Correspondents should make their communications short and to the point. Our space is too limited for very long articles. Write only on one side of the paper, and explainly as possible, without flourishes.

SUBSCRIBERS who fail to receive the EAGLE regularly, will confer a favor by leaving notice at this office, where all complaints of irregularity or lateness of delivery will be promptly attended to.

ADVERTISERS are requested to hand in their advertisements as early in the day as possible, as our rapidly increasing circulation compels us to go to press about 2 p. m.

BRIEF MENTIONS.

The lost gun—advertised in the EAGLE a few days ago—has been left at this office. The owner can have it by calling on us. So much for advertising!

D. P. Boyer, M. D., has opened an office for the practice of medicine at No. 39 North Sixth street.

All fools' day comes on Thursday this year. No doubt many will suffer the penalties of such a day.

Messrs. Mellert & Kinsey, Iron Founders, have just taken the contract for supplying the town of Lockhaven with water pipes.

Scarlet fever is prevailing in this city.

A young man named Seyfort, employed in the Machine shop of the Scott Works, and residing in Walnut above Ninth street, had his left hand badly scald on Friday morning, while engaged in taking a plug from a waste steam pipe.

We stopped in at the Copper shop of Mr. Peter Ream, on Cherry alley, between Third and Fourth, yesterday, and found that he was full of work. He showed us some fine specimens of work, copper kettles, still kettles, pipes, etc., the workmanship of which reflects much credit upon his establishment.

Mr. Eyrich has disposed of his stock and fixtures in the Blandon Hotel, at Blandon Station, and will take up his residence in this city.

The Adventists are preparing to go up on the 10th of July next sure. There is to be no more fooling about it, they say.

Our lady readers who frequently are at a loss for needles, would do well to examine their pin-cushions. A friend of ours, being at a loss for a needle yesterday, tore open her cushion, and found about fifty needles imbedded in the stuffing.

One of the pleasures of life—Taking off new boots, and putting on old slippers.

Yesterday could not have been more exhilarating if "made to order." The air was full of vigor and health, and the streets thronged with beauty and fashion.

Jupiter is the evening star.

The iron foundry of Messrs. Jones, Cox & Co., situate in South Tenth street, near Spruce, is now in full operation. A large number of hands are employed in these works, and we are glad to state that the firm are pressed with work.

The stockholders of the Reading Library Company will hold a meeting at Library Hall on Monday evening, March 19th.

The copartnership of Till & Broneiser, of this city, has been dissolved.

Councils hold a regular meeting this evening.

The entire fire department was run out last night. The alarm was caused by a slight fire at the Reading Railroad shops.

Harrisburg takes to stilts in preference to the velocipede.

We have discovered all that is wanted to make a successful velocipedianologist is confidence and the know how. With these qualifications there is no difficulty in the way, not the slightest.

During the alarm of fire last night a man ran against a post in Sixth street with such force that he was thrown on his back. His nose bled, but he was not otherwise injured.

Politeness on the part of a storekeeper is like money put at interest—a source of profit to the investor.

Ladies should not stand on the sidewalk at night, when there is an alarm of fire. Last night three ladies were run into the gutter in Sixth street.

Wagons sink into the mud, in some parts of the county, to the hub.

A robin was seen this morning at Lauer's Park. Rather early for Rob.

ENLARGEMENT.—The Journal appeared this morning in an enlarged and greatly improved form, making it now one of the largest and handsomest weeklies in the State. The Journal, barring its politics, is an excellent paper, and we are glad to see that the efforts of its worthy and energetic proprietors are being crowned with so much pecuniary success.

UNDERMINED.—There are few localities that present such extensive beds of iron ore as are to be found in and near Boyertown, this county. A great portion of that borough is undermined. For a number of years from thirty to forty tons of ore have been taken out per day, and the supply still seems to be inexhaustible. Almost every acre of ground in the vicinity has been leased for prospecting purposes. This is especially the case since the beginning of operations on the Colebrookdale Railroad. A correspondent, who gives us this information, thinks that at no distant day, Boyertown "will be one of the manufacturing towns of Pennsylvania."—Journal.

MAILING PRINTED MATTER.—The attention of the public is directed, through the Postal Record, to the following rule of the Postoffice Department, which applies to printed matter of any kind which is not so done up for mailing that it can be thoroughly examined at the Postoffice where it is first deposited:

"Postmasters will charge and collect postage at the rate of three cents for each half ounce, on any newspaper or periodical so marked or written upon as to give other information than that contained in the print. The same charge will be made when it is so enclosed that it cannot be examined without destroying the wrapper. The same applies to any printed matter which may be sent at less than letter postage."

It is not sufficient to clip a corner of the envelope as is often done.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE FROM BEING FROZEN TO DEATH.—A man by the name of Michael Beain, while intoxicated, came to the public house of Augustus Eshelman (Plow tavern) in Robeson township on the evening of Saturday, 6th inst. At about 8 o'clock, he left for his home, which is about two miles distant, but he had only left the tavern about three hundred yards, as is supposed, before he fell or laid down, and was not found until Sunday morning. He was heard by Wm. S. Duchman, in the evening about 10 o'clock, and as the wind was so very cold and strong he could not distinctly hear, and thought that some one went the road and sung or halloed, as is frequently the case. On Sunday morning Mr. Duchman again heard some screams in the same direction. He immediately went to the spot, accompanied by the landlord, and to their great astonishment found the man in a helpless condition, sitting on his knees and hands, almost frozen to death. He was taken back to the tavern, and Dr. T. S. Gearhart was immediately called for, who did everything in his power in order to save his life. His hands and feet were frozen as hard as stone. At first no hopes were entertained of his recovery, but through the good treatment of Dr. Gearhart and the hospitality of the landlord, he soon came to life again. It is feared that amputation will become necessary. As the cold was so very severe on that night, the coldest night we had this winter, it is wonderful that he escaped from being entirely frozen to death. Let this be a warning to all those who are in the habit of taking too much.

BERKS COUNTY ALMS HOUSE, March 12, 1869.

EDITOR DAILY EAGLE:—A few days ago I was in town, to look for a business for myself. I was informed that a vacancy had to be filled for dog-catcher. I went up North 5th street, and noticed an old establishment of that kind (Evening dog-catching office.) I paid a visit to that sanctum, and was very glad to find my old friend, the Chief Editor, in his usual style—like I was; and we remembered our old times, when he had plenty of tea. After our company was formed, Charley asked me if $200 worth of whiskey would be sufficient for the season. I told him that we at our place don't use so much for 30 or 35 workingmen, by 2 drinks a day, during harvesting and haymaking. Now, brother, in your evening shirt, which is a misunderstanding, you had the question—

"Who drank $200 worth of whiskey, charged to the Alms House, and published in the County Account?" Charley, I had my share. I pity you (doch sol sufrieden.) I expect Black Diana, the night she left something for you; if not, then Himmel Hergotts Zuendnadel Gewehr, Grannatendonnerwetter let us have peace. Then old Pottsy is dead.

Velocipedes.

MR. EDITOR:—Seeing in your useful paper something about the velocipedine to come in vogue again, I here will state the following account of it, which I find in the Philadelphia Register and National Recorder, printed in the year 1819, with two profiles of the simple machine:

"Baron Von Drais, at the Court of the Grand Duke of Baden, is the inventor of this ingenious machine,—called "Drais Laufmaschine" by the Germans, and "Draisena," in French. The account says that the Baron traveled with the machine, in one hour, four hours road travel.

By looking at the machine, I think a very good one could be made for from $20 to $25, which should not exceed 35 pounds in weight. Having nothing to do, I thought I would write you this, as I think printers cannot have too much real information upon any topic.

Yours, JOHN CHRISTIAN, Sr.,
Exeter.

Encouraging for the Trade of 1869.

Since the first of January we have shipped nearly a million bushels of wheat to Europe against about a quarter of a million last year. This is encouraging. All we have to do to establish a healthy trade is to produce a surplus, and to afford it cheap enough.

The prices of bread-stuffs in New York are much lower than last year at this time. No. 1 spring wheat now sells at $1.70 per bushel against $2.40 last February; prime California wheat now sells at $2 per bushel against $3.25 last February; the best California flour now sells at $10.50 per barrel against $16.50 last February; prime brands of St. Louis flours now sell at $11@$11.50 per barrel against $17 last February.

Philadelphia Boot and Shoe Market.

The Shoe and Leather Reporter says: Trade among the jobbers has decidedly improved the past week. There are now in the market buyers from Alabama, Texas, Tennessee, Mississippi, North Carolina, Ohio, New Jersey and towns in Pennsylvania, making purchases of them. Manufacturers having most of the southern trade have also been more busy, an increased number of buyers from the south having also made purchases from them. Orders continue coming in well, and the manufacturing branch of the trade is now very active. The auction houses have been more largely attended the past week by buyers from out of town, and better prices obtained. Very considerable additions have been made to the stocks of the jobbers from New England manufactories, and the prospects are now encouraging for a good spring trade.

LARGE SPECIAL TRADE SALE.—We desire to call the special attention of our readers to the very large sale of new and elegant Furniture, to be held on Tuesday, March 16th, at 10 o'clock, at Concert Hall Auction Rooms, 1219 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. This sale is on account of large manufacturers and dealers, consisting of some three hundred suits of Walnut and Cottage Furniture, of the latest and most fashionable styles, comprising parlor, chamber and dining room suits. This is a rare opportunity for dealers and consumers, as the sale is without reserve. T. A. MCCLELLAND, Auctioneer. mar 10-4td

SECOND EDITION.

1 1-2 O'CLOCK P. M.

BUSHONG & BROTHER pay three per cent. on all daily balances, four per cent. for one month and five per cent. for one year.

THE fashionable term at present used in Reading to describe aristocratic young men when they become too heavily loaded with "fusil oil," at private or public gatherings, is "fusiliers." When a poor miserable fellow, with but few of the comforts of this life, gets in the same condition, he is called a "drunken loafer"—a distinction, it seems to us, without a difference.

Great rush for the velocipede hat at at J. C. Bunting's, 541 Penn street.

Maggie A. Boyer has taken the store No. 704 Penn street, where she will keep a full line of Millinery goods.

The Order of Knights of Pythias of this city is increasing wonderfully in its numbers, and all over the County promises to become fully as strong as the Masons.

THE Eagle Hotel in Williamsport, with most of its contents, was destroyed by fire on the morning of the 10th inst.

READING.—We paid a flying visit to Reading, on Thursday last, and find that town increasing rapidly, but the "Fathers" are reticent in the matter of having the streets and pavements kept in good trim. The rapid growth of that quaint old city is notable in every street, new and improved buildings going up everywhere. The people show activity, enterprise and spirit. The large manufacturing establishments, the machine shops, the commercial, and the railroad interests that centre there and connect with various portions of the State, all produce an impression of youthful vigor and freshness upon the visitor.

But one thing Reading is behind in, and that is a substantial and commodious passenger depot. The old, rickety and inconvenient buildings now occupied as passenger depots, are a disgrace to that go-ahead town.

Of the editorial fraternity, we were glad to meet Elliott and Shultz, of the Dispatch; Sanderson of the Gazette; Shalters of the Times; and A. S. Whitman; all of whom seemed to be on the high road to prosperity. As an evidence of advancement we may mention that the Dispatch is about putting in a new Hoe press, and extending their printing facilities. A. S. Whitman and Mr. Hollibush have opened a job office on Court street, which bids fair to become a prosperous institution.

Mishler and Moers do an extensive dry goods business at the celebrated Globe Store. There are few stores in the State that will compare favorably with theirs in point of elegance, convenience, quality of goods, &c. The proprietors are enterprising, liberal and progressive.

We accidentally met the Prince of Brewers, Mr. Frederick Lauer, whose brewing establishments, vaults, &c., are the most extensive in the United States. His ale has a reputation second to no other make, because of its elegant flavor, pure quality, and made with care and of the very best materials. His works at this time are taxed to their utmost capacity in order to supply the demand for this celebrated ale, not only for home use, but throughout the United States.—He had just sent off some fifty barrels to the proprietor of the extensive restaurant in the National Capitol, and other places in Washington city. Mr. Lauer is entensively known in this country, not only as a brewer, but as having one of the deepest Artesian wells. He is liberal in ideas, progressive in spirit and popular in all movements that pertain to the public good.

We were pleased to meet Mr. Joseph Rambo, another one of Reading's solid men. He is a driving go-ahead person, and an extensive dealer and shipper of cattle, horses, hogs, mules, &c. He obeys the scriptural injunction, which says: "Be not forgetful to entertain strangers." We were hospitably entertained and set down to his well spread board in the midst of his large and interesting family.

Mr. Hoover is a butcher and deals out beef, veal, mutton, pork, &c., of the very finest quality. His shops are on Penn street in the business centre of the city.

Isaiah Rambo is a dealer in the sweets and luxuries of this life, and his confectionery store may be found at 630 Penn street, while his brother, near him, is a plumber and an extensive dealer in gas fixtures. Having just remodeled his premises and fitted up a room expressly for gas fixtures—a large assortment of which he has just received from New York.

Mr. J. C. Bunting is perhaps the largest dealer in hats, caps, &c., in the city. He has a splendid store and is doing an extensive business.

We like Reading, and a visit to that place is always agreeable.—Columbia Spy.

MUZZLE THE CURS.—Almost every paper we pick up contains new accounts of rabid dogs and "hydrophobia." Our city has thus far not been visited by any instances of this terrible disease, but none can tell how soon we may suffer or who will be the victim. Is it not then proper that for the sake of our personal and public safety, the authorities take some action in the matter? Cannot dogs be compelled to wear muzzles all the year round, or at least after April 1st? Valuable dogs are never found running at large; none but worthless curs constantly patrol our streets. To dispatch them would be a charity to both dog and master.

ARRESTED FOR FORGERY.—This morning Detective Lyon and Constable Diehl arrested Reuben F. Fisher, two miles above Reber's mill, in Bern township, charged with forging the note of John B. Grissinger and John Maitland, builders, for $150. He was brought to Reading, and bound over in $500 for trial, by Alderman Richards.

SALES OF PROPERTY.—Wm. Y. Lyon, Auctioneer, sold at the Keystone House, to-day, the Banking House of E. W. Earl & Co., to A. F. Boas, Esq., for $17,000.

Also, the house and lot of Dr. Reeser, in South Eighth street, to Daniel Kunkel, for $6,000, and 8 shares of East Penn. Railroad stock, to Edward D. Smith, for $55.50 share.

Amos E. Reifsnyder, Esq., Auctioneer, sold the following full blooded stock, belonging to Levi Bertolette, of Oley township, this county:

"Tom Allen," 5 months old colt, to Clifford Bertolette.

"Dinah," (pony stock) to Dr. Tryon, for $700.

Mule team, 6 mules, to John Guldin, for $1,830.

TO-MORROW.—Eleventh Sunday of the year, and fifth in Lent. Day's length 11 hours and 51 minutes.

NEW FURNITURE STORE.—A handsome and well stocked furniture store has been opened at Nos. 327 and 329 Penn street, by William Kline, who will remove his entire stock from his old stand, No. 340 Penn street, to the new store, on the 1st of April. Don't purchase your furniture in distant places when you can buy as good and cheap articles at home. If you want furniture, go to Kline's, and you will be well suited in style and price.

NEW LANDLORD.—Mr. Jacob Boyer, formerly of Leesport, moved into the Washington House, at Hamburg, on Tuesday last.

COL. LEVI MALTZBERGER was the recipient on Thursday evening of a very handsome silver tobacco box, the donor being Maj. Washington Richards. There were brief but eloquent remarks, bon mots sparkling here and there, on both sides. A number of friends were present who "jined in the singin'," and helped to make a merry time generally. Some time ago Col. M. presented the Major with a beautiful meerschaum pipe, and the present affair has only tended to cement and render durable the friendship and intimacy which have existed between these gentlemen, so very many years.

A NEW style of disease has broken out throughout the country. It is called Post office fever, or itch for office. It is astonishing how many public spirited citizens we have who have been attacked with it.

POLICE AFFAIRS.—A solitaire occupied the dock this morning. John From was drunk last evening, very much so; in fact so decidedly so, that he was lying on his face on the pavement at the corner of Chestnut street and Pearl alley. Where John came from we do not know, but where he went to and spent the whole of last night, we have positive information. He was fined $1.25 and discharged.

There were 20 lodgers last night.

A CAR-COUPLING, it is reported, has been invented, in operating which it is not necessary to pass between the cars, and thus run the risk of being crushed. The other advantages of the invention are that by its use the disagreeable jerk in the starting of a train is avoided, a spring being so arranged as to play on to an adjustable head and take up the lost motion of the link.

THE SIGHTS AND SECRETS OF THE NATIONAL CAPITAL—A Work Descriptive of Washington City: Its High and Low Life; Its Hidden Mysteries; Its Villainies and Corruptions—By Dr. John B. Ellis—Splendidly Illustrated with numerous Fine Engravings, by the most eminent Artists.—The author of this book needs no endorsement; his long residence in Washington, and intimate acquaintance with all the varied phases of Washington life; and his great experience as a writer for the press, peculiarly fit him for the preparation of such a work.

It tells how the Government is perverted from its original objects, how politicians are enriched, and the people impoverished, how "Rings" are organized and conducted, how officials are blackmailed, how countrymen are fleeced by bogus Congressmen, how and where the public servants spend their money, for what purpose shrewd men and women are sent to Washington City, and treats of Washington City, of the Capitol, of the Departments, of Congress, of the Executive, of churches, theatres, prisons, streets, palaces, hovels, lines of travel, armories, benevolent and charitable institutions, public buildings, national museums, markets, banks and newspapers, of public men, congressmen, cabinet ministers, ambassadors from foreign countries, military and naval heroes, swindlers, gamblers, thieves, adventurers, editors, the demi monde, work girls, female government employees, ministers, teachers, &c., of the treasury, the currency bureau, how paper money is made, how it is issued, of counterfeiters and their work; Government detectives; how the revenue is collected; how taxes are evaded; of "rings" and jobs, spies and informers, female clerks, and corruption in high places; of hotels, boarding houses, restaurants, landlords and landladies, boarding house characters, shifters, bogus congressmen, and "gentlemen of political influence," of Gen. Grant at his home, headquarters, habits, and "cigar," his horses and his popularity; of all that is great, patriotic, noble, generous, magnificent, vicious, mysterious, brilliant, startling, genteel or shabby, and of all that is interesting or worthy of record in the capital. As every citizen is supposed to feel an interest in the Capital of his country and the management of the public affairs therein, it is believed that every man, of whatever party, ought to possess a copy of this great work. There is no man, however often he may have visited Washington, who cannot learn from this work much regarding the subjects treated of. The book will be found valuable to all who have or have not seen Washington, and especially to those who contemplate visiting it on business or for pleasure. United States Publishing Co., Publishers. J. F. Rudolphi, Agent, will call upon our citizens personally.

☞ THE IMPORTANCE OF HEALTH.

None but those deprived of this blessing know of its loss. The pimp led, blotched and tettered covered person looks upon a clear, smooth skin with jealousy, and inwardly desires the same. Those whose systems are filled with the virus of SCROFULA, and other cutaneous diseases, cannot have good health. When the blood is impure, disease is sure to follow.

All have timely warning in those Pimples, Blotches, Tetters, Sores, Boils, Copper-colored Patches, Scales, &c. Avert the calamity by purifying the system with the SAMARITAN'S ROOT AND HERB JUICES, SAMARITAN'S ROOT AND HERB JUICES, SAMARITAN'S ROOT AND HERB JUICES.

Before Scrofula takes a firm hold.

How many have the virus of Syphilis in the system, and in that condition contemplate marriage, knowing little of its baneful influence on the constitution. To such we say STOP. First cleanse yourself of those impurities; of that scrofulous infection, (which, in many cases is hereditary in the constitution,) before you bring misery, on yourself and offspring. Price $1.25 per bottle.
