means at their command to bring to trial even the chief of the rebellion. Indeed, the remarkable failures in his case were so often repeated that, for propriety's sake, if no other reason, it became at last necessary to extend to him an unconditional pardon. What more plainly than this illustrates the extremity of party management and inconsistency on the one hand, and of faction, vindictiveness and intolerance on the other? Patriotism will hardly be encouraged, when in such a record it sees that its instant reward may be the most virulent party abuse and obloquy, if not attempted disgrace.

Instead of seeking to make treason odious, it would, in truth, seem to have been their purpose rather to make the defence of the Constitution and Union a crime, and to punish fidelity to an oath of office, if counter to party dictation, by all the means at their command. Happily for the peace of the country, the war has determined against the assumed power of the States to withdraw at pleasure from the Union. The institution of slavery also found its destruction in a rebellion commenced in its interests. It should be borne in mind, however, that the war neither impaired nor destroyed the Constitution, but, on the contrary, preserved its existence and made apparent its real power and enduring strength. All the rights granted to the States, or reserved to the people, therefore, are intact. Among those rights is that of the people of each State to declare the qualification of their own State electors.

It is now assumed that Congress can control this right, which can never be taken away from the States without impairing the fundamental principles of the government itself. It is necessary to the existence of the States, as well as to the protection of the liberties of the people, for the right to select the elector in whom the political power of the State shall be lodged involves the right of the State to govern itself. When deprived of this prerogative, the States will have no power worth retaining. All will be gone, and they will be subjected to the arbitrary will of Congress. The Government will then be centralized, if not by the passage of laws, then by the adoption, through partisan influence, of an amendment directly in conflict with the original design of the Constitution.—This proves how necessary it is that the people should require the administration of the three great departments of the Government strictly within the limits of the Constitution. Their boundaries have been accurately defined, and neither should be allowed to trespass upon the other; nor, above all, to encroach on the reserved rights of the people and the States.

The troubles of the past four years will prove to the nation blessings if they produce so desirable a result. Upon those who became young men amid the sound of cannon, and din of arms, and quietly returned to the farm, the factories and the schools of the land, will principally devolve the solemn duty of perpetuating the union of the States, in defence of which hundreds of thousands of their comrades expired, and hundreds of millions of national obligations were incurred. A happy people will not neglect the training necessary to resist aggression, but they should be jealous lest their will be made subordinate to the military element. The need to encourage in every legitimate way a study of the Constitution for which the war was waged, a knowledge of and reverence for whose wise checks by those so soon to occupy the places filled by their seniors will be the only hope of preserving the republic. The young men of the nation not yet under the control of party must resist the tendency to centralization, an outgrowth of the great rebellion, and be familiar with the fact that the country consists of united States, and that when the States surrendered certain great rights for the sake of a more perfect union, they retained rights as valuable and important as those which they relinquished for the commonwealth.

This same old doctrine, far different from the teachings that led to the attempt to secede, and a kindred theory that States were taken out of the Union by the rash acts of conspirators that happened to dwell within their borders, must be received and advocated with the enthusiasm of early manhood, or the people will be ruled by corrupt combinations of the commercial centres, who, plethoric from wealth, annually migrate to the capital of the nation to purchase special legislation. Until the representatives of the people in Congress more fully exhibit the diverse means and interests of the whole nation, and the laws cease to be made without full discussion at the behest of some party leader, there will never be a proper respect shown by the law-making power either to the judicial or executive branch of the Government.

The generation just beginning to use the ballot box, it is believed, only need that their attention should be called to these considerations to indicate by their votes that they wish their representatives to observe all the restraints which the people, in adopting the Constitution, intended to impose upon party excess. Calmly viewing my administration of the Government, I feel that I, with a sense of accountability to God, having conscientiously endeavored to discharge my whole duty, I have nothing to regret.—Events have proved the correctness of the policy set forth in my first and subsequent messages. The woes which have followed the rejection of offered magnanimity and constitutional rule are known and deplored by the nation.

It is a matter of pride and gratification, in retiring from the most exalted position in the gift of a free people, to feel and know that in a long, arduous and eventful public life, my action has never been influenced by the desire for gain, and that I can, in all sincerity, inquire, whom have I defrauded? whom have I oppressed, or of whose hand have I received any bribe to blind my eyes therewith? No responsibility for wars that have been waged or blood that has been shed rests upon me. My thoughts have been those of peace, and my effort has ever been to allay contentions among my countrymen. Forgetting the past, let us return to the first principles of the Government, and, unfurling the banner of our country, inscribe upon it, in inefaceable characters, "the Constitution and the Union, one and inseparable."

ANDREW JOHNSON.

Washington, D. C., March 4, 1869.

A NUMBER of neat frame houses have been erected out Tenth street, on the slope of Neversink Hill. The majority of them were built by Mr. Stephen, the enterprising contractor. A number of others are being built at the same place.

THE fine young chestnut trees on the summit of Neversink Hill are being cut away. Some of them are made into rails, and others into firewood. A thick growth of underbrush remains, with a number of young chestnut shoots, which may, in time, become as valuable as the present thrifty growth.

TO CURE SORE THROAT.—Beat the whites of two eggs with two spoonfuls of white sugar, grated in a little nutmeg, and half a pint of lukewarm water. Beat up well and take a wine glass of it every three hours.

READING, PA.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 10, 1869.

THE Eagle Book Store, ADLER office, DAILY EAGLE and READING GAZETTE & DEMOCRAT have been removed to 542 Penn street, Schmucker House building, opposite the Keystone House.

MR. JACOB R. SCHREYER is our authorized agent to obtain subscriptions for the DAILY EAGLE, the GAZETTE AND DEMOCRAT, and the ADLER. He will commence his canvass of the county at once.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.

A Democratic Gain of 3,500 since November.

CONCORD, March 10.

The New Hampshire election was held yesterday. The Republicans elected Onslow Stearns, their candidate for Governor, by about 3,500 majority, and carried the three Congressional districts. They have also a large majority in the Legislature.

General Grant's majority in November was 7000.

THE NEW CABINET.—Mr. A. T. Stewart, yesterday, resigned the Secretaryship of the Treasury.

Mr. Adolph Borie had been qualified as the Secretary of the Navy, and inspected his Department, yesterday.

A WARNING TO YOUNG MEN.

The Norristown correspondent of the Pottstown Ledger gives the following account of the departure of Wade's gang of robbers from that place, on their way to the Eastern Penitentiary. Every young man, and every boy, especially every one whose ideas of such characters are derived from the too numerous yellow-covered novels of the present day, which exalt villains into heroes, should read this article and reflect upon the difference between romance and the plain, unvarnished truth of the old maxim—"The way of the transgressor is hard:"

CHAIN GANG.—Last Wednesday evening a gang of eight men were taken from our prison to Philadelphia, to be placed in the Eastern Penitentiary. They comprised that lot of desperadoes who have produced such terror throughout our county, in their assaults upon peaceable households, for the purpose of robbery and other desperate acts. At the head of these follows were Wade and Hummel. The party had all been convicted at the recent session of the Court, and the Judge sentenced them to ten and twelve years solitary confinement and hard labor in the Eastern Penitentiary. Amongst the gang were those who appeared young, and had scarcely any of the marks of crime depicted on their countenances; others looked the very desperadoes they were, their long life of sin having impressed its evil marks upon their faces. Judging from the severity of the sentences, it seems the Court was determined to put a stop to such desperate acts that have for months past been developed throughout the county. It is not alone the loss in goods a family sustains by these midnight prowlers, but the perfect alarm and future terror a family is left in after such a raid as these robbers make upon a home, is almost unbearable. Each two were fastened together with handcuffs by the wrists, and a crowd followed them to the depot, and gazed upon them as if they had been wild animals. They withstood the scrutiny without evincing any emotion. It is stated that when they were taken into the Penitentiary, and were being prepared for their long and dreary incarceration, their bravado gave way and some of them shed tears. Along with these eight, were two young lads sentenced by the Court to the House of Refuge to remain there until 21 years of age. If any one has doubt of the truth of that sentence, which says "the way of the transgressor is hard," they should have had a glimpse at these men, chained together, being conveyed by the Sheriff, on a bright, beautiful morning, to the gloomy cells of a Penitentiary, to be imprisoned for a decade of years, solitary and at hard labor. It is a fearful warning to those young men who start out gaily in life without moral principle or a christian character to give them security and keep them in the paths of virtue and right. One false step, one evil companion, one glass of rum, one taste of tobacco, the first deliberate violation of the laws of God, is often but the prelude to disgrace and absolute ruin. Shun the first step.

COLLECTOR AND ASSESSOR.

Asa Hart, Esq., for Collector, J. Ross Miller, Esq., for Assessor.

Mr. Hart is an old, experienced and reliable merchant in this city. He has carried on a large and varied business for years. He has purchased largely from the house of Hon. A. T. Stewart, present Secretary of the Treasury. By his economy and liberality, he has won the confidence of the public in this county. He has stood first and foremost among our leading merchants for years, and is honest, industrious and frugal. He has watched the prosperity of this city from the time it was a borough until it has attained the population of 50,000 inhabitants. His voice has always been heard for prosperity and advancement. We hope that Mr. Stewart will appoint him, as he is honest, capable and deserving.

J. Ross Miller, Esq., is a young lawyer of studious habits and good judgment. He is backed by a host of friends, and has been for years a leader of the K. of P. and J. S. of America. His eminence as a lawyer is unquestionable, and he is a brilliant in the social circle. He bears the same business relations to the citizens of Reading as the constellation of the Ursus Major does to the rest of the heavens. He was one of the first and warmest supporters of Gen. Grant, and was a private of a company at the battle of Antietam, memorable in song and story, which maimed him for life. Steadfast and ardent in Republicanism, well-versed in the principles of international law as expounded by Vattell, he is honest, capable and deserving, and for years has fought valiantly for base political opponents. As the editor of the "Hamburg Herald" he has shown himself an able and witty writer; and in conclusion we say if merit is considered, J. Ross Miller is the appointee. M.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1867.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœia, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation, With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD.

Chemist and Druggist of 16 Years' Experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he, occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise.

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN.
Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil, in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence, or in the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of the organs, whether in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the greatest Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. Price—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

MACEDONIAN OIL TRIUMPHANT.

WILL YOU PLEASE READ THIS!

Reading, Pa., Jan. 12, 1869.—Mr. Wm. C. Krouse, No. 204 South Fifth street, says the M. M. Oil is the only thing which has given strength to his broken arm—has used it in his family for Earache, Neuralgia, and frosted feet, performing in each case a wonderfully quick and radical cure.

E. FOX, Proprietor of Keystone House, certifies that three bottles of the Oil cured a strain in a Horse, valuing the cure at $100.

JOHN KEMP, Policeman, says the Oil cured him of a severe fracture of the collar bone.

The above named persons are well known in this vicinity, and are living witnesses.

Having furnished such ample testimony at the times we advertised with the

THIS COMPANY INSURES ALL kinds of property against loss or damage by fire at rates as low as any other reliable Company and upon every plan known to Stock Insurance Companies.

Perpetual Policies issued requiring no renewal and upon which the amount of premium paid can be reclaimed at any time less a deduction of five per cent. The advantages of this method are worthy of the attention of farmers and others having first-class dwelling houses, barns and other buildings, in town or country, as being the cheapest and safest.

Policies for one, two, three, five or more years, or for less than one year, issued and no charge made for Policy and survey when renewed or when insurances are transferred from other companies.

The citizens of Reading and vicinity, hitherto dependent mainly upon foreign companies, have now the privilege of effecting their insurances in a home institution, well organized, with an adequate paid in and guaranteed capital, presenting as strong a basis of security as that of any other company. The advantage of doing business directly with the Company and the importance of keeping some portion of the large sums paid for insurances, in circulation at home, will be appreciated by all.

DR. JACKSON'S ANALEPTICA.

A NEW REMEDY IN CONSUMPTION.

A physician who had consumption for several years, with frequent bleeding of the lungs, cured himself with a medicine unknown to the profession, when his case appeared hopeless, and when given up by several eminent physicians as incurable. He is the only physician who has used it in his own person, or who has any knowledge of its virtues, and he can ascribe the degree of health he now enjoys to nothing but the use of this medicine; and nothing but utter despair and entire extinction of all hope of recovery, together with a want of confidence in all others, induced him to hazard the experiment. To those suffering with this malady, he proffers a treatment which he confidently believes will eradicate the disease and restore health. He has witnessed recoveries that seemed beyond hope, when the worst symptoms existed. Call or send for Circular.
