THE ORANGE PROBLEM.

How to Eat This Very Delicious but Exceedingly Juicy Fruit.

One of the best remedies for an orange—a sort of whipping a devil around a stump—is to use a spoon. The directions advise cutting the orange carefully into halves, taking care to do so across the grain, so that a spoon can slip in readily.

A gentleman who has lived for years in the American countries in which the orange grows is waging a war against the slovenly manner of cutting the orange up and serving it on the table. In such a case he recommends that a very sharp knife, one as keen as a razor, be used, and the fruit cut into slices infinitesimally thin, and limit, layer about, with pulverized sugar.

Since the spoon has been relegated out of modern dinner civilization almost, a fork is used to eat it. In southern Europe the peasants always eat fruit in its natural shape and never think of treating it to doses of sugar, salt or other seasoning. Around Naples and in Malaga the people bite a hole in the orange, suck out the juice and then throw the orange away. Small American people often do the same, but of course the American must try his hand at improving nature, so he puts a lump of sugar in it. An orange planter thinks such a thing desecration.

On board ship a unique way is always a popular way to do anything. There they take an orange, and with a very sharp knife cut off a slice of skin across the top. This is placed below the orange and skewered by a fork into position. Holding the fork in the left hand, the knife cuts down the peeling, which indifferently falls off or hangs down.

Then the same knife cuts the juicy meats thus left exposed into small portions, which are conveyed on the point of the blade to the mouth—one of the cases on record where a knife enters the mouth by common consent of the fashionable world. The small quantity of juice that flows down falls on the false bottom of the orange, and thus the hand is protected. The orange never eats better than in this way, and it is also, as may be observed, freed from all untidiness, says the Pittsburg Dispatch.

Inexpensive Sideboard. A sideboard is an almost indispensable piece of furniture in a dining room, where closet room is scarce and a convenience under all circumstances. When the man of the household is handy with

A CONVENIENT SIDEBOARD. tools or can command the work of an ordinary carpenter at small expense, this convenience may be homemade. The Art Amateur recently gave some sideboard designs, the simplest of which is here reproduced. It is about 6 feet long and about 5 feet 9 inches high. When made of wood that does not harmonize with the woodwork of the dining room and its other furnishings, it may be stained the desired hue and then varnished.

BETTER TO DIE THAN FALL IN LOVE. Well he slumbers, greatly slain, Who in splendid battle died; Deep his sleep in midmost main, Pillowed upon pearl who lies.

Ease, of all good gifts the best, War and woe at last decrease; Love alone denies us rest, Crueler than sword or pest.

IN STATE AND COUNTY

Bright Prospects for the Friends of Prosperity in 1894.

WHY WAGES HAVE BEEN REDUCED

Cleveland and His Backers, the Democrats in Congress, Responsible for the Unpleasant Conditions That Exist—The People Disgusted and Determined to Show Their Disapproval—Bright New Year for Republicans.

The year 1894 bids fair. It comes in with good promise. The industries in our own city give promise of continuous employment, while the reports from all parts of the state are equally encouraging. It is the hope of the wage earner that the year will not be as great as in former years owing to the machinations of the enemies of the people, the Democratic members of congress. They have seen fit to report a bill, that removes in a great measure the duties on manufactured articles. This state will suffer peculiarly by the enactment of the provisions of the Wilson bill. As in earlier days when it derived its name from the peculiar position it formed and occupied in the original thirteen colonies, so today it is the keystone to the arch of Republicanism, the bulwark against which the poisoned darts of the enemy are aimed.

Democrats have no use for Pennsylvania or Pennsylvanians. When in power they can strike at its people, at its industries and resources with impunity. This is the policy that they are pursuing. Pennsylvania, with its mammoth industries must bear the brunt of the free trader's assaults. Its inhabitants may be reduced to the last straits, and the men who are responsible for its deplorable condition will be deaf to all arguments and entreaties.

THE DUTIES OF THE PEOPLE. In this condition of affairs it behooves citizens and voters of all conditions to see to it that the pollsters are rebuked when occasion may arise. Pennsylvania above all other states needs a protective tariff. It cannot afford to be brought in competition with the filly paid workmen of foreign countries. It can not afford to waste by complying with the looms, furnaces, forges and workmen while foreigners reap the benefits. It can not afford to, nor will it. The last election was an admission to Grover Cleveland and his theories, to his English friends and sympathizers and the Anglo-Americans who ape English ways and manners; whose thoughts and actions are not American, and who would by this vote paperize the people of this country so that they might be lauded by the prince of Wales' set and that they might toady to royalty.

The admission was unheeded. They still continue to pursue their fratricidal policy. They are themselves beyond the power of want and the pale of the injuries they inflict. None of their money is invested in anything that gives employment to labor. They have not the cares of business burdening them. They see not the sufferings of the poor workmen whose condition they are directly responsible for.

IN LACKAWANNA COUNTY. The people of Lackawanna county expressed their disgust and disapproval of Cleveland's mismanagement of national affairs. At the last election Democracy received an overthrow that it will not recover from until its policy changes. It was not a Republican victory in the strict sense of the word. It was a popular victory. Democrats showing their disapproval equally with their Republican neighbors. The spirit then exhibited must be kept alive. The work of detroning the free trader must be continued until the last enemy of American property is driven out of power and it is dead and out of the country.

The Democratic politicians of Lackawanna county are cognizant of the conditions that surround them. They see the writing on the wall. It is not a question as to who will be their party's nominee, but rather who the party can set to accept a nomination. Ex-Judge Smith, it is understood, will oppose Judge Archbald. In fact he admitted as much at the Powderly banquet and reception, but his success this year will be even less than it was last fall. For congress Democrats will not even make a try for the office. There may be a few nominees and certain conditions, even that may be dispensed with. With the other county offices the result will be the same. Democrats cannot be successful in Pennsylvania or Lackawanna county, while their representatives in Washington prove themselves not friends, but enemies of the people.

KEPT OPEN HOUSE ALL DAY. Central Republican Club Entertained All Callers at Its Rooms.

The Central Republican club received yesterday. The secretary, W. S. Miller, who just returned from Philadelphia, in the name of the club, received and welcomed all comers. The rooms were opened all day and evening and looked handsomer than ever. Old Glory was thrown to the breeze from the bay window and attracted much attention.

There are on file in the rooms the Scranton, New York and Philadelphia daily news papers also several illustrated papers and magazines of political import. The Central is gaining in favor every day and has come to stay.

PIZZER WILL NOT GET NEW TRIAL. Judge Archbald Hands Down an Opinion Refusing to Grant One.

In an opinion handed down by Judge Archbald yesterday he refused a new trial in the celebrated case of Philip H. Baker of Jersey, against Lewis Pizzer. Patrick Jordan was appointed committee of the person and estate of Mary Cunningham.

Court handed down decrees in adoption of Sarah Daily by William R. Reese; Ethel Daily by Reese; Anthony; Annie Daily by John J. Jones; Jennie Daily by David H. Price, and Morgan Daily by Benjamin Davis.

SOCIAL OF ENTERPRISE CLASS. A Very Enjoyable Event at Excelsior Hall.

One of the most enjoyable of last evening's social events was the social given by the Enterprise dancing class at Excelsior hall. It was attended by about eighty couples of young people from various parts of the city. The music was furnished on the piano by Miss Nellie Curran.

Those in charge of the social were George F. Taylor, F. B. Foote, Edward Haldeman, Henry D. Taylor, Edward and Charles Eisler.

LARGE CROWDS AT WONDERLAND.

The Patrimoine and Marionettes Please the Audience Immensely.

The usual holiday crush was at New Wonderland yesterday. Every seat was taken and large numbers were turned away. It was no wonder; for better shows, at popular prices, this city has never seen than those presented at New Wonderland of late.

The entertainment this week is excellent in every detail. The marionettes and the pantomime are the favorite acts; but the acts of the Magnolia Quartette; Lois Easton, fire fly dancer; Kitty Smith, transformation dancer, and others, is far above the average and worthy of the unstinted applause they receive.

Harry Thomas and Maggie Willett score another hit, and still further add to their great popularity. The versatility of this excellent team seems to have no limit.

The tickets for the poor fund benefit are selling rapidly. A neat sum is already realized and there is more to come.

NEW YEAR'S AT THE Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian association rooms on Washington avenue were crowded last yesterday afternoon and evening with ladies and gentlemen anxious to inspect the apartments and extend their well wishes for the work of the year just entered upon.

The former committee consisted of Mrs. Conneli, Mrs. Ripple, Miss Deacon, Miss Hawley, Miss Krigbaum, Mrs. Gates, Mrs. Everhart, Miss Kiesel, Miss Pearce, Miss Kramer, Mrs. Fellows, Miss Dickinson, Miss Doersam, Miss Pratt, Miss Enoch, H. Smith, Miss Thompson, Miss Rolands, Miss Minnie Munson, Miss Lang, Miss Lewis, Miss Margaret Munson, Miss Hies, Miss Annemann, Mrs. Brewster, Miss Ella Hancock, Miss Potter, Miss L. The committee on refreshments consisted of Mrs. Derman, Miss Hawley, Mrs. Conraen, Mrs. Stelle, Mrs. Franklin, Mrs. Hitecock, Mrs. Bentley, Mrs. Doner, Mrs. Enoch, H. Smith, Miss Buck, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. W. T. Hackett, Mrs. Hariburt, Miss Whitlock, Miss Ainsley, Miss Hardenberg, Miss Seaman, Miss Mason, Miss Wright, Miss Rose, Miss Long, Miss Rose, Miss Richmond, Mrs. Watta, Miss Lindner, Miss Barker, Miss Mayer.

From 4 o'clock until 10 o'clock the rooms were continually crowded. From 7.30 until 8.30 Miss Shardlow, the instructor in physical culture, conducted an exhibition in the gymnasium. It consisted of club swinging and dumb bell exercises. In the hall an entertainment was given in which Miss Bertha Conger, Miss Marie Block, Miss Garaghan, Miss Mallory and the Elm Park orchestra took part and gave excellent satisfaction.

BASE BALL IN SCRANTON.

Secretary Diddleback Hopes to See Wilkes-Barre Enter.

Says yesterday's Philadelphia Inquirer: "The prospects of the Pennsylvania State league for next season are very bright. The decision of the Scranton club to stand by the state organization makes seven full fledged clubs that are now ready to take to the diamond, and it is hoped that Wilkes-Barre will make the eighth member. It appears that Scranton never made application for membership in the Eastern league, and that its name was used without authority. Williamsport is also in line for a State league club, while Binghamton and Elmira, N. Y., can be had to make up an interstate circuit, if necessary."

Next season the State league will be under the protection of the national agreement, and the salary limit, which was $700 per month last season, will be raised to $1,000 or $1,200."

CAPTAIN KELLOW'S SERVICES.

Sixteenth Warders Can Show Their Appreciation Today.

Republicans of the Sixteenth ward will be called upon today to nominate a candidate for select council, and they will have an opportunity of showing their appreciation of true worth by voting for Captain William Kellow, who is a candidate to succeed himself.

Captain Kellow is a veteran in council, and commands the respect of his colleagues, of both branches. It is almost enough to secure the passage of measure to have it championed by him. He is a brilliant parliamentarian, and his services as chairman of select council drew encomiums from all sides. He is a close reasoner, and once his opinion is formed, he is immovable.

RECEPTION LARGELY ATTENDED

It Was a Red Letter Day in the History of the Young Women's Christian Association—Democratic Caucus in the Nineteenth Ward—Officers Elected—Shorter Parapgraphs.

The Young Women's Christian association gave a reception to friends and well wishers yesterday afternoon and evening. It was the first New Year's day spent in their new home, and it will be one that will be kept green in memory for many a day by those who accepted the cordial invitations issued.

The rooms were beautifully decorated and the young ladies fitted hither and thither caring for the comfort of their guests. Others with a zest that was amazing, went about with pads and pencils soliciting persons who were present and who were not members to become such at once, and they succeeded in compiling a long list of those who signified their willingness to join the association. Upstairs younger members indulged in games to their hearts content, while others imbued with more spirit romped and played in joyous glee.

Among the ladies from the South Side who were present and received were: Mrs. J. W. Stoen, Mrs. R. F. Moore, Mrs. D. W. Humphrey, Mrs. John Shener, Jr., Miss Annie Rankin and Miss Flora Tompkinson. Vocal selections, the Misses Sailer, Elwin Armbrust, Miss Elsie Brown, Miss Davis, the Misses Brown and Maycock, C. P.
