MRS GRUNDY, JR. "Mrs. Grundy, Jr.," one of Charles Frohman's latest successes, will be produced at the Academy next Thursday evening. It is new to the English language and the American stage, and there is a whole story in the title, "Mrs. Grundy, Jr." It is from the pen of Clyde Fitch, whose authorship of "Bean Brummel," apart from his other great works, would be enough to give him enduring fame. Miss Henrietta Crossman, who made such a success here in "Gloriana" last season, will be with the "Mre. Grandy, Jr."

Dr. MacArthur's Lectures. The Rev. Dr. MacArthur, who captivated so many by his eloquent sermon at the recent dedication of the Elm Park church of this city, will favor the city of Scranton by delivering two lectures on February 8 and 9. The first lecture on "Glimpses of Sunny Spain from Historic Hilltops," will be delivered at the Elm Park church. The second lecture on "Chipa from Many Shops," will be deliv-ered on the West Side of the city at the Jackson Street Baptist church. These lectures will be an unusual treat to our city accustomed to good things. The New York Tribune says of Dr. MacArthur: "His voice has a rare plaint or melody of its own, is 'cello-like and penetrating in quality and ready for the uses of the noblest oratory.

St. Mary's hall has been thoroughly renovated and placed in a safe condi-tion. Some time ago it was pronounced unsafe for large meetings, and enter tainments were prohibited. Contractor Callaghan has built a brick base-ment under the structure. The exense incurred in making the change is large, and as the hall is the property of the parish, an effort will be made to raise the necessary funds by holding a musical and literary entertainment on Feb. 6. The talent engaged for the occasion is first class, and augurs well for the entertainment. The programme will be elaborate and
