PROSBOUTED FOR LIBEL.-An article, reflecting on the character of Constable William Dichl, as a man and as an officer, appeared in the Evening Dispatch on Monday. Mr. Diehl brought a prosecution before Aldermal Mongel yesterday, against the pub-lishers of that paper, for libel. Warrants issued for their arrest were served by Constable Schwartz. Each gave bail in the sum of $400 for a hearing at the November term

DEMOCRATIC MEETING .- Notwithstanding the damp atmosphere last night, a large and onthusiastic meeting was held by the Democraey, in Penn Square. The stand was placed a short distance above the eastern extension of the Market House. Ex-Governor William Bigler and Dr. Julius Korn, addressed the assembled multitude on the great questions of the day. The latter gen tleman spoke in German, and both made eloquent speeches, and were heartily applauded.

RUNAWAY.-- A man by the name of Sny der, living in Alsace township, came driving in North Sixth street, at the rate of 2-40, with a spirited span of horses, yesterday. When he came to the Askew bridge he tried to check their pace, but he found that they had got beyond his control, and for fear that he would be dashed to pieces with the buggy, he jumped out and left the horses go without a driver. He did not receive any material injury. The horses did not run far before they were captured, having done no harm, except tearing the harness a little,
