THE DAILY EAGLE
READING, PA., [illegible]

CITY AND COUNTY.

FIRST EDITION—[illegible] P. M.

Advertisers are requested to hand in their advertisements as early in the day as possible, as they rapidly increase in number, and we like to go to press about 3 p. m.

Communications intended for publication in the Daily Eagle must be accompanied by a responsible name, not necessarily for publication, on the part of the writer. The name will not be published unless so desired by the correspondent.

Write only on one side of the paper, and explain as plainly as possible, without flourishes.

Subscribers who fail to receive the Eagle regularly, will confer a favor by leaving notice at this office, where all complaints of irregularity and lateness of delivery will be promptly attended to.

Correspondents should make their communications short and to the point. Our space is too limited for very long articles.

Daily Almanac.

Sun rises . . . 6 57
Sun sets . . . 4 49
Day's length, 10 hours and 19 minutes.

State of the Weather, 12 o'clock M.

Wind West—Cloudy.

Thermometer.

7 A. M.	3 P. M.
Monday, 30°	41°

D. L.—Meet Second, 7½.

D. L.—Purple, meet Second, 7, No. 1.
Black, meet Second, 7½, No. 2.

The man [illegible] time—the pawnbroker.

Christmas is coming.

Insanity [illegible]

A round dozen—a dozen of eggs, of course.

The most formal of flowers—the primrose.

A cobbler has a sole purpose in life.

Plovers are in market.

Business gets better daily.

The sausage trade begins to get brisk.

The Adventists are tickled at the earthquakes.

A large crowd [illegible]

Not much doing in [illegible]

Vote early to-morrow.

Yesterday was All-Saints' day.

The degree of Gottlieb Klebbs was [illegible] conferred upon the members of Lodge G, Independent Order of [illegible] on Saturday, Nov. 7th, 1868.

The pavements and streets [illegible] looked well on Sunday yesterday.

We are pleased to learn that the Orphans' Home at Womelsdorf is flourishing.

Talk without [illegible] figure—they make a certain sort of show but [illegible]

Never be jealous at the success of your neighbor.

Everything in the stationery line can be had at the Eagle bookstore.

Nothing little [illegible] coats, vests, with collars and long pockets, [illegible] misses.

Keep your cellar doors well secured, lest burglaries be going on.

Auctioneers and blacksmiths hammer their way through life.

Though the weather was not pleasant yesterday, [illegible] throughout the city were well attended.

The high [illegible] Saturday night tore down signs and fences.

A Puzzle—When a girl of 16 years of age marries [illegible] she will be 40, and the boy 25, the husband being but twice as old as his wife. How long according to this rule will it be before the husband is [illegible] order that he may die?

A Mule came [illegible] which was drowned on Friday.

On Saturday evening with Hallowe'en [illegible] but not much cabbage thrown [illegible] done by the boys.

Glass Broken.—One night last week some mischievous boys threw [illegible] the glass over the door [illegible] North Ninth street, and broke it to pieces.

Police Intelligence.—There was only one arrest since Saturday night [illegible] news. This speaks "volumes" for the good order of our city, but how long it will last we are not able to state.

Flooded.—Many of the streets were flooded [illegible] ing in consequence of the heavy rains and the gutters being stopped up by leaves.

Sale Bills.—Farmers and all those who contemplate making sale of stock, implements of household goods, should call at the Eagle office. We are prepared to do all kinds of job work at reasonable prices.

Fatness.—The heavy rains [illegible] night and Sunday [illegible] erable freshet in the small creek [illegible] the Schuylkill, which [illegible] the water of the Schuylkill to attain a height of ten feet [illegible]

Now [illegible] sudden change of [illegible] should be observed with the temperature at the [illegible] many bilious [illegible] life [illegible] subject.

We learn that a [illegible] to death at Sinking [illegible] He had been at [illegible] children [illegible] Hoffman of [illegible] believe, saved the [illegible]

The Treasury Department [illegible] cular, dated [illegible] of two and a [illegible] per cent. [illegible] on all cigars, cigarettes [illegible] 3rd and 3rd sections of the Internal Revenue Act, approved July [illegible]

Left Off.—The young man, named Augustus [illegible] Thursday [illegible] cells. Was discharged [illegible] that he was not in his right mind [illegible] one seemed disposed [illegible] prosecution.

Owing to an accident to our [illegible] not able to get out [illegible] day, and as we had to go to press at 3 o'clock we [illegible] Gazette press. Turn [illegible] in a hurry, and therefore our [illegible] deficiencies. We can only [illegible] neighbor of the Gazette for his [illegible]

[illegible] ments. In [illegible] we [illegible] most [illegible] be considered [illegible] day, with [illegible] sky, they are not as dangerous [illegible] ly, but on a wet day, when the [illegible] of leaves are open [illegible] ago a lady stepped into an opening on the sidewalk somewhere in Third street, and sprained her foot, from the effects of which she is now suffering. We hope our enterprising citizens will look after this matter, and see that their pavements are kept in good order [illegible]

Smoking for Boys.—A French physician has been making investigation as to the effect of smoking on boys, and has been struck very forcibly, it is said, with the results. He has observed 88 boys, aged from nine to fifteen, who smoked more or less. Of these, distinct symptoms were present in 27. In 22 there were various disorders of the circulation—bruit du souffle in the neck, palpitation, disorders of digestion, slowness of intellect [illegible] In three the pulse was intermittent. In eight there was found on examination more or less marked diminution of the red corpuscles; in twelve there was rather frequent epitaxis; ten had disturbed sleep; and four had slight ulcerations of the mucous membrane of the mouth. It is truly amazing to what an extent this vice prevails among [illegible] the country. Had parents and guardians any adequate conception of the dangers to be apprehended from it they would employ no minister, doctor or law-maker who did not oppose the use of tobacco in all its forms, with all the energy and influence at command.—Selected.

Oats.—Oats are, of course, a most important article in stable management; and these, as every thing a horse eats, ought to be of the finest quality. It may be thought that the weight of oats is not a matter of great consequence, nor in fact, is it to cart or common horses; but it is quite the reverse to such as we are particular about as to stamina, wind and condition. Horses are generally fed by measure now by weight; consequently in giving light oats, we actually rob the horse of his proper quantum of meat, giving him husks instead; and if we feed him by weight, going on the principle that a pound of lead and a pound of feathers are both a pound, the principle would be a very bad one as regards oats; for, in that case, though the horse gets his pound weight, [illegible] is only filled with that which is no use to him; so in every way light oats are bad for choice horses.

A Runaway Locomotive.—A locomotive, while standing at the water tank between Stanhope and Drakeville, on the Morris and Essex road, on Wednesday of last week, was run into by a coal train, which jarred the valve open, giving the engine a full head of steam, and causing it to come thundering along at the rate of a mile in a minute. On its way it met the Easton Express [illegible] west of the depot at Stanhope. The train was luckily going at a slow rate of speed and slacking up at the approach of the engine, but as there was no one on board the latter (the engineer having become frightened and jumped off at the water-tank on the appearance of the coal train) the locomotive dashed pell-mell into the Easton Express, completely demolishing the two engines and shattering the cars of the Easton train. The loss resulting from the collision will probably be about $12,000. It seemed a Providential occurrence that no lives were lost.—Sussex Record.

Rowdyism.—We learn that on Friday evening last, as the Republican torchlight procession was passing the corner of Tenth and Washington streets, some persons threw stones at the procession, one missile passing through the banner of the P. L. L.'s, and another striking a man in the ranks, injuring one of his legs.

Such conduct is to be condemned. Because the Republican roughs have made it a rule to disturb and annoy almost every Democratic meeting and procession held in Reading this fall, is no reason that the Democrats should imitate their rowdyism. Violence should only be resorted to in self-defence. The Democracy of Reading have maintained an excellent character for good order thus far, and we hope they will continue to deserve it.

City Councils.—Councils had a meeting on Saturday evening, at which [illegible] less was transacted. The most important matter acted upon was a resolution instructory the Committee on Law, to prepare an ordinance relative to absentees and truants in the schools, and considerable feeling was manifested in the discussion of the matter. Select council passed a bill appropriating $10,000 to erect a City Hall, but it did not reach a second reading in the Common Branch. Select Council also passed a resolution instructing the City Property Committee to select a site in the Third Ward for the erection of a market house. Common Branch laid [illegible] on the table. Nearly $5,000 were appropriated to the Highway and Police Department.

Applications for Patents.—The commissioner of patents has ordered that hereafter applicants shall not be allowed to withdraw original [illegible] for the purpose of amendment, but when it is desired to amend an application a copy of the original must be had of the office for such purposes. Parties filing papers in the office will save themselves and the office much trouble by obtaining copies of their papers to use in case amendment or alteration should become necessary.

Horn Hose.—The Neversink Fire Company, of Reading, Pa., have bestowed upon the Hope Hose Company, of this city, a splendid present. 'Tis a silver front locker for their carriage, with a large wreath of flowers engraved in a circle, with the word "Hope" in the centre, in German text; also, four raised letters for the hind-lockers. The Hope will send their carriage to the painters in the course of a couple of weeks.—Sunday Mercury.

Arm Broken.—Yesterday afternoon a son of Mr. David Craig, residing in Buttonwood street, got under the cars at the outer depot, and while walking on the cars and coming to the Aakew bridge, he slipped and fell [illegible] the bridge a long distance to the ground, fracturing his scull and breaking his arm. Dr. Raser attended to him. It is likely that the accident will result fatal.

Till Robbed.—A butcher living on Walnut street, above Tenth, has the till of his shop robbed on Friday night, while a club of Invincibles was passing. He had gone to the door to view the sights, when some one entered the [illegible] and took [illegible] money from the till.

After the 1st of January next, the fee for registering a letter at the post office will be [illegible] now.

[illegible]

Brown Dead.—[illegible] Saturday [illegible] in the show case was [illegible] damage sustained [illegible]

White Lines have made their appearance [illegible] this season, this is said to indicate the early approach [illegible]

Statement of moneys received and paid out at the Mayor's office, from the 1st to the 31st Oct., 1868, inclusive.

	DR.
To cash for [illegible] fees	$31 65
" " Office of Commissioners	22 40
" " County Commissioners, costs of drunkenness and vagrancy	89 82
" Building permits, and renewing [illegible]	[illegible]
	[illegible]

	CR.
To cash paid policemen	$81 67
" " [illegible] Engineer,	31 60
By cash [illegible] Reading School District	10 80
By cash [illegible] Holdenreich, Clerk	[illegible]
" " Treasurer,	185 00
	$248 90

There were 20 permits issued and 7 permits refused during the month for buildings, as follows, to wit:

Three-story brick dwelling houses,	13
Two-story " "	18
Half " "	[illegible]
Two " "	12
Three " "	2
Four story brick Printing Office	1
Two " " Hat Manufactory	1
	39

During the month of October, 235 individuals have been put in the lock-up as lodgers, [illegible] and such [illegible] the laws:

Lodgers,	168
Drunk,	40
Fighting,	3
Assault and Battery,	2
Malicious Mischief,	2
Larceny,	[illegible]
Vagrants,	1
Poor House,	2
Violating [illegible]	1
Before Aldermen,	8
Sent to another county,	1

Americans 47, English 12, Irish 52, Germans 58, Welsh 1, Scotch 8. Of the above 47 were women, 8 as prisoners, and 9 as lodgers.

Wm. H. Gernand, Mayor.
Reading, Nov. 2, 1868.

Revenge [illegible] Methodist Church, yesterday morning, Rev. T. A. Fernley preached an interesting sermon, subject: "The Penitent Thief's Repentance," and he certainly preached as good, sound and practical a sermon as we have heard for some time. We merely mention this circumstance to express the opinion that whenever all our preachers confine themselves to an honest and sincere desire to bring man out of the "horrible pit and miry clay" of sin and crime, as Mr. Fernley evidently throughout his whole discourse felt it his duty to do, or at least to assist in doing, sin will receive a blow from which it will be hard to recover. Such sermons do good. In connection with the morning services, the sacraments of Baptism and the Lord's Supper were administered to a large number of members of the church. In the afternoon a Love Feast was held, which proved to be of great interest to the members of that church.

Rev. B. Peters delivered his Third Lecture of the course on the History and Doctrines of the various religious denominations, last evening, in the Universalist church. His subject was the "Episcopal Church" which was ably dealt with. A large congregation had assembled, who listened to the lecture with deep interest.

Rev. J. H. Wood preached in the St. Peters M. E. church yesterday morning and evening to large congregations. His labors in this city have now terminated, at least for the present. His sojourn here has been a blessing to many, as he converted many souls. The Methodists of our city much regret his departure.

Camp 61, Junior Sons of America, attended the Fifth street Presbyterian church last evening in a body. Over one hundred Juniors were in attendance. Rev. E. J. Richards preached from the First Epistle of St. John, second Chapter, and part of the 14th verse; "I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong." It was an able sermon, and may be the means of doing much good.

Rev. George Frear, of the Baptist Church, treated his hearers to a very interesting discourse yesterday morning, in his usual eloquent and impressive style, and all who listened to him could not but be impressed with the force of his arguments. At the close of the morning services the ordinance of the Lord's supper was administered. In the evening the pulpit was occupied by the Rev. Mr. Hallowell, of the Lewisburg University, who also delivered a very interesting discourse, and his hearers were, no doubt, deeply impressed with his remarks.

Yesterday being the last day in the Jubilee year, it was celebrated in all the Lutheran churches of the city. Services appropriate to the close of the year were held in the Trinity Lutheran church in the morning and evening. Rev. C. F. Kranth, D. D., of Philadelphia, preached in the morning to a large congregation. Rev. P. Fry [illegible] excellent text in the evening, the opening services being conducted by the Rev. C. F. Kranth. At two o'clock in the afternoon the Sunday schools connected with the congregation held their festival in the church, at which time the beautiful medal, struck in commemoration of the jubilee, was presented to the teachers and scholars. Persons desirous of procuring some of these medals, can get them at the parsonage of Rev. Fry.

In the German Lutheran Church the same services were held. Rev. Kuhn, of Lancaster city, preached in the morning, and Rev. Schwartz of Myerstown in the evening. The sermons were of deep interest, and were heard by a very large congregation. The choir, in the morning, was assisted by Wint's Cornet Band, which [illegible] excellent and appropriate music. Throughout it was a day of great interest to that congregation.

Rev. B. Peters preached to the inmates of the prison yesterday afternoon. The prisoners listened [illegible] attentive [illegible]

[illegible]

Kerling.—[illegible] Kerling, in the 81 year of [illegible]

The friends of the deceased, and [illegible] afternoon, at two o'clock, to proceed to Charles Evans Cemetery.

[illegible] Democratic [illegible] Democratic [illegible] Democratic [