CITY PRINTING.

Now that the election is over and our citizens have quietly settled down to the result. we wish to call attention to the fact that the Council Proceedings of the past year have not heen published in a way calculated to inform the great body of 'tax-payers as to what was going on in Council. We look at this question from this stand-point. The Council Proceedings are required by law to be published. Should not these proceedings be given to the public in the papers having the largest circulation in this city? Will any business man, claim that these proceedings should be published in a paper having the smallest circula-

With these questions before us, what would a fair business man do? We answer that he would have these proceedings published in the political papers of either party, provided that no Neutral paper had a circulation larger than either of the political papers.

In order to solve the question as to whether any Neutral paper in this city has as large a circulation as the EAGLE, the proprietors of the Exalle are willing to compare subscription lists and make affidavits thereto. We claim that our subscription list is more than three, if not four times larger than that of the Neutral paper in this city.

We submit that the city printing should be given to the Exalk and Dispatch, because they are papers read by the great majority of the tax-payers, both Democrats and Republicans. and placed under the charge of a civilian.

BERRIS AND SCHUYLKILL JOURNAL. The Journal of this morning, in its editorial columns, advertises us in a style-meediar to that paper.

Progress is one of the fundamental principles of the Democratic party, and when the Editors of the Journal so announce, it, we certainly can have no objections.

Will the Editors of the Journal answer the following questions:

Are you in favor of conferring corporate privileges where private enterprise can successfully accomplish what is proposed to be done by a corporation?

Are you in favor of National Banks? Are you in favor of paying off the National debt; and if so, how can it be done?

Do you believe the administrations of James Buchanan, Franklin Pierce, General Jackson and Thomas Jefferson to have been advantageous to the prosperity and growth of this country?

Would it be right to have a paid fire depart. ment for the City of Reading?

Over which streets should the passenger railway be built to make it pay from the start?

LETTER FROM GEN. MCOANDLESS. The following letter from Gen. Wm. Mc-Candless, whose name is prominently mentioned in connection with the Gubernatorial nomination, will be of interest to our readers. If other prominent Democrats, in times gone by, had been equally magnanimous, the Democratic party would have been more successful than it has been for some time

HARRISBURG, Fob. 9th, 1869. J. WARREN CONARD, ESQ.,

My Dear Sir :-- I have had the honor to read in your edition of the 4th inst., an article on the question of Governor, and for the kind expression of regard therein contained, relative to myself, I thank you.

In this contest I am entirely unselfish, and young enough to be magnatimous.

If General Hancock will agree to accept the nomination of our party, my first act shall be to decline being a candidate, and ask my friends to wheel into line and support him.

The Democratic party should have learned hy the bitter experience of the last few years, that it cannot, in either State or National Convention, ignore its active, living element with-out incurring defeat.

Yours truly, WM. McCANDLESS.

MONEY.

Coin is the only safe and reliable currency, because the value of coin never fluctuates. When a nation consents to use paper as a substitute for money, the people consent to become the slaves of the money changers, who are generally men without souls. Paper money is a fraud, and a curse to any nation which makes use of it, because it has no real value; and if there is coin ,enough to pay the alleged value of the paper on demand, there is coin enough to use as currency.

THE DISPATCH. - This paper has just entered its fourth year. It was started by Messrs. office, DAILY EAGLE and READING Buckwalter, Elliot & Shultz, three years ago. It was a question of serious doubt whether a daily newspaper in this city would pay, before the Dispatch was started. The Dispatch has solved this doubt. It is now a good paying paper. Some time since Mr. Buckwalter withdrew from the firm, selling out his interest to his co-partners for $4,500. We wish the Dispatch success pecuniarily, but condemn its course politically.

> FUNERALS cost too much now-a-days. This system of running the living in debt for the ake of conferring a doubtful honor upon the dead, by trailing after them a long string of carriages, half of them empty, and half of the remainder filled with persons who go to the funeral merely for a ride, is foolish and wrong, and should be frowned down.

$70,000 MORE, in coin, was sent to the Eu ropean bondholders, on Thursday, in the steamer Donan, from New York for Bremen, via Southampton. Americans, hard over your gold and silver-your European masters need it-to lavish it on foreign luxuries! White slaves, pay your taxes!

Browntow's Kingbon must be a pleasant place of residence, judging from the numerous murders and outrages constantly occurring there. At Memphis, on the 5th inst., a row occurred at a ball, in which five men were wounded-one dangerously, two severely, and two slightly.

THE EXECUTION OF WHALEN. Bearing of the Prisoner-No Definite Con. fession—The Exhibition Public, and Inredy Attended—The Affair Passes off Without a Disturbance.

eged murderer of the Hon. Thomas D'Arcy McGee, Minister of Agriculture for the new Government of Canada, was executed upon the gallows this morning at a few minutes past 11 o'clock, in the town of Ottawa, Canada. The prisoner had, up to a few days ago, conduct. ed himself with great unconcern, and oven in-dulged in ribaldry and obscene jesting in view of his end. It was thought he indulged hopes, almost to the very last, that he would not be hung. Early in the morning people began to assemble outside the jail, in Stewart street, eager to witness the revolting scene, manifesting that morbid curiosity which many, both men and women, always exhibit on such occasions. By 10 o'clock the streets were crowded with a heterogenous moli, and many persons had perched themselves on the tops of the houses in the vicinity for the purpose of obtaining a better view. The morning was dull and cloudy, with a drifting snow from the cast.
At 101 o'clock it was estimated there were at What do you think of the purchase of Alastan?

The guard, inside and out, consisted of regular soldiers. The arrangements for quelling any attempt at rescue were very complete. Various surmises were freely circulated in the crowd as to how Whalen would deport himself in the emergency. Some said he had fully made up his mind cy. Some said he had fully made up his mind to confess, while others were sure he would implicate some other party, and furnish the public with another feast of horrors. It was carnestly hoped by the more thoughtful and considerate that at least some light, would be thrown upon the mystery, and that he would tell who had fired the fatal shot, if he did not.

At the worth minutes before 11 c'eleale the fatal shot. At twenty minutes before 11 o'clock the favored few were admitted to the landing place on the scaffold. At this moment not an inch of space within view of the scaffold was un-occupied. The suspense was intense. At a few minutes after 11 o'clock the door of the corridor opened, and the solemn voice of Father O'Connor was heard in earnest prayer for the doomed man. The prisoner as-cended the steps to the scaffold in company with the officials and three Catholic priests. Whalen walked firmly and erect, and sciented but little moved. It wore a green silk necktie. As he walked up, he was repeating in unison with his confessor and spiritual adviser, "Lord have mercy on us." A death-like stillness reigned throughout the great multitude as Whalen stepped upon the drop and remained firm and upricht on the drop, and remained firm and upright, almost rigid, while the fatal noose was adjusted. The executioner stood at his left side, clad in a blue calico jacket and pants, and a red and white striped cap, his face masked with black passes away the barbarism of our century; and | crape. When the rope was adjusted, Whalen was asked by the Sheriff if he had anything to say, when he made the following remarks:

"I beg pardon for any offence I may have As none of John Brown's useless pikes were jured me, and I ask forgiveness of all whom I may have injured. God save Ireland, and God save my soul!"

The signal was then given, and the drop fell the time of his execution. She seemed to have suffered greatly; and was very bitter toward the authorities. It is reported that Whalen made Amos Form. authorities. It is reported that Whalen made a full written statement, which he gave into the custody of the Sheriff, and which has not yet been made public.—Tribune.

OUR ROOSTER FLAPS HIS WINGS. AND CROWS MORE DEFLANTLY THAN EVER!

LET US BE JOYFUL!

The municipal election yesterday resulted in a glorious triumph for the Domocracy. The city ticket has been elected by a handsome majority, and we have carried a large majority of the ward officers. By this vote Reading has determined to remain in the Democratic column. She has no love for Radicalism or Negro Suffrage in any shape or form. Our beautiful and growing city has likewise determined that her future prosperity and progress shall not be hindered by the selection of men who are in sympathy with the bold and reckless majority of the present Congress and State Legislature. She is for white men; at all times and under all circumstances, to govern and control the

THE ALMIGHTY DOLLAR. - Five months since. a Dr. Ridley, of Boston, amputated the leg of a five-year old son of his, who had been injured by being run over by an omnibus. For this damage to his son he collected six thousand dollars. It now turns out that the boy's great and next to the great toe were alone injured, and this not sufficient to require more than two splints, bandages, and a little care. But, to recover damages, the Christian father gave his child chloroform, amputated the leg flow the knee, and recovered pay for the damages he alone caused. It is not long since the inhuman monster was making speeches against the Southern people for whipping negro servants. What a regular, loyal Yankee will not do for the almighty dollar God only knows.—N. Y. Democrat.

ANCIENT DUNGEONS under the site of the old Saxon and Norman castles at Guildford, England, have been uncovered by the corps of engineers which has been detailed for this work. One dungeon, 60 feet by 57 and 9 to 15 feet high, has been opened. It will hold six hundred persons. Six more dangeons are sup-posed to exist. Guildford, thirty miles south-west of London, is the chief town of Surrey county, and is on the river Wye in a break o the Surrey downs. It existed as a royal domain in the time of Alfred the Great, who bequeathed it to his nephew Ethelbert I. In the reign of Harold I, in 1036, Alfred, a royal prince, son of Ethelbert II, was seized at this place and confined in the dungeons. Six hundred of his Norman followers were also captured and slaughtered.

Finally the depredations became so frequent that number of them formed themselves into a Vigilance Committee. One of their number was Mr. Hiram Young, a well-to-do, respecta-ble farmer. Suspicion at last fell on a lad named Hammett, employed by Mr. Young: this young man, however, turned State's evidence upon his employer, who it appears, compelled the boy and brother to help him fleece his neighbors. The tespectable scoundrel was held in $6,000 bail for his appearance at Court, and the Hammett boys in $2,000 each.
