Far and near throughout the Whole Country, the newspapers seem with the wonderful cures performed by Dr. Russell's Magnetic Oil—60 cts. and $1.00 per bottle. American House, Reading. Aug. 17-18.

THE COAL BUSINESS.—During the week ending Sept. 6th, the Schuylkill Navigation Coal Company transported 28,497 tons of coal. In the same time the Philadelphia and Reading railroad transported 102,908 tons of all kinds.

The Great, the Grand, the Only reliable remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbar, Sprains and Bruises, Swelled Glands, Stiff Joints, Sore Throats, and pain of any sort and from any cause, in Dr. Russell's Magnetic Oil—60 cts. and $1.00 per bottle. American House, Reading. Aug. 18-19.

The best executed likeness of Hon. Horatio Seymour that we have yet seen, is for sale at Swope's Books Depot, No. 14 North Fifth street. It is a chromo lithograph in oil, and is an extremely life-like and expressive portrait of the great statesman whom the Democracy have selected as their standard-bearer in the coming Presidential contest. Every Democrat should have one of these excellent likenesses. Call and see them.

SALE OF PAORMER.—James Bell sold his farm at Exeter Station, P. & R. R., containing 20 acres, to William Dingaman, of this city, for $6,100.

The administration of David H. Shyler, deceased, sold on Saturday, at the Berks County House, in this city, 40 acres of wood and pasture land, situated in Exeter township, to Henry C. Estey, for $86 per acre. The other properties belonging to the same estate, were not sold.

The twenty-third annual meeting of the Grand United (colored) Order of Odd Fellows, in America, will convene in Havrechburg on Wednesday, October 7, 1868. The annual parade will take place on Friday, the 9th.—Lodges, accompanied by bands of music, from Reading, Norristown, Philadelphia, West Chester, Darby, Wilmington, New York, Baltimore, Washington, and other cities will participate. Excursion tickets to colored people will be issued by the different railroad companies, at two-third rates.

A SPLENDID BANNER has been made by the ladies of Washington Street Presbyterian Church (colored) for presentation to Jacobed Lodge. The banner is of blue satin, the front bearing a handsome wreath encircling the words "Jacobed Lodge, No. 1805, G. O. O. of O. B." inscribed Sept. 15, 1845." The reverse bears the words "Presented by the Ladies of Reading." The staff is surmounted by a handsome eagle. The banner is now being trimmed by Auchenbach & Bro., with heavy gold fringe and tassels.

SIR.—Mr. Bryfogle owns a row of four small frame buildings in Cedar Alley.—One of his tenants, a Mr. Kramer, had not paid any rent for three months, and as he could not pay rent and would not go out of the house Bryfogle took the privilege of helping him out by two officers. There was quite an excitement in the alley for a time. Mrs. Kramer fainted, Kramer swore, but the landlord was inexorable, the vision of unpaid rents haunted him, and out went the goods into the alley, and the house was without a tenant.—Gazette.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CELEBRATION.—The St. Lawrence Sunday School of Exeter township, held its annual celebration yesterday, in the woods at Exeter Station. The attendance was large, quite a number from this city were present amongst them also some of our Reading "Rowdies," who would go to any place without creating a disturbance. The Exeter Cornet Band, D. R. Hafer, leader, escorted the School from the Schoolhouse to the woods, and enlivened the assembly during the day with their excellent music.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Last evening, as the six o'clock passenger train from Philadelphia was coming in, the engine struck a boy by the name of John Heil, aged 18 years, son of Daniel Heil, an employee at the Cotton Mill, killing him instantly. It is stated that the boy was walking on one of the rails of the down track at a point opposite the cotton mill, when the train came along. He slipped off the rail, and staggered in the direction of the up track, when the engine struck him, breaking his arm and bruising his head so badly that death resulted. He was conveyed to his home, near the railroad water works, beyond Seydel, Mo. Manu & Company's Iron Works.

POLICE ARTICLES.—This morning there was no one behind the bars at the station house to answer to his name when the time arrived for calling the roll.

Yesterday (Sunday) morning three individuals, however, answered to their names—Bernard Taylor had been picked up by officer Lawrence from the pavement in Sixth street, below Spruce. Retained in default of payment of fine and costs. John Fultz had been arrested by officer Bradley on Third street, late at night. He had been wandering and creating a nuisance generally. Also retained in default of the usual fine and costs. R. E. Mountain had been discovered by officer Lawrence, about 1 o'clock a. m. Sunday, sleeping on fire escape's step, on Penn street. He refused to give any account of himself, who he was, whether he was going or where he had come from, and using insulting language to the officer, he nabbed and placed him behind the grating. Also retained in default of payment of fine and costs.

SILVER COIN.—A sum of money was raised among the Democrats, in the Second Ward, on Saturday, to procure a banking flag. In the evening, when the box was opened, among the money contributed were found two old Democratic Silver Quarters—one bearing date 1742, the other 1853.

DELIGHTED audience and crowded houses at Marsden's Varieties, the best entertainment given in the city. Master Jardella and La Petite Maggie in their unparried double dance, together with the old favorite's entire change of programme, on Thursday evening.

THE UNITED STATES MUSICAL REVIEW for September, contains a number of well-written articles interesting to musicians, and the following new and excellent pieces of music: My Father's Growing Old, An Errand of Love, Three O'Clock Saturday Afternoon, Driven from Home—the latter a beautifully affecting piece. The "Review" is published by J. L. Peters, Music Publisher, P. O. Box 6420, New York. Price $2 per year; single copies 25 cts. The music is worth more than the price of subscription. Handsome premiums are offered to persons getting up clubs.

EVERYBODY should go to the benefit of Messrs. Fehr & Hoyer, at the Theatre Comique, Auerbach's Hall, this (Monday) evening. (See advertising columns). An extra will be offered, and all the favorites will appear in their specialties.

Such an institution as the Theatre Comique will do more good than a doctor and a drug store in cases of "the blues." Go to the excellent performances, have a good laugh, and be healthy and happy.

Turn out and give the favorites a benefit of the right kind.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING AT DOUGLASSVILLE.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Democracy of Douglassville and its vicinity was held at the public house of Dennis O'Brien, on last Saturday evening, Sept. 6th, 1868, according to previous announcement.

The Democracy are fully awake to the great issues involved in this contest. The meeting was called to order by G. K. Lorah, Esq., President of the Douglassville Club.

The following gentlemen were the Vice Presidents: A. S. Ludwig; H. E. Ludwig; Isaac Guldin; Ezekial Rhoads; Solomon Custer.

Franklin Rhoads and Daniel Francis acted as Secretaries of the meeting.

The President then introduced W. M. Rightmyer, Esq., of Reading, who was greeted with great applause. He discussed the various political issues agitating the minds of all, and completely uprooted the policy of the Republican party, frequently hurling sarcasm at their leader, and proved that the only safety of the American nation rested upon the triumph of the Democratic party this coming November.

After the termination of his lengthy remarks, on motion of Solomon Custer, Esq., a vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Rightmyer for his able, eloquent and patriotic speech.

THE HARPOON.—The members of the several lodges in this city of the I. O. of Harpagers, are enjoying themselves this afternoon pic-nicing at Lauer's Park. They proceeded to the park about noon. Between the hours of 10 and 12 o'clock a. m., they paraded through the principal streets of the city, attracting a great deal of attention by their imposing appearance.

At the head of the procession rode on horseback—Peter Barbo, Chief Marshall and Adam Heilmann and Philip Miller, Assistant Marshals.

Music—Snyder's Ringgold Band. Hermana Lodge, No. 2.

Marshal—John Schmidt, on horseback.

Asst. Marshal—George Ernst, on foot.

Muhlenberg Lodge, No. 34.

Marshal—John Bensel, on horseback.

Asst. Marshal—Zimmerman, on foot.

Goethe Lodge, No.

Marshal—Fred. Meyer.

Asst. Marshal—Heiman Strecker.

Members of Grand Lodge, of the State of Pennsylvania, in six coaches. Among the number we recognized Grand Secretary Steiner.

The members wore regalia, and carried beautiful banners and flags.

GRAND GATHERING OF THE DEMOCRACY.—The Democratic meeting on Saturday evening was a gathering of the right kind. The club room was soon filled to overflowing, and the meeting was therefore held in the open air. The speakers were under the balcony of the Keystone House, and the hotel itself, the pavements, and the streets around, were packed with people. The contrast between the meeting and the miserable farce of a gathering recently addressed by Carl Schurz, was very great—the Democratic meeting outnumbering the Radical pow-wow by several hundred.

A beautiful flag, suspended on wires from the Keystone to the Schumacher House, waved above the heads of the multitude. It bore the names of Seymour and Blair, and was much admired.

Samuel May, Esq., of Philadelphia addressed the meeting in a speech the most eloquently thrilling character. His excellent address was attentively listened to, and was frequently interrupted by rounds of enthusiastic applause. Mr. May is a young man, and gives promise of holding a high position amongst American orators and statesmen.

Mr. May was followed by Jas. B. McPherson and Lewellyn Warner, Esq., who were also heartily applauded. They were attentively listened to until a late hour, when the meeting adjourned.

Although this was only a club meeting, it really deserved the name of a mass meeting. It evinced that the mass of the people are with the Democratic party in the present campaign, and that they are determined to be freed from Radical taxation and Radical oppression.

Our Democratic friends be vigilant, united, watchful and energetic, and Old Bers will roll up for Seymour and Blair, Boyle and Estey, a larger majority than has ever yet been given, for any candidates in this county.

DIED.

ZEPHYRUS.—In this city, Sept. 6th, Lillie May, widow of William and Myrtle Gibbons, aged 6 months and 2 days.

Her relatives and friends of the family are respectfully requested to attend the funeral from the residence of her parents, No. 63 Front street, on Tuesday afternoon, September 8th, at 3 o'clock, to proceed to Aulenbach's Cemetery.
