FOREST CITY FLASHES.

Brevities of News and Gossip That Will Repay Perusal.

FOREST CITY, Pa., Jan. 22.—At the Presbyterian fair Saturday night the following were the winners of prizes: John E. Hughes, a handsome silk belt quilt; David Harris, a beautiful Christmas card; Mrs. W. L. Bates, a fancy table; Winnie Lott, a foot stool; door prize by George Horton. Some other fancy articles were sold at auction during the evening.

George S. Dunn, the agent Ontario and Western station at Jersey, and friend G. W. Dyer, laid Forest City friends and relatives a visit Sunday.

Charles D. Burdick, clerk in the Hillside Iron and Coal company's office at Scranton, spent Sunday at his home on Hudson street.

A slight error was made in today's TRIBUNE in the report of the Democratic caucus. M. J. Collins, present justice of the peace, and H. K. Vanzhi were unanimously nominated for that office. Mr. Collins from First ward, and H. K. Vaughn, Second ward. H. K. Vaughn, in a brief speech, nominated Woodbury Coyle for high constable. John Cotter declined. Mr. Coyle was then nominated by a unanimous vote.

Daniel McMullen, of Carbondale, spent Sunday with his friend, Benjamin Galgenast, of this place.

Rev. J. C. Hogan preached an eloquent sermon to a large congregation Sunday evening.

Miss Callie Lanning spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Susquehanna.

C. S. Alexander has removed to the Baid building.

Rev. J. C. A. Benjamin, of Honesdale, will lecture tomorrow night at the Methodist Episcopal church in the interest of the Epworth league. Admission free.

THE TRIBUNE was the first paper to come to Forest City today containing an account of the Democratic caucus. Subscribe for THE TRIBUNE for Forest City news.

FOREST CITY REPUBLICANS.
Club Meets Tonight and Caucus Will Be Held Wednesday Night.

FOREST CITY, Pa., Jan. 22.—The Republican club will meet in Davies' hall tomorrow night. The following night will occur the Republican caucus at the same place for the purpose of nominating borough officers for the coming political fight, which promises to be the greatest one ever held in the borough.

The Democrats have a good ticket in the field, but undoubtedly the Republicans will try and place just as good a one.

THE NEWS OF NEARBY TOWNS

BOROUGH FEUDS RE-KINDLE.
There is Discussion in Bitter Chunks Among Dunmore Democrats.

DUNMORE, Pa., Jan. 22.—After many moons of unpartisan harmony and peace, after unfolding all borough affairs in its enumerable tenacles, the Patriotic Henry club, which hides itself under the cloak of Democracy, has succumbed to that fatal disease, internal dissension, and overt sedition of one faction, which has ruled it for years and has dictated to all connected, has aroused the ire of the neglected portion and now the whole association is in chaos, and the candidates who nominated themselves are in fear that the Democratic convention, where the fixed primaries usually ratify the club's wishes, they will be sniped under.

In other words the Boland-Duggan faction and the McCormack-Gibbons faction are at war. Both factions are about equal in strength, but the former one has administrative with a high hand for a long time, making the latter one dunes to their music. At times this music has not been written in the best of time and on this occasion the tune has been entirely neglected, the McCormack-Gibbons section being left in the cold without a nomination. The fight has been declared and now the Democratic adherents do not know where they are at. If the one party is out at the primaries the other one will be considered antagonistic and vice versa. In the mean time the Republicans are saying little and thinking a good deal.

Another cause of dissatisfaction in the Henry ranks is caused by a letter that has been issued to every nominee requesting him to discontinue any alliance with the Republican party and refuse any endorsement or nomination in their hands. The disgruntled ones are seeking satisfaction in the Republican ranks, and as the latter party expects to nominate a ticket that will in reality be a People's ticket it they desire they will obtain what they thought.

NEILSON SUIT EXPLAINED.
Grounds Upon Which the Plaintiff Recovered $3,000 Damages.

FOREST CITY, Pa., Jan. 22.—The lawsuit which took place at Montrose last week between Carl Neilson, of this place and Hillside Coal and Iron company came to an end Saturday afternoon, when the jury returned its verdict. The facts in the case are these: In the spring of 1890 John Neilson, a son of Carl's, was employed by the company as the "head" of the Forest City breaker. When about his work he had his knee caught between the bumpers of two empty coal cars, having his leg broken in three places. It was claimed that he was not carried home as promptly as he should have been, but taken to a slanty on the "head" of the breaker and left there about twenty minutes before he was carried home, and then on a board by two men. No one was at his home to send for a doctor, so a space of time intervened before the doctor was sent for.

The injured limb was attended to, but after the boy recovered, his leg was crooked at the knee, making him lame for life. A suit for $25,000 damages was begun against the company last week, occupying nearly the whole week.

Those who attended from this place were Dr. Granler, J. D. Cary, John F. Gallagher and son Joe, Peter Gillespie, Bernard O'Hara and others. L. P. Wedeman, of this place, and C. N. Smith, of Scranton, were attorneys for the plaintiff, while Major Everett Warren, of Scranton, and A. E. Smith, jr., of Montrose, took care of the defendant's side. The jury, as has been previously announced, returned a verdict Saturday, awarding the plaintiff $3,000.

JOYCE STILL HOLDS ON.
Major Warren Employed to Look After the Board's Interests.

TAYLOR, Pa., Jan. 22.—Martin Joyce is still in possession of the Continental school. The school board meets tomorrow night and if they will listen to the taxpayers' demands Joyce will be removed if the Thirteenth regiment has to be called out to do it. The board has employed Major Everett Warren to look after their interests. Although Mr. Joyce's attorneys, Scragg, Taylor and Lewis, have advised him to vacate the building he still holds on to the fort. Principal Joyce still scoffs at the board's charges.

His average attendance is six scholars, and many children are not permitted to attend owing to his abusiveness. The question is, shall he control, or will the directors have the backbone to insist upon his immediate removal?

JOHN BAUMAN INJURED.
He Fell from the Second Story to the Floor Below.

HONESDALE, Pa., Jan. 22.—While at work in the Riel-Spittig block this morning John Bauman, brick, a mason, fell head foremost from the second story through a wall hole to the floor beneath and was badly injured. He was taken to the office of Dr. Dunsibens, where it was found the two bones of his right wrist were broken, and bruises about the body were sustained.

Mr. Bauman is well along in years, but it is hoped that no serious injuries were received.
