135 WYOMING AVE.

This is naturally the dearest social week in the year. All forms of entertainment have been practically abandoned...

The appearance of the Kendals at the Academy of Music Thursday evening, will probably bring out a number of society people...

On Wednesday evening the Bicycle club will open its past-season social season with one of the delightful parties that have been such an important factor in the social life of Scranton this season.

The young People's assembly has issued invitations for its social at Seigel's on Thursday evening, March 29.

On Easter Monday night the Adonis Dancing class will entertain friends at Excelsior Hall with a social.

At Seigel's next Wednesday night the Social Group will give a social.

The Marquette club of the West Side will hold its select social in St. David's hall on April 5. It was decided that Beers' hall was not sufficiently commodious for the event.

The entertainment and hop which give at its rooms on Wyoming avenue tonight has been postponed to a date to be fixed later.

PERSONAL.

J. A. Martin, of Overton, is at the Westminister. B. F. Hughes, of Carbondale, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Taylor, of Plymouth, are in the city. E. N. Frisbie, of Wilkes-Barre, was in the city yesterday.

A. W. Stocklet, of Mauch Chunk, was in Scranton yesterday. Attorney Eploghe has returned from a trip to the Juniata Valley.

William Creighton, of New York, visited the lace works at Green Ridge yesterday. John Kubbach and J. C. Birdall were Honolua visitors in Scranton yesterday.

City Editor Grimmon of the Carbondale Leader, was among yesterday's Scranton visitors. Peter P. Cummings of West Lackawanna avenue is dangerously ill of inflammation of the bowels.

A. H. Christy and O. S. Johnson have returned from a three weeks' trip to Cuba and Florida. G. Harry Waitt, W. McCormick and C. H. Fisher, all of Binghamton, are at the Westminster.

Mrs. H. A. Courten and daughter are visiting at Orange, N. J., and will be absent about ten days. Manager John H. Blackwood, of the Frothingham theater, was in New York yesterday on theatrical business.

R. Rippapple, of Philadelphia, and William S. Hyle, of Paterson, N. J., interested in silk industries, are at the Wyoming. E. C. Roberts and H. H. Hachway, of Binghamton; E. Engel, of Key West, Fla., and G. C. Mendenhall, of Catawissa, are at the Valley House.

Mr. and Mrs. John Greenfield, of Jersey, returned home yesterday, after spending the past few days visiting Miss Mary J. Hopkins, in the city. Theodore Conell is expected home today from Yale to spend the Easter vacation period. The extra teachers were employed—they are with us now. Over 500 young men and women are out of employment in Scranton. This spring and summer we propose to take these young people in our school on easy terms.

The demand for people is not great in any line, but count up the people who do clerical work in all the offices, stores, banks and manufacturing, and see what an array of book-keepers, stenographers and clerks are employed. These persons are the business men of tomorrow.

Hundreds of your pupils have been at the college and hundreds have succeeded. The faithful ones win; the inattentive fail. Take these next few months and learn book-keeping or stenography; brush up on grammar, spelling, arithmetic; keep your eye on penmanship; get a good knowledge of notes, drafts, checks; know something of commercial law, and wind up with the business practice.

You have the time come in and see us. WOOD'S COLLEGE OF BUSINESS AND SHORTHAND. F. E. WOOD, Proprietor.

Happenings of a Day That Will Interest Hyde Park Readers.

FIRE ON LAFAYETTE STREET

House Owned by Thomas Richards Badly Damaged—Funeral of Miss Maggie Carroll—Hyde Park Encampment Elects Officers—Birth-day Party to Miss Fannie B. Foster.

[The West Side office of the SCRANTON TRIBUNE is located at 125 South Main avenue, where our advertising notices and communications will receive prompt attention.]

An alarm of fire was sounded from box 38 at 10:30 yesterday morning on account of a blaze in a double two-story dwelling owned by Thomas Richards at the corner of Lafayette street and Lincoln avenue. The fire originated in a summer kitchen situated in the rear of the house, and burned fiercely. The Franklin and Columbia fire companies responded quickly, and in a short time had the flames subdued, but not until the property was badly damaged. The house was occupied by W. W. Evans and Eyan Williams, who suffered some loss in furniture. The loss on the buildings is covered by insurance.

Miss Maggie Carroll Burial The funeral of Miss Maggie Carroll, a highly esteemed young lady, who died on Saturday at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Ryan, on Division street, took place yesterday, and was largely attended. The remains were taken to St. Patrick's church, where a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated, after which the cortege moved to the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery, where interment was made.

Election of Officers. Hyde Park Encampment No. 219, Independent Order of G. O. F., have elected the following officers: Chief patriot, William Gaylord Thomas; high priest, Thomas Carson; senior warden, Emmet Bevan; secretary, R. H. Williams; treasurer, D. H. Jones. On Saturday, March 31, Stocum lodge No. 976 will elect officers.

Birth-day Party. Miss Fannie B. Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Foster, of 1223 Washburn street, attained her seventh birthday yesterday, and in honor of the occasion a party was given at the home to her young associates. Refreshments were served and the young folks assembled enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon.

The News Condensed. The employees at the Capoue colliery were paid yesterday. D. S. Ryan, druggist, of North Main avenue, left yesterday for Philadelphia on business.

The funeral of Mrs. Benjamin Watburn, of Bellevue, occurred yesterday afternoon. The remains were taken to Taylor for interment. The remains of Harry, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Maddock, of Bloom street, were interred at the Washburn Street cemetery yesterday afternoon.

The funeral of Mrs. Eva Rinker, wife of Peter Rinker, of South Bromley avenue, will occur at 9 o'clock this morning. The remains will be conveyed to Stroudsburg on the 9:59 Delaware, Lackawanna and Western train for interment. Obsequies private.

The funeral of Mrs. Benjamin Watburn, of Bellevue, occurred yesterday afternoon. The remains were taken to Taylor for interment. The remains of Harry, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Maddock, of Bloom street, were interred at the Washburn Street cemetery yesterday afternoon.

DUNMORE.

The social of the Ladies Aid society held last night at the Baptist church, was a decided success and a large number attended. Four large tables were spread with a beautiful collation and the eager crowd present did ample justice to the toothsome viands. The young ladies present who took charge and aided in the comfort of the guests were: Misses Annie Hoffman, Gussie Pinckney, Dona Capwell, Minnie Bingham, Eva Osterholt, Fanny Haycock, Kitty Benjamin and Inez Frey.

Miss Maud Savage is confined to her home by illness. The funeral of the late Mrs. Eli Swartz occurred from her late home on Monroe avenue yesterday afternoon and was largely attended. Interment was made in Dunmore cemetery.

J. F. Judge, of the Index, and Tallie Moran will make speeches in commemoration of Neal Dow's birthday at the Odd Fellows' hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The lectures are given under the auspices of the Loyal Legion.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

Court yesterday refused a re-argument in the matter of the relaying of Fig street. The hearing in the Paul R. Waitz habeas corpus case was continued by the court yesterday until this morning.

A rule for a decree in divorce was granted by the court yesterday in the case of Wolcott against Wolcott and made returnable to argument court.

Marriage licenses were granted by the clerk of the courts yesterday to Andrew Kearney and Rose Ellen Murray and Edward Smith and Bessie L. Watkins, all of Scranton.

John Koborsky was yesterday sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs by the court. He was convicted some time ago of assault and battery. Joseph Schoenow was sentenced to pay the costs in the case in which he was prosecutor.

Arbitrators T. J. Duggan, T. P. Hoban, and D. C. Donovan filed an award yesterday allowing $297.15 to the plaintiff in the case of Mrs. Hannah Coar against Bridget Moran. The action was brought to recover on a book account.

Attorney George D. Taylor, acting as auditor, heard testimony in the arbitration room yesterday with regard to the proper manner of distributing the $5,000 that remained in the hands of the executor of J. E. Kinback, of Carbondale, after the estate had been settled.

John McGinty yesterday obtained a writ of replevin through Attorney Joseph O'Brien to recover a bar and fixtures, one clock, one iron box, fifteen barrels of whiskey, one iron wash stand, one stove, seven chairs, one pool table, five barrels of whiskey, one table and one hanging lamp, which he says have been unlawfully taken from him by Patrick Jordan and William Davis, basiff. Mr. McGinty values the effects seized at $650.

Musical Boxes Exclusively. Best made of any desired number of tunes. Gutschick & Sons, manufacturers, 1080 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. Wonderful orchestral organs, only $5 and $10. Specialty: Old musical boxes carefully repaired and improved with new tunes.

SAYS BURKE IS A SLANDERER.

Mrs. Margaret Stanton Sues Him for $3,000 Damages. Mrs. Margaret Stanton, wife of Patrick Stanton, of Hyde Park, says that Patrick Burke, of the same place, has grievously injured her by circulating stories calculated to injure her reputation, and yesterday she brought suit against him through Attorney Joseph O'Brien to recover $3,000 damages.

Mrs. Stanton declares that Mr. Burke on March 18 publicly stated that she is an unchaste person and untrue to her husband, all of which she avers is so false that the father of her suit has investigated the statements.

SAD RESULT OF PLAYING.

James Loftus, Jr., Struck on the Head With a Stone and May Die. James Loftus, jr., son of James Loftus, of 835 West Market street, Providence, lies at the home of his parents in a precarious condition. Mr. Loftus says that his son was playing Monday evening a boy named Burns accidentally struck him on the head with a stone.

An indentation of the skull resulted and the attending physician is unable as yet to say whether or not the boy will recover.

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL.

Conrad Bepler's Kiss Won Back a Wife He Had Abused and Ended a Divorce Suit. By permission of the court the action for a divorce brought by Mrs. Lizzie Bepler against Conrad Bepler, of Paterson, N. J., has been withdrawn. Mr. and Mrs. Bepler have concluded to forget the past and the actions that brought them into a divorce court and are again living together, happy and contented as in the days of their honeymoon.

They were married on April 22, 1876, and on Oct. 29 last Mrs. Bepler filed her bill in divorce alleging cruel and barbarous treatment on the part of her husband. About one month ago testimony was taken in the case. Bepler was at that time serving a term of imprisonment in the county jail for abetting his wife, and was brought down to the court house in charge of Warden Grimes to be present at the hearing. While the testimony was being taken he fasted his eyes on his wife's face, but she persistently ignored his presence. After the hearing he went out into the corridor there extending his hand to his wife he besought her to speak to him.

"Won't you shake hands with me, Lizzie?" he pleaded. Her attorney, T. F. Wells, urged her to comply with his request and she did so. They talked long and earnestly together and when Warden Grimes was about to lead Bepler away the latter gathered his wife in his arms and the sound of a resounding kiss echoed through the corridors a moment later. Mrs. Bepler is only human. She melted under the influence of her husband's love, and when he was released from jail she received him again as her lord and master. Consequently the case of Bepler vs. Bepler has been expunged from the court record.

M'NAMARA'S HALL BURNED.

The Origin of the Fire Is Not Known. The building at 915 West Market street, Providence, owned by William McNamara, and used as a dwelling house and dancing hall, was entirely destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning.

An alarm was sounded, but before a stream of water could be directed against the flames, the building was doomed. The origin of the fire is not known.

They Had Unbridled Tongues. Lewis Rozanna and Peter Mascoe were arraigned before Alderman DeLacy Monday night, charged with charging the moral and indecent remarks to Mrs. Bagger, of Capoue avenue. They were penitent and Mrs. Bagger forgave them and in consequence the alderman allowed the ungrateful fellows their liberty on the payment of $5 and costs by each.

Pierce Objects to Garbage.

William Eldridge was arrested yesterday by Sanitary Police Officer Burke at the instance of John Pierce, who charged Eldridge with dumping garbage in front of the complainant's premises on Nay Aug avenue. Last evening the accused was given a hearing before Alderman Moran of Providence, and fined $2 and costs for his offense.

NORTH END.

The "Confidential Clerk" will be produced by members of the Father Whitty society, at St. Mary's hall on Monday night. The piece is well cast and the society is making strenuous efforts to stage it in excellent form. A large house is expected, as the society is popular and always foremost in every good work. In this section of the city there is no society that has done more for the cause of temperance than the Father Whitty's. Its efforts for the moral elevation of those who are addicted to the evil of intemperance are commendable and generally appreciated. The literary and military features of the society are excellent and have an ennobling effect, intellectually and physically.

The new Parilla church on West Market street is being painted and beautified. It is neat, bright and adds much to the adornment of this portion of the city. It will be dedicated at an early date.

Jacob Bohr has been appointed janitor of Company H armory. United States Detective McSweeney visit d Providence Monday night for the purpose of completing arrangements in regard to the pending trial of the counterfeiters, who were captured here some time ago. The trial will take place at Pittsburg. Several North End people will testify against the counterfeiters.

OUR opening will occur on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Our display of military is one of the best ever shown in the city. J. BOLT.

NOTES OF SOUTH SIDE

Happenings of a Day That Will Interest Many Tribuna Readers.

TROUBLE ON REMINGTON AVENUE

The Swampy Condition of the Ground Causing Sickness—Patrick Moran of Bellevue, Disgusts the Residents of Cedar Avenue—Last Lenten Sermon—Lydia Sailor Wins First Prize—Personals and Shorter Paragraphs.

The residents of Remington avenue and adjacent streets, in the hollow on the eastern side of the Delaware and Hudson railroad tracks are again appealing for a remedy for the unsanitary condition of the neighborhood, arising from the stagnant pools caused by lack of drainage. At this season of the year the ground is a veritable quagmire, and the hot sun causes such unpleasant exhalations that living there becomes almost unbearable.

Moran on the Rampage.

Patrick Moran, of Bellevue, took possession of Cedar avenue, between Pear and Elm streets, yesterday morning and for four hours held it in true border style. He worked Monday night in the lower steel mill and when his turn was finished he filled up with intoxicants. From 7 a. m. until noon, he allowed no person, man or woman, to pass without molestation. He tackled a party known as Kilgus, who tried to pacify him and got badly need up in the encounter. This did not deter Moran, but on the contrary it appeared to stimulate him. A young woman happened along about 9 o'clock, and was pursued. Finally three tramps passing on their way were attacked, and one of them received a deep gash on the jaw from a brick thrown by Moran. Special Officer Clearwater reached the scene of activity as the fusillade of brick-bats was most serious, but Moran succeeded in escaping.

Another Prize Winner.

Miss Lydia Sailor, of Cedar avenue, is another one who contributed to the musical renown of the South Side, by taking the honors in her class at Wilkes-Barre at the distaff on St. Patrick's Day. She took the first prize, which was $10, for the best soprano solo, for all ladies under 21 years of age. A quartette, of which she was a member, also won a prize. Miss Sailor is possessed of a clear, sweet soprano voice of wide range.

Last Lenten Sermon.

The last sermon of Lent in St. John's church was delivered last night by Rev. F. P. Walsh. Father Walsh is ranked among the number of brilliant and eloquent preachers of this diocese, and his effort last night was an extraordinary one. His subject was "The Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, and the Graces Derived from Devout Application to the Sacred Host." The church was filled to overflowing and during the sermon the attentive silence was impressive.

Enters a Convent.

Miss Katie Ruane, of Beech street, has renounced the world and entered upon her novitiate as a Sister of the Immaculate Heart in the convent at Carbondale. She bade farewell to all her friends and entered upon her religious life Tuesday morning.

Shorter Paragraphs.

The funeral of John Higgins was a large one yesterday morning, attesting the many friends gained by the young man's cheerful disposition. Interment was made in Hyde Park cemetery. Mrs. Patrick Lydon, of Minooka, is expected to breathe her last at any moment. She has been ailing for the past two months. She is the mother of a large family of small children, the oldest not yet 10 years. The doctors have no hope of her recovery.

Master Mechanic William Thomas, of the William Connor Coal company, has a large force of men at work putting in an additional pump in the Meadow Brook shaft.

The South Side Choral union will hold its regular weekly meeting tomorrow night in Pharmacy hall. Negotiations are under way toward the purchase of an organ for the church.

A young child of Thomas Joyce, of Stafford street, Minooka, is dangerously ill, and death is hourly anticipated.

The regular meeting of the Scranton Athletic club will be held at the rooms tomorrow night. The committee on excursion will report and receive further instructions as to the matter of arranging games, etc., for the excursion to Farview on June 19.

John Flaherty, of Cherry street, will begin in May to build a new barber shop on the site of his present quarters. The new building will be after the most approved pattern and will contain a fine equipped lavatory.

The ladies of the Young Women's Christian association had an entertainment at the rooms on Cedar avenue Monday night. Admission was by membership cards only and a very delightful evening was spent. Miss Nina Murphy gave a recitation that was highly applauded. After the entertainment refreshments were served.

Personals.

Michael Higgins, of Elm street, the father of the young man who accidentally killed himself, is not expected to survive in any days. Previous to the death of his son he had been quite sick and that stock has greatly endangered his condition.

Mrs. Patrick Cavanaugh and two children, of Wilkes-Barre, are visiting her mother, Mrs. East, in Minooka. Peter Aylt, of Narrowsburg, N. Y., is visiting his son-in-law, Henry Wickham, of Birch street. Miss Mary Newcombe, of Pittston, is visiting her cousin, Miss Bridget Newcombe, of Lane avenue, Minooka. John Evans, of Birney avenue, a driver in the Greenwood mine, had his leg broken yesterday afternoon.

WHAT SCRANTONIANS THINK.

If you are hesitating from uncertainty read the following: I have examined with considerable care the copy of Vol. I of the Encyclopedia Britannica of the edition offered by THE TRIBUNE, and compared it with the same volume of the Scribner edition which I have in my library, and find it, so far as I am concerned, identical with the latter, except that it has more and later maps and a supplement bound with it that brings the treatment of the subjects down to a later date than the original. It is a marvel to me that it can be offered at the extremely low price named.

T. F. WELLS, Attorney and Counsellor.

In the early part of 1892 I purchased from Chas. Scribner's Sons their edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica, twenty-five volumes, bound in leather, for $150.00. G. M. WATSON, Attorney and Counsellor.

Referring to the Encyclopedia Britannica offered by THE TRIBUNE, I consider it an excellent work. I have the Edinburgh edition, which cost me $8.00 per volume. This reprint at $1.98 per volume is another instance of American ingenuity. REV. P. F. ZIEGLERMAN.

Ex-President of Yale College says: "I will defy any one to buy 3,000 volumes that will give him as good a working library as is furnished in the Encyclopedia Britannica alone."

It seems to me to go without saying that THE TRIBUNE is proving itself a public benefactor in placing before the public such a marvel of reliable information to date, upon the great subjects of thought, as is presented in the Encyclopedia Britannica, with American revisions and additions, and known as THE TRIBUNE edition. It is simply a matter of wonder that such a work, preferable to the more costly edition, in one or more important respects, can be offered at less than $2 a volume, and every lover of books ought to appreciate the marvel of the day in book making.
