JERMYN.

Miss Maggie Eastlake, who has been seriously ill for the past month, is now on the road to recovery.

The following returned to their school duties yesterday: William J. and Albert Baker, Baltimore; Ralph Rym and Harry Byard, Kingston.

Robert Carter, who has been failing for some time, was taken worse Sunday evening and now lies in a precarious condition.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Badger and son spent New Year's in Binghamton.

The Sunday school of the Methodist Episcopal church will hold a book reception in the near future. This is for the purpose of receiving books to form the nucleus of a library.

The regalia and jewel to be contested for at the Red Men's fair are on exhibition at C. D. Winters & Co.'s store.

Barnabas Carter, sr., erected a beautiful monument in Rose Hill cemetery in memory of his wife, who died last fall.

Mrs. Frank Muldoon, of Main street, is ill with typhoid fever.

S. W. Cook is confined to the house with grip.

L. Lindley and T. V. Powderly, jr., of Scranton, and J. W. Roberts, of Susquehanna county, were in town yesterday.

An 18 months-old child of Peter Simmers was buried yesterday afternoon. Two more of Mr. Simmer's children are ill with scarlet fever.

Miss Rimmon, who has been the guest of her sister, a number of days, has returned to her home in Uniondale.

For nearly a week the young people of Jermyrn have been enjoying the ice skating on the "Backwaters," near the powder mill. The only regret is that the space is so limited for the large number of skaters.

All the prominent places of business were closed New Year's day, and the streets were quite a holiday appearance.

Miss Carrie, daughter of O. W. Coon, entertained a large number of her young friends on New Year's night. Among those present were: Emma Moon, Eliza Osborne, Eva Wheeler, Belle Baker, Jessie Winter, Laura Hall, Carrie Murray, and Frank and Bert Gendall, Frank Winter, George Dyer, Harry Byard, Ralph Rym, Ralph Wheeler, and W. J. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Baker spent yesterday in Carbondale.

The Erie Hose company, of Mayfield, received a new hose car yesterday. It came via the Delaware and Hudson and was unloaded at the Jermyrn station. The crystals will have to look to their laurels now.

Jermyrn has suffered from an epidemic of scarlet and typhoid fever and grip during the past three months. Many children have died and grown people are still sick, but at present all are recovering. Having no sewers this town is poorly prepared to fight contagion.

The "basket social" of Hunter post, Grand Army of the Republic, Jan. 13, promises to be a success. The various committees are at work and it only remains for our people to be patriotic and help the old veterans.

A number of friends of Miss Emma Roberts spent Monday evening very pleasantly at her home on Second street. The guests departed at a late hour after wishing their hostess a very "happy New Year."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WEST SIDE

Happenings of a Day That Will Interest Hyde Park Readers.

DEATH OF FREDERICK BECKER, SR.

He Expired at His Home Yesterday Morning After a Long Illness—Hyde Park Castle No. 38, Knights of Malta, installs Officers at Morgan's Hall—Pleasant New Year's Surprise Party.

[The West Side office of the SCRANTON TRIBUNE is located at 128 South Main avenue, where subscriptions, advertisements and communications will receive prompt attention.]

At 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning, Frederick Becker, sr., an aged and respected resident, died after a long illness. His condition was not considered serious until a few days ago. Mr. Becker was one of the pioneer residents of the city. He was born in Germany in 1820, and came to this country with his wife in 1845, locating for a few years in various parts of the Empire state. Mr. Becker was a cabinet maker, in which business he was very successful. When he came to this city he engaged in the same and blind business. He was the first workman of his kind in the city. He built himself a carpenter shop near the Lackawanna hospital, from timber which he had cut from the woods surrounding the place at that time.

He is survived by seven children, Charles Becker, of St. Cloud, Minn.; Mrs. Emma, of Philadelphia; John J. Becker, Fred Becker, Jr., Albert Becker, William Becker and Emma Becker, of this city. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of his son, John J. Becker, at Luzerne street and Main avenue. Services will be conducted by Rev. D. W. Skellenger. Interment will be made in Forest Hill cemetery.

Installation of Officers.

The installation of officers of Hyde Park castle, No. 38, Ancient Order of Knights of the Mystic Chain, was conducted last evening in their room in Morgan's hall. The following officers were installed by District Deputy George Childs, of the Providence castle: Sir knight commander, William Barge; sir knight vice commander, Thomas E. Lewis; first lieutenant, Lewis Costello; chief of staff, William G. Jones; assistant chief of staff, William Yeager; inside guard, William L. Steenback; chaplain, David T. Evans; trustees, Edward R. Jones and Thomas R. Jones. After the installation an entertainment was held. Among those who sang were: David T. Evans, Elias Williams and Morgan Bavan. Organist David T. Evans. Prominent sir knights were present from Providence, Peterboro, Green Ridge and the central city. A banquet was afterward held, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Thomas B. James Dead.

Thomas B. James, an old resident of this side, died Monday afternoon at his home on Eymon street after a short illness. He was taken ill several weeks ago with the grip, which subsequently developed into bronchitis. He recovered sufficiently to be able to return to his work in the Central mine, but while working he received a slight wound on the right hand. Blood poisoning set in, and although various remedies were applied they were ineffectual. Mr. James was born in Wales and was 67 years of age. He came to this section about twelve years ago and has since resided on this side. He had numerous friends and was a devoted member of the Bellevue Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church. The funeral will occur on Friday afternoon.

An Enjoyable Surprise.

A very pleasant New Year's surprise party was given on Monday evening in honor of David Harris, at his home on North Hyde Park avenue. The house was brilliantly illuminated and the guests amused themselves for several hours by playing games. During the evening selections were very cleverly given on the piano by Miss G. R. Lloyd. Refreshments were also served. Among those present were Misses Ida Ace, Gertrude Lloyd, Jessie Nauman, Louise Davies, Gertrude Hawkins, Angie E. Jones, May Travers, Mabel Boldry, Mary E. Davies and Fred Samuels. David Ludwig, Will Powell, John Westing, Tommie Thomas, Will Davies and David Harris.

Death of an Estimable Lady.

At an early hour yesterday morning Mrs. Mary Ann Jenkins, wife of Samuel Jenkins, formerly proprietor of a hotel on South Main avenue, died after a long illness of dropsy. Her condition was not considered critical until a few days ago, and death was unexpected. The deceased was born in Nantaglo, Monmouthshire, South Wales, and was 59 years of age. She came to this country with her husband thirty years ago. She was a devout member of the First Welsh Baptist church, and is survived by her husband and one daughter, Miss Minnie Jenkins. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late residence on South Main avenue. Interment will be made in the Washburn street cemetery.

To Dedicate a Church.

The dedication of the new Plymouth Congregational church, Jackson street, which is about completed, will commence on Sunday morning next at 10:30 o'clock. Dr. Cregan and Dr. Cook, two prominent New York Congregational clergymen, will preach. The afternoon service will be confined to the reception of members, as about fifty people will join. The exercises will be very interesting.

George Evans Buried.

The funeral of George Evans took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from his late home. Services were conducted by Rev. T. J. Collins, pastor of the Scranton street Baptist church. During the services appropriate selections were rendered by a quartette consisting of Miss Lizzie Eschelman, Lillie Dawes, Thomas Howells and William Fowler. Interment was made in Washburn street cemetery.

Interesting News Paragraphs.

St. Mary's fair is still in progress Monday evening over 1,000 people paid admission. On that evening a number of children who were taught by Miss Mamie Kearney performed a very pretty fancy dance. This was one of the best attractions at the fair. Last evening St. Dominic's choir of Parsons rendered some very good selections. The Thistle band, of Pittston, were also present and furnished music for the grand march, which took place at about 8 o'clock. The fair was rendered a number of selections which were highly appreciated.

George Tumlin, of Taylor, attended the fair Monday evening.

MYSTIC - SWING

THE

Wonder of Wonders

Great Illusion.

The Delight of Young and Old.

OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

218 Penn Avenue.

The Great Financier, Russell Sage,

Gives the following good advice to boys, which the parents might also read with profit:

"Boys, go to school as long as you can, and remember every hour spent in study in your youth will be worth money to you in after life. Real good books, make yourselves acquainted with history, study the progress of nations and the careers of men who have made nations great."

"Study religion, science, statecraft and history. Learn to read intelligently, so that you can turn to practical use in after-life the readings of your youth. Be sure you begin right. Do not waste time in reading trashy books."

Mr. Sage says further: "This boy who is wanted in the business world of today must be educated. If his parents cannot afford to give him a college or high school education, he must learn to study without the aid of a teacher in the early morning before business begins, and in the evenings after business hours. It can no longer be truthfully said that an education is out of anyone's reach."

This is the advice of a man who is one of the most conspicuous business successes of our time, and who has amassed one of the largest fortunes in America. It cannot possibly be charged that he is in the pay of the Encyclopedia Britannica, and yet these words, given as the conviction of a life of unusual observation and experience, advise as strongly as words can, that you hasten to accept the offer of THE TRIBUNE and secure this greatest of books. The edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica offered by THE TRIBUNE fills every requirement of Mr. Sage's recipe for success. Who will be without these books now when ten cents a day will secure them?

On receipt of only $1.50 the entire set will be delivered to your home—the balance to be paid on easy monthly payments. It is an actual fact that these books are more strongly bound than the usual set at $9 per volume, of which these are a copy.

The books can be seen any day and any night, Thursday and Saturday evenings at 437 SPRUCE STREET, near Washburn avenue.
