PROMINENT POLITICIANS HERE.

Republicans Return from Yesterday's Susquehanna County Convention. Quite a number of prominent local Republicans returned from Susquehanna and Wayne counties in this city last night on their return from the Republican county convention held at Montross yesterday. In the party were: Representative Philip J. Dorrice, Uniondale, Susquehanna county; E. B. Hardenburg, Honesdale, who will receive the support of the Susquehanna county delegates for the senatorial nomination of the Twenty-sixth district, composed of Wayne and Susquehanna counties; L. P. Wedeman, secretary of the county convention held at Montross, and T. C. Manser, Forest City.

From the party it was learned that Arthur Codrington and L. B. Miller were elected delegates to the state convention with instructions to vote for General D. H. Hastings, for governor, and W. N. Reynolds, for secretary of internal affairs.

Myron B. Wright, the present congressman from the Fifteenth district was nominated by acclamation as Susquehanna county's candidate to succeed himself. The congressional caucuses appointed were constituted senatorial caucuses and were instructed to support Wayne's candidate for senator, E. B. Hardenburg.

The action of the convention assures Mr. Hardenburg the nomination and election; the two counties are overwhelmingly Republican. Mr. Wright's chances for the congressional nomination, while not positively assured, are nevertheless favorable. Wayne county is placated by Susquehanna's support of Mr. Hardenburg. The gentlemen of the party did not know of any congressional bee buzzing in any ear popular enough to defeat Mr. Wright, Bradford and Wyoming are yet to be heard from.

Before adjourning the convention voiced its sentiments in a resolution condemning the incompetence of Mr. Cleveland and the rule of the Democratic party generally.

For a long time the opening of Ninth and Meridian streets has been desired, and the work was to have been done, but a snag in the form of a larger sum of money than was at first calculated has stopped the procedure.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company looked it. In regard to the culm which it is necessary to have removed, the city engineer stated that it would cost about $1500. The railroad company may put in a culm separator next summer and have the material removed. Then the opening may be completed.

PECULIAR SHOOTING ACCIDENT

Fred Rentschler Accidentally Shoots His Brother—The Ball Entered Beneath the Eye and Descended to the Mouth—The Supposition is That the Ball Was Swallowed—One Species of Imposition—Shorter Paragraphs.

What came very near being a serious accident, even though it was a sensational, happened yesterday afternoon when a boy named Rentschler discharged a revolver, shooting his brother beneath the eye.

Jacob and Fred Rentschler are brothers residing at the rear of 732 Alder street. They are affectionate and live together in perfect harmony and both of them are young men. Yesterday morning Jacob found a revolver in the closet at the rear of the house. It was a .32 calibre and Fred, in endeavoring to explore its mechanism, discharged the weapon.

The bullet struck his brother, Jacob, beneath the eye and descending entered his mouth. Here all traces of the leaden missile were lost and the supposition is that the wounded man swallowed the bullet. The wound, although ugly in appearance, is not dangerous, and save for looks is not even uncomfortable. The shooting being purely accidental no arrest was made, although Sergeant Davis, Officers Roche and Lowry made an investigation.

One Species of Impostor. There are impostors in almost all walks of life and in some instances they are more frequent than in any other class, and Conductor Grimes reported the following case yesterday: A woman residing in the Nineteenth ward boarded Mr. Grimes' car yesterday and gave him a nickel in payment for a ride. After he had collected all the fares the woman coolly informed him that she had given him a quarter. Mr. Grimes was staggered and denied the imputation. She informed the woman that she had worked that game once before, claiming that she gave a dime when she only gave a nickel. She created such a scene yesterday, however, that Mr. Grimes denied it prudent to present her with 25 cents. Conductor Manley stated that the same person tried to impose on him in a similar manner, but fortunately a lady passenger was able to disprove the woman's assertion. A street watch will be kept on her in future, and another such move will subject her to apprehension.

Shorter Paragraphs. Dr. J. W. King, is preparing to go to Buffalo. He has been in this city about three years, and has been a very successful practitioner. He has had a great number of very successful cases, and as a surgeon he is reported as being very successful. Scranton, however, does not offer him the scope he desires and to seek a larger field he will locate in the Bison city.

There must have been a good sized row on Hickory street some time Monday night or early yesterday morning. A large pool of blood was discovered on the sidewalk and drops of blood were discovered on the walk the entire block.

The funeral of Charles Higgins will take place this morning. Funeral services will be held in Wilkes-Barre. The funeral of Mrs. Fred Hamm will take place tomorrow morning. Services will be held in St. Mary's church. The Star Social will raffish a shaving set on April 21. The officers of the organization are: President, Peter Phillips; vice president, Charles Miller; secretary, William Kellerman; treasurer, Matthew Damsel.

HONORING MR. LANGSTAFF. Controller George Mitchell Moves a Vote of Thanks. Before reorganization of the board of control in evening Mr. Mitchell arose and said: "It is customary at this time of the year to show our appreciation of the efforts of a retiring president. The members of the board of control whose existence and labors this evening, owe our retiring president our heartfelt thanks for the unusual courtesy he has shown. True, we deplore the fact that he is absent from our deliberations, but I am confident that we are all grateful that he has been so close to the valley of shadows and survived to assist in building up the educational institutions of this city. I also hope, and I am sure I voice the sentiment of his colleagues, that he may be spared for many years to continue in his present sphere of usefulness. I move a vote of thanks to our retiring president." There were several seconds to the motion. It prevailed, and in reply Mr. Langstaff said: "Gentlemen, I thank you for the many courtesies I have received at your hands. You have treated me very considerably and I bespeak the same kind treatment for my successor."
