The Man about Town.—Lauer's immense vaults are entirely drained of their beer, and he has already commenced brewing new beer, at his brewery, on North Third street.

—All persons are forbidden trespassing on the grounds of the Berke County Agricultural Society.—"Surprise weddings" are popular. They come on at moonlight picnics.—It is not necessary, when there is a fire, to enter houses and shop up the furniture.—The dogs in tending murder sleep, and annoy lick people for ribly. They should be thinned out considerably." A dog that is worth keeping has too bach sense to fite mangy curs in Reading do—One of the prominent candidates for lightich Attornoy in this county, was presented with a lingular to make catsup. We have been informed that the St. Paul Singing Society has been only recently organized, but they have already attained a high degree of excellence in the execution of laborate choruses and songs:

Mr. Rudolph Heintze, accompanied by some friends, showed the visitors around. They visited the various public places in the city, and the White House, Mineral Springs, Audalusia Hall, &c.; in the suburbs. They had a pleasant time and enjoyed themselves hugely. Before leaving they presented Mr.

Heintze, proprietor of the Jefferson House, their most sincere thanks for the kind reception and attention to their wants, which he extended to the Society of his own accord, and we would recommend his hotel to all societies or private persons.

We have been informed that the St. Paul Singing Society has been only recently organized, but they have already attained a high degree of excellence in the execution of elaborate choruses and songs:

Hoop skirts are to be a little larger this fall and winter, straight in front, with a gradually sloping train at the back.—A large number of people left the city this morning for Litiz, where the Family pic-nic takes place.—What is the difference between a honeycomb, and a honeymoon? A honeycomb consists of a number of small "cells," and a honeymoon consists of one great "sell," — Many people are fishing along the banks of the Schuylkill now-a-days. "Now, then, my hearties," said a gallant captain, "you have a tough battle before you. Fight like heroes till your powder is gone, then run! I'm a little lame, and I'll start now.' The aforesaid captain is a prominent member of the "Yoonyun Leeg," of this city.—The martens have commenced wheeling into flocks preparatory to their departure to a more Southern climate. The frost and cold are not far in the future.

-Tho Court House was well filled yesterday with the usual browd of hangers on, and others, attracted by a morbid curiosity, -Persons wishing to be naturalized will apply to the Court, on Monday, August 81st, that being the day fixed by the Court for that purpose.—The weather continues warm, sultry and sweltering. The predictions of the weather wise, that we would have a cool August, have not, thus far, been verified; -Narrow escapes from being run over are made daily, at the new depot, on the arrival of the different trains, and it is due on ly to the depot officers that many a life is saved. To create an excitement, catch, a rat, with a terrier at hand, and let the dog give chase and capture it. A crowd soon collects to enjoy the sport.——Because a woman ran against a man, last evening, and because he did not apologize for the lady's carelessness, he was called a "brute." Poor fellow !

A NOBLE AND GENEROUS WORK. -General Tobias Barto has collected from our citizens over Six Hundred Dollars, which subscription he has distributed among the twenty carpenters who were the sufferers at the Garst & Mast fire, for tools. Such a work of true charity is highly commendable and worthy of all praise.

To Advertisers.—It occasionally happens that an advertisement is unavoidably crowded out of the EAGLE by a press of local or other news matter. In such cases a strict account is kept, and the full number of insertions will be made afterwards, so that advertisers will suffer no loss by an occasional omission of the kind.

Peach growers who have exterted our money of late years can't do it this fall .--They have no peaches to sell, while apples are so scarce that a barrel of good cider viacgar will be something of a curiosity.—
Without good vinegar restaurant keepers can't expect to sell raw oysters. For this, reason let every enterprising dealer cast about for a sure and early supply.

We would call the attention of dur readers to the advertisement in another column, of the Queen of England Scap, said by the Alden Chemical Works, No. 48 North Front street, Philadelphia. This soap is said to be equal to the old rosin soap in strength with the lathering qualities of pure Castile, and is therefore just the kind to use for family washing.

Advitation Profix.—People who advertise are smarter than those who don't—better looking, too, nine in ten. This is natural, if not logical. Advertising is an indication of intelligence, and intelligence is one of the leading elements of good luck. At all events the world believes in those who advertise, and it plants its dollars in their pockets. Such are live people; and in these lives.

ets. Such are live people; and in these lively days noted wants anything to do with any but your live men and women. Our advice to everybody—except in matrimony—is to advertise. It is sure to return largely, increase your reputation as a busidess man, make hosts of friends, and add to the number of shrewd and sensible people in the world, of which there has never yet been an overstock.

TRIPLE BIRTHS.—A correspondent in Robessonia, sends the following account of an incident in that neighborhood:

Dr. Jacob 8. Ammons, of Robesonia, was called upon on the night of the 24th inst., to visit Mrs. John Auman, of Heidelborg. During the night his patient gave birth to three living children. One of them has since died. The Doctor, who performed his duty with much skill and success, says the mother and two children are doing very well. This is the first case known of three children at a birth in this vicinity.

SPARKS.—During and after the confinga-tion in Carpenter alley on Tuesday afternoon, large sparks of fire were carried by the breeze several squares. Large einders were picked up in some of the yards north of Penn street, that had been borne from the burning buildings. We would suggest that whenever a fire occurs one of the occupants of each house within the reach of the sparks ascend to the roof and keep a lookout for the flying fiery particles. It is a matter of self-interest to each one—and more; he may save his neighbor's property from burning

More Outrages at the Fire. -- We stated n yesterday's issue that the house of Mr. John Hassinger, in Carpenter alley, a few doors distant from where the fire occurred, was entered and robbed of $20 in green-backs. We have been informed that the family were away from home at the time, and the house was broken open by the scoundrel or scoundrels. The whole house was ransacked, furniture misplaced and injured, and all the drawers and closets searched, no doubt for valuable articles that could be easily carried away. There was no excuse for entering the house, as it had not caught did so in order that Col. Alexander could get his security ready to go down at 71 'o'

EDITOR READING DAILY EAGLE:-In your issue of last evening, a communication appeared over the cognomen of "Justice," stating that I had given my word of honor to Major Gordon, U. S. detective, that no writ Paints, oil and building materials will be found cheaper at J. L. Stichter's than at any other house in Reading.

he next morning in the 10:30 train. Thus far "Justice" was correct, but he either was atterly ignorant of the whole facts in the case, or intentionally meant to deceive the public, and bring odium upou me. The facts, in brief, are these:

On Monday evening about 10 o'clock, Mr. Sharkey and Maj. David Gordon came into my office and arrested Col. Alexander. I was not then acting as his counsel, nor had I been for two months past. As a friend I asked that time be given him to consult with Mr. Hoffman, his attorney, and to arrange with his bail, and I gave my word of honor that no proceedings should be had to interfere with the Col's. going down as per agreement. At midnight I left my office, and the officers, and went home—never dreaming but what the arranged and understood plan would be carried out to the lefter. would be carried out to the letter. To my utter astonishment, when I went to my office the next morning, a writ had been taken out, and Alexander was released on bail. I knew nothing of it until it had all been done, or I should have insisted upon the arrangement being carried out in good faith. Maj. Gordon has since informed me that he fully exonerates me from all consure. Mr. Hoffexonerates me from all canaure. Mr. Hoffman knew nothing of my having given my word, and as he had not given his, he acted upon his own judgment. Col. A. also informs me that he did not know that a writ had been taken out until it was served, and simply followed the instructions of his counsel. John T. Craig, Esq., and Henry W. Bland, a student in my office, can fully vouch for the truth of this statement—so also will Jacob Hoffman, Esq., and Col. Alexander, I make this explanation in justice to myself. I make this explanation in justice to myself, when I give my word I never break it.

Respectfully yours,

Count.—The argument to the jury, in the Clouser Will case, closed at noon to day, having occupied an entire day. The charge of the Court was delivered at 2 o'clock this afternoon, As the case was not concluded before the issue of this paper, the report is again deferred until to-morrow.

MR. SAMURI. SCHEFFER, agent for the Cleveland Lightning Rod Company, while riding along North Ninth street in a buggy, this morning, his horse took fright and ran away. He was thrown out of the carriage and severely injured in the side, beside receiving other minor bruises in various parts of his body. The horse ran down Ninth to Penn, and down Penn to Seventh street, where he was captured. At Ninth and Washington streets he broke the shafts and tore away from the vehicle. which was found there standing in the street in a demolished condition

QUICK WORK .- John Kelly is one of the Philadelphia light-fingered gentry, who came to this city yesterday. This morning he paid a visit to the Eagle Hotel, corner Seventh and Spruce streets. While the proprietor, Mr. Edward Sands, was at breakfast he took from a closet in the bar room a coat and vest and disappeared with his booty. Mr. Sands, upon discovering his loss, left information at Police headquarters, and the matter was placed into the hands of officers Goodhart and Clay. They found the missing articles at a broker's shop in Seventh at,, and the thief in the saloon under the White Horse hotel, corner Seventh and Penn sts. The accused was given a hearing, by the Mayor, immediately, and committed to jail, to await a trial at Court, in default of $500 bail. The arrest was made and clothing found within an hour after the fuformation had been left at the Mayor's office.
