ALL NEEDY MUST WORK

Every One Who Applies to Relief Agent Mrs. Duggan Is Offered Employment.

REQUESTS FOR HELP ARE FEWER

Since the Associated Charities Began to Care for the City's Working Poor the Applications Have Been Reduced One-Half—Plan to Provide Against Fraudulent Applications.

That the board of associated charities is doing a magnificent work is evidenced by the fact that since Mrs. W. B. Duggan was secured as relief agent the applications for assistance have fallen off fully 50 per cent.

The board, through Mrs. Duggan, has given relief to over 400 worthy and deserving persons and families, representing an expenditure of $1300 cash, besides the great quantity of clothing and provisions that has been distributed.

The work of granting relief is being systematized as rapidly as possible by Mrs. Duggan and Supt. Geo. B. Thompson. All applications that have been made are being carefully recorded on specially printed blanks, and these will be placed on file.

MANY GIVEN EMPLOYMENT.

The board's agents have been most thorough in investigating every application that has been made. Mrs. Duggan yesterday related the case of a healthy, vigorous man who applied to her for assistance. As soon as his application came in she at once visited the man's neighborhood and inquired of several families living in the vicinity as to whether the applicant was deserving of help.

At present every able bodied person who seeks aid of the board is offered employment of some character. The rule in vogue at the headquarters of the board is that he who refuses to work may starve. One man who was given work yesterday morning came to the office of Mrs. Duggan and Mr. Thompson at noon and indignantly inquired what they meant by giving him a job that paid him only $1 a day.

He intends to immediately have printed blanks that will be placed in every home in the city where traps or other persons may be likely to apply for assistance, financial or otherwise. These blanks will each be numbered and will have a stub attached with a corresponding number.

For instance: If a person comes to Mrs. Smith's house and asks for aid, Mrs. Smith will give the applicant a blank note or anything of the kind.

On the contrary, she will take the name and address of the applicant, and mail the same to the Board of Associated Charities' agent, at the same time tearing off the numbered stub and giving it to the person who asks for help.

Right here, Mrs. Smith's work ends. As soon as the card from Mr. Smith's wife reaches the relief agent the case is investigated. If found to be a worthy one, when the person with the numbered stub presents it, he or she is given the desired aid.

Only twenty-nine days.

COL. HITCHCOCK'S APPOINTMENT. He Will Assist the Antislavery Battle-Field Commission in Their Work.

Colonel F. L. Hitchcock was on Thursday appointed a delegate from Pennsylvania to assist the Antislavery Battle-Field Commission in locating the positions of the organizations from this state in order that they may be properly marked.

He will be the representative of the One Hundred and Thirty-second Pennsylvania volunteers, which was made up almost entirely of men from this portion of the state. The regiment was commanded by Colonel Oakford, of this city, who was killed at the very beginning of the regiment's action by a shot fired by Confederate sharpshooters. Mr. Hitchcock was adjutant of the regiment. Vincent M. Wilcox, now of New York, was lieutenant. Colonel and Charles Albright, of Match Creek, was major.

James Archibald commanded company I, made up entirely of railroaders, principally Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad employees. Colonel J. D. Laciur, managing editor of the Scranton Republican was captain of the March Chuk organization, company G.

The One Hundred and Thirty-second regiment held its annual reunion upon the battlefield of Antislavery two years ago and at that time marked the position it had occupied during the engagement, and this will prove of great assistance to Colonel Hitchcock in his work with the commission. He does not know when the commission from Pennsylvania will visit the battlefield to do the work assigned to it.

SIGNING MORE GOOD PLAYERS. Manager Swift Secures Contracts with Flanagan and Patchen. Manager Mart Swift of the Scranton Baseball club, yesterday signed Tom Flanagan, the elongated pitcher who occupied the box for Scranton last season with indifferent success.

He is well recommended and is said to have a marvelous throwing arm. It is a case of the pitcher ducking his head every time to escape the live throw to second.

FIRST REMONSTRANCE OF YEAR.

It Is Directed Against Patrick H. Gallagher, of Dickson City Borough. The first remonstrance against the granting of a liquor license this year was filed with Clerk of the Courts Thomas yesterday by Attorney O. B. Partridge on behalf of a number of residents of Dickson City borough.

Patrick H. Gallagher, who asks for a hotel license in the First ward of Dickson City borough, is the person against whom the remonstrance was lodged. It is stated that the hotel is unnecessary and that Mr. Gallagher is an unskilled person to conduct such a place. It is also asserted that the hotel is to be located within a few feet of a proposed church, the contract for the erection of which is about to be awarded.

The following names are attached to the remonstrance: W. H. Morgan, J. C. Bowman, William H. Richmond, Matthew M. Adams, Frederick K. Tracy, Thomas Grier, G. E. Reynolds, Gomer Perry, Ramon Morgan, Richard Sharpless, William Jones, T. M. Corley, John Minton, S. W. Blatchley, William McPherson, Edward L. Evans, Thomas Oliver, G. C. Rogers, Thomas Williams, Thomas Jones, George Gleason and Jonah Benson.

CHICAGO AND THE WORLD'S FAIR.

An Interesting Lecture to Be Delivered by Prof. Bolles Monday Evening. That the World's fair at Chicago was a thing of beauty and that the memory of it will be a joy forever not one who witnessed its grandeur would hesitate to affirm.

That the World's fair at Chicago was a thing of beauty and that the memory of it will be a joy forever not one who witnessed its grandeur would hesitate to affirm. All who saw it as well as those who did not cannot fail to be impressed with the remarkable triumph of American skill and American genius which made it possible.

The privilege, therefore, of seeing reproduced its beauty and hearing told its interesting and profitable story Monday evening will be appreciated by all. Professor Albert S. Bolles, who is to lecture on the Columbian exposition at the Young Men's Christian Association hall for the benefit of the Young Women's Christian association, is in every way qualified for the entertaining talk he has undertaken. A command of knowledge and culture, he cannot fail to make enjoyable to its fullest extent a subject of such universal interest as the World's fair.

Both the lecture and the cause deserve a large audience. The price of tickets is 35 cents and they are on sale at Sanderson's drug store, Stelle & Seely's and at the Young Men's Christian association.

PRICEBURG EJECTMENT SUIT.

Courts Asked to Determine Who Should Have Possession of Land. Adam A. P. J. Nelson and M. W. Snyder, Philena Scott and Caroline Nicholson, by their attorneys, Hulslander & Vohring, instituted a suit in equity to determine the ownership of a tract of land in Priceburg.

The plaintiffs allege that they inherited this property from their father, and allowed their step mother, Polly Snyder, to live on the premises for a time without objections but finding that she was endeavoring to place in the hands of Antislavery agents, and that all the parties in possession claimed to hold adversely to them, they brought suit to establish their title and obtain possession. The land is 7x150 feet.

HALLSTEAD SOLD TIMBER.

His Partner, Aaron Phillips, Not Pleased With His Conduct. Aaron Phillips, by his attorney, E. C. Newcomb, obtained a preliminary injunction yesterday to restrain O. E. Hallstead from disposing of a quantity of timber, of which they are joint owners.

Phillips says that about a year ago a large number of trees were blown down on one of the farms in Benton township, and with Hallstead he obtained a contract to cut and haul and manufacture them into lumber.

Without his consent, he says, Hallstead has sold the timber to Silas Smith, who is preparing to manufacture it. A preliminary injunction was granted and made returnable on Wednesday.

DEATH OF MAS. J. MILES.

She Was Sister of B. T. Evans, Plymouth, and Z. Evans, Carbondale. The death is announced of the wife of the Rev. J. Miles, Congregational minister at Abertystwyth, Wales, and editor of the Tybernewspaper.

Mrs. Miles was 45 years of age, and had been sick for several years. Her demise was not unexpected. She leaves four children: John Thomas, a student at Glasgow university, Lily and Gwendys and Maud at home.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

Those who come once to these bright and helpful meetings feel at home immediately, for all are welcomed. The invitation reaches all who can possibly attend, members and non-members alike. The first fifteen minutes of this hour meeting is devoted to a song service.

The Juniors will hold their service this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Miss O'Keefe, who will conduct the meeting, will be glad to see a large number present. Misses under 16 years of age are invited.

Tickets for the Bolles stereopticon entertainment can be obtained at the rooms. The Juniors will enjoy a "pagan hunt" Monday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. Girls under 16 years of age can join this society. Terms $1 per year, payable quarterly.

POOR BOARD MEETING

$322 Distributed Among Twenty-one Destitute and Deserving Cases.

SOME PATHETIC APPEALS MADE

First Session Since the Judicial Opinion of the Legality of Outdoor Relief—Large Number of Applications for Immediate Aid—Mrs. Swan Scores One on Mr. Gibbons—Applicants Mostly Women.

The first meeting of the poor board since the judicial opinion affirming the legality of the board to extend outdoor relief, was held yesterday afternoon at the Municipal building. The only absentee was President W. S. Langstaff. Following are the names of members present: Mrs. Frances B. Swan, John Gibbons, P. J. Murphy, Daniel Williams, Charles Tropp, Thomas Shotton and E. J. Lyaset, secretary. Mr. Shotton was elected president pro tem.

Out of the large number of persons present who were examined and asked aid, twenty-one were granted assistance to the total amount of $322.

REPORTS PRESENTED. Superintendent G. W. Beemer, of Hillside farm, reported 179 inmates of that institution during February, of which twelve have been admitted since his last report. Two have died and eight been discharged; total remaining, 169.

Dr. R. F. Evans, resident physician, of the almshouse and insane hospital, reported for February as follows: Males patients, sane, 43; insane, 24; total, 67; female, sane, 26; insane, 19; total, 45; whole number, 112. There were 198 patients in the asylum Feb. 1, since when 6 have been received and 3 discharged, leaving 195 remaining. Three deaths but no births occurred during the period.

Outdoor Physician Dr. P. F. Guntter, of the central city, has made 57 visits among 111 old and 12 new cases; 4 were insane.

Outdoor Physician Dr. W. A. Paine, of Hyde Park, has made visits among 21 patients, 4 insane.

Outdoor Physician Dr. J. R. Murphy, of Dunmore, has made 48 visits among patients who required 2 operations and 3 consultations; confinement cases, 1.

Outdoor Physician Dr. J. A. Manly, of the South Side, made 67 visits; insanity cases, 1.

APPLICANTS MOSTLY WOMEN.

Nearly all the applicants were women who were widows, had sick husbands or were deserted. Three of the applicants were 141 years of age. Two were very pitiful in the extreme. None were refused assistance, as nearly all of their cases had been investigated by the different members of the board. Those whose statements were not known to be true were referred to the member representing the district for investigation. A list containing the names of persons assisted will after each meeting be given the board of associated charities to guard against imposition.

AN INTERESTING POINT.

On motion of Mr. Gibbons, the president appointed members Tropp, Murphy and Gibbons a committee to meet the mayor, street commissioner and Board of Associated Charities, and devise some means of furnishing work by the city to deserving male applicants.

Matters became interesting when the case of a man whose South Side woman had been voted $1 per month, for three months. Mr. Gibbons discovered that she was not, morally, what she should be. He made a motion that the vote be reconsidered and that the case be referred to Mrs. Swan and Mr. Tropp for investigation. Mr. Gibbons cast the only affirmative vote, and upon motion of Mrs. Swan, seconded by Mr. Tropp, the case was referred to Mr. Gibbons as properly belonging to his district.

SOME PATHETIC APPLICATIONS. That an idea may be gleaned of what pathetic cases of destitution are met, a few are here presented: Caroline Peal, a comely little woman, lives at 446 Hickory street. Her husband has been sick and only able to work at odd times for seven years. They have five children, none of whom are old enough to work, except a boy of perhaps 90 cents a day about three times a week in the mines. Two of the children are sick with measles. The board appropriated her $5 per month for six months.

Bridget Sullivan, 830 Fig street, has five children, and while making her appeal held a nursing babe in her arms. The oldest child is but six years and four months old. They live in a house worth about $1,200, built by a building association of which her husband was a member. Payments for three years had been made when her husband died. Now she is in arrears for four months' payments, all her money going for food to keep herself and five little ones from starving. She was allowed $8 per month for three months.

John Wickheiser, 110 Pittston avenue, is eighty-four years old. Up to a few months ago he lived with the help of his daughter, who is but eighteen years of age. She is in a delicate condition and deserted by her husband. The case was looked into a few days ago and a supply of provisions and bread of four bread rolls. The old man is evidently possessed of some education, and during the late war acted as nurse after finding he was too old for more active service. He says he would willingly work, but cannot find employment. Six dollars for two months were allowed him.

Only twenty-nine days.

Y. M. C. A. GOSPEL MEETING.

Rev. Ben Ollie Will Deliver an Address to Young Men. Following the usual interesting song service at the Young Men's Christian association on Sunday at 3:45 p. m., Rev. Ben Ollie, of Jerusalem, will address young men. This gentleman is an eloquent speaker and has a varied experience of human life in all parts of the world, which will certainly lend an unusual charm to his words.

The Young Men's Christian association meeting is a place where young men of all creeds, or no creed, will be welcomed cordially and asked to "come again."

MID-YEAR CONVENTION.

Will Be Held in the Elm Park M. E. Church. The Woman's Christian Temperance union of Luzerne and Lackawanna counties will unite in a mid-year convention, in the lecture room of the Elm Park church, Scranton, Thursday and Friday, March 15 and 16, beginning at 2 p. m. Thursday.

An unusually interesting program has been arranged, and pastors and all interested are cordially invited to attend. Let every union in both counties be largely represented. Delegates are also invited from other temperance organizations. Entertainment will be furnished to all.

SNOWBALLS TO ORANGES.

From the Ice North to Land of Flowers and Pearly Youth. A dainty novelette entitled "Snowballs to Oranges," and written by Helen K. Ingram, has recently been issued by the New Florida Short Line, which is composed of the Pennsylvania railroad, the Richmond and Danville railroad and the Florida Central and Peninsular railroad, the popular route to the south.

It is the story of a young man who for years was considered his uncle's heir, but finds on his death that the $2,000,000 left him is only a trust and that it is his duty to search for the real heir. He decides that if the unpleasant errand were done at all it were well done quickly, consequently takes the New Florida Short line from New York, the land of snowballs, to Florida, the region of warm sunshine and oranges. His travels from New York to the south, where he expects to find the missing owner of his uncle's millions, are vividly described. The beauties of the country through which this most excellent line passes are dwelt upon, and the glories of the Piedmont section given a prominent place.

The hero visits the interesting cities of Columbia, Augusta and Savannah. He saunters among the pines of health-giving Asheville, spends a day at Aiken, goes to Brunswick, to Fernandina, to Jacksonville, to Tallahassee and to Ocala. So absorbed, in fact, does he become in the charms of the country that he all but forgets the object of his visit until one day in Tampa a name dispels the glamour of the place and scene and stern realities force themselves upon him; he continues his search and succeeds in finding the rightful heir, or more properly, heiress, when he, of course, marries, and ever afterwards blesses the road that led him so safely to a wife, fortune and lifelong friends.

The tale is prettily told, and is made doubly absorbing by the delightful illustrations of the always interesting South that crowd its pages, and the dainty binding of white and gold, decorated with Snowballs and Oranges adds to its value. It is a book well worth reading, and all who want a copy of it can secure one by addressing A. S. Thwait, Eastern Passenger Agent, Richmond & Danville R. R., 229 Broadway, N. Y., or J. L. Adams, General Eastern Agent, Florida Central & Peninsular Railroad, 353 Broadway, N. Y.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

"Blue Grass," which is a story of exciting life in old Kentucky, will be given a scenic production at the Academy of Music on Monday evening. The Philadelphia Press says: "Blue Grass" was presented at the Chestnut Street theater last evening with the advantage of a strong cast and elaborate scenery, before an audience of fair size. The play is written with a view to making as many "points" as possible. An interesting and, in many places, exciting story is unfolded, and the climaxes to the various acts are effective.

FELIX MORRIS.

Patrons of the Academy of Music have occasion to facilitate themselves on the coming engagement next Tuesday night, of Felix Morris, a comedy man quite out of the ordinary is to be presented for their delirium. Mr. Morris is surrounded by an admirable cast, and the plays will be "A Game of Cards," "The Vagabond," and "Moses," each wholly unlike and of absolute merit. The works were not recently given in this city, and he is highly commended, while the remarkable skill of the artist, Felix Morris, is most generously remarked as being incomparable and perfect to the smallest detail.

Charles A. Loder, the proprietor and principal comedian of "Ole! That's a Night," is the same jolly round fun-maker as of old. He is associated with an exceptionally clever company of recognized comedians and will doubtless do a large business. A number of pretty girls, who give clever songs and dances, will also be seen with the company. Charles A. Loder will be seen at the Academy on Wednesday next.

Good Penmanship.

Over three thousand young men and women who live in Scranton have learned to write with Wood's college. The special class in the night school of March and April is designed to help those whose cursive is not up to modern requirements. To write well, in correspondence, is as essential as to dress well when you meet people in a business relation.

Feeding the Sick.

In many instances invalids are restricted by physician to easily digestible food, usually bottled or sterilized, which is prescribed. In such cases the value of Borden's Peerless Brand Evaporated Cream, or unseasoned condensed milk is apparent. Prepared by N. Y. Condensed Milk Co.

HICKEY TAKES HIS SEAT

Sworn In as Member of Common Council from Nineteenth Ward.

POLICE ORDINANCE RESTORED

Council Last Night Reconsidered Its Former Action on the Regulating Ordinance and It Now Stands in Its Original Form—V. H. O'Hara Awarded a Contract—Action of the Select Council Concurred In.

It was 8:15 last evening before a quorum of common council could be assembled in their chamber notwithstanding that Captain James Moir, the president of the body, rapped long and loudly with his gavel in hopes of bringing the tardy members to their desks. After the roll was called P. J. Hickey, who was returned at the recent election to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of County Auditor John P. Rink as councillor of the Nineteenth, handed in his certificate of election and was sworn in by President Moir.

Mr. Hickey selected a seat alongside of Daniel P. Battle, the 240-pound member from the Twentieth ward. They are the two heaviest members of the body, Mr. Hickey having about thirty pounds less of adipose tissue than Mr. Battle. He will take Mr. Rink's place on all committees.

W. J. Thomas, chairman of the streets and bridges committee, reported a resolution awarding the contract to V. H. O'Hara, for rapping the bank of the Lackawanna river at the Nay Aug avenue approach to the Albright avenue bridge. His bid was $599.50. The resolution was approved.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

The action of the select council in approving the following resolutions was concurred in: Directing the city solicitor to appeal from the award of viewers in the matter of their report on the damages caused by the construction of the Fourth district main sewer and the grading of Tenth street and Bromley avenue; directing the city solicitor to have viewers appointed to assess the damage West Lackawanna avenue property owners will sustain by reason of the construction of the viaduct; asking special committee on bridges to hold a public session, at which citizens will have an opportunity to see the maps of the proposed approaches to the new bridges and of suggestions.

On third reading ordinances were passed appropriating $500 for the repair of the mountain road in the Twelfth ward, and for the construction of sewer system section B in the Fourteenth ward.

POLICE REGULATIONS.

At the last meeting of the common council the police regulation ordinance was amended so that the proposed agency and lieutenants of police were wiped out of existence and the force of patrolmen reduced from forty-three, as proposed to thirty-eight.

Last night the council re-considered
