agent in Hamburg for Howard & Co.'s Express Company, has received a new and handsome express wagon. Merchants who wish to have their goods forwarded safely and quickly, would do well to patronize this Express Co., as Mr. Mickley delivers all packages promptly to the persons addressed.

The work on the Port Clinton and Tipton Railroad is progressing. The section along the Blue Mountain is nearly finished, and the next is under way. The greater part of the road has been already graded from its eastern terminus, leaving the heaviest sections yet to be graded, which are at its western end, one of which includes a tunnel of about half a mile.

The apple crop in the vicinity of Hamburg, is more plentiful this season than it has been for several years, and it is expected to be good, and sell well this fall. This is one of Charles Keeler's remedies to keep people from falling into lethargy during the season of the year. Go to see him, at Sixth and Franklin streets.
