QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE

By a Democratic Question.—Why are people dissatisfied and discontented?—Because

QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE

1. The taxes are burdensome. 2. The price of living is high. 3. The earnings of labor are small.

QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE

Q. Why are the taxes so heavy? A. Because we have a heavy interest to pay upon our heavy public debt.

QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE

Q. Why is the price of living high? A. Because the farmer and the man who produces the means of living must pay taxes to the Government.

QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE

Q. Why are the earnings of labor small? A. Because the workingman out of his earnings must make good for the producer the taxes he pays to the Government.

QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE

Q. Who then pays the taxes which go to pay the interest on the public debt? A. The workingman. It is upon the labor of the country that the burden rests.

QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE

Q. Does the workingman who owns no property pay any taxes for the support of the Government? A. Yes. He pays to the manufacturer the tax which he, in his turn, pays to the Government for the article manufactured.

QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE

Q. What class of persons pay State and County tax, City tax, Road tax, and School tax? A. The man or woman and minor who are the owners of real estate, whether it be much or little.

QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE

Q. Does the Bondholder pay any of these taxes on his bond? A. No. Q. What is the lawful rate of interest in the State of Pennsylvania? A. Six per cent.

QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE

Q. What is the interest which the National Banker receives? A. Twelve per cent. Q. How does this affect small property-holders and men without capital? A. They can borrow no money from the capitalists upon their real estate, except by paying high rates of interest.

QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE

Q. What follows? A. They have great difficulty in bettering their condition. After providing for their necessary wants, they have little or nothing left. Q. How much has been raised in this way from the people during the last three years of peace? A. $1,700,000,000.

QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE

Q. How has it been expended? A. In paying the expenses of the Government and the interest of the National debt. Q. Has nothing been paid on the principal and why? A. No. Because the money left after paying the interest on the public debt was expended upon armies stationed in the South, and for the support of the Freedmen's Bureau.

QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE

Q. What then is the condition of the public debt? A. It is greater to-day than at the close of the war. Q. What is the condition of the paper money of the Government? A. The same as that of any individual who neglects to pay the debt he already has, and adds others, daily growing worse.

QUESTIONS FOR THE PEOPLE

Q. What then will become of the bonds and the debts due the Bondholders? A. As the National debt increases the chances of their payment will grow less, until finally, as in the case of individuals, the Government will become bankrupt and these Bondholders lose all their money, or be willing to take a great deal less than they call for.
