entertainment committee announces the Lotus Glee club for Monday evening next se the fourth event in their popular standard course. This company, with Miss Marshal as reader, is already a favorite organization with Scranton music lovers.

In the case of Phillips & Co., against the National Express company, the arbitrators have filed an award of no cause of action. The plaintiffs sued to recover for a package of goods consigned to a customer at Laffin through the National Express company which was stolen from the depot at Laffin.

At the meeting of the poor board yester-day afternoon Secretary Lynett read a let-ter from the poor authorities of Cambria county in which it was stated that a man who claimed to have resided at 402 Lackawanna avenue, in the Second ward of Scranton, was a charge on that district. The man is clearly an imposter.

ARS. SWAN MAKES THE MOTION

Was Seconded and Prevailed, Al though Mr. Gibbons Wanted to Table It-Mr. Tropp Made a Motion That Mr. Gibbons Considered an Affront-Persons in Arrears-Mr. Wormser's Good Showing.

Mrs. Frances Swan at the meeting of he poor board yesterday made a moion that proves that during the long controversy over the question concern ing the right of the poor directors to administer outdoor relief she has been actuated by the proper motives. The decision of the court on the subject is expected very soon, and to a TRIBUNE reporter Mrs. Swan said: "I do so hope that the decision will be favorable, No one is more anxious to assist the deserving poor than am I, although cerboard's attorney."

Mrs. Swan proved her statements later. Mr. Scrarg, the attorney of the board, had stated that he expected an opinion on the subject to be handed down by the cours on Tuesday. When he concluded Mrs. Swan rose and moved that in the event of the opinion being favorable to the granting of out door relief the board should be called together in special session and at once. Mr. Gibbons moved to table this motion, but his motion received only his own Mrs. Swan's motion was carried, Mr. Gibbons again dissenting,

ALL ABOUT A REPORT. Mr. Gibbons handed in a report signed by himself and Mr. Williams in regard to putting in a steam apparatus GINGHAMS. at the nome and no sooner was it read than Mr. Tropp moved to lay it on the table. The motion was seconded by Mr. Shotton. Then the war began. Mr. Gibbons stated that he had never been affronted so in all his relations with public bodies in the city. Mr. Tropp stated that Mr. Gibbons had not acted according to instructions. The minutes were referred to.

Mr. Gibbons' idea was to put in building to cost $9.002.40, while the mo-tion was to ascertain the cost of furnish-ing the new building. Mr. Gibbons de-clared that the carrying into execution snapped up at exorbitant rates in some of his plans would pay for itself in ten years. Mr. Tropp argued that it was unwise to make the changes, as it seemed to be an unnecessary burden. Mr. Gibbons seemed to take the matter so hard, though, that Mr. Tropp with-drew his motion, and a motion that the report be filed was adopted. A motion that a range be bought for the new building was then adopted. OTHER MATTERS CONSIDERED.

$671 10; Kate Barrett, $78; James Nallin, $57; George Williams, $183; Stone, $10; Annie Young, $32 86; Mary Cunningham, $52; Jacob Goerlitz, $38 W. Dougherty, $266.29; Peter Frank, $19,14; Adeline Arnold, $38. The bilis were referred to ascertain how much of them could be collected.

The following report of the finance committee in relation to the report of Collector Wormser was adopted:

Commissions. 3,222.04
All the exonerations asked for have been submitted to individual directors and they have examined the lists for the wards in their districts. It is worthy of note that the percentage of exonerations and abatements is smaller than ever claimed or granted by any former collector in this poor district. Thomas F. Shotton, Charles Tropp.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

The attraction at Academy of Music this evening is Katie Emmett in "Killarney." According to the verdict of dramatic critics throughout the country, "Killsrney" is vastly different from the average Irish play and that in a most pleasant degree. There is no coarseness or vulgarity in it: there is a vim about every detail and the wit and humor is bright, clean and wholesome. There is no wild, sensational climax, yet the curtain goes down at the end of each act disclosing a fitting picture for the finale.

A POOR RELATION. Sol Smith Russell is justly proud of nis position on the American stage, and "points with pride" to the fact that the people go to see his plays who never entered a theater to witness any other production. Critics regard him as one of the greatest artists the stage has ever, produced, and that the public agree with them is evidenced by the crowded houses which have greeted him in all his engagements throughout the country this sesson. Mr. Russell

Monday evening. LADY WINDERMERE'S FAN. "Lady Windermere's Fan" will return Feb. 21 and give another per-formance. No new play has been re-ceived here with such peculiar interest as Oscar Wilde's famous comedy, "Lady Windermere's Fan." American theatregoers think better of Oscar Wilde after witnessing a performance will appear at the Academy of Music of his wonderfully clever play. OLIVER TWIST. Mr. Davis' new stock company has scored a positive hit in "Oliver Twist" at New Wonderland. A more mirthprovoking or thoroughy enjoyable per-formance is seldom offered in this city. The action in the play is brisk, the dialogue almost always futeresting and the advantages for seeing display fully ntilized. INTERESTING HOSPITAL CASE.

Uneducated Deaf Mute Indicates Her History to the Doctors. A particulary interesting case at the Lackawanna hospital, is that of the deaf mute who several weeks ago was found sick at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western depot and taken in charge by the officials of the Home for the Friendless. This society placed the woman in a private house, but a few days later she was taken to the hospital, as her ailment did not improve. Since her advent to the hospital she has proved to be a tractable patient and the phy-sicians by means of signs think they have a fairly complete history of the woman. She is a Pole and recently arrived in this country, leaving behind five fath-erless children. Her husband received a blow on the head, and falling into a mine, was killed. That she was a widow was indicated by pointing to one of the physicians and then to herself, when she would call attention by signs to her marriage finger and the place where a ring ought to be. Then she sharply slapped her hand against her head and politing to the doctor with plunge with the other. Several times the woman has gone through the pantomime, but her face brightenens as she calls attention to her five children by holding her hand about three feet above the floor and then raising it five times to about the height of her oldest child, at the same time spreading the five fingers of her disengaged hand

one hand indicated a downward

The woman, though entirely uned-ucated as to the finger alphabet and other deaf mute accomplishments, seems bright, cheerful and hopeful of soon being able to be about. When she has recovered she will be given work at St. Joseph's Foundling Home.

NOTED Just As Seen.

The Scranton Times appears to carry tain persons have tried to make it appear otherwise. I did not make the law, however, and in the past I have been merely endeavoring to live up to the law as it was construed by the the law as it was construed by the revenue office in this city and is now engaged in the heroic efforts to secure the scalp of Chief Clerk Peter Ginter. From the manner in which the paper pitches into the partisan superintend-ent at the crib, there seems reason for suspicion that all is not serene in the camp of the local Democracy. The Times evidently has a friendly feeling for Republicans in the civil service, for if the vitriolated articles upon the division of the spoils have any influence at all the influence will be to keep the Republican hold-overs in office.

Edzras Howells boasts of the distinction of being the only Welsh Democrat in the city of Scranton. Mr. Howells is a trifle lonesome, though naturally of a hopeful disposition, and it is thought will soon turn his back upon the party that favors industrial destruction and join the hosts that march behind the banner of progress.

Notwithstanding the constant prediction that rents must emulate the steam cooking apparatus in the entire In the business portion of the city rents instances. In certain localities where rentals are in accordance with convenences and the situation, a dozen tenante stand waiting for every house that is vacated. These facts seem to indi-cate that the building interests of Scranton will still bear further boom-

Young men who observe a white badge pluned to the garments of lady Secretary Lynettread a report showing amounts due to the district from various persons who had been confined in the alms house during the past six years. The total aggregated $2,706.37. The items are as follows, Mary Slacker, $471; Mary Bone, $609.75; Mary Roney, $451; James Loughney, $671.10; Kate Barrett, $78; James Nal. lieving in within their power. The society will undertake the work of distributing donations to the poor at any time, and will engage in charitable work of every kind as opportunity offers. Although some of the fraternity of the G. F. S. may perhaps ct as ornamental members, it is certain that the organization contains many warm hearted and sympathetic girls who are thoroughly in earnest in the work. Under these conditions the white badge is an emblem that should provoke admiration everywhere. There should be more of them.

BIG BILL OF COSTS FILED.

Expensive Litigation Over Fifty Acres of Madison Township Land. The bill of costs of the defendants in the case of Silas Hartly against John P. Hull and Charles Willard was filed with Prothonotary Pryor yesterday. It

The arbitrators found against the plaintiff and two of the jury trials also esulted in favor of the defendant. Nearly, if not quite the value of the land in dispute, has been consumed in litigation.

An Ejectment Suit Grows Out of the Joseph Davenport Litigation.

WANT TO PROTECT THE LEASES

Mr. Davenport, After Being Defeated By Comegys and Davis, Surrendered His Lease to A. B. Russell, Owner of the Land-Those Who Sublet From Him Ignored-Jerome Britton's Interest in the Land.

H. C. Comegys, Thomas Davis, William R. Williams and S. M. Mayer have begun an action in ejectment against A. B. Russell and Jerome Britton, of Scott, and Joseph Daven-

Britton, of Scott, and Joseph Daven-port, of Priceburg.

The property in dispute is what is known as the C. Wesver tract of coal land in Blakely borough, a short dis-tance northwest of Priceburg. The land is owned by A. B. Russell, who, in Dec. 31, 1877, leased the property to Joseph Davenport for mining purposes. Mr. Davenport never fully developed or scertained the amount of coal underlying the land, but tiring of the property he sublet it to H. C. Comegys and Thomas Davis. They proceeded with their mining operations and some time-later Mr. Davenport repudiated the eases he had made with Comegys and Davis, declaring that he had never signed the particular lease under which they were working. The court, how-ever, decided that the leases were valid. While the litigation was in progress an attempt was made one morning to assassinate Mr. Davis at the mine.

DAVENPORT RELINQUISHES. After the litigation over the leases were disposed of Mr. Davenport sur-rendered his lease to Mr. Russell, the owner, who gave Jeroms Britton an interest in the property, the intention being that Mr. Britton should develop it for the benefit of himself and Mr.

The right of these gentlemen to now take possession of the land is disputed by the plaintiffs, who claim they have a valid lease for it. It is to protect this lease that the action of ejectment is

AFRICA AT THE ACADEMY.

King Louis IX, of France, seeing his George Thatcher and a Good Company Creates Much Laughter.

Although George Thatcher the ex-ninstrel man was billed as the star of 'Africa," which was presented at the Academy of Music last evening, he was not the chief nor the best entertainer of the company. Such well known performers as John A. Coleman, the trans-Atlantic dancer, John C. Rice, and Charles Hopper were fully as en-tertaining as the former burnt corked banger of tambourins. Indeed, it was owing to Mr. Thatcher's persistent efforts to spring long-winded stories and jokes of another age than this that the performance had to be cut when the third act arrived considerably behind scheduled time. There was plenty of fun so long as Mr. Thatcher refrained from telling stories. Once he got started his comrades in "Africa," setiled back with a well-you're-puttin'-up-themoney and have-a-right-to expression on their countenances.

The company that surrounded Thatcher was capable of creating great fun, and all performed their duties in good style whenever the star gave them chance. John A. Coleman was heartily greeted when he made his appearance, and in the role of a young college graduate with a mania for exploration he did some right good acting. His dancing and character impersonations were received with great approval by the audience. John C. Rice and his wife Sallie Cohen, assisted very materially in the fun making.

One of the hits of the show was made by E. C. Dobson, quite a handsome fellow by the way, but who, when made up for the part of "Professor" Mike Milligan, a Harvard instructor in the manly art, was about as ugly and tough looking a man as one could find after a six months' search among the sporting fraternity.

There is nothing in particular about "Africa" so far as regards a plot. It might just as well been called Hawaii. or Zanzibar or Minooka. There is plenty of fun, however, and this doubt less makes an excellent substitute for a plot.
