

JAMES H. NICHOLSON has been appointed Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, I. O. O. F., in place of Wm. Curtis, deceased.

REV. J. FRY will preach at the Chapel of the Reformers on North 3rd street, on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

CHICKEN COOP ROBBED.—The chicken coop of John Bauman, Fourth and Walnut streets, was robbed last night of twelve chickens.

COAL.—The colliers in the Mahanoy region are nearly resuming work, at a reduction in wages of 30 per cent. from the October prices.

ON the 25th ult., a child of Mrs. Berger, aged 2 years, of South York, was accidentally burned to death, in consequence of his clothing taking fire at a stove.

A GENERAL INTELLIGENCE OFFICE has just been opened at No. 23 South Seventh street. It is an institution which has been needed for some time in this city.

UNION MEETING.—The next of these doctrinal gatherings of Christians, will take place at the St. Peter's M. E. Church, on Fifth street, this evening at 7 1/2 o'clock.

REV. MR. STORER, of Columbia, Pa., will supply the pulpit of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Frank street above Fifth, on tomorrow (Sunday) morning and evening.

RENEWAL M. E. CHURCH.—FOURTH ST.—Rev. T. A. Ferley, Pastor, will preach tomorrow (Sunday) morning and evening. The public are affectionately invited—seats free.

YESTERDAY was a earnest of winter. The weather was bleak and blustering. Persons walked about in overcoats and furs, and glowing fires threw out genial warmth.

HOTEL CHANGE.—C. S. Birch has purchased the interest of Wm. H. Parvin, in the "American House" and it will hereafter be conducted under the name of Birch & Weller.

PERFORMS MUSICAL MONTHLY for February is a splendid number, 41 pages of musical matter, including 24 pages of the best latest music. Published by L. P. Feltz, 108 Broadway, New York. Price 15 cents per annum.

FIRST GRAND PLY.—Roehll's Quadrille Orchestra will give a grand party at Antebach's Hall, on Monday evening, Feb. 8th. A new waltz dance, called the "novalotte," will be introduced on the occasion, for the first time in this city.

UNIVERSAL CHURCH.—Services tomorrow (Sunday) morning and evening at the usual hour. In the evening, Rev. Mr. Rogers will give the fifth of the series of lectures on "The Word, Nature of the Old Testament." The public are respectfully invited.

TO BE TAKEN TO LEWISTOWN.—The remains of the late Capt. John M. Hail will be taken to Lewistown for interment. The friends of the family are invited to attend the funeral services at his late residence, North Fifth street, on Monday morning, at 9 1/2 o'clock.

THINGS gay and festive persons of the female persuasion, who last night, at a late hour, made a high noise on the streets over "Champaigne Charlie" in the vicinity of the conductors, who have heard better music from a broken winded hurdy-gurdy, many a time.

IT may be an item of news to our readers to know that there is no news. There is nothing of startling or amusing character to record. We have contented with a bulletin that localizing is a rather up-hill work at present. General dullness commands the city.

LOOKING UP.—The matrimonial market in Reading is reported to be looking up. Not only are the old bachelors and widows, "crusty" old bachelors and "whimsical" old maids, snared as in the "ring," but a good time is in prospect for our clergyman—wo man "greenbackly" speaking.

THE COAL-BROOKDALE RAILROAD is being vigorously pushed forward. Some 1500 men and fifty laborers are employed, and some five miles have been graded. The entire road is expected to be finished by the 1st of June next. This is quick work, and speaks well for the ability and energy of the contractors.

ENGAGEMENT.—Messrs. Harbster, Bro. & Co., will enlarge their Hardware Works, at the foot of Sixth street, early in Spring. Though already one of the largest manufacturing establishments in this city, its trade has become so extensive, and its business so good, that it is pressing that a still further enlargement of the works has become a necessity.

WHAT has become of the project started some time ago in this city, in reference to the construction of a Free Reading Room? The matter should be determined, and the establishment of such an institution secured. It would be a great adjunct to the many other means being used to save our young men from an evil life and its consequences.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.—Wm. D. Gross, Treasurer of the Orphans' Home, acknowledges the receipt of $125.00, contributed to that institution last week. D. B. Albridge, Superintendent of the Home, received last week the sum of $212.35 for the same institution—making a total contribution of $339.15 for the benefit of the Orphans' Home during six weeks.

PETTICOATS AND SKIRTS.—Blue and black are the favorite mixtures for petticoats this season. Petticoats, in fact, are coming to be the actual dress, the upper skirts being a mere trimming. Blue silk petticoats, with three or five yards of very elegant, but scarlet and black and blue satin, and even orange and black striped satin are very common.

PHENOMENA OF THE SUN AND MOON.—Three more eclipses of the moon and sun, will take place as follows: Annual eclipse of the sun, March 11th, at 8h. 34m. in the morning. Partial eclipse of the sun, July 23rd, at 8h. 30m. in the morning. Total eclipse of the sun, August 5th, at 4h. 6m. evening. This will be the greatest eclipse of the sun that will happen in this country until the last year of the century.

A SINGULAR FACT.—We have often noticed that there are very few colored children on our streets begging. They must all be very well cared for. Our Democratic friends will please take notice.—Dispatch.

WE have noticed that our "loll" government takes good care of the niggers—the poor white boys have to take care of themselves. Charley for bread, starvation or beggary for whites, "Bah for Gay and Grabat!"

Tobacco chewers, Chew Tins.—Some arithmetic calculates that if a tobacco chewer consumes two inches of plug a day, for fifty years, he will chew in that period 6,750 feet, or nearly half a mile, of tobacco, half an inch thick, and two inches broad, costing $2,500. And ejecting one pound of waste, or nearly 100,000 gallons—a respectable lake and almost large enough to float the Great Eastern in!

ACCIDENT.—Arm Broken.—About 5 o'clock on Wednesday evening, a German, residing in the "Yellow House," on Penn Street, near Ecker's store, was riding on a bicycle, when he fell rather more "heavily" on board than he could conveniently carry, accidentally staggered into breaking up holes along the street, and the car fell over the elbow. The pain to the man for whom he was riding, was sufficiently severe to be resuscitated from his dangerous situation.

PAINTING HOUSES.

Reported apartments prove that paint applied between November and March, will last twice as long as that applied in warm weather. The reason is that in cold weather the component parts of the paint form a hard substance on the surface, and are not so liable to be washed away in warm weather as the oil penetrates the boards, and the paint wears off.

EXPLOSION OF AN AIR PIPE AT THE STREET.

Middle of Seventh Street, between North 10th and 11th streets, on Monday evening, a gas pipe which had been connected into the main chamber, exploded. It would appear that gas generated in the pipe, and by some means it took fire, which caused the explosion. The explosion was so great that it was heard about a mile in general, but no serious damage was done.

REPORT OF MAIL MATTER DELIVERED AND COLLECTED BY LETTER CARRIERS AT POST OFFICE, READING, PA.

Table with 2 columns: Description of mail matter and Amount. Includes Carriers employed, Delivery trips daily, Mail letters delivered, Local letters, Newspapers, etc.

KUTZTOWN.—A correspondent to the Journal writes:

The people of Kutztown have renewed hopes for railroads from all points of the compass. It is an excellent thing, but realization is another thing.

Houses and building lots are looking up. Fisher & Mink sold to E. Butz & Sheridan a piece of ground on which they intend to erect an extensive tannery next summer.

Warner, Humbert & Co. sold a brick house to E. Butz & Sheridan on 10th street, for $4,000. This is one of the finest private residences here.

D. Sheridan and Wm. Wanner, Esq., have each built themselves splendid houses a little beyond the Keystone State Normal School. The buildings have the modern conveniences.

Some summer building operations promise an active renewal. Our friend, Elfish Detrick, intends putting up a private residence for his own home.

Our well-known friend, Wm. Meyer, has in "coming days" the building of a home for himself. This is the way the world is turning, and the world that honest toil finds its reward.

Our people seem to have another wave of religious worship erected next summer. The State Normal School is in excellent condition, and its prospects are ever brightening.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

REPORTED BY LOUIS RICHARDS, ATTORNEY AT LAW, 520 COURT STREET.

John Rhoads vs. Samuel Engle. 204 Jan. T. 1893. This was an action of assumpsit, to recover for nine months and fifteen days' services as captain and steersman of a boat on the Schuylkill canal, alleged to belong to plaintiff, at $65 per month.

Samuel Engle vs. John B. Kline, Jr. 47 April T. 1893. This was an action of replevin to recover the value of six cattle, sold by the defendant to the plaintiff in Upper Berks township, the allegation being that the cattle belonged to the plaintiff. The defendant offered to file a special plea in order to get in a special defence, and the evidence having been admitted by the Court, the plea alleged surprise, and the case was continued, the defendant being directed to file his special plea within five days, and the case being ordered upon the April 14th. Haysman for plaintiff, Decker for defendant.

Samuel Engle vs. John B. Kline, Jr. 78 April T. 1893. Sailed. Barclay and A. B. Wanner for plaintiff, Mattheberger and J. S. Richards for defendant.

John Kennedy vs. Lemon Bach. 82 April T. 1893. Referred under Act of 1705 to B. Frank Boyer, J. G. Hawley and Horace A. Yundt, Esqs.

Mellors & Kinsey vs. John Lath. 90 Nov. T. 1893. Referred under Act of 1705 to Amos B. Wanner, B. Frank Boyer and Horace A. Yundt, Esqs.

All the cases upon the list having been disposed of the Court, at 3 p. m., adjourned finally for the term.

BRIEF MENTIONS.

The new postage stamp will soon be on hand. Boys were seen yesterday afternoon on the Union canal. Too many loose bricks in our pavements. We want a museum in Reading. The institution would pay.

At the South-East corner of Tenth and Walnut streets is a flag crossing, containing a most dangerous trap for runaway carriages, on our daily rounds for items. People who sold goods at market yesterday got cold noses. A young man fell down the steps at a saloon on Penn street, last night. Not hurt.—Select Council will hold a meeting on Friday night, at the Reading Normal Company are calling in the full amount of the value of their shares. The mail works of Messrs. Bailey & Bro. of Pottsville, started out on eight hours a day on Wednesday.

The next convention of the National Lodge of the Order of Harugart will be held in this city. Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as she thinks her tongue is sharp.—Twenty-five building and repair permits were issued in this city during the month of January. A dog helped himself to a large piece of beef at market this morning. The weather is beautiful to-day, and many promoters on Penn street.—Several boys got into a canal boat last night at the foot of Chestnut street, and started it in the canal, and played cards. A splendid assortment of valentines for sale at the Eagle bookstore. Though everybody complains of hard times, very few people in this city are out of employment. A farmer offered six buses, and a horse, yesterday for $100. He thought they were cheap at that. A man went up a ladder, yesterday, to fix something at the cornice of a building. He had to give up the job. Too cold.—A large number of coal gatherers on the railroad yesterday.—Friendships are like our babies. If we don't feed them, they will gradually die of starvation. To remove stains from the carpet. Got rich.—Our oxen have notice the fall in coal and flour. Not much of a fall in this direction.—The fullest reports of prize fights are published in the Republican newspapers. The editors understand that such matters are related by their readers.—The lady who took everybody's eye must have quite a lot of 'em.—The Fourth street M. E. church was well filled last night.—A lover sees his sweetheart in everything he looks at, just as a man, bitten by a mad dog, sees his dog in his pants, dog in his hat, dog in his shoes, and goes to church to-morrow.—A new batch of well executed counterfeit fifty-cent notes have just been put into circulation. Look out for them.—A Revenue cutter is the man who don't pay his income tax.—Many persons destroy their window shades by applying a red poker to the putty, which will then readily yield to the knife and leave the sash clean. If a lady snaps you up, don't return the compliment, show that your skin is as tough as