ELECTION OF COMPANY OFFICERS

A Commander of Company A to Succeed Captain E. E. Chase Will be Selected Tonight—Other Elections During the Week—Order for Instruction in Drill Regulation and Guard Duty.

There will be an election for officers in three of the companies of the regiment this evening. The first of them will occur in Company A tonight. This company will elect a captain and first and second lieutenants to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of terms of service of Captain Edward E. Chase, First Lieutenant Arthur H. Lee and Second Lieutenant Frederick W. Stillwell. Captain Chase and First Lieutenant Lee, by reasons of business cares, have identified their determination to retire from active military life. This leaves Lieutenant Stillwell the only remaining officer of the three who have for five years by their intelligence, energy and military knowledge made Company A famous throughout the state as the very best company in the National Guard of Pennsylvania. It is a serious undertaking for any officer to assume the captaincy of such a company as A, with its marvelous record that from the date of its organization it has never taken a downward course. From 1877 to 1894 it has forged ahead under the leadership of such distinguished officers as Boyson, Knapp, Waites, Mattes and Chase, until today it stands the peerless military company in the state if not in the United States. Each of the above officers did his share to bring the company up to a high standard of efficiency, but it remained for Captain Chase to bring the company up to the very highest notch of efficiency and discipline. To fill the place made vacant by Captain Chase requires a man of nerve, intelligence and brain. He must be a disciplinarian of undoubted courage and a drill master that thoroughly understands the drill regulations and can exemplify them intelligently. Lieutenant Stillwell, First Sergeant Cox and Sergeant Conklin have been mentioned as candidates to succeed Captain Chase. Major C. C. Mattes has been detailed to conduct the election.

CAPTAIN ROCKWELL'S SUCCESSOR.

The second election of the week will occur in Company H tomorrow evening. This election will be to fill the office of captain, made vacant by the expiration of term of service of Captain William B. Rockwell. There is no captain in the regiment that commands more respect from his company than does Captain Rockwell, every individual member respects and admires him. He can succeed himself without opposition, as he is the unanimous choice of his company for re-election. It is a question if any other officer in the regiment can command as much respect as does Captain Rockwell. It is a company of peculiar characteristics, of which modesty is one of the most prominent. It does not make much noise nor endeavor to attract attention, but when it comes to drill, inspection or its always found in its front rank. The members of Company H are a steady set of good fellows and are a conservative lot of hard plodders, who take pride in their company's record and have never yet been known to shirk from duty. It is a matter of regret that there is a possibility of Captain Rockwell, owing to business pursuits in New York state, not accepting the captaincy for another term. He is one of the best officers of the line. His company holds the important position of right of the Second Battalion in the 13th Regiment. His absence from the right of the Battalion would be indeed a serious loss, not only to the Second Battalion, but the entire regiment. The Thirteenth cannot spare him any more than can his company. He has been in commission fifteen years and it is to be hoped he can see his way clear to again accept captaincy of the company.

In the event of Captain Rockwell's resignation the company could do no better than elect Lieutenant E. D. Corwin to the captaincy. He is an intelligent and tried officer and will fill the position with credit and honor. Adjutant Miller has been mentioned for the office in the event of Captain Rockwell's not accepting a re-election. While the adjutant fully appreciates the honor he positively declines to be a candidate. He hopes that Captain Rockwell will accept, but in the event of him not doing so it rests to the company will not go outside of its own membership for a captain. Major George H. Whitely has been detailed to conduct this election.

ELECTION IN COMPANY D.

The third election of the week will occur in Company D for a second lieutenant to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the lamented L. I. Sealey, Sergeant. The efficient first sergeant of the company, and Corporal Gibbons, a deserving non-commissioned officer, are candidates for the office. Captain M. Barnard has been detailed to conduct this election.

ORDER OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Colonel Ripple issued the following order last Saturday:

HEADQUARTERS 13TH REGIMENT INFANTRY, 30 BRIGADE, N. G. P.

Regimental Orders No. 3.

I. The non-commissioned officers of this regiment with the exception of companies E and G, will assemble at the armory of the Scranton City Guard, Scranton, Pa., in uniform wearing side arms on the first Thursday (at 8 o'clock, a. m.) in the month of March, April, May, June and July, for the purpose of instruction in drill regulations and guard duty.

II. The non-commissioned officers of companies E and G will assemble in uniform with side arms in their respective armories upon such dates in the above months as may be agreed upon by the company commander and the instructor.

III. Each non-commissioned officer will be required to familiarize himself with all duties pertaining to his office, and be prepared to answer all tactical questions proposed.

IV. Any non-commissioned officer who absents himself from two of these lessons without good and valid excuse, or who upon the report of the instructor to the commanding officer does not exhibit reasonable knowledge of the duties of his office, will be required to appear before the regimental board of examiners for examination.

V. Adjutant W. S. Miller is hereby detailed instructor, and he will make a full report of the attendance and progress to the commanding officer the day following each lesson.

VI. The following are the topics for each lesson:

Thursday, Feb. 1, "Guard Duty and Inspection."

Thursday, March 1, "General Duty, Inspection and Extended Order."

HARD LINES FOR ACTORS

Enforcement of the State License Law Will Close Many Theaters.

TREASURER POWELL'S OPINION

He Will Ask for Instructions from the Attorney General Before Proceeding to Collect the License Fee—Atorney General Hensel Says the License Fee Must Be Collected—The Only Remedy Is to Repeal.

During the past few weeks the managers of traveling theatrical companies have had unpleasant experiences in several of the counties of this state in regard to the collection of county treasurers to collect a license fee of $50 under the provisions of the act of 1893 and the subsequent amendment of 1894. This law has during the greater part of the time that it has been in existence, remained a dead letter on the statute books of the state. In the book of instructions issued by the auditor general's department for the year 1894, the matter has been brought to the attention of the county treasurers of the state remaining them that it is their duty to collect this theatrical license from every traveling theatrical company. The law says that a license may be issued by any county treasurer, good in any part of the state for a year, for $1,000. A county license in Philadelphia costs $500, Allegheny $200, and the other counties in the state $50. But here the language of the act is somewhat hazy, and it does not clearly state whether the $50 shall be taxed for each performance or for a county license good for one year.

JUDGE DOTY'S DECISION.

This law was brought to the attention of Judge Doty, of Westmoreland county, by a test case heard during the August term of last year. That learned judge in his opinion declared "that in any county of the commonwealth outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny, the theatrical license is to be paid by the troupe giving the exhibition and cannot be assessed against the building in which the exhibition is given." That is the disputed point, but in the license law it is provided that the license should be paid by the company or the house, which was the issue raised in the case.

In 1890 County Treasurer Campbell collected a license fee of $50 from the Academy of Music in this city, the Academy of Music and the Opera house in Carlisle, but in April of 1891, by directions of the state treasurer, he refunded the money, it having been decided that the house should not pay the license.

The law that envelops the language of the act when it speaks about a tax of $50 being levied in the counties outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny, has been somewhat dispelled by the Supreme court, which has declared that when a theatrical company pays a license fee of $50, it is allowed to give a performance in any portion of the county where the license is obtained for one year.

COUNTY TREASURER POWELL'S ACT.

County Treasurer Powell was seen by a TRIBUNE reporter yesterday and said that he had been asked to collect the license matter, but before he would make an effort to collect the fee he would ask the attorney general of the state to give him explicit directions as to what is the proper interpretation to give the law and now for he will be justified in going in to collect the $50. After receiving these instructions he will act in accordance with them.

W. S. Cleveland, the manager of Cleveland's minstrels, which gave a performance at the Academy of Music Saturday night was requested to pay the license when his company exhibited there, but he positively refused to pay $50 or any portion of it. He said to a TRIBUNE reporter Saturday night that rather than pay the license he would move his company out of the state. He said that many theatrical managers now refuse to make contracts for performances in Pennsylvania because of such a time as the matter of license is definitely settled. The enforcing of the law will practically close nearly every show house outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny or compel the local managers to form and maintain stock companies.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S VIEW.

Attorney General Hensel has accepted the decision of Judge Doty as the direct rule he must follow. Against this course of action no and protests have arisen, as the state license feature, if carried out, will work a revolution in present methods.

Attorney General Hensel in an interview said: "Judge Doty holds that the act of 1893 requires a license to be paid for each theatrical exhibition, and this is his decision in no case of protest has arisen, as the state license feature, if carried out, will work a revolution in present methods.

MISS SHAFFER'S CHOICE

She Became the Bride of Charles Sing, a Chinese Laundryman.

There was a marriage ceremony performed on the top floor of the post-office building at Penn avenue and Spruce street Saturday night at which floral horseshoes, bells, etc., were conspicuous by their absence.

The blushing and happy bride was Miss Jennie Shaffer, a maiden who has buffeted the adverse storms of twenty-four golden summers and as many cold and sloppy winters. The man she promised to love, honor and obey while life shall last was Charles Sing, the almond-eyed Celestial who conducts a laundry in the basement of the post-office building. His bride's parents reside on the top floor.

Rev. G. C. Alrich, pastor of Grace Reformed Church, was the Officiating Clergyman—Parents of the Bride See Her Wedded to the Mongolian. Mr. Sing Will Take His Bride from the City.

Rev. G. C. Alrich, pastor of Grace Reformed church, tied the knot in the presence of Miss Shaffer's father and mother and the two Casteians who acted as bridesmaids and groomsmen. None of Mr. Sing's friends had the pleasure of participating. They were rigidly barred out. After the ceremony had been performed, Mrs. Shaffer looked admiringly at her daughter, and then at her son-in-law. She seemed pleased with the union.

THE BRIDE IS ATTRACTIVE.

Mrs. Sing is quite an attractive young woman. She is a blonde, and whenever she appears on the street is stylishly and becomingly dressed. In some way Charles Sing, who is an Americanized Chinaman, and much better looking than the majority of his countrymen, succeeded in winning her affections. She seems very much devoted to him. The festivities that followed the wedding were very quietly conducted and yesterday Charles returned to his duties in the laundry.

It is far too practical to allow such nice qualities of Mrs. Sing as a housewife. He says that he will shortly take her from the city although he has not yet decided where they will migrate.

Within a week Sing's laundry has been investigated by the police, it being alleged that he conducted a gambling house.

OUR CURTAINS

Are worth going a long distance to see. No such collection can be found nearer than New York or Philadelphia, and that it is not surpassed in the matter of unique and exclusive designs, or richness, daintiness and delicacy of material. STRUGGLING FOR POSITION.

M. E. Clark and Patrick Golden Want to Get in the Democratic Column.

The question of deciding whether M. E. Clark or Patrick Golden will have their names printed under the Democratic headline on the tickets that will be used in the Sixth ward at the February election was argued before Judge Edwards on Saturday. Attorneys Conneys and Vaughan represented M. E. Clark, while Attorneys Servey and Hensley looked after Mr. Golden's interests.

The trouble dates back to a Democratic caucus held in the Sixth ward on Dec. 16—it was called by Mr. Mannix, city committeeman from the ward, and was to have been held in the school-house. School Controller Mahon ordered the citizens out, and the caucus was held in the house of Mr. McDonough, directly opposite. The contending factions had their representatives on the board and Clarke and Regan were declared the nominees.

The following Tuesday evening Mr. Golden called a caucus at his place. This was the caucus that a TRIBUNE reporter failed to find. Mr. Golden's friends aver, however, that the caucus was held and that it was strictly Democratic. The certificate of nomination was signed by George P. Duhigg and John P. Mahon as officers of the caucus.

Mr. Clarke filed his certificate Dec. 19, while Mr. Golden's was not filed till Jan. 8. Both claiming to be Democrats, the courts will have to pass upon the right of either to the coveted position. Many witnesses were sworn on both sides. D. W. Vaughan and M. F. Sando, vice-chairman and secretary respectively of the Democratic city committee, shed some light on the rules of the party while many Sixth ward citizens, representing both sides, gave testimony in behalf of their candidate's interest. Judge Edwards gave the case very close attention, and he will hand down an opinion in the case today.

ARRESTED AS A PICKPOCKET.

A Gay Frenchman in the Meshes of the Law.

Charles de Manuel, a sewing machine agent, who claims his home is in Olyphant, was arrested at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western depot Saturday afternoon for attempted pocket picking. He was given a hearing in police court yesterday afternoon.

De Manuel is a typical Frenchman and the nationality is stamped on every lineament of his features. He wore pointed toe shoes and clothes cut in the latest style. His beard was cut in vandylie style and his whole appearance betokened the man of dress.

When questioned he answered in good English and stated that he had lived in Paris until last April. He could converse fluently in seven different languages. Nothing could be proved against him and he was discharged.

VERDICT AGAINST MR. HURLBERT.

Jury Says He Must Pay Back to Mr. Beck the Sum of $100.

The suit of W. A. Hurlbert against W. K. Beck to recover $178, debt and interest, due on a piano, was given to the jury for their decision. It was that the instrument was not a good one and had been misrepresented by Mr. Hurlbert.

Instead of giving a verdict for Mr. Hurlbert, the jury gave a verdict against him for $100. A verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $231 in the case of Martha Evans against George Jones, executor of Rachel A. Jones. Mrs. Evans sued for $500. The case of L. Klein & Co. against Isaac Ackerman was continued until the March term.
