GUM MAN ABOUT TOWN.—It will take 50,000 barrels of cider to sweeten the Jersey mosquitoes.

The streets were alive with patriotic last evening.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company during the four days of the State Fair, sold thirty-eight thousand and five hundred tickets.

Considerable fighting and knocking about was done last night.

A boy named Scott, aged about 9 years, was accidentally run over by a two-horse team on the corner of Fifth and Penn streets, yesterday morning.

Local items are dull. Politics absorb every sensation and incident, and nothing else was discussed yesterday.

Men are often so sharp as to outwit themselves. In these cases they most fools they to face.

H. K. Stauffer is completing a handsome residence on Court street, between Fifth and Sixth.

John Shaffer, Jr., is putting up a handsome brick residence on Ninth street, beyond Buttonwood.

A colored baby was born in Washington street last week—a Republican gale.

Is an orator necessarily "mealy-mouthed" who indulges in flours (flowers) of speech?

A great virtue in woman—to be able to dress for a ball inside of a day.

Plaids, which always look neat and pretty, will be much worn by the ladies this fall and winter.

Radical rowdyism makes Democratic votes.

A singular pack of cards has just been published. They are intended for kitchen use. The mistress calls up the cook and presents her with one, from which she learns what is required for dinner and how to cook it.

The line of houses on Washington street near Fourth, with their "bay windows," being erected by T. K. Willson, Esq., are attracting attention.

Good man to go on the police—Mr. Ketch-um.

Mosquitoes are going out and hot punches coming in. We haven't heard the piccolos of our friends, the mosquitoes, for some evenings past.

The umbrella brigade made its appearance this morning.

Penn street was ablaze with hot fires last night.

Women's weight is not to be judged by their bulk. Like the fool in love they look much larger than they really are.

Many men espoused the "Greeian bend" yesterday. At least they were on a bender.

Blood was up to fighting heat yesterday, and some fellows had their noses knocked out of shape.

An immense crowd was at the Keystone House last night awaiting the election returns.

Josh Billings, in his advice to a young lady as to how she shall receive a proposal, says: "You ought tew take it kind, looking down hill with an expreshun about half tickled and half scart. After the pop is over, if yure lover wants to kiss you, I don't think I would say yes, or no, but let the thing kinder take its own course.

Newspaper publishers are imprisoned in Bavaria for inserting patent medicine advertisements.

The ladies have begun to tipple beer in New Orleans. Far better for them to drink tea totally.

"A young woman with coffee colored eyes," has advertised for by "personal" in the London Times.

The Wickedest Man in Cape May eats deviled crabs, drinks salt water, and dodges (Jersey) lightning.

Moderation in walking, talking, eating and drinking will serve best the purpose of keeping the blood in healthful and natural action.

We discovered the following transpositions which we consider quite singular and amusing. Every one of these sentences has a rational meaning:

Music is the food of love.
Music is the love of food.
Food is the music of love.
Food is the love of music.
Love is the food of music.
Love is the music of food.

We know of no sentence so brief, susceptible of so many significant transpositions.

One of our compositors was out raising yesterday, and caught 18 suckers and a cat fish.

Anything in the Book and Stationery line, can be had at the Eagle Book store.

Water was introduced into our city in 1823.

The boys had a lively time last evening gathering up store boxes and barrels for bon-fires.

Anna Dickinson in lecturing to the West upon "Children and Marriage," which induces an impertinent journalist to inquire if the cart hasn't been put before the horse.

Lace drapery falling low at the sides, and caught at the back of the chignon by a bow and ends, is a graceful feature of the winter bonnets.

The Democrats rallied on the election yesterday and from indications a very heavy vote was polled throughout the State.

It is thought the next Ledger sensation will be a life of Bonner, written by himself.

The motto of the Author's Watch, is a meaning one: "Good Will and Good Words."

The Chicago Post says: "The Wickedest Man in their city is a newspaper man."

A CONTEMPORARY says to get rats out of a house, there is nothing equal to a good cat; but she must not be handled by children, or any other person; must be fed rather sparingly at regular times, and as much as possible on fresh meat, and usually by the same person. She will soon become accustomed to such circumstances, will answer the call of this person, who half changes her about to different parts of the house—one night in the attic, a night in the cellar, and so on. When treated in this way she will be rather shy and wild, but will soon become a terror to rats.

A POLICEMAN was shot in Philadelphia yesterday.

THE Grand Opening Ball of Prof. E. Dieter, will take place at Ahlenbach's Hall, on to-morrow evening, Oct. 15th.

SUSPENDED.—The work of digging down and levelling North 6th Street, is at present suspended.

MANY familiar faces were to be met on the streets yesterday, whose devotion to country had induced them to travel a long distance to come home and vote.

THE city presented a holiday appearance yesterday. Bunting was thrown to the breeze from buildings, and many clerks and employees were allowed leave of absence to devote a day to the service of their country.

BEHAR DOWN.—The 10.30 A. M. train was delayed yesterday morning for one hour on account of the break down of a coal train at Port Clinton. No serious damages resulting from the above.

AMONG the glorious number for those having improvements under headway. The crisp air imparts fresh energy to the muscle of workmen, and hammer and trowel fall with every blow.

WE dropped in at the Station house this morning, with the expectation of getting a large police report, but we were disappointed. The election day was remarkably quiet, and everything passed off pleasantly, with the exception of a few fights, in which no one was seriously injured.

ACCIDENT.—Some of our readers did not receive their papers until late last night, owing to an accident to our press. We had worked off a portion of our edition when the accident occurred, and the rest were taken to the Gazette press, where we were kindly helped out of our difficulty.

NEARLY FINISHED.—The Trinity Lutheran Chapel on Ninth street beyond Buttonwood is nearly completed and makes a fine appearance. The painters have given it the last touch on the outside, and the plasterers are about finishing upon the inside. It will be dedicated at about the holidays.

RESUMED OPERATION.—The Reading Steam Forge of Seyfert, McManus & Co., on Eighth street, has resumed operation again after having been idle for a long time. It is not yet worked to its fullest capacity, but next Monday all the furnaces will be put in blast, when it is expected they will have a long run.

PIGEONS.—Within a few days past large flocks of wild pigeons have visited the river hills, both north and south of this place, affording sportsmen fine pastime in attempting to secure the coveted game. The sharp report of the gun now heard on the hills, in every direction, tells of the havoc that is being made among the inhabitants of the forest.

OUR town is at present infested with tramps, peders and hawkers of goods, who enter unannounced any residence which may be left unlocked, and not unfrequently carry away valuable articles of clothing or furniture. Housekeepers should see that their front doors and alley gates are securely locked at all times.

TO CONTRACTORS.—Sealed proposals will be received by the Committee on Highways and Paving of the corporation of the city of Reading, until 3 o'clock, P. M., of Saturday, October 31st, 1868, for the completion of the grading of Sixth street, north of the Railroad, Aaker bridge, upon the terms contained in the resolution authorizing such work, passed October 10th, 1868.

COLEBROOKDALE RAILROAD.—The work on this road is being pushed forward with a large force of workingmen. Messrs. Rehill & McTague, who have the first section, which makes the connection with the P. & R. road, have commenced the work of laying the foundations for the bridge which is to carry the Railroad over the turnpike at the Manayunk bridge, at Pottstown.

THE COUNTRY STILL GREEN.—Notwithstanding the fact that the season is already pretty well advanced, the foliage of the forest trees retains to a very great extent its summer hue. Jack Frost has not yet laid his cold fingers upon them. The maple and gum trees begin to show signs of autumn's presence, but with these exceptions the country looks as fresh and green as in May. Thus far we have had a delightful fall.

THE BEAR CORNET BAND.—This band, which has been in existence for over three years, is now in a flourishing condition, and stands equal to any of our older bands. It consists of nineteen members, with the following instruments: four bugles, one a flat clarionet, two b flats, three altos, two tenors, three bass, and drum corps. The band is under the leadership of Mr. Bennerville Billman, who is well calculated to lead the organization.

SAMUEL DAVISON is a young man about twenty-five years of age, rather prepossessing in appearance, who lives down in Second street, in this city. About three years ago he became acquainted with Miss Agnes Seiders, with whom he became too intimate, and the consequence was he had to answer for the offence. At the last August Court the matter was settled by Dautrich paying a stipulated amount of damages, since which time he alleges they have never met. On Monday Agnes came before Alderman Schoener and made complaint against Dautrich for a similar offence, and had officer Schwarts bring him up to answer. He is in the lock-up, waiting a hearing.—Gazette.

LIGHT AND HANDSOME LOCOMOTIVE.—Yesterday, the large and handsome engine "Weehawken" passed through this city, bound for Phillipsburg, N. J. The engine was built at the Norris Locomotive Works at Lancaster, and certainly reflects much credit upon that establishment. This locomotive is the largest ever built in this country, and is intended as a passenger engine on the Morris and Essex Railroad. She has a 16 inch cylinder, 24 inch stroke, and 5 foot wheels, separated 8 feet, is a soft coal burner, and has all the improved machinery. The engine is in charge of J. A. Durgen, Supervisor of the Norris Locomotive Works, who takes her to Phillipsburg to thoroughly test her.

RADICAL RECRUITS.—Yesterday, in the Second Ward of this city, the Radicals attempted to smuggle in the vote of an unfortunate man who had been insane for four years! They were warned not to take him to the polls by a man who knew him well, but they persisted, and only gave up the attempt to use the unfortunate man for their own purposes when his vote was challenged. In the Eighth Ward the Radicals attempted to poll the vote of 5 negro, but the trick was detected, and the colored individual was sent back home to wait for "the good time coming."

When all the colored folks can vote,
And take the white man by the throat,
In the good time that's coming!
What an honest party the Radicals are!

A GRAND MASS MEETING AND TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION.—A grand Democratic mass meeting will be held at the village of Shalter Spring, at the public house of C. F. Koch, on Saturday, October 24th, at 3 o'clock p. m., and in the evening there will be a grand torchlight procession. The meeting will be addressed, in the evening and afternoon, in English and German, by Hon. J. Lawrence Getz, F. B. Lauer, Lew. Wanner, Edwin Shalter, and L. C. Becker, Esqrs., of this city. The Democratic citizens of the surrounding townships are cordially invited to be present. The Brownsville Brass Band will be in attendance.

MYSTERIOUS CASE.—A woman has occupied the ridge near the Reading railroad round house as a "local habitation" for some days past. From whence she derives her sustenance, or her motive, is not known. But day after day she sits perched on her position and the morning finds her curled up in a heap, the skies her cover and the earth her bed. She has evidently become inured to her mode of living, and the bleak winds and frosts leave her unattached. She is evidently a woman of about twenty-five, whom the storms of adversity and depravity have made a wreck, and her story and wickedness at times is fearful. Whether she is insane, or the motive inducing her to lead this life, the gentleman from whom we gather these facts was not able to inform us. The police, however, should take her under their protection.—State Guard.

THERE are two ends to things—the right and the wrong. Life, its success or its failure, depends upon the choice. Few people exhibit the slightest intelligence in choosing. The result is—failure. As a matter of fact the world over, not more than two men in ten succeed; the two successful ones are not necessarily those of the most general merit. The secret—if it is a secret—is in beginning at the right end. All philosophers can teach no more than this, the smallest grain of common sense teaches the whole.

PETERSON'S LADIES' NATIONAL MAGAZINE for November, is, as usual, an excellent number, containing a variety of excellent tales, poems, and sketches, with splendid fashion plates, &c. The frontispiece, a beautiful engraving called "The Pet Bird," is worth the price of the number. Published by Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut street, Philad'a.

OUR aunt Susannah says she never knew a season that fruit was very dear except when sugar was very cheap, while with sugar at twenty-five cents a pound, fruit was going a begging. The old lady is about right. Preserving kettles this fall are about as much use as a cradle is to a baby that has outgrown it.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Robert Timber, 30 years old, residing at the Falls of Schuylkill, was run over yesterday on the Reading Railroad, and had an arm and hand badly injured. After being removed to the Pennsylvania Hospital the injured limb was amputated.

THE game of croquet is one of the most popular at the present time among the youths of our city. We observed a number enjoying this pleasant pastime on the river bank at the foot of Chestnut street, yesterday afternoon.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 14, 1868.

EDITOR DAILY EAGLE:—On Friday of last week the battalion, an institution peculiar to Hamburg, came off. It, however, took an extraordinary pair of good spectacles, and a long stretch of the imagination to see it, yet the "peanut brigade," the badge vender, Bambo wid de banjo, and others, all of your city, were here. Then there were the "Jads and Josies" from the surrounding districts, who joined in this festive occasion, "tripped it on the light fantastic toe," to the sweet strains of the violin, until the shades of night fell, when the beaus whispered to the belles, "darf ich mit der heim gehn?"

The Windsor Cornet Band, an organization of which the citizens of that township may well feel proud, consisting of sixteen members, enlivened the streets during the day, by discoursing excellent music.

On Thursday morning last, Willian Winters, of this borough aged 14 years, met with a painful accident. He was driving a horse and cart, and the horse taking fright at some object, ran away, throwing him off the cart, and severely lacerating his back. He was employed at the P. & Topton R. R., about a mile back of town.

Quite enthusiastic were the sportsmen in the anticipation of trapping and shooting the pigeons which have been flying in a southernly course, for the last few days. Thus far, however, none have been captured.

Jacob Kalbach's distillery, which has been idle for a long time, has again been put into operation.

Mr. Nathan Hatzfield sold his farm, consisting of 19 acres, lying in Windsor township, to Mr. George Stitzel, of this borough, for $4,000.

Market provision—butter, 42 cents; lard, 24 cents; eggs, 24 cents; beef, 15 to 20 cents; fat hogs, live, 12 cents per pound; potatoes, $1.00 per bushel; chickens, 10 cents per pound.

LEARN A TRADE.—The value of learning a trade becomes more and more certain every day. Scarcely a week passes but some young man is asking us to point out a field of labor for him. With good attainments, perhaps, or an insatiable desire to be at work at something whereby an honest penny may be turned, he finds himself landed as it were at the first ebb of the tide. The slightest recession of the waters deposits him on the shore among the weeds of idleness, and unwholesome vapors becloud his mind. There is scarcely a man in business but has an experience like ours; his young friends continually envying the privilege of working in a well-defined field, and wishing like him they had something to strike at.

These young men are generally afflicted with the disease of ambition. They want to be something more than common, and mistaking often their desires for the ability to satisfy them, they flatter themselves that they are fit for something better than the common run of humanity. Their great fault is in trying to achieve manhood without serving an apprenticeship to it, and they find themselves, when they should be prepared for their life work, wondering what it will be, and fretting because it doesn't declare itself, and nine cases out of ten waiting in vain for such a call, go into politics, agenmies, and petting it.

The great remedy for all this is a trade, thoroughly learned. The time between school and twenty-one should be spent at the carpenter's bench, in a machine shop or at the anvil, so that when the young man commences his battle with life in any vocation he can, if worsted at his first attempt, turn to his trade with confidence that his skilled labor will at least procure him a living, and perhaps a competence. Time frittered away in trying to discover desirable roads to success, foots up a considerable total on the loss side of the balance sheet.

"Do not your juries give their verdict" in favor of "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative?" It is the universal verdict of mankind that it is the best in the market; let all who are becoming premature old looking and bald, begin at once the use of this never-failing article.—Portland Transcript.

THE MORNING HERALD

DAILY EAGLE BUSINESS

READING, Oct. 14, 1868.

PHILADELPHIA.—There were but few merchants at the "Commercial Exchange" yesterday, and most of the business avenues were deserted, the attention of the mercantile community being absorbed by the election.

In the stock market, Reading Railroad, after the close of our report yesterday, advanced to 48¼@48¾.

In New York yesterday has been a quiet day in Wall street, and in trading circles generally, the disposition being on all hands to wait the result of the Pennsylvania and Ohio elections. Money was in fair supply, at bank, at 8 per cent.; the private bankers lend at 6 a 7. Discounts are steady at 7 per cent. for prime paper. Some currency continues to be sent West and South, but not in very large amount.

In the flour and grain market of this city there is a slight change to-day. Corn chop, per bushel, has declined from $1 45 to $1 40. Rye from $1 40 to $1 35. Middlings has fallen five cents. It will thus be seen that prices still have a downward tendency, and if the market does not soon brisk up, we can look for a still further decline. We have not heard of any sales of hay or grain this morning.

Owing to the rain the market this morning was not so well attended by sellers and sellers. There was however a good supply of vegetables, etc. Prices are still high, and a five dollar bill does not go far towards filling the basket. Sweet potatoes seem to be in great abundance. Cucumbers are played out. Squashes are pretty well gone; the last run of tomatoes is now coming in. Cabbage, to those who like it, is just now an object and is carried home by the load. The German people are now preparing for their supply of winter kraut, and cabbage is therefore purchased at almost any price. The different varieties of sweet potatoes sold from 18 up to 30 cents per ½ peck. Apples, from 20 to 40 cents per ½ peck. Onions, 25 cents per ½ peck. Green corn, 20 cents per dozen. Tomatoes sold from 8 up to 15 cents per ½ peck. Chestnuts which brought 40 cents on Saturday last, could be bought this morning for 22 cents per quart.

There was a large supply of butter and prices were not so stiff. Best sold at 45 cents early in the morning, but later it could be bought for 40 cents.

There was a very large supply of beef at market this morning. Steak, best, 18@20 cents per pound; roast 16@18 cents; this is a slight reduction on Saturday's prices. Also, a large supply of fish, which seem to be in great demand. Lake pike, sold at 15 cents; cat fish, 10 cents; rock, 20 cents; white fish 10 cents; haddock, 10 cents; lake fish, 20 cents; eels, 15 cents.

THE ancients proclaimed that Mermaids, Nymphs, Naiads, and the Graces, had long flowing tresses which made them envied by their sisters of earth. But they arose out of the sea foam or bathed in fountains reached by no mortal hands, and kept their locks of downy softness, dark and luxuriant, and thus had no need of Ring's Vegetable Ambrosia, which is doing the same thing for thousands of people in our day. sept 19-1m

BASE BALL.—Yesterday afternoon the Schuylkill Base Ball Club played the Keystone, and beat them 18 runs.

On account of the difficulty of procuring reliable returns of the election, we did not issue extras this morning as contemplated.

FUNERAL.—The remains of Dr. Franklin S. Seitzinger were brought to this city about noon to-day, followed by a large number of people. There were many carriages in line, one of which contained a number of little girls, dressed in white, each holding a bouquet. The funeral proceeded to the St. Peters' Church, and from thence to the Charles Evans Cemetery.

THE ELECTION.—The political contest of yesterday passed off quietly, with but a few exceptions. In Reading a very large vote was cast, and during the early hours of the day long lines of citizens were gathered at all the polls, waiting an opportunity to deposit their ballots. Notwithstanding the apprehension of trouble, owing to the excited condition of the public mind and the partisan [illegible] by loud disputes, officers of [illegible] at the polls appointed desirous of making peaceable, interested [illegible] and unobstructed exercise of the elective franchise. There was some disorder in several precincts, but not of a serious nature.

ATTEMPT TO ROB.—On Monday night about 10 o'clock, an attempt was made by a thief or thieves, to enter the residence of Dr. Light, No. 151 North Fourth street. The doctor hearing the thieves work at the door, got out of bed and latched some time. They were, however, disturbed by some cause, when they left. Had they succeeded in effecting an entrance, the Doctor would have given them a cool reception. People should be on the lookout for these vagabonds. We hear of several other places at which an attempt was made to enter. Be prepared in the shape of a horse pistol, or any other kind of pistol, and give a dealer to shoot, if you are convince dthat they are robbers.

READING DISPENSARY—AN APPEAL TO OUR CITIZENS.—This Institution, established last winter, and since then in successful operation, is designed to minister gratuitously to the wants of the suffering poor of our city, and to friendless strangers in furnishing medicine and the best medical attendance.

Thanks to our Physicians, who have taken great interest in its operations and management, all cases of suffering applicants have been promptly and skillfully treated, and the house used for the purpose is clean, well arranged, and comfortable. But the efforts of its managers have not been seconded by that pecuniary assistance which they have a right to expect from our community.

The Institution is now in arrears for unavoidable expenses, and appeals for aid to the benevolent of our flourishing city. Without such support the project must be abandoned, the furniture sold, and the house closed.

It is believed that this simple statement will open the hearts and purses of the charitable, and thus save our city from the disgrace of allowing such an institution to fail.

Many of our community have shared largely in the blessings of God's providence. Let us not forget the duties and responsibilities of prosperity, and that charity to our poorer brethren is one of those good works most acceptable to our common father.

It is proposed to receive the names of yearly subscribers, as well as of those giving donations. For this purpose our citizens will be waited upon shortly by collectors, who we expect will be received liberally.

Special to Daily Eagle.

PORT CLINTON, October 14.—We fought a good fight yesterday. We have 24 Democratic majority, a gain of 14, on last year's vote. We did not expect more than 12 majority, as some of our Democrats could not swallow the nigro this time, and voted, therefore, Democratic. I hope Cake is dough. EXCELSIOR.
