

LIVE NEWS OF TWO PITTSTONS

[THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE'S Pittston department is in charge of J. M. Fabry, to whom news items and complaints may be referred.]

AN EXCITING POLO MATCH.

Hookies Defeat the West Side Team After a Hard Struggle.
One of the most stubborn and hotly contested games of polo ever fought in this section took place at the Wyoming skating rink Saturday evening between teams representing the Black Diamond Hook and Ladder company and West Pittston Hook company from this place. The fact of the game being an interesting one when properly played, caused renewed interest, and as a result the rink was crowded a few minutes after the door being thrown open. That the many years which have rolled by since the roller skating craze was at its height did not lessen the skill displayed by the skaters in former years was apparent to every one. The game started soon after 8 o'clock and lasted exactly one hour and thirty minutes, resulting in a victory for the "Hookies" by a score of 3 to 2.

THINGS OBSERVED AND NOTED.

Viewed from a disinterested standpoint, things politically are pretty well mixed up, so far as the coming local election is concerned. Charges and counter charges are freely made by the representatives of the several parties. Just what the result of these charges will be is hard to forecast. Some have gone so far as to have inserted in an out of town paper a statement to the effect that a certain active worker in the Reform ranks once upon a time opened an envelope belonging to a politician and abstracted a portion of the $5 contained therein. The individual to whom the charge is directed makes no denial. As is well known during political times such abuse is to be expected, and he the candidate good, bad or indifferent, he cannot help it. Personal attacks, however, is to be deplored and should be discontinued, for it is neither edifying or honorable so far as decent people are concerned. Like the boomers, in this time out of every ten, it generally recedes with far greater force and with much less disastrous results than those pursuing such despicable methods. The present fight is one calculated to improve the interests of the town, not a personal issue between the several candidates. Therefore have done.

Louis L. Downing, of the West Side, contributed the following pretty verses, under the caption, "Mother, to yesterday's Wilkes-Barre Leader: There's a tombstone over yonder, in the churchyard on the hill, That I think an awful sight of an' am sure I ever will. It ain't so big as some around it, nor it didn't cost a dime, But my thoughts turn ever to it, an' expect I'll go at it some night. It's been there now these many years an' it's been toward the ground. An' it's almost to show amid the bigger ones around. But for all it's modest about 'tis 'scape of any other. It's dearer far than all the rest, fer by it sleeps my mother.

If you had a mother, boys, that's as kind and good as yer, Alike thinkin' of your good as of mine she always were. A speakin' gently to you, when you be behavin' bad. An' kind of motherly in it down when she talks it over with you. I say, that of your mother is as good to you as mine. Love her while she's livin' yet, respect an' treat her kind. Fer the time is surely comin', just as sure as sure kin be, When there'll be a new sone somewher' an' you'll think the same as me.

Mr. Downing, although a very young man, is a clever verse writer, and many of his compositions find their way into the columns of the metropolitan journals.

Candidates for state delegates to the Republican state convention are beginning to pop in on the West Side. Among those prominently mentioned are, E. A. Corry, Jr., and Justice of the Peace James H. Burt. The time rolls around a lively conflict is prophesied. In the event of either contestant being elected, the district will be well represented.

Certain individuals who evidently have not taken the trouble to acquaint themselves on the law governing the qualification of candidates for office, have become imbued with the hallucination that James Kennedy, of the Second district in the Sixth ward, who is a candidate for councilman, is not qualified. The contention is based on the fact of Mr. Kennedy having removed from the state some two years ago and located in another state. Admitting all this, the fact of Mr. Kennedy having returned and taken up his residence here last July brings him within the pale of the law governing such cases, for it specifically sets forth that for a voter to regain his residence requires but a six months' residence in the state.

That the art of photography is keeping pace with the art and sciences of the times is fully illustrated by the many specimens of work which are to be seen at every photograph studio, not alone in Pittston, but in every city as well. The high standard of the work which is at present being turned out by our local photographers is evidenced by the large business they are doing and bespeak volumes for the operators' abilities.

For BURNS, SCALDS, BRUISES and all pain and soreness of the flesh, the grand household remedy is Dr. Thomas' Eucalyptic Oil. Be sure you get the genuine.

The News Recorder suggests that Grant Herring is the name of the new internal revenue collector for this district.

A PETTY SWINDLER.

He Ratched a Tale of Woe and Secured Thirty-Five Cents.
Special to the Scranton Tribune.
CLIP FORD, Pa., Feb. 4.—A stranger called upon J. D. Williams, the well-known and popular proprietor of the Temperance House at Renkham. Well dressed and suave he unfolded a tale that made the tender heart of the philanthropic John D. Williams throb. He said, with the tears welling up in eyes, that he had only just joined the firm of Jones Bros., and coming from Taylor with the team and wagon he was run into by a beer wagon, which took off one wheel and two springs. It would cost him 25 cents, he said, to telegraph to Wilkes-Barre. When he called John D. Williams was taking a siesta, and his good lady asked him is your business particular? The reply came, "Yes, I could only see him for five minutes all would be well." True, good and honest J. D. Williams was relieved of 25 cents quite by a snark who had uttered left Renkham alone.

MERRY SLEIGHING PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Fadden Entertained a Number of Friends.
Special to the Scranton Tribune.
PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Fadden entertained a sleigh load of young people from Archbold on Friday night. Supper was served by the hostess in her usual kind manner, after which songs and other amusements were indulged in until a seasonable hour, when they all departed for their homes.

EASY ROAD TO KNOWLEDGE.

How an Investment of 10 Cents Per Day May Purchase a Whole Library.
The poor man or woman should understand that the edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica which we are offering is an excellent work, and is an exact reproduction of the original Edinburgh edition, and that it is offered at the exceedingly favorable terms of only 10 cents per day. This is so low that almost any person may procure the work, which is, in fact, an entire library within itself. But one condition is imposed upon the purchaser, and that is that he shall be a subscriber for THE TRIBUNE.

A good idea of the completeness of the encyclopedia may be obtained from the following recital of its salient features:
Twenty-five large quarto volumes comprise the set. It numbers a total of over 22,000 pages, or an average of almost 1,000 pages to each volume. There are 16,494 articles, each averaging in length one and one-fourth pages. An average of 142 specially written and signed articles are found in each volume, a total of 3,599. From titles of the entire work consists of 16,355 pages of articles prepared by persons specially fitted for the work in hand. Over 9,000 separate illustrations are to be found embodied in the work, 338 engraved plates, besides 671 maps and plans, including 257 colored maps, making a grand total of nearly 19,000 illustrations.

All of this vast amount of information is brought up to date and is the only form in which such an immense amount of knowledge is presented to the public at such a low price and at such ridiculously reasonable terms. Remember this offer cannot run indefinitely. In fact it must soon be withdrawn having run longer than was at first anticipated. Get your set from the front of the hear.

ACTUALLY STARVING

A Prominent New York Man Dies in Sight of Food.

WHY COULD THIS BE SO

It is Clearly Explained, and the Fearful Danger That is Hanging Over Other People Fully Revealed.

"Thousands of men and women in New York and throughout the land are starving although they have plenty of money to buy the best of food!" These startling words were recently uttered by a prominent physician, whose residence, situated in one of the best parts of Fifth avenue, is daily crowded with anxious patients. He made the above remarkable statement to a reporter in the course of an interview.

"I say," he continued, "that they are starving to death—slowly, but surely. But the pity of it is that few of them realize it. Most of them eat plenty of food, often live in luxury, but still they remain thin and emaciated, appear to be consumptive. Why is it, do you ask? It is simply because the food they eat does them no good. Their systems do not assimilate it, or extract the proper amount of nourishment from it. No wonder they grow weak, pale, thin and puny. In plain English, they are starving to death exactly as if they were up in a dungeon and given only half the amount of food they need. Nine out of every ten people you meet are suffering from the most terrible disease of modern times; that is, indigestion and the inability to assimilate the food which is eaten. I know a prominent man who died recently from just this cause."

"What do you advise such people to do, doctor?" he was asked.
"I will tell you what they ought to do and what they ought not to do. What people need in a flesh former. Scientific investigators have proved that a pure starch food is the only flesh-former which builds up the system, and is instantly assimilated by weakened digestive organs. Taking advantage of this fact one of the greatest scientists the world has ever known devoted a lifetime to experiment and research. He at last obtained a true flesh-forming food, the essence of nourishment, a pure starch food. It is known as Paskola."
"This wonderful preparation is taken during the meals just as it is put up. Its immediate effect is to enter the system, directly assimilate and enable the food that is eaten to be likewise digested. The result is the extraction of every particle of nourishment from the food eaten, added to that already supplied by Paskola. Unlike the cod-liver-oil emulsions and other rancid, fatty mixtures it can be enjoyed by people who have the weakest stomachs."
"You don't approve of fats, then, doctor?"
"By no means. Their use for gaining flesh and strength is a relic of barbarism. They give neither strength, flesh nor warmth. Millions of thin, pale, consumptive persons remember the delusive hopes of recovery they were led to indulge in by the advertisements of these fat and oil compounds or emulsions, and their hopes faded into bitter disappointment. How can anyone expect to get well and strong by taking nauseating, sickening doses of oils and fats?"
"I will tell you another remarkable thing about Paskola," remarked the physician. "It is artificially digested, so that it is absorbed, and that it requires no digesting when it enters the stomach. In this way Paskola imparts strength to the weak, and makes thin, fragile persons plump and robust. There never has been anything like it for promptly relieving exhaustion and tired feelings. People who take Paskola are advised to weigh themselves when they commence taking it, and observe the wonderful effect produced after a short time. They will find their weight has greatly increased and their general health vastly improved. The progress of science is indeed wonderful, and in no way have I been so impressed with this fact as by this great discovery, Paskola, which is certainly the greatest thing for weak, thin, debilitated people that was ever brought out. I urge everyone who needs healthy flesh, more sound vigor and strength, to try Paskola, and they will be astonished and gratified at its wonderful effect upon them."
A pamphlet giving full particulars respecting Paskola will be sent on application to the Pre-Digested Food Co., 168 Duane St., New York City.
