> ATTEMPTED MURDER .- On last Saturday as Mr. J. Claude White, Superintendent of the Swatara Colliery, near Llewellyn, Schuylkill county, was on his way to the Colliery, for the purpose of paying off the hards, he was waylayed by five rufflans, who had a design upon his money. Mr. W. had taken the precaution to take with him three men, among whom was one of Heissler's po-lice, who left the wagon on discovering the highwaymen and boldly confronted them with their chosen weapons. They fired upon him, but he returned the fire in a spirited manner and brought one of their number to the ground, and afterwards brought the man (who gave his name as Finlan from New York,) to the Schuylkill county prison. Mr. White had $15,000 with him at the time of the occurrence.

> MILITARY COMPANIES. - Two or three military companies are in process of formation in this city, and we hope the matter will be persevered in until they are thoroughly organized and equipped. Reading should be able to raise a full regiment of volunteer militia. sher, Supervisors of Perrytownship.—The defendants were indicted for nuisance in neg-lecting to keep in proper repair a public rcal leading from Shoemakersville to Moselem Furnace. It was shown by the Commonwealth that during last spring and a por-tion of last summer this road was al most habitually out of repair, especially after a rain, when it became soft and almost impassable. The defence proved that in dry wenther the road was good, but as it was shown that it was regularly traveled by heavy furnace teams, it was contended that it was impossible to keep it in good repair under such severe usage without turnpiking it.

The Court held that it was the business of the Supervisors to keep the roads in proper repair at all times, unless they had levied and expended a tax of ten mills on the dollar upon the property valauation in the township. As it appeared that that sum had not been expended in this instance, fastening outer window-blinds is very preva-lent in many parts of the city. This becomes the Court instructed the jury to convict, disagreeably obvious when the wind arises at the same time entering a rule to show suddenly in the night—as it often does at cause why a new trial should not be granted, this season—and one is not inclined to pity in order to test more fully hereafter the the pilgarlies who then have to open their question as to whether the principle laid windows, and pop their night capped heads applies to the facts in this case.
