The proprietors of the Eagle hereby give notice that they have not time to notice every cur that barks at them:

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S admirers in Nashville are to give him a reception upon his arrival theto, when the hero of Greenville is expected to make a speech and "define his views."—Phila. North American.

What clinnges will come over the spirit of men's dreams. Seven, six, five, four, ayo, even but three years ago, Andrew Johnson was the impersonation of "loyalty" and patriotism, according to Radical teachings. But Andrew Johnson proved true to the oath of his high office, he had respect for and defended the Constitution which he had sworn to support, and for this Hadical hate and malignity will never furgive him. They sneeringly *call him "the hero of Greenville," but forget his self-sacrifleing and earnest devotion to country when it required more of other my public or private relations, is than lip patriotism to be a Union man in not to be impugned. Nor will I permit Tonnessee. The official, and editor of the North American, who " went a fishing" when the President of the United States visited Philadelphia, so that he should not be called upon to pay that respect due to the Chief Magistrate of the nation, is the proper sort of an individual, we admit, to sneer at and ridicule Andrew Johnson! Lip service, noisy bellowings at street corners, and pretty afterdinner speeches, are the best possible among the parties interested. It was ovidences of Mr. ex Mayor McMichael's stated at the same time that Mr. Bickley "loyalty;" but to expose one's person to the enough bullets, go right down into willing to abide by the decision of the the midst of the robellion itself, face the congregation of the church. the midst of the rebellion itself, face the storn men of the Southern Confederacy, and tell them that he was true to and was willing to die for the Union and the Constitution, are characteristic only of a man of the Spartan virtue, heroism and patriotism of Andrew Johnson! The one a stay-at-home coward and noisy declaimer against "copperheads" and other Union men; the other a true patriot, who faced danger in the "times that tried men's souls!" This is the slight difference between Morton McMichael and Andrew the two men? We know that each and every one of you will declare in favor of the Hero, Statesman and Patriot. Andrew

PORK AS FOOD,

The recent deaths from trichina New York are creating some excitement in the way of the passage of the bill. This amongst pork eaters, as they should do is a plain and truthful statement of my and many persons will rejoice at the connection with the church matter. It is asserted that persons who totally abstain from pork are free from consump. doubt that the flesh of swine, under their present habit of living, is absolutely in. jurious to any one not having the digestion of an ostrich, to say nothing of the great danger of a horrible death by the myriad worms which abound in the barcass of the filthy beast.

The New York correspondent of the Phila. Ledger says:

"A sensation was created on Tuesday afternoon by a statement from the Coronor that several deaths occurred last week seven cases occurred in a German boarding house in Carlisle street. Of those, two proved fatal; the others are under treatment at the City Hospital. "A place of flash, it seems, was taken from the arm of one of the deceased, and on being subjected to a miscroscopic examination, was found to contain myriads

If it is used at all, let it be cooked very thoroughly, and partaken of in moderation, although one would imagine that the many recent deaths from trichina would dissaude all prudent persons from the use of such a dangerous article of food.

THE Allentown Daily News appears to us to be a pretty good sort of paper, at least what little we have seen of it. The News might, however, occasionally give credit to the DAILY EAGLE for the articles it takes from it and publishes as its own. "Saturday Evening Thoughts" was original with the Excee, and if it was worth copying, it was certainly worth giving crodit for. We do not like plagiarists of any kind or sort.,

HALL OF HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, Harrisburg, Feb. 10, 1809. Mesers Ritter & Co., Editors Reading

Daily Eagle:
Gentlemen — My attention has been called to an editorial in one of the Rending dailies of the 12th inst., which is an unwarrantable and unjustifiable attack apon my character as a private citizen and a member of the Honse of Assembly. The language used in the article is unbecoming and discreditable to any gentleman connected with the editorial fraterhity. That my public acts are fair subjects for newspaper criticism I do not attempt to deny; but my "word of honor." it to be.

In regard to the passage of the bill for the sale of the burial ground of the German Reformed congregation of the city of Reading, I have this to say:

Just before the passage of the bill. I was waited upon by two of the gentlemen who are on the committee elected by the church. They distinctly stated to me, in presence of two of my colleagues, that all the difficulties which had heretofore exlitted had been amicably adjusted, and would not in any manuer oppose the pas-

When the gentlemen on the part of the committee called upon me, they handed ine the proceedings of the meeting of the members of the church on the previous Monday evening, together with other necessary documents. They pledged me their words of bonor that the matter was all right. An interview took place, at which I was present, between these two gentlemen. The explanations being mu-tually satisfactory, I took charge of the bill and had it passed through the Honse under a suspension of the rules.

I was not aware at the time that there was any objection to the bill on the par o this belief by the statement made to my colleagues and myself. I confess I was somowhat surprised.

few days after the passage of the bill, to as a State bank. learn from Mr. Bickley, and another gentleman, that they were opposed to its becoming a law. I had every reason to suppose, previous to this time, that Mr. acted throughout with the purest motives, as I could not, either directly or indirect the General Appropriation hill.

can be otherwise than unhealthy we fail which the Reading daily lays so much to perceive, and how any person who is "word of honor" to either vote for it or against it. The assertion of the editor hat I did is a wilful and malicious falsehood, and I brand it as such. I am somewhat amused at the other assertion, that unless a bill meets the approval of tion and scrofula. Whether this is true or not we cannot say; but we have no sentatives should be careful how they vote upon it. This is simply ridiculous: I will not allow any other member to dictate to me how I shall vote on any measure that may present itself.

I am responsible to my constituents alone for my votes. My record speaks for itself, and I am willing to stand by it.

apprentices:
Article 1. The term of apprenticeship for boys shall not be less than four years, take as many apprentices as their business will warrant.

Article 2. The apprentices shall be well and uniformly remunerated at the following rates:—For the first year, $1 25; second year, $1 50; third year, $2; fourth year, and for the remainder of the apprenticeship, $2 50 per day. Should the wages of the journeymen advance or fall below the present rate of five dollars per day, the association claim the right to advance or reduce the wages of the apprentice in the proportion with interest to date.

Article 3d. No master mason shall accent the apprentice of another, unless at the request of the master himself, when temporarily unable to employ the apprentice or for other reasons satisfactory to both parties. In case of retirement from business, or the death of a master, the officers of the association shall find emplayment for the apprentice; where he can finish the term of his apprenticeship. Nothing in the above shall be construed to prevent any master mason from tak-
