D. L. (E.)—Meet Fifth, 7½, at John G. Horner's saloon, Ninth and Penn streets, 2½.

H. W.—Please call at Eagle office.

C. C.—The Senate of Maryland passed the bill abolishing imprisonment for debt, in 1844.

N. A.—We cannot "feel" that it "is wrong for two young people of each sex to salute with a kiss if they like each other and so desire. The osculatory process is a very harmless, but exceedingly pleasant, amusement when indulged in by two hearts with but a single thought."

STORM BOXES for sale. Apply at Adler's office.

$1000 East Penn Railroad Bond for sale. Address ADLER Office.

TURK is a general complaint among those out on collecting tours of the scarcity of money.

Mrs. RADDINBUSH & CO. will have established a meat store at the Library Hall, South Fifth street.

For SALE.—An iron door with hooks attached, suitable for a butcher's smoke house. Apply at ADLER office.

SEATING is one of the things of the past. There is no room on the river, and the skating ponds are in an unsafe condition.

NOTHING doing at the Mayor's office this morning in police affairs. Four lodgers found shelter in the station house last night.

The snow is rapidly disappearing from the hills on the east and west of the city. A few days like to-day will remove it entirely.

A MEETING of the Stockholders of the Reading Library Company, will be held at their hall, on Monday evening, Jan. 8, 1869.

DIVIDEND.—The Reading Gas Light Company has declared a dividend of five per cent. on the capital stock of the company, free of tax.

The Commissioner of Markets for this city has received up to the 1st of January, the amount sum of $1022.50 as small rents for the year 1868.

BING FITTED UP.—Louis Ritter, Esq., is fitting up in a handsome manner the second room at 521 Penn street, which is to be used as a grocery.

We noticed this morning quite a number of farmers coming to the city in sleighs, and we are informed that sleighing is quite good yet in the country.

EXHIBITION AND CONCERT.—The African Methodist Episcopal Church will give a grand exhibition and concert at Library Hall, on Tuesday evening, Jan. 12th.

PREACHING AT THE ALMS HOUSE.—The Directors of the Poor desire preaching at the Alms House. We hope our city ministers will once signify their desire to render this service.

A SALUTE of one hundred guns was fired yesterday by the Keystone Hook and Ladder Company in honor of the election of John A. Buch, as Chief Engineer of the Fire Department.

The pleasant weather yesterday afternoon had the effect of bringing out a large number of persons on the streets. Promenading was quite brisk and all seemed to enjoy themselves.

AN OLD PAPER.—The Reading Advertiser has turned upon the seventy-third year. The bound volumes of the paper, from its first number in 1797, are preserved, and are quite a curiosity to look at.

The weather is delightfully charming just now, especially overland. We cannot say so much for the walking, except on Penn street, where the big flag pavements are in most excellent trim.

ITEMS OF LOCAL NEWS.—A red-coated scrooge just now, out on his rounds, had a hard time of trying to fill up his usual quota. There is nothing stirring in police circles, nothing stirring in railroad matters, and nothing stirring in business matters.

First Grand Party.—The Junite Tribe, No. 74, Improved Order of Odd Fellows, will give their first Grand Ball, at Library Hall, on Tuesday, January 10th. From the joyous occasions made, the Ball will be one of the most pleasurable affairs of the season.

CLEAR out your guitars and throw them into the middle of the street, and no doubt it will float down to the property of your neighbor, and compel him, with shovel in hand, to dance attendance to your "balladines" and do the work you yourself should do.

The sun came out this morning like a brilliant sheet. It has been remarkably dry and uncertain of late. Under its genial influence, the mush and ice on the pavements were rapidly absorbed, though the streets and crossings are in a miserable condition.

DUPL.—Police matters are extremely dull just now. We visited several alleys of the city this morning, and to our great surprise, the reply invariably was—"nothing doing." Our great friend, Thomas Coebohm, despite his boldness, admits in the often quoted of his office, "all the honest and grape for which he is so eminently distinguished."

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.—The week of prayer, appointed by the Universal Alliance to be observed throughout the world, commenced on Sunday, the 1st of January. The week is a season of prayer, and much hope for the cause of religion, peace, and truth. We trust the present occasion will be highly observed, and will be beneficial to the various religious denominations.

PERSONAL.—Midshipman John W. Hargrave, who has been in the residence of his father, Mr. Lewis Hargrave, in Philadelphia, for some time past, made his appearance this morning for the Brooklyn Navy Yard, where he goes aboard the Portsmouth, which will sail shortly for the South American Squadron. The Neptune has not yet gone to sea, however, so Ashore duty to him may be arduous, but his host of friends here at home, will gladden his heart in his lonely life. If there is no one to tender our young "middy" hearty full of wishes for a pleasant and safe journey over the briny deep, there is health to the heart, and when you get back to your native land, may increased honor and employment await you.

ARRESTED AND BAILED OUT.—On last Tuesday, a young German, named Jacob Roth, a resident of Germantown, was brought before a justice charged on the facts of William Miller's death, with the offence of robbing, knowing them to have been stolen, a horse, wagon, buffalo robe, and other articles. The property of Tobias Fornan, of Philadelphia, which was purloined from his premises, sometime during the month of September last, and which were traced to the possession of the accused, and since recovered to Roth, was committed to his keeping.

HANTSON.—In the city on Jan. 5th, Charles F. Young, Esq., of 11th and Market streets, Philadelphia, and near 4 months and 4 days ago, was arrested and confined in the Eastern State Penitentiary, and accused of the robbery of the above named company, who so held at the time of his arrest, the amount of the property taken, and of the value of the same, and of the time when he committed the offense, without ever having been identified.
