LIVE NEWS OF TWO PITTSTONS

Events of the Upper End of Luzerne County Briefly Narrated.

THE DEATH OF THOMAS LINSKY

Passes Away Peacefully Tuesday Evening at His Mill Hill Home—The Evening Gazette Draws the Deadly Parallel on Borough Republican Chairman Charles B. Smith—Other Gleanings of News and Gossip of Interest to Tribune Readers.

(THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE'S Pittston department is in charge of J. M. Fahy, to whom news items and complaints may be referred.)

Thomas Linsky, of Mill hill, after a brief illness passed peacefully away Tuesday evening. About two months ago he underwent an operation for kidney trouble. He recovered from the attack, however, and was so improved that on Friday of last week he attended a funeral of a friend in Jermyn. On his return home he contracted grip, which rapidly developed into pneumonia from which he died last evening.

Mr. Linskey is survived by his wife and three children, Michael, Martin and Margaret. His funeral will take place on Friday morning. A high mass of requiem will be celebrated in St. John's church, after which interment will be made in Market street cemetery. The friends of the deceased wish to announce that no carriages will be used at the funeral.

THOSE DEADLY PARALELL LINES.

The Gazette Shows Chairman Smith's Inconsistency by Comparing Notes.

It is highly interesting to compare the actions of Republican Borough Chairman Smith, at the convention last year, when he permitted the authorized party representatives to exercise their undoubted right to choose whomsoever they wished as candidates, with those at last evening's convention, when he acted under orders from the colonel. No comment is required to give force to the following. It tells its own story.

"Chairman Smith here announced that nominations for candidates for borough offices were in order, the first to be named being for burgess. Continuing, Mr. Smith said, 'if the delegates do not think it advisable to put a full party ticket in the field, they can endorse the Citizens' ticket, as there is a strong sentiment in favor of doing so. It shall, though, remain for the delegates to decide."—Extract from report of last year's Borough Republican convention.

"Mr. Henry Knowles arose and moved that the convention endorse the Citizens' ticket. The motion was seconded, but Mr. Smith declined to entertain it. 'We are here to nominate Republican candidates,' he said."—Extract from report of last evening's convention.

Your Clark's Summit correspondent seems to be ignorant of the true conditions of the subject of heating school No 1, as the contract for heating the same was made on Jan. 2, to be completed in thirty days, to Mr. Spencer, of Thomas. And as regards the ten who are compelled to attend school in Scranton, if as many there be, they are simply taking up studies which are not taught in our public schools, and would do the same if school No. 1 was in session.

An interesting programme offered by the Epworth league tomorrow evening (Thursday), will consist of a solo by Mrs. F. H. Parsons; solo by Miss May Benedict; solo by Miss Jessie Polhamus; solo by Miss Bertha Beatty; select readings by Miss Emma Coon and Mrs. Ella Chapman; recitations by Horace Davis, Miss Edna Sudlow; Miss Fannie C. Sherman of Waverly and Miss Bessie Mullenix; also instrumental music and chorus by the league members.

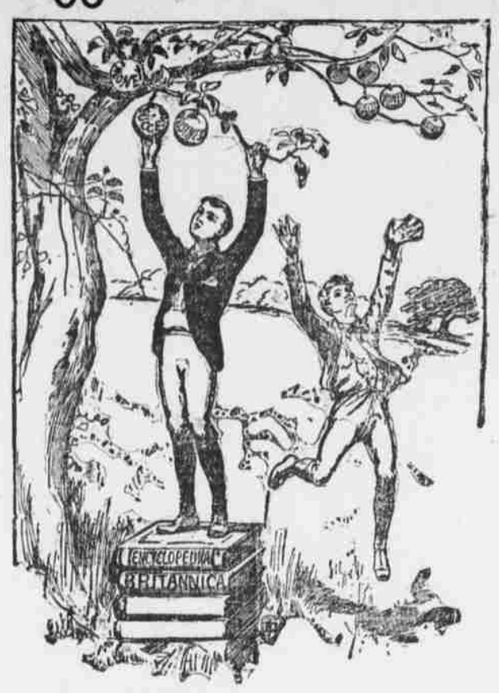
A Suggestion to Mothers!



The bravest battle that was ever fought,
Shall I tell you where and when?
On the maps of the world you'll find it not---
It was fought by the mothers of men.

MOTHERS, REMEMBER THIS FACT:

"It is not what you do for your child which helps him, but what you encourage him to do for himself." Read this formidable array:

Washington, Greeley, Goethe, Schiller, Carlyle, Emerson, Ruskin, John Wesley, Victor Hugo, George Herbert, Cowper, St. Augustine, Cowley, Curran and Napoleon. These sons admit that to the training and equipment received from their mothers they owed their wonderful success. Each one of these great men (and the list might be indefinitely lengthened) has left in evidence the fact that the MOTHER INFLUENCE was strongest in the formation of the individual who afterward stood forth pre-eminent among his fellows.

No idle dreamers they—not men noted merely as well bred and polished, but names that have shaken empires and stimulated the thought of the best men of the times in which they lived. They represent the glorious achievements of MOTHERS. But, say some, how can a Mother give attention to the education of her children amid her multitude of household cares and duties?"

John Wesley's Mother is a standing rebuke to such as make this excuse. Mrs. Wesley was the mother of 19 children, and yet even after her sons had left home and entered college she continued to guide them by judicious and thoughtful advice.

No bequeathal of fortune, however princely, can compensate for the neglect of education.

Education will prove the crowning glory of your child's life. By means of it he brings money to his purse, happiness to his loved ones and honor to himself. In this connection it is that THE TRIBUNE suggests to MOTHERS, and strongly urges the importance of the Encyclopedia in the home. The education which this great work supplies is needed in the home life, that parents may learn how to wisely care for, intelligently train and inspire their children to become noble men and women. The 25 volumes of this great work constitute a library so complete that by its use no Mother can fail to supplement the teaching her children receive at school with that greater and nobler education that every child should receive—THE EDUCATION OF THE HOME CIRCLE.

This happy chance to provide yourself with a library on easy payments and at the wholesale price will soon pass away—the opportunity of a lifetime.

TRIBUNE LIBRARY

A GENTLEMAN having some pretension to literary culture approached Shakespeare one morning bearing with him the manuscript of a book which he had written confessing that he not at a loss to give it a suitable name and requesting that Shakespeare read the book and suggest a becoming title.

The great poet consented, and on the following day returned the manuscript to its author, recommending that it be styled "Loosened Leaves from Literary Laurels." The caustic irony of the poet has an immediate application to our large collection of books, embracing the celebrated works of the greatest authors, including those of the Immortal Bard himself.

Read the large list of books in our catalogue. We have purchased them in large quantities at extremely low prices. See if there is not something which you need for your library or for gifts to your friends.
