"FLOPPED OVER."

The Daily Times, after having endeavored to balance itself on the political fence for some time, has at last "flopped over" on the side of Radicalism and negro equality, where it properly belongs. Witness the following in its edition of this morning:

RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE.

Loran Burrett, Esq., a Republican Representative from Susquehanna county, has introduced in the House, a joint resolution amending the constitution of this State by extending the right of suffrage to white and black, male and female citizens. His proposition is hardly practicable at this time, but it is carneatly to be hoped that an amendment may be made giving the suffrage to black men as well as white. The best way to attain this, however is by an amendment of the Con-stitution of the United States, and if the present Congress neglects taking the initial steps it will deserve the deepest reprobation of a totally uneducated.

: We are glad our neighbor has at last found his true political level. Let the Journal and the Dispaich shout with joy at the accession of a new devotes to the crowd of worshippers at the shrine of Sambo !

Hurran for the darkey, and for "ckal rights!" Up, up with the nigger, and down with the whites!

PROCESDINGS OF CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—In the Senate, the credentials of Scuator Ramsoy, of Minnesota, were presented. Mr. Edmunds, from the Retrenchment Committee, reported the bill repealing the Tenure of Office Act, with amendments. Mr. Stewart, from the Judiciary Committee, presented the credentials of Senator elect Hill, of Georgia, with a resolution that he is not ontitled to his seat. The Central Pacific Railroad bill came up in order, and Mr. Sherman moved its postponement, so that his Funding bill could be considered. Mr. Sherman's motion was lost by a majority of nine votes, and the pending Railroad bill was discussed until adjournment. In the House, bills were introduced by Mr. Kelsey, of M. Y., to fund the public debt; by Mr. Pierce, of Ala., to provide for the representation of the freed race; by Mr. Corley, of S. C., for the protection of loyal men in the South; by Mr. Eliot, of Mass., to create a Department of Indian Affairs; and by Mr. Kee. of Ky., in relation to civil rights. Mr. Boutwell's Suffrage amendment came up in order, but, at his suggestion, was postponed until Wednes-

Our Wisconsin Letter. NEENAH, WISCONSIN, )

Jan. 21, 1869. DEAR EAGLE: - You see that I have been or the move again. I left Appleton yesterday and came down to this place, and am now comfortably located at the Dobson House, where I shall remain for a short time. In my etter from Appleton, I see that I made rather an unfortunate mistake in saying that the Fox River was supplied from Lake Michigan, when I should have said from Lake Winnebago. How I came to make the mistake I cannot tell.

From what I have seen of Neenah, it has the appearance of a business place. The streets are full of teams to-day; some loaded with wood, some with wheat and others with logs, for the mills, of which there is quite a number in this place. Noonah is situated on the Fox River, six miles above Appleton, at the foot of Lake Winnebago. A short distance above the town the waters of the River divide, forming an island, in which there is about 1,000 acres of land. On this island is located the depot of the Chicago & N. W. Railroad. On the South side of this island, across that branch of the River, lies the town, or city as they call it, of Neenah, and across the other branch, on the North side, lies the city of Menosha, directly opposite, the one Railroad Depot answering for both places. The population of these two places are about equal-3,000 or 8,500 inhabitants each. Between the citizens of the two places there is a good deal of jealousy and contention respecting their location and advantages, which sometimes comes near leading to personal encounters.

The Fox River, on both sides of the island, affords excellent water power, which is toler who had the bill in charge, refused to allow the ably well improved. On this side of the River there are twelve flouring mills, some of which are quite extensive mills," There is a large paper mill here, which manufactures wrapping paper, and is said to do quite an extensive business. They pay $11,000 rent annually for the building in which their paper is manufactured-to pay which alone would require the profits of an ordinary mill. Grain is the staple commodity of this county, and there is an elevator here which is kept constantly running this season of the year, in the receiving and shipment of wheat.

The milling business in this State is not very good, this season. There is but a small margin between the price of wheat and the price of ing Mr. Switzler, the Democratic contestant, flour, and the flour is hard to sell at any price. Chicago is their market for flour, and I see the Chicago papers quote flour on the decline, very dull, no one willing to buy, expecting the price still to go lower. The price is too low now for the millers in this county when they pay $1.10 for wheat and sell flour in Chicago at $6,75. After deducting the freight and charges they have not much left over the price of the wheat. Some of the mills have stopped running on merchant work, and are doing custom work alone.

suow away very fast. They say it has been a very mild winter, but I see loads of ice passing along the street fully 18 inches thick, which must have taken some cold weather to freeze More anon, MACK.

CHUROH ROBBERY.-Last week the vesting room of St. Peter's Cathedral at Richmond. Va., was entered and robbed of nearly all the valuable sacred vessels used for the alter. The thioves by some means obtained the vestry key, and the key of the safe in which was deposi ted the vessels. They took away with them three silver chalices and patenas, one gilded silver ciborium, and three silver vessels for blessed oils, besides several articles of clothing which had been left in the room. The safe was locked after the robbery, but the vestry keys were left behind.

The Working People.

The Labor Bureau, under the charge of the New York Commissioners of Emigration, during the first half of January, 1869, had 1489 ap plications for employment; received 765 orders from employers for laborers, and furnished employment to 675 persons. Of these, there were 268 males and 804 females who could read and write, and 85 males and 68 females were

WASHINGTON, January 23, 1869. This has been a dull week in both wings of bills, will be perfected during the few remaining weeks of the Fortieth Congress.

The House has made a small beginning toward correcting the abuses of the franking privilege, by passing a bill prohibiting its exercise in any other way than by the written autograph signature of the person entitled to the privilege. This will do away with the practice which had become almost universal, of franking lettors and documents by printed facsimile stamps, which were easily counterfeited, and extensively used by political committee, lottery dealers, "gift enterprise" swindlers, quack doctors, and other speculators upon the credulity of the public, for circulating their pamphlets, circulars, &c., free through the mails, and in this way defrauding the revenues of the Post Office Department to an enormous amount, A second section of the bill-intended to cut off the privilege now enjoyed by the people, of sending letters to members of Congress and | the abstract. Let us, for decency's sake, supother officers of the Government free-was pose that his preference for the nigger in this stricken out by a vote of 128 to 56. The majority were of the opinion that, while the laws permitted members to frank letters to constituents, there was no justice in requiring the latter to pay postage on their letters to members. When this subject was before the House, several attempts were made to amend the bill by substituting a section abolishing the franking privilege altogether: but Mr. Farnsworth. substitute to be offered, being "entirely satisfied," as he said, "that such a proposition could not become the law."

The absolute Radical majority of the present Congress have been guilty of many outrages upon individual right and public justice in the furtherance of their unscrapulous partizan ends. But the grossest and most flagrant of all, was that perpetrated by the House on Thursday last, in the decision of the contested election case of Switzler vs. Anderson, from the Ninth Congressional District of Missouri. Nearly a year ago, the Committee on Elections, composed of seven Radicals and only two Democrats, made a unanimous report declarentitled to his seat as the legally elected reprosontative of that District. It appeared from the evidence that the official returns gave Mr. Switzler a majority of 1120; but the entire vote of one county (Callaway) was thrown out by the Secretary of State of Missouri, without warrant of law, upon some flimsy protext that 780 of the registered voters of that county were ("disloyal men." By this arbitrary tampering bayis, Morris with the returns, Anderson (Radical) was count.

Festg. Arthur S. warrant of law, upon some flimsy pretext that with the returns, Anderson (Radical) was counted in, and the certificate of election given to him. In July last, when the case come before There is 5 or 6 inches of snow on the ground, I the House, and there appeared to be some danwhich foll some two weeks ago and made good | ger that Anderson would be ousted, Benjasleighing, but the snow is getting pretty well min, one of his Radical colleagues, trumped worn off the roads, and they will soon have to | up a charge of disloyalty against Mr. Switzler, bring out the wheels again. The weather here and succeeded in having the matter recommitis clear and bright and the sun is melting the ted to the Election Committee, for further investigation. That this charge was uttorly false, and made only for delay, and denial of justice to the contestant, is evident from the fact that, although full time and opportunity were given to Anderson and his friends to substantiate it, they failed to do so, or even to make a feint toward proving the charge. The Committee therefore again renorted in favor of Mr. Switzler. The case was ably argued, on behalf of the Committee, by Messrs. Cook and Poland (Radicals) and Mr. Kerr (Democrat)-three of the best lawyers in the House-but notwithstanding the incontrovertible facts and arguments they presented, the hide-bound majority rejected the report of their own Committee, and decided that Anderson should keep the seat to which he was not elected. The vote stood 55 to 89. The few Radicals who voted with the Democrats on this question (such men as Bakor, Bingham, Blair, Cook, Jenckes, Lassin, Moorhead, Poland, Trowbridge, Upson, E. B. Washburne, Jas. F. Wilson, and Woodbridge) deserve credit for having shown independence enough, in this instance, at least, to do justice even at the expense of party fealty. Boutwell's proposed Constitutional amendment and bill to enforce negro suffrage over all the States, was before the House to-day as the special order. He made a long and labored argument in support of it, as "the last of the great measures of Reconstruction which remained for Congress and the Republican demand for increased wages will be for $4 per | party" to carry through. Before he concludday, their present pay being $8 88, or $20 per | ed, he stated that he desired a vote on the question next Friday. Its fate is doubtful, as a two-thirds vote is required to pass the Constitutional amendment; and there are yet a dry. Colfax doubtless is still possessed with aspirations to the Presidency, and his observious attentions to Fred., as the representative man of his race, are a cumning bait to catch the nigger vote. He is in the "advance guard" of the Radical forces, and evidently holds it as a foregone conclusion that the entire negro population of the Union will have a vote in 1872. He is not so sure of the triumph of the "woman's suffrage" movement; or he would not have been so ungaliant to "the sex" as he was a day or two ago, when he gave Fred. a ticket of admission to the Reporter's Gallery of the House, and refused one to Mrs. or Miss.
