ADMIRERS OF THE WORK.
From a Few of the Standard Who Praise the Britannica.

The copy of the reprint of the ninth and last edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica offered by THE TRIBUNE at the price and easy terms of payment should find a place in every home.

In no way can that amount of money be expended so judiciously on books.

The "American Additions" and latest maps with its good paper and binding renders it preferable to the expensive $125 edition.

W. E. ALLEN,
Physician and Surgeon.

Within the past two years, or during the month of June, 1892, I purchased the reprint of the ninth and last edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica at $5.00 per volume, bound in cloth, $125.00 for the set.

Phillips, instrumental duet.

An Elaborate Affair.
The annual ball of the Twilight Social club was held last evening in Mears hall. The auditorium and stage were tastefully decorated and presented a pleasing appearance. At promptly 9 o'clock the grand march was begun, led by Michael and Katie Calkins. Soon after the merry dancers were gliding to the music of Miss Nellie Curran at the piano. The prompter was Frank McElwain.

Painfully Hurt.
Thomas Beach, painter and decorator, who owns a store on Wasburn street, received a painful injury on his head yesterday morning by being knocked to the sidewalk by his horse while standing in front of his store. As the driver was in the act of throwing a blanket over the animal, it became frightened at some object and shield, striking Mr. Beach with great force. He was removed to his home on North Fairfield avenue and medical aid procured.

A Farewell Reception.
The home of the Misses Wilona and Ella Hinkel, of Avenue A, was beautifully decorated last evening, the occasion being a farewell party given in their honor. The spacious rooms were tastefully decorated with choice flowers. The evening was devoted to dancing, playing games, music and singing until long past midnight. An excellent supper was served to the guests.

John Bird Buried.
The funeral of John Bird took place yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the family residence, on Lafayette street, and was attended by a large number of friends. The remains were conveyed to St. Patrick's church, where a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Father McNally. Interment was made at Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

Shorter Paragraphs.

The funeral of the 4-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Ashton, of North Lincoln avenue, who died at their home on Sunday evening, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made at the Washburn street cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Dietrick, of Eighth street returned yesterday morning from a visit with friends at Carbonado.

Thirteen members of Rev. T. C. Edwards, D. D., Kingston, will be sorry to hear of the death of his second son, Cromwell, a bright boy of 11 years. He died Monday morning and will be buried at Forty Port cemetery Wednesday afternoon.

IN JUDGE SITTLER'S ROOM
Before Judge Sittler, of Tunkhannock, who is presiding in No. 3, the case of Michael Fitzpatrick against Edward Walters was called for trial. Mr. Fitzpatrick claims $127 for wages that he says is due him. Mr. Fitzpatrick did some work at Mr. Walters' house at Danmore for Contractor J. A. Wingett, but while the work was in progress the contractor became insolvent and Mr. Fitzpatrick says he refused to do any more work for Mr. Walters then agreed to assume the payment of the wages of the workmen. Mr. Fitzpatrick says, and he resumed work for Mr. Walters however, did not pay and the suit was brought.

In his defense Mr. Walters denied ever having agreed to pay Mr. Wingett's workmen and claims he paid that gentleman in full. A verdict was returned by the jury for $127.50 in favor of Mr. Fitzpatrick, the amount of his claim with interest.

After that case had been given to the jury, the case of Fitzpatrick against Contractor Frank Meyer was taken up. Attorney A. A. Chase appeared for Mr. Fitzpatrick in both cases and Attorney D. P. Replege for Mr. Walters and Mr. Meyer. Mr. Fitzpatrick claims that there is $50 due him as wages by Mr. Meyer. The case will go to the jury this morning.

IT WAS A CASE OF SUICIDE.
Coroner Kelly Investigated the Death of Robert Campbell at Lackawanna.

Coroner Kelly went to Lackawanna yesterday morning and examined a jury to take evidence in the case of Robert Campbell, mention of whose suicide appeared in yesterday morning's TRIBUNE. The jurors were David Martin, James Dunagan, Duncan McMartin, John E. Faraly, John S. Williams and P. E. Timin. After viewing the body and hearing the evidence the jury rendered a verdict to the effect that Campbell had committed the result of an intentional act on his own part.

The dead man was 29 years of age and unmarried. So far as known there was no particular reason why he should have taken this early trip of existence. The fatal act was performed early Sunday morning, the suicide placing the muzzle of a shotgun under his head and discharging the contents into his chest. The report of the gun was heard by young Campbell's father, who went into the room and found his son lying dead.

SCRANTON'S BUSINESS INTERESTS.
The TRIBUNE will soon publish a carefully compiled and classified list of the leading wholesale, banking, manufacturing and professional interests of Scranton and vicinity. The list will be bound in book form, beautifully illustrated with photographic views of our public buildings, business blocks, streets, etc., together with portraits of leading citizens. No similar work has ever given an equal representation of Scranton's many industries. It will be an invaluable exposition of our business resources. Sent to persons outside the city, copies of this handsome work will attract new comers and be an unequalled advertisement. No charge for a prospectus is on a plan that cannot fail of good results to those concerned as well as the city at large. Representatives of THE TRIBUNE will call upon those who desire to have their names included in this edition and explain its nature more fully.

Those desiring views of their residences in this edition will please 1 Ave notice at the office.

Removal of F. M. Aylsworth.
F. M. Aylsworth will remove to 233 Wyoming avenue, under Economy Furniture Company's store, during the first week in April.

Martin's is the place to get your imported Rabbits.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.
Tonight Sol Smith Russell will make his second appearance at the Frothingham in "A Poor Relation." Theatergoers of this city will remember the splendid manner in which Mr. Russell delineated the character of Val, the meek inventor, in this city a few weeks ago and will be pleased to have another opportunity of beholding him in it.

AMERICANS ABROAD.
"Americans Abroad" will have its first presentation in this city Thursday night, when Daniel Frothingham's Lyceum company will produce it at the Academy in the same manner in which it was given in New York. The company has never been so well to better advantage than in this clever comedy.

THE CRUST OF SOCIETY.
The Boston Post says of "The Crust of Society," which will be seen for the second time this season at the Academy Friday night: "It is of rare occurrence that it is one's pleasure to witness so thorough a theatrical sermon as this play teaches. It is the unwritten social law that a good man should marry none but a good woman, is its motto, and from the rise of the curtain to the last act is this demonstrated in a bright, witty yet positive way. Of the company, no words of praise can be said that were not merited, as it was well balanced, comprehensive cast and positively superior in its entirety."

THE PRODIGAL FATHER.
Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday afternoon "The Prodigal Father," a delightful comedy, will be given at the Frothingham. The company that will produce it will be a good one.

BIJOU OPENS TONIGHT.
This evening the Bijou theater, on Lackawanna avenue, will reopen under the management of Mr. Boyer, and two performances will be given daily. Miss Flora Stamford will open tonight, assisted by a competent company, in "East Lynne" and Friday and Saturday she will be seen in "East Lynne."

Robert Altken, who says his home is at Carbonado, and Richard Murphy, of Carbonado, were committed to jail in default of their bonds for a party given at Mrs. Altken's house at a time when a small sum of money was missing.

A Big Attraction Coming.
For THE TRIBUNE.
I have the honor to announce the first appearance in Scranton of Daniel Frothingham's famous Lyceum Comedy company. The players comprising this superb organization are all artists who have reached the round of the ladder where only genius is allowed to stand. They are to present their greatest success, "Americans Abroad." This play held the stage of the New York Lyceum theater the entire last year, proving the grandest triumph in comedy the stage has known for years. We have arranged to stage the play with the entire original magnificent scenery, furniture and appointments direct from the New York Lyceum theater.

Respectfully,
M. H. BURGUNDER.

Big Apartment House Will Not Be Built.
George Sanderson yesterday contradicted to a TRIBUNE reporter the story published to the effect that the Sanderson heirs would erect a seven-story apartment house at the northeast corner of Adams avenue and Mulberry street. "The statement," said Mr. Sanderson, "is like the Tales of Arabian Nights, in that there is no truth in it. No plans for a structure have been made; neither could the project be even considered at this time, as the other heirs are thousands of miles away."
