NEWS FROM WEST SIDE

Happenings of a Day That Will Interest Hyde Park Readers. CONCERT FOR BENEFIT OF POOR It Was Given Last Night in St. Patrick's Church on Jackson Street—Birth-day Party at the Residence of John McWilliams on Swatland Street—Liquors Club's First Social—Other News Items of the Day.

The West Side office of the SCRANTON TRIBUNE is located at 125 South Main avenue, where subscriptions, advertisements and communications will receive prompt attention. The auditorium of St. Patrick's church was filled last evening, the occasion being a concert for the benefit of people in destitute circumstances. That the cause met the hearty approval of the people was shown by the large number who attended. The affair was in the charge of Professor Haydn Evans, leader of the choir, and the programme opened with an anthem, "Sanctus," by that well-trained body of singers. A solo by Miss Lizzie Reynolds followed, and a duet by Llew Herbert and Howell Davies met with approval. Mrs. Kate Sullivan, Edward Welsh and John Connolly formed a trio which rendered "Benedictus." Llew Herbert gave a solo, and the Misses Lizzie and Margaret Reynolds rendered a duet in an excellent manner. An instrumental selection was given by Miss Hurst Ward, and a selection from Gounod's mass was rendered by the choir under Professor Haydn Evans. Llew Herbert again sang, and "Gloria" from Schubert's mass given by the choir closed the concert. No admission fee was charged but when the affair was concluded a collection for the benefit of the poor was taken up, to which those present responded liberally.

Anniversary Party. The home of John McWilliams on Swatland street was brilliantly illuminated last evening and the place was a scene of activity. The occasion was the thirty-ninth anniversary of his birth, and a large number of guests were received during the evening. An excellent instrumental selection was enjoyed by all. Among those present were J. T. Jones, D. C. Hughes, Thomas Cosgrove, C. B. McDermott, William Humphrey and William Gaffney.

Their First Social Event. The Ingot Select club opened their series of socials in Mead's hall last evening. The room was neatly decorated and presented a striking appearance as the merry dancers glided through the hall to music furnished by Professor Johnson. About thirty couples were present.

Brief Items of News. Enterprise lodge, No. 21, Loyal Knights of America, will celebrate its twentieth anniversary with a reunion of its members at a banquet to be held on Monday evening, Feb. 19. Short addresses will be made by the members which will be interspersed with musical selections. The Washburn Street Presbyterian church Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor will celebrate its anniversary on Tuesday evening next. Rev. T. A. Mills, of the Memorial Presbyterian church, Wilkes-Barre, will be the speaker. Cars began running on the Taylor line of the Scranton Traction company yesterday morning for the first time since the severe snow storm. David R. Williams, of South Hyde Park avenue, is recovering from an illness. G. A. Williams, of the Republican, has returned from Wilkes-Barre where he has been under the care of the dentist for the past few days. The Hyde Park Free library will be reopened within a few days. John H. Evans, of Jackson street, is seriously ill. Jackson street hill was crowded with bob sleds last evening. The most conspicuous was the "Nancy Hank," a model sled, patterned similar to the look and roller truck by being steered both front and rear. There are two seats and it has a patent brake appliance. This sled was built at a large expense and is run by John Wetling and Elmer Crane. Carr's home made mince meat is now being sold by several dealers here.

SELECT AND COMMON COUNCIL. Both Branches Have a Meeting—Business That Transpired. Select council met in regular session last evening. Two ordinances passed this evening as follows: Creating certain offices and fixing salaries, providing for vacating Drinker turnpike. A petition for horses for Relief Engine company was referred to the estimates committee. Common council met to consider an ordinance for the repeal of an ordinance for the grade of Rebecca avenue. A. H. George, E. A. Nichter and F. J. Johnson made addresses. W. J. Thomas made one of the ablest and most sincere addresses ever made by any councilman in favor of repeal, and Mr. Brown's recommendation that the ordinance be repealed passed two readings.

Warranted a Sure Panacea. Hartford Council. Kill the Wilson bill and there will soon be plenty of money in the treasury without increasing the debt of the country. Are Waiting for Applause. FRIEND FRITZ THIS EVENING.

A Delightful Play to be Given at the Academy of Music. This evening the Marion Manola-John Mason company will return to this city and again present their charming performance of "Friend Fritz," which achieved such a pronounced success when first presented here last October. It is a charming musical entertainment, and a free translation of the Comedie Francaise success "L'Ami Fritz," which is looked upon by the French as a classic. Its story is one of simplicity and love without the usual accompaniment of the stage villain. The scenes of the comedy are laid amid the valleys and along the brooks of the Clairfontaine, and tells of the triumph of love, and again proves that love is the ruler of the universe. The music, of which there are thirty numbers, was written by Julian Edwards, a clever musician. The company is a particularly good one, capable of singing as well as acting.

LAUGHABLE MRS. GRUNDY, JR.

Frohman's Comedians Give a First Class Performance at the Academy. One of those complicated French farces which theater goers have come to expect from all of Charles Frohman's companies, was presented at the Academy of Music last evening before an audience that is shamefully such. Nevertheless, every person who was present had a laugh of two hours and a half duration. The play was "Mrs. Grundy, Jr.," an adaptation of the French farce, "Corrigan vs. Corrigan." It was produced by Charles Frohman's comedians. The company was headed by such capable players as George Leslie, Charles S. Abbe, Miss Henrietta Crossman and Miss Margaret Craven. "Mrs. Grundy, Jr.," is a very laughable piece. The humor is plentiful and wholesome and is ably assisted by such artistic performers as Mr. Frohman's comedians, it pleased the audience at the Academy last evening immensely.

FIVE DOLLARS GIVEN FOR THREE.

That Is What Schank, the Shoe Merchant, is Now Doing. The well known shoe merchant, Schank, of the Arcade shoe house, is now receiving the first of his spring goods, and has not enough store room for all he has ordered. There is only one thing for him to do and he has done it. That is, get rid of the goods he has on hand at present at just what they cost. Not cheaper than they cost, because that would not be good business, and Schank, above all, is a good business man.

Therefore during February, he will sell shoes that elsewhere sell for $3 at $2. And all other goods will be sold at proportionately low prices. But remember, these low prices will not prevail after the 23rd of February. SCHANK'S ARCADE SHOE STORE.

FELTZ WENT TO THE COUNTY JAIL.

He Rashly Threatened to Take the Life of Jankman Sorovitz. David Feltz, of Raymond court, was arraigned before Alderman Wright yesterday charged with having threatened to take the life of his neighbor, Jacob Sorovitz.

The men had a discussion and during an angry scene that followed Sorovitz asserted that Feltz had been branded in the old country for misconduct. This put Feltz in a towering rage, and he forthwith procured a pistol and threatened to assist Mr. Sorovitz to make his exit from this world of sorrow.

As the latter would be compelled to part with his junk shop, he declined the proffered assistance and had Feltz arrested. In default of $500 he was committed to jail.

DUMAS' THREE GUARDSMEN.

The Play to be Presented by Alexander Salvini at the Academy. In Alexander Salvini who will present "The Three Guardsmen" at the Academy on Monday evening, the play goes to the right to expect big things from the standpoint of heraldry alone. Had he not realized the greatest part of his expectations he might long ago better have changed his name. Even his name itself would be a loadstone around his neck, did he not show an ability to perpetuate the fame of his illustrious father.

The position the younger Salvini now occupies has been won quickly and legitimately. He has succeeded to an unequalled degree in doing what no other actor of this generation has accomplished—he has successfully revived the romantic drama.

THE WICKLOW POSTMAN.

Eugene O'Rourke to Repeat His Excellent Irish Comedy-Drama. The well known Irish comedian, Eugene O'Rourke, will make his second appearance here as a star tomorrow evening in "The Wicklow Postman," the new comedy-drama written for him by the well known actor and playwright, Mark Price.

Mr. O'Rourke is possessed of a handsome face and figure, good singing voice and a nimble pair of feet, and in the part of "The Wicklow Postman," which is the title of the play, he will be given ample opportunity to display the above qualities to advantage.

NOTES OF SOUTH SIDE

Happenings of a Day That Will Interest Many Tribune Readers.

COMMON COUNCIL MUST ACT SOON

Or There Can Be No Election in Nineteenth Ward—The Law Bearing on That Question—Demand That Next Board of Trade Meeting Be Called for Discussion of Bridge Question—Funeral of Mrs. Moriarity.

Unless common council takes prompt action in the matter, there may be no election in the Nineteenth ward at the general election to be held on Feb. 29. The act of 1890 declares that council shall by resolution appoint the date on which an election shall be held to fill a vacancy, and the mayor shall issue a proclamation to that effect ten days prior to the date fixed by council. Last night's meeting was called for a special purpose and nothing else could be considered save the question for which the members were called together. The regular meeting will be next Thursday, and it behooves the candidates, P. J. Hickey and August Franz, to see to it that the necessary legislation be enacted at that time.

Make It a Bridge Meeting

The regular meeting of the South Side board of trade will be held next Tuesday evening, and the idea is gaining ground that the meeting should be exclusively a bridge meeting. There is a widespread feeling that a wholehearted and dispassionate discussion of the bridge question should lead to the matter. The times are propitious for such a gathering. All possible data has been collected and compiled, and the total cost of the improvements can be definitely stated. For the purpose of making a complete explanation, City Engineer Phillips, Councilman Roche, Lauer, and other councilmen who have made a study of the question, should be invited to participate in the discussion.

Funeral of Mrs. Moriarity

The funeral of Mrs. Michael Moriarity took place yesterday morning from the family residence on Orchard street and the concurrence of attendants was unusually large. Services were held in St. Peter's cathedral, where a solemn high mass of requiem was sung. Rev. Father Millane being celebrant. At the conclusion of the mass Father Millane preached an eloquent sermon that was full of solace to the relatives of the deceased. Interment was made in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

Fred Zang's Philosophy

Fred Zang, the Pittston avenue grocer, is a keen observer of things and events, and his sayings, while not grammatically correct, are always original, full of truth and humor. Mr. Zang is a neighborly, kind, and unpretentious European bread baker, who introduced Vienna bread into the French capital, and who, by the popularity of the product, rapidly acquired fame and riches. Mr. Zang believes that a lesson can be learned from every occurrence which is worthy of attention. While addressing some intimates that were waiting for the car, he stated that the quarrel and reconciliation between the German emperor and the ex-chancellor showed to both men what they could rely on for friends.

Shorter Paragraphs

It is a suicidal policy and a very unpatriotic one to oppose a public improvement because the gentleman appointed to represent a ward may not be one's choice.

DUNMORE.

The fire department is making strenuous efforts to have the council's attention drawn to the question of a serviceable alarm clock that will correspond with the finely equipped hose houses. An electric system equipped to be favorably spoken of and it is hoped that the council will heed the influence which is being brought to bear. The present alarm is the laughing stock of the city, and it is in most cases is heard to pour forth its steam about the time, whatever may be on fire, has collapsed. With a good fire alarm Dunmore would have ample protection against fire and the confidence of insurance men, which now wavers, would be restored.

The Junior Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church will hold a social in the church parlors tomorrow evening. Refreshments will be served and a literary and musical program will be rendered. It is for a worthy cause and should be liberally patronized.

Crosswalks are badly needed in some sections. Pedestrians are continually crossing at the corner of Fourth and Elm streets, yet there is no walk to use, necessitating a wade through mud.

There is a rumor that council will make an appropriation this year for the purpose of beautifying the town hall surroundings. This would be a move in the right direction, as it is, long so conspicuously located as it is, looks sadly neglected.

The handsome residence which is being erected on upper Dunley street is rapidly nearing completion. It will be occupied by H. A. Mace, chief dispatcher of the Erie and Wyoming Valley railroad.

James Dowd is on the sick list.

The case of Potter vs. the borough of Dunmore, which was to have been brought before court yesterday, has to be postponed on account of the illness of ex-Judge Ward, counsel for Mr. Potter. The suit arises from the borough suing Mr. Potter for maintaining a nuisance. As such they consider his slaughter house which stands near the Drinker turnpike. The matter was brought to the attention of the health officers by one Patrick O'Boyle whose residence is situated near the slaughter house. Mr. Potter says that the whole affair is a spite action on the part of Mr. O'Boyle, whose dog the Pottery killed because of its gluttonous appetite for sheep. He also says that there can be no unpleasant odor arising from the place as the swine disposals of all offensive offal or any other refuse that would endanger the health of those living in the vicinity. The case promises to be a highly contested one and will involve some time, as there are thirty or forty witnesses on each side, with probabilities of there being as many more subpoenaed.

Books by Express. Any person ordering ten or more books at one time may have them sent by express prepaid.

A WARRANT FOR CALLAHAN.

He Will Be Arrested as Soon as Released from the County Jail. P. J. Callahan, the Pittston young man who escaped from a charge of embezzlement Tuesday on a technicality, was taken before the court yesterday and sentenced to pay the costs. A verdict of not guilty was directed in Callahan's case because the embezzlement did not actually take place in this county. A warrant has since been sworn out charging him with embezzlement in Susquehanna county. It has been lodged with the sheriff and Callahan will be again arrested as soon as he is released from the county jail.
