PERSONAL. Miss Augusta Wright, of Madison avenue, is visiting friends at Easton.

Representative Knibbuck and ex-Treasurer Harting, of Wayne county, were in the city yesterday.

L. W. Stofel, of Roanoke, Va., is in the city on business connected with the proposed new railroad to New York.

Mrs. William W. Van Dyke, of Jefferson avenue, has just returned home from an extended visit to the Pacific coast.

DUNMORE. The Young Men's institute held a meeting at the library Sunday afternoon and elected officers.

The following were chosen: President, B. W. Cooney; first vice-president, Frank Collins; second vice-president, John F. Golden; recording secretary, W. J. Crane; financial secretary, P. J. Finerty; marshal, Arch Miller; corresponding secretary, Frank McHale; executive committee, Thomas Mahon, P. W. Taylor, James Finerty; chaplain, Rev. G. McMurray.

Miss Elsie Colgate, of Hawler, spent Sunday with Miss Blanche Biles.

Misses Rose Warner and Agnes Nichol, of Moscow, visited at the home of Robert White on Sunday.

Mrs. Sadler Hopkins, of Drinker street, is convalescing after a short illness.

The gentlemen of the Presbyterian congregation will hold a meeting at the church parlors this evening to make final arrangements for their social, which is to be held on March 13.

The ball of George M. Wallace lodge, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, promises to be a grand affair and hundreds of tickets are being sold.

H. A. Maco, chief dispatcher of the Erie and Wyoming Valley railroad expects to occupy his new home on Dudley street at an early date.

Anthony Horan who is erecting a new residence on Dudley street thinks "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" so will have false pillars built in the oil workings under his house and lot.

The new schedule of the Scranton Traction company will be appreciated by all who travel via No. 6 section. It is much more of an accommodation to the traveling public all over town than the old plan was. It fills the place of the old branch car and also gives Chestnut street people the same service they formerly had. The company should now build some kind of shelter at No. 6 junction so passengers will not have to stand in storms when waiting to make connections. It would cost but a trifle compared with the increased favor in which the public would view the officials.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gelatt, of Snaguehanna county, Pa., are guests at the home of Engineer Bronson, on Elm street.

The Times has secured a correspondent for this place in the person of Squire B. W. Cooney. The squire is an energetic and up to date personage and will prove valuable to the daily his reports.

Dr. Chamberlain being the five year appointee on the lately appointed board of health will act as chairman and will shortly call a meeting to consummate an organization of that body.

Miss Mary Cooney, of Pittston, spent Sunday with Miss Annie Cooney, of Portersburg.

Mrs. Troop, of Drinker street, is ill at her home with pneumonia.

Miss Lizzie Cronin, of Drinker street, is visiting friends in Hyde Park.

Messrs. M. J. McHale, John Fallon and Lawrence Howard, of Olyphant, were visitors at this place on Sunday last.

Misses Elvira Harris and Emma Gray, of Hyde Park avenue, spent Sunday with Miss Alice Spencer, on Bloom street.

Mr. Stephen Allen is confined to his home by illness.

The attendance at the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school last Sunday was 397, the largest number the school has ever had.

The funeral of Matthew Steen, who shot himself on Sunday, will occur tomorrow morning at 10.30 o'clock at Moscow.

W. C. Kestell, of Peckville, called on friends here this week.

Over $30 was realized from the Fannie Crosby entertainment given at the Methodist Episcopal church Friday evening.

NEWS FROM WEST SIDE

Happenings of a Day That Will Interest Hyde Park Readers.

DEBATING OFFICERS NOMINATED Important Meeting of the Hyde Park Literary and Debating Society.

Members of the Tabernacle Congregational Church to Observe St. David's Day by Giving an Entertainment—Short News Notes.

[The West Side office of the SCRANTON TRIBUNE is located at 124 South Main avenue, where subscriptions, advertisements and communications will receive prompt attention.]

An interesting meeting of the Hyde Park Literary and Debating society was held last evening in its rooms on South Main avenue. The following officers for the ensuing term were nominated: President, Philip Davies; vice president, John M. Edwards; recording secretary, Emerson D. Owen; corresponding secretary, Wallace G. Moser; treasurer, Will J. Davis; critic, Charles House; sergeant-at-arms, Arthur Davis; executive committee, John Hingbo, James Powell, Will Davis, David Davis, Charles E. Daniels and Herbert Hall; membership committee, D. J. Evans, George T. Griffiths, David Owens, Haydn Evans and Walter Jones. The election of officers will take place at the next meeting. The regular literary work was afterward taken up and was of an interesting nature.

Treated for Cancer. H. S. Brown, of North Sumner avenue returned from Philadelphia on Saturday evening after an absence of nearly two weeks. Mrs. Brown, his wife, underwent a critical operation for cancer at a hospital of Dr. Goddell, a week ago last Saturday, which was attended by Dr. M. J. Williams, so critical was Mrs. Brown's condition that it was considered by her physicians an almost fatal attempt. Mrs. Brown's condition yesterday was so improved that she was able to sit up in her bed. From present indications it is expected that she will be able to return to her home in the course of a few weeks.

Entertainment and Social. The members of the Tabernacle Congregational church will render the following programme at their annual observance of St. David's day on Thursday evening: Remarks, Chairman Benjamin Hingbo; solo, Elmer H. Herbert; solo, Miss Fannie Jones; address, Judge H. M. Edwards; solo, David Stevens; solo, Miss Cora Storms; addresses, by the bard; solo, Daniel Prothero; recitation, Mrs. Thomas James; solo, Mrs. I. J. Lewis; solo, Elmer Herbert. At the close of the performance an excellent supper will be served by the ladies of the Sunday school.

An Evening Social. A very pleasant social was held in Messrs' hall last evening under the auspices of the Sir Knights of Pleasure. The affair was a complimentary given to the pupils of their class, as they also entertained the members of Enterprising dancing class of the East Side. The hall was neatly decorated. Bunting and flags were gracefully draped upon the walls, making the scene one of great beauty.

Interesting News Notes. Luther Lewis, of Eynon street, now undergoing treatment at the Albany (N. Y.) hospital for spinal trouble, is slowly improving and his attending physician predicts an ultimate recovery.

Mrs. Thomas Beach, of North Garfield avenue, will leave on Friday for a visit with friends at Reading and Philadelphia.

The funeral of John Davies, of Bellemead street, will take place this afternoon at 1.30 o'clock.

Eynon and Taylor car No. 27 left the track on West Lackawanna avenue bridge yesterday afternoon at 5.30, causing some delay in traffic.

Miss Bertha Reese, daughter of S. M. Reese, of North Hyde Park avenue, arrived home on Sunday from New York. Miss Reese recently graduated as a nurse at the Bellevue hospital and was among the twenty seven graduates who received a percentage of 100 in grammar.

The family of Lon Stevens, of North Sumner avenue, has recovered from a severe attack of scarlet fever.

David Davis, of Wanania, is the guest of friends on this side.

Charles Sanker, of South Hyde Park avenue, has returned from a visit with friends in Danville.

AMUSEMENT NOTES. "The District Fair" which will be at the Academy of Music this evening has a number of sensational features.

There are several races, where two horses jump several hurdles at full speed, a burning blacksmith shop and other scenes of a like realistic character. The company is said to be a competent one and the scenery will undoubtedly be all that can be desired.

THE STRUGGLE FOR LIFE. Walter Sanford's grand production of "The Struggle for Life" comes to the Academy for two nights, beginning Wednesday, Feb. 22. The scenic features display extraordinarily elaborate variety and perfection of detail. Battery Park in winter, with view of the statue of liberty and New York harbor by moonlight, Rutgers' ship in a snow storm, with a view of the shipping on East river and St. Patrick's cathedral on Fifth avenue are among the many marvellous stage pictures presented with realistic truthfulness.

AWARD FOR MASON & SNOWDEN. Arbitrators Say that They are Entitled to $307.64.

The action of Mason & Snowden, Green Ridge lumber dealers, against Gwennie Morgan, owner, and Bland and Evans, contractors, was heard before Arbitrators John E. Cummings, George W. Beale and Fred R. Stark in the arbitration room yesterday.

The plaintiffs sought to recover for lumber furnished for a house on Wells street, Providence, built for Mrs. Morgan by Bland and Evans.

The arbitrators gave an award of $307.64 in favor of the plaintiffs against Mrs. Morgan.

TRIED TO VICTIMIZE MERCHANTS.

A. W. Dickson and G. J. Babcock Worked Upon by James Tyrell.

For some time past a man has been going about the city representing himself as a principal agent for Clark Bros., the West Side merchants, and claiming to be short a small sum would ask it of his victims to complete a purchase.

A. W. Dickson and G. J. Babcock were approached by the man last week and on their complaint he was arrested. He gave his name as James Tyrell and his address as Philadelphia. He was remanded yesterday by Alderman Wright.

Frederick Bronno, shipping clerk at the Weston mills, said that Tyrell monochalantly entered his office and inquired for the superintendent, in whose absence he was referred to Mr. Dickson. Tyrell approached the latter and said he had just purchased a quantity of poultry for Clark Brothers but lacked a small sum to complete the sale, and asked Mr. Dickson to supply the amount.

The latter said he would act as a matter of precaution stepped to the telephone to inquire of Clark Brothers if everything was right. Tyrell passed out and said he would return again. He did not come back.

George H. Easterly, employed by G. J. Babcock, stated that Tyrell tried to play the same game with his firm.

In answer to the charges Tyrell said he had no recollections of the circumstances. He would make no other statement.

NORTH END.

The Father Whitty society resumed drilling at St. Mary's hall last night. They mustered in strong force and answered to the roll call upwards of two hundred strong. Their winning of the Catholic Total Abstinence union trophies last fall brought them prominently before the public. Their excellent, in a military sense, remains undisputed by military critics without dissent.

It is the Whitty's, one of the best drilled companies in the city. Rumor has it that Company C, of Pittston, their former vanquished rivals, are about to challenge them for a large amount of money. Should the rumor be true the Providence boys will gladly hail the opportunity, noting that they have the honor of having won the trophies honorably won by the Whitty's last September.

Mrs. John McNamara, of West Market street, died Saturday night. She is survived by her husband and six children. The untimely demise of Mrs. McNamara is regretted by a large number of sorrowing friends.

A fire broke out at the house of Thomas Thomas, living on Putnam street, yesterday morning at 8.45 o'clock. An alarm was sounded from box 51, which promptly brought the fire companies on the ground. They were the Liberty, Excelsior and Columbia Hose companies. Their services were not brought into requisition, as the bucket brigade had succeeded in extinguishing the blaze.

The fire caught from a cooking stove in the kitchen in the rear of the house. A portion of the furniture and the kitchen walls were damaged.

Lodge 28 Loyal Knights of America, will hold a social and entertainment in Osterhout's hall, West Market street, tonight, visiting lodges from Hyde Park, Taylorville and Olyphant will attend and help to make this event one worthy of their presence.

The Primitive Methodist congregation on East Market street, will reopen their church on Washington avenue, opposite the county jail, on March 11. Rev. Mr. Savage is pastor of the East Market street church of the denomination.

The members of the church will hold a meeting on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of electing a pastor for the ensuing year.

The funeral of Mrs. Jefferson, of Mill Creek, daughter of the Rev. George Lees, will take place today. A large number of the clergy of the North End will attend the funeral. The deceased was well known by many people in this section.

Zabediah Knapp, of East Market street, is convalescing after a severe illness.

THE FIRST RAY OF SUNSHINE.

It Has Filled in Upon the Poor Man's Aspirations.

To the masses, heretofore, the possession of a library has been but a fond dream, the realization of which has been but disappointment. Halls of state, universities, palatial homes and occasionally the professional man's sanctum were the abode of such luxuries. The advent of the Encyclopedia Britannica, in its present state of perfection at the price and on the easy terms, was the first ray of sunshine that fitted in upon the poor man's aspirations. It is truly a library covering fully and accurately all human knowledge. From a condensed cyclopedia for the convenience of people owning libraries, it has gone through nine revisions, each time being enlarged, until the present edition, completed in 1890, embraces twenty-five large quarto volumes, a total of 91,000 pages, besides about 2,000 pages of supplemental matter written since 1890.

It is a happy union of encyclopedia and library, for by the adoption of alphabetical contents and marginal references it is rendered the most available of encyclopedias. Thus, in the history of a country, you can readily turn to the paragraph touching such points as mountains, rivers, lakes, productions, animals, birds, reptiles, races and tribes of mankind, etc., peculiar to that country. This system of classification extends to all manner of subjects treated. THE TRIBUNE'S offer at $1.99 per volume must soon be withdrawn, do not miss the opportunity. You do not mean to. Then why hesitate? Do as hundreds have done and do not wait till the last day.

Address THE TRIBUNE E. B. Dept., 437 Spruce street.

NOTES OF SOUTH SIDE

Happenings of a Day That Will Interest Many Tribune Readers.

CONDITION OF TIERNEY ESTATE Owing to Debts Contracted at Brewery There Will Be a Deficiency of Several Thousand Dollars—Church Societies of St. John's Parish to Build a New Hall—Several Deaths Reported, Successful Concert—Two Accidents.

W. J. Hand, administrator of the Tierney estate, was on the South Side last evening looking after his duties by endeavoring to dispose of the hotel fixtures in the hotel on Lackawanna avenue. From Mr. Hand it was learned that John Tierney, steel blower at the south works, would probably take possession of the hotel April 1, and Mr. Hand's visit was made with the intention of disposing of the fixtures to the intended proprietor to the best advantage of the estate.

In reference to the condition of the property Mr. Hand said: "When the affairs were wound up there will be a deficiency of some $4,000 or $5,000. Were it not for the brewery the estate would realize to the legatees about $7,000 or $8,000. As it is, the amount I have stated will not be liquidated."

Deaths and Funerals. Mrs. Fred Haum, of Elm street, whose serious illness was referred to yesterday, died before the paper had gone to press. Mrs. Haum was to all appearances a healthy, rugged woman good for a long lease of life. She had lived in the Nineteenth ward for many years and reared a large family. Her husband and ten children survive her.

The funeral of Mrs. Thomas O'Malley, who died Saturday night, will take place from her late residence on South Wyoming avenue at 9.30 o'clock this morning. Services will be held at St. Peter's cathedral. Mrs. O'Malley was a bride of only a few months. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Rourke, of South Washington avenue.

Thomas Higgins, who was injured at the south works a week ago last Friday night, died at the Moses Taylor hospital on Sunday. His remains were taken to the residence of Patrick Connelley on Cedar avenue, where the funeral will be held. Interment will be made in Wilkes Barre.

James Meers, of River street, who has been ill for a long time, died Sunday afternoon. His funeral will take place this afternoon. He is survived by his wife and seven children.

A Profitable Concert. The concert given at the Cedar avenue Methodist Episcopal church last evening was most successful. The church was taxed to its entire capacity. The street cars brought over numbers from the central city, all of whom were interested in hearing the new organ.

This concert was a success in every way and under Miss Richmond's fingers the instrument seemed to be imbued with life and speech. The following programme was rendered: Chorus, "Oh, Father, whose Almighty Power"; Chorus, "The Lord, whose Name is Praise"; Miss Mitchell; Chorus, "Jesus Only"; F. A. Carr; Chorus, "Send Out Thy Light"; Chorus, "Praise as a Bird"; Miss Mary Davis; Chorus, "And the Glory of the Lord"; Chorus, (selected); Miss Marion Jones; Chorus, "We Never Will Bow Down"; Chorus, (selected); Miss Mitchell; Duet, Misses Nellie Sullivan and Minnie Titlbarg; Chorus, "Magnify, Glorify"; Chorus, C. J. Carr was chorister and S. T. Jones presided.

To Build a New Hall. A movement is on foot to erect a hall in St. John's parish. It is a continuation of that progressive congregation. It is intended to put up a building that will cost between $8,000 and $10,000 and will be fitted up with all modern improvements.

A meeting of the three church societies was held Sunday afternoon, at which much enthusiasm was manifested. Although no action will be taken until Father Melley's return a committee of nine representing the three societies was appointed to devise ways and means to push the project to a speedy issue.

Two Accidents. James McCoy, foreman of the forging department of the Scranton Axle works, fell Sunday evening while going to the coal shed for a pall of coal and sustained a fracture of the leg.

A son of Mrs. Mangon, of Prospect avenue, was injured Sunday evening while playing with his companions. Dr. Manley attended him.

A Card. The advertisement that the College building is for rent is calculated to excite some comment. There is a difference between the owners of the building and the management of the College as to the price of rent. We wish to assure our patrons and friends that ample provisions will be made to meet any or all the needs of the school and every department will be sustained by large and better appointments.
