A HUSBAND RETURNS AFTER T TY-SIX YEARS' ABSENCE.

The New Albany Commercial tells us a very interesting and romantic story: In 1815 John Elliott left his home and his wife, who had borne him eleven children, in Patnam county, Indiana, suddenly and in passion at some slight misunderstanding that had occurred between them. He gave his family no intimation of his departure previous to leaving and they never heard of him again until the lapse of twenty-six years. The wife believed her husband dead, and after two years of waiting she gave him up as lost to her forever, and married a respectable citizen of the county named Ballou, and has resided happily enough with him near Cloverdale over since, until last week. It was then that the first tidings of her supposed deceased husband were received by her. It was in this wise that these tidings reachell her: A letter came to her through the hands of a person who was a stranger. This letter set forth that if she would visit a little town several miles distant from Cloverdalo sho would meet an old and very dear friend, and urged her not to omit making the visit at a certain time. The letter impressed her strangely, and she concluded to visit the town named at the designated time, and did

What was her surprise on entering the house where the meeting was appointed, to meet her first husband! Twenty-six years had passed, and time had left its impress upon the man, yet she recognized him at once, and threw herself into his arms, for notwithstanding she was now sixty-eight years of age, the sight of her first choice warmed the loving pulses of her heart and broke open the fountain of her affectious that had been so long scaled up. She throw her arms about his neck, kissed his wrinkled cheek and wopt, like a girl, the tears of joy. The husband's heart was also melted into tondorness, and he embraced his aged but long deserted wife with all the fervor of a young and ardent lover. The past was talked over, the sudden disappearance, long absence and continued silunce of the husband explained, and then and there it was agreed that they would spend the rem-

Mr. Elliott accounts for his absence by a visit to California, where he secured a fortune, thence came to Lincoln county, in this State and bought a fine farm, upon which he has been residing since 1859. Mr. Ballou was very loath to give up his wife, but finally compromised. Mr. and Mrs, Elliott passed through the city yesterday, taking the Crab Orchard train for their . . . home in Lincoln county.

nant of their lives together.

A KENTUCKY SENSATION. The negroes, and a few superstitious whites, in Kentucky, are terribly frightened by the news that another "What-is-it", has nade its appearance in that State. An exchange gives the following account of the strange visitor: "A wonderful phenomonon has recently made its appearance on Willow Creek, in Bracken county, Kontucky, and has been seen by quite a number of worthy citizens of that county. It is described as follows: The object was about six feet in height, and walked upright. The face was at times that of a many year nale, with carls of that of a man, very pale, with curls of flame falling over his shoulders; eyes of sulphurous blue, changing constantly in size, one moment as large as a tin cup, and then gradually decreasing in size until it was above the size. was almost invisible. Its arms were those of a man, and hands deadly pale. In one hand it held a torch, and in the other a sword that seemed to be about four feet in length. Its lower extremity was that of a horse, with legs well proportioned, and hoofs as those of a horse. Its tail, which was about three feet in length, was of flame. Its breath was a solid sheet of fire, which vibrated with the heavings of its breast like the pendulum of a clock."

REMARKABLE BREACH OF PROMISE CASE .-In the Morris County, N. J., Circuit Court, the case of Eliza Garthwait against Richard Powell was brought up. This action was brought for the recovery of $2,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage. The plaintiff is a widow, and lives in New York city, and is, as she alleges, 57 years old. The defendant lives at Flanders, Morris county, is a widower, and has arrived at the age of 77. The plaintiff alleges that defendant promised to marry her four years ago, and since that time he has broken his engagement and married another. The defendant denies there was any engagement on his part, and, if there was any engagement, he afterwards learned. that she was a very passionate woman, and that she and her former husband lived very unhappily together, and thought the best thing for him to do under those circumstances was to retract his promise. The jury came into Court on Friday, rendering a verdict of $2,000 for plaintiff.

DOES FARMING PAY?-Mr. Joseph Brown, of Woodstock, Maine, bought a farm last year for less than thirteen hundred dollars. and raised this year two thousand bushels of potatoes, about sixteen hundred of which were merchantable, and among the lot there were not two bushels of rotten ones. They were Jacksons, and grew on high land, not manured. He also secured, fifty tons of hay. He wintered seventy-eight sheep, which also turned out well. He sold one hundred and ten dollars' worth of wool, besides what he reserved for his own use. sold one hundred dollars' worth of lambs, and kept fifteen for his flock. He can sell his potatoes now for fifty cents a bushel.

For a great many years the Russians have made use of the expansive properties of freezing water in quarrying operations. In summer they drill crevices in the marble and fill them with water. The cold of winter causes the water to act as a wedge, and enormous masses of marble are thus detached with the smallest expenditure of money.

-The warrants issued for Government expenditures during October, did not include public debt redemptions, amounted to $21,-864,000.
