GENERAL NEWS OF INDUSTRIES

Facile Rumor Connects Mr. McLeod with a New Anthracite Deal.

AFTER THE SUSQUEHANNA ROAD

New Passenger Cars Arriving for the Wilkes-Barre and Eastern Road. The Jersey Central Makes a Coal Traffic Agreement with the Consolidated Road—Improvements at the Clear Spring Colliery — Other Newsy News Referring to Near-by Industries.

Upon somewhat doubtful authority it is said that Mr. McLeod is trying to get executive possession of the Susquehanna and Western. His object, as stated, is to make it a line from New York to Lake Erie and the west. This road now controls lines that reach from the Hudson river and Centre county and enters Wilkes-Barre via Wilkes-Barre and Eastern from Stroudsburg. There connections will be made with the Wilkes-Barre and Western, and the Lehigh and Northern and Central Pennsylvania. This is in effect the great American Midland scheme that was exploited last year.

The Ohio Falls Manufacturing company has delivered six passenger cars to the Wilkes-Barre and Eastern railroad. The cars are handsome in design. The exterior is in Tuscan red with black and gold stripes, and the letters, "Wilkes-Barre and Eastern," are in gold letters. Two of the cars are combination cars, baggage, mail and smoker. The coaches have comfortable high-back seats, covered with crimson plush. The woodwork is of quartered oak, diamond finished and highly polished. Steam heat is used. The deadly car stove has gone to its last reward.

Last week's anthracite production in eighteen collieries in Luzerne county, ten of which belong to the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal company, aggregated 27,144.14 tons, which is about half the usual output. In 1894, up to last Saturday, there had been shipped a total of only 42,218 02 tons.

For several weeks negotiations looking to a close traffic arrangement between the Consolidated road and the Central Railroad of New Jersey have been in progress, and it is stated on excellent authority that the details are nearly completed. The freight given the Consolidated will be largely coal. The business equals that recently arranged with the Lehigh Valley road.

The Delaware and Hudson Coal company has suspended the sale of pea and buckwheat coal at its Carbondale chutes. The company finds it necessary to do this in order to make good contracts for the smaller sizes, which have been made some time ago, and the supply of which has been curtailed because of a reduction of time at the mines.

A new slope is being sunk in the Red Ash vein of the Clear Spring colliery, West Pittston, and a new pair of hoisting engines, designed to operate a haulage system 2,000 feet long, will be in readiness within a month. These improvements, added to others either completed or progressing will increase the colliery's daily out put by several hundred tons.

Ripsel & Harman, a New York firm, will soon re-open the old colliery at Humbolt. James Gallagher of that place has been awarded the contract for cleaning up things around the colliery, so as to get it in readiness for shipping coal.

The large share that Pennsylvania has taken for several years in building new railroads has been noteworthy. This state has built over three hundred miles a year for four years. This, remarks the Philadelphia Times, is a greater new mileage than any other state has built in the same period except Washington, which owes its lead to the extensions of the Great Northern. The building of so much new road for several years in a well populated eastern state is not due to the enterprise of any one company, of course. No long line is required, for all the chief cities already have good traffic outlets. Of the whole three hundred miles credited to Pennsylvania in 1893, not half a dozen companies built more than ten miles each. The chief line, according to mileage and probably also in actual importance, was the Wilkes Barre and Eastern, which is now carrying coal. The Clearfield and Mahoning has also since July been serving its purpose of connecting the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg, which built it, with the Beech Creek, and giving the bituminous coal mines along the former road a new outlet, the coal now reaching eastern tidewater over the Beech Creek and the Reading. The other new lines in the state all develop local industries and are chiefly in the mining districts, though several lines—the Central of Pennsylvania and others—have their chief purpose in giving better transportation outlets to fertile agricultural districts.

POTTSVILLE, Jan. 19.—An order has been issued by the Reading Coal and Iron company suspending eleven of its largest collieries for an indefinite period. These collieries are: North Franklin, Suffolk, Bear Valley, Thomaston, Draper, Bear Run, Hammond, Pine Forest, Elmwood, Shenandoah City and West Shenandoah. These collieries are scattered all over the district and employ in the aggregate about 5,500 men and boys. All the collieries of the region have been working only four days a week, but now that the shipment of coal has been further restricted by 2,000,000 tons, total suspension of at least some of the mines are necessary. Collieries of the other companies will be suspended, it is stated by officials, have not as yet been received.

MINOR INDUSTRIAL TOPICS:

Receiver Paxson, of the Reading, is expected to return from abroad this week.

A decision in the application for a permanent receiver of the New England will probably be handed down by Judge Wallace next week.

Electric cars are now running between Philadelphia and Chester in competition with the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore and the Baltimore and Ohio railroads.

The statement is made that since the new management took hold of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company it has improved its furnace operation, so that it now produces 175 tons with a furnace, where it heretofore produced only about 130 tons.

It is said, but not believed, that as soon as the present plan of reorganization is formally adopted, and the Reading taken out of the hands of receivers, President Harris will retire.

It has been officially announced that the Illinois Steel mills will resume work on Monday. When running full handed the mill employs about 1,200 men.

All the mills of the Cumberland Nail and Iron company are running except the nail mills, and they will begin operations next Wednesday.

The Florence (N. J.) Iron works have received large orders for all sizes of pipe, and will put 250 men at work on Monday.

After an idleness of many weeks the puddling mill and one plate mill of the Parkesburg Iron works have started up with 100 hands.

Stocks and Bonds.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Today's speculations bore all the early marks of a bull market. A feeble attempt was made at the opening to depress the list on Washington stories that the Populist representatives in the house and senate would do all in their power to prevent the bond issue. The improvement from the lowest point of the day was equal to ¼ and 2¼ per cent. and were well distributed. Closing transactions were generally at the top of the day. Total sales, 174,000 shares.

NOW GET WELL!

Paine's Celery Compound After the Grip.

It Makes the Weak Strong---Cures Nervous Debility, Relieves the Wretchedness that Comes from Sickness Indoors.

Let the sun shine!
Get strength. Be well!

Mrs. John K. Jacobs tells a plain but impressive story:

"I have been taking Paine's celery compound," she says, "and feel myself greatly improved, so much so that I consider myself well. I was left last February, from an attack of the grip, in a low state of health, with great nervous debility. I can hardly express how wretchedly I felt when I commenced using Paine's celery compound. And I began to gradually improve up to the present time, and I now am able to do my work, for which I feel thankful enough. I think the remedy valuable indeed."

Mrs. Jacobs resides at 1128 Oak st., in Youngstown, O. She has had the same experience as thousands of women, East, West, North and South. There is in the very structure of a household conducted on even the simplest plan enough causes for intense nervous strain, enough work and worry to tax the energy and ingenuity of the most robust woman.

A woman holding up a home on her shoulders: the monotonous routine of firebuilding, dish-washing, meat-preparing, stitching, darning and mending, until the fingers refuse their bidding and the eyelids drop.

The present generation of women is more subject to premature weakness and ill health than its predecessor. The grip first attacks the poor in health. Thousands of testimonials from men and women who have had the grip or prolonged cold, shows that Paine's celery compound quickly makes them well again, because it is food for the nerves, it enriches the blood, it has saved thousands from chronic illness.
