PUT TO SHAME BY SAVAGENESS OF QUEEN LIL

Her Thirst for Christian Blood Exhibited in All Its Fiendishness.

CLEVELAND ANNIHILATED BY DOLE

The President of the Hawaiian Provisional Government, in His Reply to the Impudent Demand of American Minister Willis, by the Strong Dignity of His Unanswerable Logic, Literally Pulverizes the Conspiracy of Self-Righteous Grover Cleveland to Put the Pagan Hawaiian Queen Back on Her Dissolute Throne—A Condensation of the Voluminous Correspondence Sent to Congress Saturday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—PRESIDENT CLEVELAND on Saturday sent to congress the complete correspondence with Minister Willis, covered from Honolulu by the latter. He writes in a dispatch, dated Oct. 24, 1892. The message makes no mention of the Hawaiian story, but which the president in his previous message, withheld from congress. The dispatch describes a conference held by Willis with Queen Liliuokalani, Nov. 13, and says:

I made known to her the president's sincere regret that, through the unauthorized intervention of the United States, she had been obliged to surrender her sovereignty, and his hope that her consent and co-operation, the wrong done to her and her people might be redressed. To this she bowed her acknowledgment. I then said to her: "The president expects and believes that when reinstated you will show forgiveness and magnanimity; that you will wish to be the queen of all the people, both native and foreign-born. You will make haste to secure their love and loyalty, and to establish peace, friendship and good government."

LILIUOKALANI IS BLOODTHIRSTY.
She hesitated a moment and then slowly and calmly answered: "There are certain laws of my government by which I shall abide. My demands would be to the queen, that such persons should be beheaded and their property confiscated to the government." I then said, repeating very distinctly her words: "It is your feeling that these persons should be beheaded and their property confiscated?" She replied: "It is."

The remainder of this dispatch is devoted to comments on the Hawaiian leaders. Willis, in this, asked that Bloomer's report be withheld for the present so as not to excite the Hawaiian. On Dec. 11 and 12, Willis saw Liliuokalani at her home. She then consented to forego the pleasure of addressing Dole and his cohorts, but insisted upon banishing them and confiscating their property. Willis told her that President Cleveland would try to restore her only upon the condition of absolute and unreserved amnesty.

THE QUEEN YIELDS.
This ultimatum brought the ex-queen to terms. She afterward sent Willis a signed paper of which this is the gist:

I must not feel vengeful to any of my people. I am restored by the United States. I must forget my grief and remember only my dear people and my country. I must forgive and forget the past, permitting no prosecution or punishment of any one, but trusting that all will hereafter work together in peace and unity for the good and for the glory of our beautiful and once happy land.

Willis' next letter, dated Dec. 20, tells of his visit to President Dole and his "request" that Dole abdicate. Next comes Dole's reply, which is given in full, and which in the star feature of the entire correspondence. It expresses regret at the failure of the annexation treaty to meet with the approbation of the present American administration, quotes W. L. Marcy, William H. Seward, Hamilton Fish and James G. Blaine as favorable to annexation, and adds: "We shall, therefore, continue the project of political union with the United States as a conspicuous feature of our foreign policy, confidently hoping that sooner or later it will be crowned with success to the lasting benefit of both countries." The president continued:

DOLE'S CRUSHING REJOINER.
We do not recognize the right of the president of the United States to interfere in our domestic affairs. Such right could be conferred upon him by the act of this government and by that alone, or it could be acquired by conquest. This, I understand to be the American doctrine, and is conspicuously announced from time to time by the authorities of your government.

President Jackson said in his message to congress in 1823: "The uniform policy and practice of the United States is to avoid all interference in disputes which merely relate to the internal government of other nations, and eventually recognize the authority of the prevailing party without reference to the merits of the original controversy."

My position is, briefly, this: If the American forces, legally assisted by the revolutionary forces, the establishment of the provisional government, that government is not responsible for the wrong doing. It is purely a private matter for discussion between the United States government and its own officers. There is, I submit, no precedent in international law for the shooting of the American troops has conferred upon the United States authority over the internal affairs of this government. Should it be true, as you have suggested, that the American government made itself responsible to the queen, who it is alleged, lost her throne through such means, that is not a matter for me to discuss, except to submit that, if such be the case, it is a matter for the American government to settle between them. This government, a recognized sovereign power, equal in authority with the United States government, and enjoying diplomatic relations with it, cannot be destroyed by it for the sake of discharging the obligations to the queen. Upon these grounds, Mr. Minister, in behalf of my government, I respectfully protest against the usurpation of its authority as suggested by the language of your communication.

CANNOT BETRAY A TRUST.
Though the provisional government is far from being a great power and could not long resist the forces of the United States in a hostile attack, we deem our position to be impregnable under legal precedents, under the principles of diplomatic intercourse and in the forum of congress. We have done your government no wrong, no charge of dishonesty is or can be brought against us. Our only issue with your government has been that, because of your institutions of civil liberty, we have desired to have them extended to our own distracted country, and because we honor its flag and deeming that its beneficent and authoritative presence would be for the best interests of all our people, we have stood ready to add to your country a new star to its glory and to inaugurate a union which we believed would be the best of all unions.

I am instructed to inform you, Mr. Minister, that the provisional government of the Hawaiian islands, and respectfully and insistently declines to entertain the proposition of the President of the United States that it should surrender its authority to the executive of the United States not only upon the grounds heretofore set forth but upon our sense of duty and loyalty to the brave men whose commissions we hold who have faithfully stood by us in the hour of trial and whose will is the only earthly authority we recognize. We cannot betray the sacred trust which we have assumed in the Hawaiian islands in the interests of the whole people of these islands.

CLEVELAND'S WEAK REPLY.
President Cleveland, through Secretary Gresham, closes the correspondence by a letter of instructions to Willis, dated Jan. 12 last, in which the administration seeks to combat Dole's overbearing attitude. The substance of this letter is as follows:

The president sincerely regrets that the provisional government refused to acquiesce in the conclusion which his sense of right and duty and a due regard for our national honor constrained him to reach and submit as a measure of justice to the people of the Hawaiian islands and their deposed sovereign. While it is true that the provisional government was created to exist only until the islands were annexed to the United States, that the queen finally but reluctantly surrendered to an armed force of this government, and that the president is a representative of the provisional government (which realized its impotency and was anxious to get control of the queen's means of defense) assured her that she would be subsequently considered by the United States, the president never claimed that such action constituted him an arbitrator in settling a dispute between the provisional government and the queen. You made no such claim when you acquainted the government with the president's decision. The solemn assurance given to the queen has not been referred to as authority for the president to act as arbitrator, but as a fact material to a just determination of the president's duty in the premises.

THE PRESIDENT'S VIEW.
In the note which the minister of foreign affairs addressed to you on the 23d ultimo it is stated, in effect, that even if the constitutional government was subverted by the action of the American minister and an invasion by a military force of the United States, the president's authority is limited to dealing with our own faithful officials and that he can take no steps looking to a correction of the wrong done. The president entertains a different view of his responsibility and duty. The subversion of the Hawaiian government, by the abuse of the authority of the United States was in plain violation of international law and required the president to disavow and condemn the act of our offending officials and within the limits of his constitutional power to endeavor to restore the lawful authority.

The president thereupon submitted the subject to the more extended powers and wide discretion of congress, adding the assurance that he would be gratified to cooperate in any legitimate plan which might be devised for a solution of the problem consistent with American honor, integrity and morality. Your reports show that on further reflection the queen gave her unqualified assent in writing to the conditions set forth, but that the provisional government refused to acquiesce in the president's decision. The matter now being in the hands of congress, the president is fully advised by the situation, and will lay before it from time to time the reports received by you, including your No. 3 heretofore withheld, and all instructions sent to you. In the meantime, while keeping the department fully informed of the course of events, you will, until further notice, consider that your special instructions upon this subject have been fully complied with.

RUSSELL, Kan., Jan. 14.—At 1 o'clock this morning there was a terrible exhibition of private justice here and there near the hands of Judge Lynch. No such outbreak of the old time swift frontier justice has been witnessed in Kansas for years. The mob was one of the quietest and most determined that ever came together. It was a fiercely earnest and woolly heartless mob also, for the victims were not given even time to pray until they were dropped into eternity.

THE VICTIMS WERE BURTON, WILLIAM GAY AND THE LATERAL SON JOHN GAY, who had lived together on Burton's farm. They were confessedly guilty of the murder of Fred Dimmy last July. Dimmy lived with E. W. Burton, seven miles north and last July he disappeared. Burton had his team and even wore some of his clothes, but said he had gone to Oklahoma with young Gay. Gay returned in a short time and on close questioning confessed that Burton had poisoned Dimmy. The elder Gay attempted to point out the place of burial but failed. Burton then made a confession that the Gays killed him, and Thursday took the sheriff to a cornfield in a ravine, where the body, decomposed and mutilated, was found. Indignation ran high and it was with difficulty that the men could be gotten to the jail.

LAST night they were taken from jail and conducted to a bridge just outside of town. The ropes were ready and one was put around the neck of each of the men and tied to the stringers. This was no time given for prayers or pleading, but at a signal all three were pushed off the edge and dropped eight or ten feet with all the precision of a professional hanging. To make sure of carrying out their purpose, the mob fired two shots into each body, although death came quickly by the rope.

THEY WANT POLITICAL ACTION.

Philadelphia Trades-Unionists Think the Only Salvation of Labor is Through Independent Politics.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—In response to a call by the United Labor league for a mass meeting to take measures for the amelioration of the present condition of the workmen of Philadelphia, a large number of delegates and members of the various trades unions assembled in the hall at Eighth and Callowhill streets this afternoon. A number of speeches were made by prominent members of various trades unions.

ALTHOUGH their views as to the cause of the present depression and the best means of improving the workmen differed, the general sentiment of all the speakers was that thorough organization and the formation of an independent political party was the only successful means of attaining the desired end. Organization under one central body was looked upon as the first and most important step to be taken, and the following preamble and resolution was adopted without a dissenting voice:

WHEREAS, the lack of organization is in a measure the cause of the present and general condition of labor in Philadelphia; therefore be it

Resolved, That the provisional committee perfect plans for a complete central body of trades unions, said committee to report at the next regular meeting of the league.

RELIGIOUS UPRISING FEARED.

Worm-Eaten Magney Leaf Found by an Indian Causing Trouble.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 14.—A great religious uprising is threatened at Lecherias, and already $70,000 worth of property has been destroyed. An Indian working on the hacienda of Lecherias found a magney leaf, which had been worm-eaten until it contained a tracing, which, to the Indian, appeared to be a reproduction of the Virgin of Guadalupe.

FILLED with holy joy, he prostrated himself before the plant to worship the picture, then hastened to the master of the hacienda to tell him the great mark of favor bestowed upon him from heaven. The master, Señor H. Pimental, came and looked at it contemptuously, remarking that any worm could eat out as good a picture as that. He then snatched it with his cane and left. The Indian was infuriated.

THAT night the hacienda and 1,000 bales of cotton were burned, and the incendiarism has been traced to the Indian. The other Indians were aroused over the supposed indignity, and have all assembled and are holding a great feast. A petition has been sent to the cathedral in this city asking that a prelate be sent to examine the picture, but it is feared that before he can arrive and disabuse the Indians of their superstition, a serious uprising will occur.

NO TOLERANCE FOR UNIONS.

The Danbury Hat Manufacturers Stand Firm Against the Various Local Organizations of Labor.

DANBURY, Conn., Jan. 14.—The committees from the Hat Makers' and Hat Finishers' unions, who have been claimed with absolute power, met a committee from the manufacturers' association last night and held a conference lasting three hours, which was adjourned till 2 p. m. Monday. The Trimmers' union had been ignored by the labor leaders, and the 1,000 girls that compose it held an indignation meeting last night and clamored for representation on the committee that is empowered to try to settle matters.

THEY acted so threateningly that they were given permission to be represented, and a committee of forty girls will attend to the interests of the Trimmers' union.

THE Cotton and Slippers union also held a meeting last night and chose a committee of forty to go before the manufacturers. The four committees, each of which contain forty members, were at work today on the concessions that they will grant the manufacturers in order to bring about an adjustment of the trouble. They will present them tomorrow afternoon and the manufacturers will give them due consideration and in reply will tell the unions what they are willing to do.

THE manufacturers will probably ask for no less than twelve independent shops and allow half that number to be reorganized as union establishments. This will be more than the unions can grant, and there will be a conflict. The manufacturers are as determined to break the ranks of the unions as they were two months ago when they discharged all their union help and shut their factories against them.
