GEN. GRANT AND THE ANGEL.

Ulysses Grant one night laid down to rest,
His eyes were closed—hands folded on his breast.
He slept; he dreamed. An angel bright and fair
Soft o'er the sleeper hovered in the air.
"Ulysses!" cried the angel, "I am sent
To learn of thee—who would be President—
What are thy views upon affairs of State?
What thy opinions of the questions great
That now disturb the nation? Speak, I pray,
For time is precious and I must away."
Ulysses looked the angel in the eye,
Then, while his bosom heaved a monstrous sigh,
He said: "Bright angel! come'st from yonder star?
Be seated, pray, and try a good cigar."
"Nay! nay! Ulysses; angels never smoke."
"Impossible!" cried U.; "you surely joke."
"I speak the truth; come, quickly, frankly state
What are your views upon affairs of State."
"I s'pose you've seen," said U.; "since you've been down,
The handsome pups of my friend Marshal Brown?"
"Why, General Grant, you must be in your cups!
What should I know of thy friend's whining pups?
About such nonsense pray no longer prate,
But tell us what you think of 'fairs of State."
"Affairs of State? Why, yes—indeed—of course—
Can you describe the points of a good horse?"
With moistened eye the angel turned aside.
"Pray," cried Ulysses, "did you ever ride
Dan Rice's mule?" "Dan Rice's mule!
Ulysses, do you take me for a fool?
I that am on a special errand sent
To learn your views, who would be President."
Another sigh Ulysses' bosom heaved,
As though his heart was sadly, sorely grieved;
And as the angel plumed his graceful flight
To regions of unclouded glory bright,
U. ope'd one eye 'and then the angel heard
"Good-bye, bright angel!—mum's the word."

GOODNESS OF LIFE THE TEST OF TRUTH.

Every mail from Europe brings over fresh confirmation of the melancholy condition of the widow of the late Emperor Maximilian of Mexico. We all know the fearful results of his misguided ambition. But who can estimate rightly her sufferings? The news of her condition shows her insanity to be of that settled character which the ablest physicians in Europe regard as almost hopeless. Perhaps it may, however, be regarded almost as a blessing that so much of her affliction is shut out from her mind by her present calamity. But there is no doubt that we may all learn from it to regard a truer and better life as the only final and proper test of all proposed advances in human attainment. There are in all times changes of thought constantly taking place, new truths breaking upon each age, and new or revived errors springing up like weeds in the soil of humanity. As there are new arms of war and arts of peace, new scientific truths and new errors, new developments of medical skill, and new and more complicated diseases, so there are now, intellectual, social and moral developments of the greatest value, springing up to bless each age and secure human progress on the one hand, and, on the other hand, there are new errors and delusions springing out of the fret and whirlpool of current opinions. Nor is it always easy to say abstractly which is the sweet and which the bitter. What is food for one is poison for another. But it is always safe to infer that every valuable truth will produce goodness. As a distinguished writer has well said, It takes two to make truth. The object presented is one factor; the mind to which it is presented is the other. Truth is the right relation between the two. In abstract morals you can hardly lay down a proposition that shall be always and absolutely true to all minds or in all cases. Men are continually boasting that they have discovered new truths, when, at the utmost, they have only exploded for the thousandth time some old error. The best test of a new truth is the greater strength of heart and life derived from it, and the observance of the known duties of life more punctually and exactly. That which does this is Truth to us, while nothing that is contrary in its effects can be.

Moral truth is the just balance of all intellectual truths. It is not any one extreme, but, as the ancients said, the golden mean, and that new force which is alone the proper conjunction of all the various forces of nature in their truest relation. There are new medical facts and opinions daily being broached. And there are as many men fond of experimenting with these as with new moral and religious questions and opinions. But for a medical theory to become an established truth in our case, our system must be first of all in a state of aptitude to receive it. There will be a vacancy for it, a correspondence with it, and sensible strength and nourishment will then be derived from it. Now a truth is to the soul what a medicine is to the body. It is not any potent substance that is new and exciting some positive effect. Error will do that often and more easily than truth. But it is that which produces health to him who imbibes it. This it is that makes all the difference between a medicine and a poison, between a truth and an error. We say often and commonly that knowledge is food for the mind—that is, it has the capacity for becoming food when digested. Yet every nurse knows that that only becomes food either to body or to mind which actually is digested and feeds. The delicacies which the rich man cannot eat or digest, or the bread which an army wastes, do not become food to them. And so all intellectual instruction and moral maxims are food for the community in this sense. But they have in them the capacity to become vital somewhere, and to feed mankind when rightly digested and assimilated, while that which surfeits or is rejected becomes no food to him who cannot bear it.

But let none mistake. No mere outward instruction is good to any mind, strictly and truly, until, being assimilated by an inward vitality, it really feeds the mind and the heart, and strengthens the life for consistent and true propriety of living. A man who should hope to warm himself by heaping up unkindled blocks of anthracite around himself on a wintry night, because it contained carbon, would not more utterly fail of being warmed than he who only crams his own or his child's mind with the dry facts and dogmas of some ancient system, traditionally received, will be likely to impart and sustain the true principles of a virtuous and holy life to those affected by his influence.—Phila. Ledger.

THE BLACK TEST.

"I do solemnly swear that I accept the civil and political equality of all men, and agree not to attempt to deprive any person or persons, on account of race, color, or previous conditions, of any political or civil right, privilege, or immunity enjoyed by any other class of men. So help me God."—Southern Radical Carpet Bag Constitution.

No northern man, soldier or civilian, can become a citizen of any of the "reconstructed States," without taking this oath.

The Indians—Lynch Law in Kansas.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24.—Gen. Sheridan has issued an order directing the forcible removal of the Indians in Kansas to their reservation south of that State.

Advices from Leesburg, New Mexico, mention Indian depredations in that region; also, between Fort Siddon and McRea.

LAWRENCE, KANSAS, August 14.—General Sheridan's order meets with an enthusiastic endorsement by the people of this State. On Saturday Governor Crawford telegraphed to the President requesting that such action be taken.

Twenty-one car loads of Mormons left Omaha for Utah on Saturday.

JUNCTION CITY, Kansas, August 14.—An old citizen of this place, named Thomas Reynolds, was taken by unknown parties on Saturday night and hung to a tree. His back was placarded: "Horse thieves beware—we know you."

Crime in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—Crime flourishes here. Almost every night several persons are beaten and robbed in the streets. On Sunday two men were thus maltreated—one at Twenty-third and Arch, the other at Twenty-third and Filbert streets, and a man was beaten insensible on Saturday.

Thomas Bradshaw cut his wife's throat with a case knife on Saturday night, but fortunately did not kill her. He was arrested.

Christian Asteroth was arrested yesterday for committing a rape on an old woman in her own yard. He was held in $1,500 for trial.

Results of Reconstruction—Negro Riot in Charleston Expected.

CHARLESTON, August 24.—The Hon. James B. Campbell started for Washington to-day, to present to the President an address from the people of Charleston, setting forth the dangerous condition of the city, the inability of the civil authorities to preserve peace if riots should arise, and announcing the determination of the white people to be moderate, and avoid, as far as possible, all collisions, and asking the President to provide for the protection of the city.

—Col. John P. Linton has been nominated as the Democratic candidate for Congress in the 17th district, composed of Blair, Cambria, Huntingdon and Mifflin counties.

From Georgia.

ATLANTA, Aug. 25.—A resolution was presented in the Georgia Legislature requiring the Governor to issue a proclamation against unlawful assemblies.

In the Grant and Colfax demonstration in this city on the 18th instant, there were but three white men in the procession, and not three hundred, as published in papers north of Washington.

Robbery and Attempted Murder.

WORCESTER, August 24.—Benjamin Gudley, 65 years of age, was shot in the head severely injured and robbed of $20 by Cornelius McQuirk, near Cochituate Water Works, on Saturday afternoon. McQuirk is still at large.

Prize Fight.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24.—The prize fight between Collyer and Edwards took place at 10 a. m., on Traver's Island, Coon river, Northumberland county, Va. Collyer was beaten in 47 rounds. The fight lasted one hour and fourteen minutes.

The Baltimore Schutzenfest.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24.—About 10,000 people were present at the Schutzenfest to-day. The music, vocal and instrumental, was very fine, the day bright and cheerful, and everything passed off pleasantly.

J. T. Jackson, D. E. Stout,
Jonas Shalter, J. T. Valentine,
George Rieser.

This Company insures all kinds of property against loss or damage by fire at rates as low as any other reliable Company and upon every plan known to Stock Insurance Companies.

Perpetual Policies issued requiring no renewal and upon which the amount of premium paid can be reclaimed at any time, less a deduction of five per cent. The advantages of this method are worthy of the attention of farmers and others having first-class dwelling houses, barns and other buildings, in town or country, as being the cheapest and safest.

Policies for one, two, three, five or more years, or for less than one year, issued and no charge made for Policy and survey when renewed or when insurances are transferred from other companies.

The citizens of Reading and vicinity, hitherto dependent mainly upon foreign companies, have now the privilege of effecting their insurances in a home institution, well organized, with an adequate paid in and guaranteed capital, presenting as strong a basis of security as that of any other company. The advantage of doing business directly with the Company and the importance of keeping some portion of the large sums paid for insurances in circulation at home, will be appreciated by all.

HOOFLAN'S COLUMN.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

Hoofland's German Tonic,

The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the Liver, Stomach, or Digestive Organs.

Hoofland's German Bitters

Is composed of the pure juices (or as they are medicinally termed Extracts) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation highly concentrated and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathising as closely as it does with the Stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Consumption, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits,

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations and inquiries, possesses true merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and established for itself a reputation for the cure of diseases. In this connection we would submit those well-known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

AND

PREPARED BY DR. C. M. JACKSON, Philadelphia, Pa

Thirty-five years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach or Intestines.

DEBILITY.

Resulting from any Cause whatever; Prostration of the System, induced by severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, &c.,

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests properly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health, or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.

Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note, and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

Hon. George W. Woodward,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, writes

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867,

"I find Hoofland's German Bitters is a good tonic useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system.

Yours, truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1866.

"I consider Hoofland's German Bitters a valuable medicine in case of attacks of indigestion or dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it

Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON."

From Rev. E. D. Fendall,
Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia

I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility, or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver.

Yours, truly,
E. D. FENDALL.
