

LIVE NEWS OF TWO PITTSBORNS

[THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE'S Pittston department is in charge of J. M. Paly, to whom news items and complaints may be referred.]

SQUEEZED BETWEEN CARS.

William Paine a Lehigh Valley Employee Fatally Injured. William Paine a Lehigh Valley railroad car inspector received injuries yesterday morning which resulted in his death. The accident occurred about 8 o'clock yesterday morning in the vicinity of Coxton yard. Paine it appears boarded a morning train for the purpose of riding to the yard. He had partially succeeded when a car standing on another track caught him. The space between the cars was so small that he was fairly squeezed to death. When the morning train had passed on some persons who had witnessed the accident hurried to the spot and picked him up.

The unfortunate man was placed aboard an engine and taken as quickly as possible to the Pittston hospital, but his spirit fled a few minutes after reaching the institution. Paine was a single young man and boarded with his sister, Mrs. Leano Jones, of West Pittston. His remains were taken to the home of Mrs. Frank Sissman, 329 York avenue, another sister, from which place the funeral will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The body will be taken to Ashley for interment.

FUNERAL OF MR. BANKER.

Laid to Rest with Impressive Ceremonies in Pittston Cemetery. The funeral of Charles Banker took place from the family home on Lehigh street at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Divine services were conducted by Revs. B. S. Smith and Dr. McNulty. The funeral cortege was a large one and included Gahonta lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of which he was a member.

A quartette composed of Mrs. K. Miller, Miss Spence, T. B. Staley and A. Mathews rendered some pretty hymns during the ceremony. The pall-bearers were the following members of Gahonta lodge: C. H. Foster, G. M. Sax, T. B. Lince, Cornelius Evans, John Anderson, L. Goodman. Interment was made in Pittston cemetery. Among the out of town people who were in attendance were: Rev. G. M. Colville, D. D., and wife, of Binghamton; Henry Banker, George Banker, George Haine, Mrs. Martha Banker and John Reeder, of Wilkes-Barre.

PITTSBORNS LOCAL.

Epitomized News Notes of Interest to Wide-Awake Readers Generally. The weather yesterday, while very disagreeable underfoot, was all that could be desired overhead. The District Fair will be the attraction at Music hall this evening. The play is an excellent one and is deserving of a good house. J. J. Curt, of the Wyoming Valley House, is in Norristown trying to have satisfied a claim for $32.30 against the "Rube Stacy" comedy company, which played here last week.

FOR WORKINGMEN.

Small Savings That are Certain to Return Large Interest. There is a widespread idea that books are costly luxuries, and that only those possessed of abundant means can afford to be the owners of works covering a very wide range of topics. Hence many men, young as well as old, who are desirous of educating themselves, are prevented from so doing simply because it is impossible for them to spare the money needed for obtaining the necessary books. It is quite true that the possession of a complete library involves large expenditure of humble means. But it is a fact that the ability to educate one's self does not depend upon large expenditure for books. At best an education is but an epitomization of the knowledge of others, and does not involve original research except in a few cases. To obtain such an epitomization does not necessarily involve a detailed study of all the works upon any desired topic, since this has already been done by the best scholars, the results of whose labors are contained in those great condensations known as encyclopedias. The encyclopedia is the poor man's complete library. In it is the concentrated wisdom of the best minds the world has ever seen. It is authoritative and complete.

The amount required in order to obtain possession of that greatest of all encyclopedias, the Britannica, is so small that no one can plead poverty as a reason for not purchasing it. The insignificant sum of 10 cents a day can surely be laid away by anyone who is regularly employed, no matter how small his wages, and yet that is all that is needed beyond the first cash payment.

A little self-denial is all that is necessary, and it will prove a literal casting of bread upon the waters, for no money is so well spent or so certain of returning a large interest as that devoted to obtaining an education.

The TRIBUNE invites every working man in the city to call at the encyclopedia headquarters, 437 Spruce street, and examine this work, which is put within their reach for less than one-fourth the price heretofore asked, and upon the unequalled terms of 10 cents a day.

VERMONT'S PRIDE.

The Remedy That Makes People Well---Paine's Celery Compound.

Among Burlington institutions none of the college buildings compare with the Medical School. It is the first building shown to strangers. The building where so many fruitful investigations have been carried on celery compound. Persistent headaches, nervous prostration, no longer troubles you, and the terrible heart throbblings from which so many tired women suffer leave them in peace. Because of this wonderful discovery and so much hard work accomplished is a matter of pride with every true graduate of Vermont University.

To the credit of American scientists it is said that the first fruitful investigations of the influence of the nerves upon the proper nutrition of the body were made by Prof. Edward E. Phelps M. D., LL. D., while active professor in the Dartmouth Medical School and lecturer in the Vermont University department.

These researches have since been carried on in Europe; but the result by far the most valuable from all these labors is Prof. Phelps' discovery of the prescription that has come to be known as Paine's celery compound.

Now and then a discovery like this one is so greatly in advance of its day that it starts the whole body of conservative physicians. No great remedy ever caused so much talk and inquiry as Paine's celery compound. Scientific men all over the country and in Europe have analyzed and discussed it, and the medical world has agreed in recommending it as a truly remarkable remedy for disorders originating in impure blood and impoverished nerve tissue.

Paine's celery compound is pronounced by physicians of all schools to be the most decided step in the knowledge of diseases of the kidneys, liver, and stomach.

Refreshing sleep comes from Paine's of Paine's celery compound, thousands of homes have been made brighter and hosts of sick men and women led from despondency to health and activity.

Sunlight has not cast more brightness into thousands of homes throughout the country than has this great remedy of the nineteenth century. Nervous women suffering from pain and depression find relief after a few days use of this wonderful remedy.

The thousands of testimonials from men and women all through the country tell the story most convincingly of the value of Paine's celery compound as a sure relief in the worst forms of nervous weakness.

Paine's celery compound will build up the body in strength and healthy tissue. It robs old age of its sleeplessness, depression, and feebleness.

Permanent cure in difficult and obstinate cases of Bright's disease are told by men and women of the highest standing in their communities.

No medicine is so universally used in the homes founded for the aged, feeble and weak as this celery compound. A list of the public institutions where this great compound is daily used would extend to great length. A sound body and a sound mind are sure to follow the persistent taking of Paine's celery compound. Try it and be convinced, as thousands of others are, that it is the greatest remedy in the world.

The warrants were given to Constable Davis who arrested Harrington.
